But what a reaction from the customers. One woman's castoff is another's envy. The rummage is always greener in somebody else's attic.

So people storm in to buy. What if the hand-painted view of Niagara Falls by moonlight is an artistic horror that was stopping clocks back in 1906? At 10 cents the price is right, and away it goes. Not far enough, of course, because unless the purchaser lives in New Zealand it may be back at the next rummage sale.

Some utterly worthless articles in this community have been sold oftener than Brooklyn Bridge. People begin to get familiar with them, but they still sell. At 7 cents, one can't go wrong.

Put a $6000 price tag on a mink coat and everybody will think it's a good coat. Put a $6 tag on the same coat at a rummage sale and the customers will think the price is good.

The theory is:

"It must be good. It only costs 35 cents."

Thus old junk gets moved out and new junk gets in, creating a healthy stir in the attic and giving the impression that something is happening. And from the proceeds of the sale, the church gets a new coat of paint. — D. B. W.

Wayland Society To Hear Talk On Lydia Maria Child

WAYLAND — The last open meeting of the Wayland Historical Society for this year will be on Thursday, April 5, at 8 o'clock in the Wayland Public Library. Guests are most welcome.

Under the joint chairmanship of Isabel and Robert Wight a committee consiting of Mrs. Charles mittee consisting of Mrs. Charles Edward Scanlon, Mrs. Elizabeth Raymond and Mrs. Mabel S. Draper will present a discussion of selected phases of the life of Lydia Maria Child, well-known author, who lived in Wayland from 1852 to 1880.

Her position in American letters is a substantial one. She wrote the first New England historical novel, but probably her best known lines are from the familiar Thanksgiving poem, "Over the river and through the wood." Also she was very active in the anti-slavery movement. Wayland's claim to Mrs. Child rests on her more than 25 years residence in our town.

"Bottom of the Sea" Theme for Cubs

WAYLAND — Pack 51 of the Cub Scouts held its monthly meeting at the High School on March 13. The theme of the month was "The Bottom of the Sea". Dens showed exhibits of scenes of undersea life and shells.

Awards were as follows: Harvey Turner, wolf badge; Glen Libby, Silver arrow on wolf rank; Will Benson, Lion Badge; Russell Fuller, silver arrow on wolf badge.

Den 5 got the attendance award.

Pack 1 was scheduled to hold its Blue and Gold Dinner on March 22 at the Congregational Church Parish House. This was their Charter Night, when the Pack Charter is renewed for the coming year.

Receiving awards were: Donald Alstad, Wolf and Gold Arrow; Craig Piers, Gold Arrow on Wolf; Allen Leonard, Andre Mayer, Chris Potter, Paul Haagensen and David Bolton, Bear; Bruce Cook and David Bolton, Gold Arrow on Bear; Bruce McKenzie, Silver Arrow on Lion; John O'Keefe, Gold and Silver Arrow on Lion; Robert Basney, Gold and Silver Arrow on Lion.

Service Stars for one year's attendance were awarded as well.

Mrs. John M. Davies of Maguire Road, Cochituate will be co-chairman of Cochituate's Red Cross drive, with Mr. George G. Bogren. Mr. Bogren says the drive is coming along well.

Mansion Inn

the place were inside on Saturday afternoon, getting ready to open up at 5 p.m., when smoke came from the basement.

Mr. Nappi picked up the telephone and called the Framingham operator, and the Framingham apparatus was the first to arrive.

Right behind it came the Cochituate company, with Acting Chief Homer L. MacDonald in charge. The Cochituate men went in the front door and into the basement. The smoke was so thick they couldn't see anything. Liquor bottles were popping. They got out. Another Cochituate group went around back, wading through the deep snow, and had to hack open an iced bulkhead door.

The flames quickly took hold of the old woodwork. There were no firebreaks in the building, which was built around an open hall. Fire showed in the front, then on the sides and finally ripped through the roof, where flames rose 50 feet in the air.

The first water played on it simply evaporated in the intense heat.

Porte Cochere Saved

Then the flames caught the West wing, the one-story dance hall and dining room, and reduced it to ashes.

Fire spread from the back of the main building, too, a place on the hillside practically inaccessible in the deep snow.

Eventually the entire building was destroyed except the front wall and the porte cochere, and it was said these would have to be torn down, as a potential danger.

All the available Wayland apparatus and 30 men were on the scene, plus help from Framingham, Natick, Weston and Sudbury.

Acting Chief MacDonald expressed his appreciation of the help from out of Town. In all, 16 pieces of apparatus fought the fire. Volunteers from the Red Cross canteen brought coffee and sandwiches, which were also much appreciated. Two women volunteers whose names were noted, among others, were Mrs. John Dunning and Mrs. Pierre Dumaine.

The first Wayland alarm was sounded at 3:47 p.m., and there was a second alarm. There was no all-out. Wayland men stayed on the job in relays, in temperatures down around 20 degrees, until Sunday forenoon.

Traffic on Old Connecticut Path was blocked.

Many of the liquor bottles in the Inn remained unbroken, and the place was kept under guard. Police Chief Ernest H. Damon was on hand, in charge of protection.

Venus Perished

A casualty was a plaster Venus, which had stood in the dining room for many years, much admired by guests.

The fire caused a change of the plans of Miss Mary Hickey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Hickey of Lake Shore Drive. Miss Hickey was to be married at 3 p.m. on Easter Sunday, April 1, by Rev. Otis Kelly at St. Zepherin's Church, with a reception at the Mansion Inn at 4 p.m.

The bridegroom was to be Everett Elliott, son of Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Elliott of Main Street, Cochituate, a graduate of Wayland High in 1951, recently discharged from the service.

Miss Hickey said the wedding would be held as planned, with the reception at the Kendall Hotel in Framingham.

The Cochituate Company, in uniform, had just attended funeral services that afternoon for the late Theodore Harrington, Town tax collector. The men had gone in uniform with a fire truck. Mr. Harrington was Chief of the Wayland Department until 1949.

Called "The Mansion"

At the time of his retirement, it was recalled, Mr. Harrington was given a gold watch at a party in his honor attended by 250 persons at Mansion Inn.

Back around 1880, according to local recollections, the "Mansion" was built by Michael H. Simpson, then in his 70's, for his second bride, Elisabeth Marrs, who lived next door in the old house recently torn down to make room for the Lakefield development.

Elizabeth was 26 at the time of the marriage. Her husband lived only two years after the wedding. What she thought of the grand house is not recorded. It was known as the "Mansion" to everybody around, and when it became a roadhouse, in 1900, it became the Mansion Inn.

During prohibition, they say, liquor was sold there. One night in the 20s there was a raid there, when hundreds of guests fled hastily and somebody was shot. Some local residents remember the occasion vividly.

Weston League's Annual Meeting

WESTON — A luncheon at the Jones House, followed by the annual meeting of Weston's League of Women Voters, will be held on Monday, April 23, at 12 noon. Reservations for the luncheon should be made not later than April 16, and checks for $1.75 should be made out to the League and mailed to Mrs. Hector J. Osmond, 19 Montvale Road.

At the annual meeting, business for the coming year will be transacted, including the election of officers and the adopting of a budget and a local agenda for 1956-7.

Unit Meetings

Taxes is the topic for April at Weston's League of Women Voters unit meeting. Emphasis will be laid on Massachusetts state taxes, both those in operation now and those proposed for the future. These will be studied from the point of view of the various tax criteria, such as whether the specific taxes are fair, easy to collect, progressive, etc.

The six unit meetings, to which everyone interested is invited, will be held at the following members' homes: Tuesday, April 10, at 10 a.m., Mrs. J. J. Donovan, 58 Goldenball Road.; Tuesday, April 10 at 8 p.m., Mrs. Putnam Flint, 34 North Avenue; Wednesday, April 11, at 8 p.m., Mrs. Joseph Doherty, 32 Ledgewood Road; Thursday, April 12, at 10 a.m., Mrs. Edwin Curtis, 233 Ash Street; Thursday, April 12, at 8 p.m., Mrs. Fulton C. Underhay, 97 Bogle Street; and Friday, April 13, at 10 a.m., Miss Muriel Haynes, 45 Hilltop Road.

The Middlesex County Extension Service reports that the price of milk is lower.

Wayland Canvass, April 8, for Money For Sports Dinner

WAYLAND — Boys and girls of Wayland High School will canvass the Town on Sunday, April 8, ringing doorbells to ask for help in financing the annual All Sports Banquet to be held on April 28 at the High School gymnasium.

At this dinner, jackets will be given to senior boys and girls who have won letters. An award will also be made for the best all round athlete.

This affair is sponsored by the Wayland High Association. Money for it has always been raised by subscription, but more boys and girls are participating in sports nowadays and the expenses are greater.

If more money than necessary is raised, says the Association, it will be used for some other project to benefit the school sports program. Dinners for 128 boys and girls who have taken part in sports will be free.

Wayland's football team lost only one game this year, and the basketball team only two.

WESTON — The Weston High School Senior Class variety show, with everybody in the act, is scheduled for the Country School on April 13. Details are not yet completed.

Town Meeting

local institution, saying, "I understand it's a night club."

Tied in with this proposal was one to change from business to residental a strip of land on the south side of Commonwealth Road, near the intersection of School Street. There was considerable argument over this, the Planning Board contending that any more business along Route 30 would aggravate the traffic hazard. In the end, the two parts of the Articles were voted on together and went down, 98 for and 76 against, for lack of two-thirds.

Then an Article calling for enlarging the business zone on the north side of Commonwealth Road, at the corner of School Street, was also defeated, 90 to 63.

An Article calling for extension of a residential district in the Center was passed over on motion of Planning Board, as it was said it had been tied in with a business rezoning off Pelham Island Road, which had veen voted down at the first session.

Also passed over was an Article calling for an extension of a business zone on School Street, East Plain Street and Commonwealth Road. An Article calling for rezoning for business half an acre on Main Street, Cochituate, just north of the Hannah Williams Playground, was turned down by a voice vote.

Swedish Singer Will Give Folk Songs For Friends of Library

WAYLAND — Miss Birgitta E. M. Berke, will sing and accompany herself on the lute in a program of international folk songs in Wayland on April 11 for the Friends of the Wayland Library at 8:30 p.m. at the Library.

Miss Birgitta Berke

Miss Berke is a native of Stockholm, Sweden, and lived there until little more than a year ago. She will appear here in Swedish costume.

While a student in Stockholm, preparing to become a registered pharmacist, she sang in various church choirs. Shortly before she completed her studies in 1953, she sang with "The Academic Chorus" of Stockholm on their concert tour through Germany and Austria. In the fall of 1954, Miss Berke came to this country to follow her profesion in Worcester at Astra Pharmeceutical Products, Inc., where she is now working in the research laboratory. While in Worcester, she has been studying voice at the Priscilla B. Larrabee Studio.

Miss Berke has sung in this country before various clubs and groups. Recently she has been appearing with Clare Cassidy on the "Folk Festival" heard over WTAG.

Though her profession brought her to the United States, her search for "new" American folk songs will take her on a cross country trip in May with suitcase and lute.

The public is invited.

Coch. Girl Scouts' 44th Anniversary

COCHITUATE — Girl Scouts and Brownies opened the 44th Anniversary Week of Girl Scouting in the United States by attending the church of their faith on Girl Scout Sunday, March 11. Mrs. Walter Prouty and Mrs. Robert Bowen were in charge of church arrangements for the girls, assisted by Mesdames Robert Megson, Mary Cardellicchio and Doris Lucey.

Sunday afternoon a Birthday Tea was held for 150 Girl Scouts, Brownies and parents in the Legion Hall from 3:30 to 4:30 p. m. Senior Girl Scouts Judith Arnold and Janet Scott very capably poured coffee, tea and cocoa for the guests. Birthday cakes and projects recently completed decorated the Troop tables and were enjoyed by all.

Following refreshments, Natick Girl Scout Council Executive Director Betty McKinney led the group in singing Girl Scout Songs. Neighborhood Chairman Mrs. Theodore R. Magoun then thanked the American Legion for making the hall available and introduced the speakers.

Mrs. John Wall, Chairman of the Camp Committee, gave a brief and lively chat on camping at the Council's Camp Nacochwa including dates, registration requirements and program for the coming Summer. Mrs. John Simoni, Council Treasurer, told the group how the sale of Girl Scout Cookies in past years had provided the money to purchase the camp site and how it now was providing the funds to pay for the rustic lodge, "Aquinox", built recently. She stated that the 1956 Cookie Sale will begin about April 3 in our Council.

A special guest at the tea was Mrs. Frank Storey, Council volunteer trainer, who has just completed an Intermediate Leader's Training Course attended by these enthusiastic Cochituate leaders: Mesdames Mary Cardellicchio, Anne Slotta, Edna Ham, Polly Hamacher, Doris Lucey and Yolanda Malizzia.

Several Troops are planning Community Service Projects for Anniversary Week. One project is painting cigar boxes white with red crosses for the Parmenter Health Center. These will be used to hold first aid supplies for use in school rooms next year. Mrs. Hamacher is service chairman for the neighborhood.

Local citizens are invited to view the displays of Girl Scout program materials in the Cochituate Library and the Cochituate Branch of the Newton-Waltham Bank. The Girl Scouts are grateful to Miss Dorothy Brewer, Librarian, and Mr. Russell Gordon, Bank Manager, for their cooperation and to Mrs. George F. Johnson, Mrs. Doris Lucey and Mrs. Helen Cook, who arranged the displays.

Wayland Fire Record

During the second blizzard, on March 19, from 9 a.m. until Tuesday noon, March 20, six firemen were on 24-hour duty at each fire house. They slept and cooked meals at the fire houses so that they would be available at all times. These full pump crews at each end of town could have given service to about half of the town, as main roads were kept fairly clear.

Arthur Brown, leader of the Boy Scout Explorers offered the Explorers service to the Water Department to help keep hydrants dug out of drifts.

There were no fire calls during either blizzard.

More than 2,000,000 telephone subscribers in New England have dial service.

Weston High Science Fair To Be Held April 6 and 7

The annual Weston High School Science Fair will be held on April 6 and 7 in the science laboratories of the High School. More than 30 projects will be judged by six persons not connected with the school: Mr. Walter Stockmeyer, Professor of Chemistry at M. I. T.; Mr. Charles Lewis, Head of the Science Department at Brighton High School; Mr. Clifford Nelson, Chairman of the Science Department of the Weeks Junior High School in Newton; Mr. Walter Gleason, Principal of the Eliza School in Natick; Dr. Richard Wareham of Weston, Science Editor for D. C. Heath & Co.; and one other.

The judging will take place on the afternoon and evening of April 6, with a break from 6 to 7 when the Ninth Grade Foods Class under the direction of Miss Elizabeth Cobb will serve dinner to the judges and other special guests. Saturday, April 7, the fair will be open to parents and other interested townspeople. Announcement of the winners will be made at 2:30 o'clock.

For the past five years the students of Weston High School have had at least one project each year entered in the New England Science Fair. To make this distinction, a project must be either first or second place winner in the local fair; then must be one of 12 first place winners in the Massachusetts State Science Fair. To have made this honor for five years in succession is an unusual record, but Weston High School students are still undaunted.

J. Leslie Cahill

Funeral services for J. Leslie Cahill of 32 Brook Road, Weston, widely known organist who was long active in musical therapy work for the mentally ill, were held at Christ Episcopal Church, Waltham, on March 23.

Dr. Martin Edwards

WAYLAND — Dr. Martin Edwards, specialist in preventive medicine, died at his home on Feb. 29.

Beginning around 1925, Dr. Edwards, whose hobby was a tree nursery on his place on Winthrop Terrace, began planting evergreen and forsythia around the center of Wayland, where he thought they would make the town buildings more attractive. The evergreen trees going up to the High School, beside the Town Hall, and around the three center churches, were planted by Dr. Edwards.

Dr. Edwards came from Michigan to Boston University, then to Harvard Medical School. After his graduation from Medical School he became a founder and Dean of the Harvard Medical School in China, whose purpose was to train Chinese Doctors. The school opened in 1911 and in connection with its establishment was the first time the United States voted to spend money outside the country.

After this time, Dr. Edwards opened his own practise in Boston. Dr. and Mrs. Edwards came to Wayland not long after their return from China, and have lived here since 1916. Dr. Edwards is survived by his wife, Mrs. Ethel Hooper Edwards of Winthrop Terrace.

400 Teachers Seek Jobs In Wayland

WAYLAND — Because of the action of the Town in voting to buy six new school sites and to give substantial raises to teachers, says Superintendent of Schools, Edward J. Anderson, he has received applications from nearly 400 persons who want to teach in Wayland.

"The reverberations of the Wayland actions," he says, "are being heard throughout the local world of education. Teachers and school administrators take them to mean that here is a town which means to have the best possible school system.

"That's one reason why so many teachers are eager to come to Wayland. They think something big is happening here, and they want to be part of it.

"As a result of the Town's action, we can now compete for the best teachers with such places as Newton and Brookline. We don't necessarily pay them more, but we offer them opportunities in a Town which is building something good.

"In recent weeks, we have been able to recruit the top graduates of two Boston colleges. We are able to seek, get and retain the very best teachers.

"I am aware that many citizens may think of the expense involved in building first rate schools. I believe we teachers make a mistake when we think that the voters are not as eager to have good schools as we are. I often feel that parents are likely to be ahead of us in their interest in their schools and their willingness to support them.

"The elements which make a superior school system, I think, are a town willing to spend the money needed, students of high caliber and superior teachers. All three of these elements are present here in Wayland, and I think that our school system is on its way to becoming one of the very best school systems in New England."

Ten or eleven new teaching positions, says Mr. Anderson, will be needed next September. There will be nine extra classrooms of ele-

Johnson and Hartin New Fire Engineers

WAYLAND — George F. Johnson of Haven Lane and Francis J. Hartin of Main Street have been appointed to the Board of Fire Engineers, says Chairman Frank S. Tarr of the Board of Selectmen, to replace Police Chief Ernest H. Damon and Homer L. MacDonald.

The Board of Fire Engineers now consists of the new men and Frank Carter, Clifton Haynes and Parker Groton.

Weston in the Jet Age to be Presented In "All Kidding Aside", Big Musical

WESTON — The most ambitious musical show in the history of the First Parish Friendly Society will take place in the Town Hall of Weston on April 27 and 28 and on May 4 and 5.

Entitled "All Kidding Aside," the all-original musical comedy will depict the community of Weston in 1970, the jet age. Featuring a cast of nearly 100 persons who have been rehearsing under professional direction since early January, the show will benefit the Waltham Hospital.

The story is based on a book by Mrs. Guy Garland, with lyrics by Mrs. John Durant, and the score was written for the performance by Selene Harmon Howe. Professional direction is by William O. Partridge, and choreography by Russell Petersen. Frank Hatch and Helen Wheeler will provide special arrangements.

Sally Noonan, David Bradley, Mrs. John T. Fallon, and William B. Saunders are cast in leading parts, ranging from community figures to a gangster bent on a little friendly blackmail.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert B. Whittemore, chairmen of "All Kidding Aside," have announced that the curtain will go up promptly at 8:30 in the Town Hall. Tickets will be available at the Village Bookstall, or by calling Mrs. J. Manton Bradley (TW 4-1668).

"This is the most entertaining musical we have ever offered," says Mr. Whittemore, "and because so many have devoted their time and talent to its success, we look forward to a wonderful show, and an outstanding charitable contribution from the community."

Those wishing to obtain tickets are urged to make their reservations early, as the seats are limited.

John W. Leavitt to Be Guest of Honor At Dinner, May 2

WAYLAND — A testimonial dinner for John W. Leavitt, who retired from office in March after being a Selectman of the Town for 23 years, will be held at Ten Acres, State Road East, on Wednesday evening, May 2.

On the committee are Gustaf M. Blomgren, Dorothy S. Damon, Norman G. Fair, Gerald Henderson, Mr. and Mrs. Richard A. Howard and Edward N. Perry. Committee members have tickets, which may also be obtained from George Stockbridge, Al Brosseau, Benjamin Johnson, Jr., Tom Barr, Marshall's Apothecary and George Shepard.

During his years as Selectman, Mr. Leavitt has done innumerable pieces of work for the Town. Most recently, he has been chairman of the Town Office Building Committee, charged with building the new Town Hall.

In World War I he served in France and Germany, and he has been active in Legion affairs. Mrs. Leavitt is the former Suzanne Marthe Saguet of Paris, who is president of the Alward Post Legion Auxiliary and a member of Wayland League of Women Voters.

Dewitt Mitchell of Wayland is secretary for the coming year of the Middlesex County Dairy Herd Improvement Association.

TO CRIER READERS

As elsewhere noted, the people of Weston in Town Meeting assembled voted to cease publishing The Weston Reporter.

Naturally, this is good for The Town Crier.

It's also something like being elected to office. The one elected feels pleased about it, but at the same time he becomes aware of responsibility.

While we think the Crier has many good qualities, we know it could be better, and we mean to try to make it so.

We hope that the many excellent correspondents of The Reporter will send their news to the Crier. Every effort will be made to get it into the paper.

The new deadline for news copy is 6 p.m. of the Thursday before publication date. Thus, copy for the April 26 issue should be in by 6 p.m., April 19.

The vote of the Town of Weston, plus the continuing support of all subscribers and advertisers, shows a confidence in The Crier which is appreciated.

Weston Votes Biggest Budget; Cat Rock Put Off To April 30

WESTON — Weston citizens voted a budget of $1,052,406, biggest in the Town's history, at the Town Meeting of March 26, and then engaged in an hour-long, indecisive debate on what to do about 200 acres of wood land near Cat Rock.

Finally, three motions made by Selectman William R. Dewey, Jr. on this subject were carried. They were:

1. Appropriation of $500 for an appraisal of the area.
2. A resolution to be sent to the Legislature, favoring the taking of the land by the Metropolitan District Commission for a State reservation. This resolution was an interim measure.
3. Town Meeting was adjourned to April 30, by which time the appraisal would be ready and the Town could vote to see whether to purchase the area for a Town Forest.

First in History

The million-dollar budget was the first in Weston's history. Town Moderator Francis G. Goodale urged "thorough discussion and ultimate action" on it, but the only discussion revolved around several changes arising since the budget had been printed and distributed.

An extra fireman was added to man the telephone between the time the apparatus leaves the station and the first call-man arrives. These calls can no longer be transferred to the Police Department because of the new dial system.

The Selectmen then proposed to increase the appropriations for the Town bulletin, or "Reporter," by $100 in order to bring out a final issue. A letter was read from its editor, William T. Wolf, who said that the Town Crier had proved to be an adequate news medium and recommended discontinuance of the "Reporter." A motion was made from the floor to increase the appropriation to $1800 in order to continue the "Reporter."

Henry G. Pearson, publisher of the Crier, was voted "privilege of the assembly", and stated that the Crier had extended its coverage to

Oldest Tree in Town Has to Come Down

WAYLAND — The oldest tree in Town, a giant elm opposite the home of Mrs. Edward J. O'Neill on Oxbow Road, was taken down last week.

Fern Taylor says it was 200 years old, 100 feet tall and seven feet in diameter at chest height. Mrs. O'Neill says wood duck nested in it until last year. It had the disease.

Taking it down was a big project because the limbs had to be lopped off one by one, so things below wouldn't get smashed.

Dr. Chauncey, Long At St. Peter's, Has Resigned

WESTON — Dr. E. F. Chauncey has resigned as rector of St. Peter's Church, as a result of a new Episcopal canon law which requires a retirement age of 72. His resignation will be effective January 1957, when he will be 82.

A meeting of the parish has been called for April 17 at 8 p.m. The parish will be asked to confirm the church vestry's invitation to Dr. Chauncey to serve as rector emeritus. The vestry also will ask for authorization to call a new rector.

Since Dr. Chauncey came to Weston in 1940, the church membership has jumped from 150 to 1330. Before that, Dr. Chauncey has been at Holy Trinity Church in Brooklyn, St. Marks in Westchester County, New York, Trinity Church in Columbus, Ohio, and St. James Episcopal Church in Florence, Italy.

Wayland Town Seal Is Dated 1635. Wrong?

WAYLAND — Members of the Wayland Historical Society point out that the Town Seal seems to bear the wrong date of the Town's founding. It says 1635, whereas the records indicate nobody actually came here to settle until 1638.

The error seems to have been made in 1872, when the Town accepted the seal. One supposition is that possibly an organization for settling the Town was formed in 1635, several years before the actual trek to the Town site.

An interesting note is that the present Weston-Wayland Town line, running approximately North and South in a straight line, is the same one originally laid out to separate Watertown from Sudbury.

WAYLAND HOSPITAL COMMITTEE

WAYLAND — David B. Turner is Wayland chairman for the Emerson Hospital, Concord, building fund drive, which is on this month. A new wing is wanted, and Wayland's quota is set at $5000. Also on the Committee are C. Fessenden Morse, Mrs. Gerald Henderson and William J. Hammond.

Some Weston Boy Want To Be A Student at Rombas?

WESTON — The Weston-Rombas Affiliation is looking for a 16-year-old boy to act next year as a Weston-to-Rombas "ambassador" and student. The Affiliation has brought two French girls to go to Weston schools. Now M. Babin, chairman of the Affiliation in the French town, has issued an invitation for an American boy to live with a French family. Mr. Julius H. Mueller, principal of the Weston High School, will talk with applicants.

Widening of Road To Be Discussed

WESTON—The Planning Board and the Selectmen mean to get together soon, it is reported, to go over the future development of Town streets with Allen Benjamin of Wayland, the outside expert retained to study the future needs of the Town.

One subject of discussion, it is said, will be widening of the Post Road near the stores in the center. It is hoped that the hill may be cut back perhaps 10 feet, to lessen the peak hours congestion.

Another subject to be discussed is preparation of a traffic code for the Town.

Fill the oil stove only when it is cold. Keep it clean, permit no leaks and watch it constantly.

Weston Little League Play Starts April 20

WESTON — The Weston Little League season starts Friday, April 20, with games each weekday night at 6 p.m. at the Elementary School Field. Little League players registered on April 7 and 8, with teams selected from the registration on April 10 at a meeting of coaches and manager. The system of registration is new this year.

Managers and coaches include Kim McMullin, Jack Lawrence, Bob Millen, Bob Lazzari, Jack Forte, Bill Byrne, Denny Palmer, Reynold Brown and Ed Walsh.

The 120 youngsters who participate, range in age from 8 to 12 years. They are divided into six major league teams, and two farm teams, for younger players. In Weston the sponsors are the Newton-Waltham Bank, Massachusetts Broken Stone, Triple A Market, B. L. Ogilvie, Hartney Tree Experts and the Rotary Club.

The Little League was started in 1952 by the Veterans of Foreign Wars with Frank Woods as commissioner, and in 1954 became the present Weston Little League.

Mr. Woods will resign as commissioner, as soon as a new commissioner can be found, because he feels that a change and new approach is vital to the health of any organization.

The Little League hopes that the people of Weston will take an interest in its highly competitive games.

Eileen Bresse Wins $400 Scholarship

WAYLAND — Ahead of the season for scholarships, Eileen Bresse, a senior at Wayland High, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Bresse of Pelham Island Road, has won a $400 trustee's scholarship at Northeastern, where she's going to study business administration.

One of the top students in the school, Miss Bresse has also been active in school affairs and has won a number of honors. She is also an outstanding singer.

How To Go To The Board of Appeals

Since the changes in the Weston Zoning Law in June 1954 the Board of Appeals has been required to hold an exceptional number of hearings because of petitions for variances from the revised law. The Board feels that it might be helpful to Townspeople if they were advised of the procedures required of the Board if a petition for a variance is filed.

1. The Board is required to give public notice of a hearing in an official publication or a newspaper of general circulation. This is done a week in advance of the scheduled date of the public hearing.
2. Notice of the hearing, time and place must be given by mail to the petitioner and the abutters to the premises for which the petition for variance is being asked.
3. The public hearing is held at the published time and place.
4. The Board makes its decision within a reasonable time after the public hearing, and a detailed record of the hearing and the decision of the Board must be made by the Secretary.
5. The petitioner and the abutters are notified by mail of the decision of the Board.

The Board has designed a regular form on which a petition for variance must be made. It may be procured together with printed instructions at the Town Hall. The rules of the Board require:

1. The Town Clerk will collect the sum of $10.00 to defray expenses of publishing, postage, clerical help and other incidental expenses.
2. The petition for variance must be accompanied by two plans of the area for which a variance is sought on a scale of no smaller than one inch to sixty feet.
3. Such plans shall show the following:
   a. The lot or lots for which a variance is sought and all streets or ways on which they bound.
   b. The area of such lot or lots.
   c. The measurements of the bounds of such lot or lots.
   d. The location or proposed locations of buildings and structures on such lot or lots.
   e. The width of the lot or lots at the street setback line and at building line.
   f. The setback of buildings or structures from the street center line, street sideline, and lot line.
   g. The names and location of abutters to such lot or lots.
   h. Compass direction North.

Crier Issue Goes To All In Weston

Through the cooperation of the Town of Weston, copies of this issue of the Crier and of the next one are being mailed to every household in Weston.

This is being done because the Town has voted to discontinue publication of the Reporter, which has hitherto reached every family.

The Crier also hopes to come as closely as possible to reaching every one. This total, although temporary, circulation is being given so that all can see what the Crier is doing in its new role as Weston's only home-town newspaper.

Deadline for the April 26 Crier is 6 p.m., April 19.

Wayland Selectmen Hosts to Suasco At Red Coach Grill

WAYLAND — Wayland Selectmen Frank S. Tarr, Thomas F. Linnehan and John R. McEnroy were scheduled to be hosts to officials and legislators from 35 cities and towns in the Suasco watershed at a dinner at Red Coach Grill on Thursday evening, April 12.

Flood control movies were on the program, as well as speeches explaining Suasco and its progress.

Federal engineers are working up tentative plans, it was said, which may be ready for approval by Suasco and Congress by late Spring or early Summer.

Ivan Beal Is New Veterans' Agent

WAYLAND — Ivan E. Beal of East Plain Street, Cochituate, has been appointed Veterans Agent, to take the place of John W. Leavitt, resigned.

The Selectmen have also made the following reappointments:

Frank Kilburn, Town counsel and workmen's compensation agent; Ernest H. Damon, chief of police; Timothy J. Daly, plumbing inspector; J. Clifford Walker, custodian of Town Hall; Warren F. Lawrence, inspector of animals;

John E. Nelson, moth superintendent, and F. Clifton Haynes, forest fire warden.

State Survey Gives Tooth Decay Figures for Wayland Children

WAYLAND — Ninety-nine per cent of all 12-year-olds in Wayland have some degree of decay started in their permanent teeth, a survey recently made by the dental division of the State Department of Public Health indicates, and as a result a citizens' committee has been formed to try to figure out what to do about it.

While the survey shows this serious situation in Wayland, it does not show that it is unique. Wellesley is said to be a little better off, Sudbury a little worse.

Some of the survey indications:

Eighty-six per cent of Wayland children need dental care, 14 per cent don't.

Twenty-two per cent need immediate dental care, practically on an emergency basis.

Only 59 per cent of the 5-to-8-year-olds had had some care of their permanent teeth.

Seventy-four per cent of the 7-year-olds had decay started in their permanent teeth.

After age 12, the average is one new decayed tooth a year. Sixty per cent of 16-year-olds have one or more teeth missing, and the average 16-year-old has had three permanent teeth extracted.

What To Do?

When the Parmenter Health Center was opened and began to be used for physical examination of Wayland children, the doctors noticed the condition of teeth. As a result, the Board of Health, the School Department and the Health Center cooperated in asking the State to make the survey, which it did last October and November, at no cost to the Town.

As a result, a Dental Health Committee has been formed and has already held meetings. It includes John C. Quinn of the Board of Health, Adolf Baker, Mrs. George Johnson, Mrs. Richard A. Best, Dr. Harold Chamberlin, Stanley Shurtleff, Mrs. Robert Lorentzen, Dr. Howard Libby, Dr. Alfred Sharpe, Dr. Joseph Fournier (the school dentist) and Miss Roberta Jacobs, director of the Health Center.

This committee is distinct from the one named as a result of Town Meeting vote to study fluoridization. This one, it is expected, will make a long range study of the problem, considering phases of training, education and diet.

Open Areas For Recreation Should Be Acquired Now

By Rep. James DeNormandie

The problem of maintaining open spaces in metropolitan areas such as greater Boston is always difficult. And those of us who live in Weston. Wayland and Lincoln must remember that our towns and other similar ones are very much a part of greater Boston, even though we jealously guard our independence as Towns.

We are constantly running into problems which we can not solve individually but which must be solved if we are to continue to be a great and healthy region. One of the more obvious needs that has not been met by the area as a whole is water supply and sewage disposal; one of the more obvious that has not is adequate, well managed, reasonably priced public transportation.

Open areas for recreation and enjoyment fall into a very special category because on the one hand it often seems possible to postpone their acquisition in the face of more pressing problems and on the other hand, if their acquisition is postponed, there are no spaces left to acquire.

Today most everyone agrees on the importance of reservations for recreation or just open space. But as with all public problems, there are many points of view. Some favor town forests and parks because of the local control that such ownership assures. By this means we can avoid difficult conditions that sometimes have arisen in state parks and reservations.

I personally feel that this argument is especially valid when a park open to the general public exists in the center of a community and I therefore feel that individual communities should do all in their power to buy high quality areas for local park and forest needs.

However, along with these local reservations must be purchased larger areas on the edges of our towns that will not only give us protection for the future but will also serve the needs of the greater city of which we are a part. By careful control, which is an essential part of new reservation planning, we can protect our towns, provide better highways toward industrial areas and develop areas for hiking, picnicking and relaxation for those living in less fortunate surroundings than we.

Our towns simply do not have the resources to do all of this job. They are doing as much as they can with the limited funds that local taxes provide. That is why the Commonwealth must and properly should do its part in working out this problem. It should not be overlooked that good reservations, in meeting park and recreational needs, reduce substantially, the local financial burden for schools and other municipal services that such areas would require if developed for residential purposes.

It is with these thoughts in mind that the question of state reservations in the Cat Rock-Hobbs Brook Basin area and in the Sudbury-Concord River Valleys should be studied. The opportunity in the former exists today but will not remain for long.

The river valley is more remote in many respects, so time is not quite as pressing here, but it, too, must not be ignored or taken for granted for long.

Recognizing the importance of this area for recreational development was stressed by Commissioner of Natural Resources Arthur T. Lyman in a speech before the Trustees of Reservations. It is only by interested individuals, town authorities and state officials working closely together that these opportunities for open areas can be saved.

Faculty members are now drawing up a new outline of science studies, and this project will be followed by a survey of the mathematics program. A program for teaching handwriting in grades one through eight has already been approved by the School Committee, and will be installed as soon as materials for it are available.

Mr. Anderson is high in his praise of the School Committee's understanding and desire to provide teachers and facilities to give Wayland excellent schools. He also compliments the Town for its outstanding support of the school site and building program and the school budget at recent Town Meetings. He says that the work of the School Site Committee has been outstanding, in his opinion, and that the actions of the Board of Finance in approving and actively supporting the expanding financial needs of the school system shows how fully united the Town is in its effort to provide the best possible schools for Wayland's boys and girls.

WESTON — Nine girls of Troop 1 will leave for Washington on April 16, returning on the 20th. Mrs. Julius Mueller will be one of the adults accompanying them.

Weston Votes Budget

Weston only after making sure it was economically feasible and that the Crier expected to stay in Weston, giving the town equal coverage with Wayland.

Selectman Richard H. Field pointed out that the "Town Reporter" does interfere "with private enterprise, and that it's always easier to get the Government into business than to get it out." The motion to appropriate the funds to continue the "Reporter" was defeated by a voice vote.

New Pumper

Following approval of the budget, other articles in the Warrant were considered.

A new pumper for the fire department was voted for the sum of $19,700. The old pumper dates back to 1931.

It was voted to make a contract with Wellesley and Needham to share a Town health officer, but to be employed by Wellesley. This was made necessary by the resignation after 28 years of Curtis M. Hilliard.

A motion to discharge the special committee to investigate Town forests was beaten by a close vote and therefore the committee, headed by Dr. William A. Elliston, will continue its work.

The meeting also voted to appropriate $7500 for highway construction to remove the jog in the Boston Post Road west of St. Peter's Church, and $500 for purchase of land for a site for a standpipe on Highland Street at Love Lane. This land will be in addition to the small parcel on which the existing reservoir stands.

Debate Cat Rock Proposal

The final article in the Warrant concerned acquisition of the 200 acres now owned by Techbuilt on the Waltham-Lincoln line, contiguous with the Cat Rock area. This area, along with a small portion of land in Lincoln and a larger tract in Waltham, is being proposed as a State reservation in House Bill 1829 sponsored by Rep. James DeNormandie. Selectman Dewey reported that there was considerable sentiment in Town for having the land acquired for a Town Forest.

The owners, however, had told him they wanted $240,000, which he thought was too much for the Town. For this reason he was requesting funds for an appraisal which would be ready by the time of an adjourned Town Meeting late in April. At this time the voters could decide whether they wished to acquire the land for a Town Forest.

In the meantime, Mr. Dewey pointed out, he thought the Town should take some position about the bill in the House, so that Weston's representatives would know how the Town felt. He thought the price was so high that the next best alternative would be to have the State make use of it.

Debate on the resolution was lively. Frederick C. Dumaine, Jr. hoped that the House bill would include the property of a piggery in the area. Representative J. Robert Ayers said that Waltham solons were against the bill because they wanted the land to remain under the jurisdiction of the City of Waltham.

Several citizens warned against allowing the State to turn the area into a crowded reservation like Blue Hills, while others spoke of a "poor real estate risk" if left in the hands of its present owners. Selectman Dewey said the entrance would be through the Waltham section and he doubted if the Weston part, which lies at the back, would be much affected by large crowds.

Both Schools Hold Big Science Fairs

Both Wayland and Weston High Schools held Science Fairs on April 6 and 7, with large crows and impressive exhibits. It was the first fair for Wayland. Weston has been having them for a long time, and for the past four years the Weston winners have gone on to place among the first 12 in the State Fair.

The Weston winners, A Division: Peter Rydell, 1st; John Gilman, 2d, Owen Connolly, 3d. B Division (grades 7, 8 and 9), John Reissner, 1st; Thomas Kelley, 2d; and Brian Doherty, 3d.

The first two winners in the A Division qualify for the Massachusetts State Science Fair, to be held April 27, 28 and 29.

The Wayland Fair, sponsored by the Bi-Phi-Chem Club, had Douglas M. Surgenor, John B. Gregory and Blakeslee Colby as judges.

The winners in chemistry: Mary Jane Fabiasak, 1st; Allen Lynch, 2d, and Stanley Marshall, 3d. In physics, Robert Lucey, 1st; Earl Woods, 2d, and Robert Brown, 3d. In biology, Carl Schneider, 1st; Joan Lizotte, 2d, and Barbara Wood, 3d. In general science, Emerson Henderson, 1st; Ronnie Paradis and John Wesley, second, and Jonathon Doane, 3d.

Wayland, Sudbury Get Together on Land Development Project

SUDBURY — Officials of Sudbury and Wayland met recently to discuss the possibility of the two Towns getting together in the mutual development of the Sand Hill area, adjacent to the Boston Post Road on both sides of the hill, with lands of both Towns concerned. The meeting was initiated by Harvey N. Fairbank, Sudbury Selectman, and it was held in the Sudbury Town Hall.

Mr. Fairbank was moderator of the informal meeting. Attending were representatives of Wayland Planning and Zoning Boards, and of Sudbury Planning Board, Selectmen Board, Board of Appeals and Industrial Development Board. Guest speaker was Allen McClennen, Director of Planning Division, State Department of Commerce. State Representative James DeNormandie attended, as did several State officials connected with the Public Works Department.

The suggestion was advanced that a strong approach should be made to the State, requesting the highway be cut to lower grade at the hill, using the gravel thus salvaged to raise the causeway. Speakers said they felt regrading at this point would open up the land on both sides of the road to excellent industrial development. Some thought that even now a flood-safe grade could be established and land owners abutting the highway might be allowed to remove gravel from their land down to the new established grade.

The proposed Route 20 bypasses, at Wayland and Sudbury, were discussed, as was the possibility of a new Route 27 lay-out which would extend this route to an exit on the Post Road somewhere in the Sand Hill vicinity. The general opinion of the meeting was that the two bypasses, regarding Sand Hill, and the Route 27 exit, might be and probably should be of one pattern. The meeting adopted a resolution to this effect and it is to be presented to the Department of Public Works by a representative group from the Board of Selectmen and Planning Boards of both towns.

The meeting voted to reconvene at a future date for further mutual study of the Sand Hill project and the other connecting elements. It was understood that the Planning Board of the two Towns had a joint meeting scheduled shortly to discuss the same problems, and at the next meeting of two-Town group a report of the Planning Boards' findings would be made.

Mr. Rober E. Ela, Wayland Zoning Board member, was author of the resolution that will be presented to the Public Works Department. It reads:

Resolved, that with a view to proper integration of the highway pattern in the Sand Hill area on Route 20 at the Sudbury-Wayland line with present and potential industrial development of that general area, the Massachusetts Department of Public Works is requested to proceed at the earliest possible time to develop, in consultation with the Sudbury and Wayland Planning Boards, a highway plan for that general area, including a location for the Wayland-Sudbury Bypass, possible relocation of Route 27, and establishment of an ultimate grade for this section of Route 20.

Uncle Sam To Give $19,000 for CD In New Town Hall

WAYLAND — Approval of the grant of $19,000 in Federal matching funds toward the construction of a Civil Defense Control Center in the new Town Office Building has been given, according to Civil Defense Director W. R. Hulbert. According to Hulbert such a Control Center will be one of the first to be built in New England by any local community, although the Commonwealth has been allocated Federal funds and has already commenced building a State Control Center.

The funds will pay one-half the cost of construction of nearly a full basement under the Fire Department section of the Building, sufficiently large to include a Communications Room, Director's office and other Control Center space for use by all departments of the Town in case of a Civil Defense emergency.

The space will be sufficient to permit equipping a portion of it as a combined pistol and rifle range for simultaneous shooting from five positions. The range will be used by the regular Police Department and the Auxiliary Police and it will be available for use by a High School rifle team when and if such a team is organized.

The Control Center will be entirely below grade and completely enclosed in concrete. Alternate exits are planned, one to a separate outside door and the other through the Police Department. Emergency generators will be available to provide all needed power and light should the Edison Company supply fail.

According to Director Hulbert, who serves on the Town Office Building Committee, the space made possible by this grant will always be useful for Town purposes and is of such a nature that the Town would have been required to include it in the Building plans even without Federal aid.

Dr. Vinal of Weston New Lab Manager

WESTON — Dr. Francis E. Vinal of 31 Silver Hill Road will be manager of the recently developed Advanced Development Laboratory of RCA at the New England Industrial Center at Needham, RCA has announced.

Dr. F. E. Vinal
(Fabian Bachrach)

The work of the laboratory is with ferrites, which are described as "inorganic chemical compounds formed from metallic oxides, used in television receivers, computers and in high frequency applications." Their ancester with the lodestone.

Dr. Vinal, a native of Washington, D. C., received his bachelor's and master's degrees from Wesleyan, and his Ph.D. from M. I. T.

Dr. and Mrs. Vinal moved to Weston in November, 1951. He is active in the auxiliary police and civil defense system of Waltham, and Mrs. Vinal is in Girl Scout work in Weston. They have four children, one in second grade, one in kindergarten and two younger ones.

WAYLAND — Paul Conervan, Dr. James Cotter, John Donovan and George Owens, all of Wayland, are on the committee for the second annual Patriots' Day dinner and reception honoring Archbishop Richard J. Cushing, to be held in the cafeteria of the Rose Hawthorne School in Concord on the evening of April 19.

There's no substitute for a home run.

Open House at Case Estates On May 6, For Unique Plant Show

All interested resident of Weston and Wayland are invited to visit the Case Estates of the Arnold Arboretum (on Wellesley Street, Weston, adjacent to the High School) on Sunday, May 6, from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m., to see "the most complete collection of ground covers on display in America."

The invitation comes from Donald Wyman of 102 Wellesley Street, Weston, who is secretary of the American Horticultural Council and is connected with the Arboretum.

Mr. Wyman's book, "Ground Cover Plants," published by MacMillan on March 11, contains much information drawn from study of these Case Estates plots. These plots have also been described in several national magazines.

Mr. Wyman says the demonstration plots, which border the road leading to the community swimming pool, contain more than 150 different kinds of ground-covering plants, all labeled with their common and scientific names.

A new demonstration plot is open this year just below the ground covers. Here are 80 different kinds of small, ornamental trees for the small property. Mr. Wyman says people are beginning to come from all over the metropolitan area to inspect these small trees.

In all, the nurseries on the Case Estates contain nearly 2,000 different kinds of woody plants. Some are entirely new and are not growing anywhere else in America.

The Arboretum property of the Case Estates covers 150 acres. Although these gardens have gained considerable fame, not many in Weston know about them, and even fewer in Wayland.

Red Cross Praised For Canteen at Mansion Inn Fire

WAYLAND — The Wayland Chapter, Red Cross Canteen, of which Mrs. John Dunning is disaster chairman, is praised by Homer L. MacDonald, who was in charge of Wayland fire fighters at the Mansion Inn fire, in a letter to A. M. Hammer of Lincoln Road. The letter:

"May I express the appreciation of the fire department for the wonderful canteen service. It must have been a huge task for these people to transport everything through the storm to the fire lines at the Mansion Inn fire.

"I personally recognized Mrs. John Dunning, Mrs. Piere Dumaine and Miss Terese Todd, but undoubtedly there were others involved in this operation. Your group started out with two strikes against them. The lateness of the hour in the day must have meant that stores were closing, making it hard to buy food. Both driveways to the Inn were filled with slush, a tangle of hose lines, — a quagmire under foot, and the biting cold wind certainly added to the discomfiture of serving food.

"The Red Cross did a job to be proud of. We trust that no one was made ill as a result of the venture. May God bless them all."

Signed,
Homer L. MacDonald

5th Graders Off To Peterborough, N. H., For Nature Study

The boys and girls of Mrs. Eva Gately's fifth grade are working eagerly toward a new educational goal. On April 9 they departed for Peterborough, New Hampshire, along with the fifth grade classes from the Center and Happy Hollow Schools, where they took part in a science program stressing the study of streams and erosion, forests and their by-products, bird and animal life and other similar topics.

Every student earned some of the money for the trip by doing such jobs as shoveling snow, baby sitting, chopping wood, doing dishes and other household tasks.

3d Graders Design Original Fashions

Young fashion designers have been busy in Mrs. Donaleen Brainerd's third grade. They may not be competition for Dior or Fath; but, at least, they are highly original. As part of a unit on clothing, the third graders created, in sketches, original fashions for all occasions. They also made and dressed paper dolls.

After studying about cotton, wool, linen, silk, rayon, nylon, dacron, orlon, leather, rubber and plastics, the children wrote stories and reports. How these materials were used for clothing was also studied. The reports, together with pictures and samples of all materials, were compiled into a book.

The children tried making threads by twisting fibers. They learned to weave on a loom, and proudly completed potholders and hot dish mats. They compared drying time of the new man-made materials with others, such as wool.

While studying cotton, the third graders sewed samplers by making a stencil of an original design, transferring it to cotton material and embroidering it. They also cut and sewed raw string bags to hold their crayons.

As part of their final activities, they made stick puppets of girls and boys dressed for different occasions and for different kinds of weather.

Happy Hollow Players Present "Peer Gynt"

WAYLAND — Fifty 5th and 6th graders of the Happy Hollow School put on Peer Gynt, musical play adapted from Ibsen with music by Grieg, at the school on April 5, with 350 parents, brothers, sisters and friends for a friendly audience.

The acting, singing, dancing and gay costumes were much applauded.

Directors were Mrs. Florence C. Shohl, Mrs. Eva M. Gately, Miss Marjorie T. Ball and Mrs. W. B. Parker.

The overture was played by the Happy Hollow Orchestra, a new group of nine young musicians.

Cochituate School Has Its First Band

The new Cochituate School Band met early this month for its first rehearsal. Twenty-six members were present.

Present at this initial meeting with Lester S. MacArthur, instrumental music teacher, were Leith MacArthur, Donald Hillier, Charles Roehrig, Robert Lewis, James Murray, Judith Anderson, Kenneth Houghton and James Foster, trumpets. Larry Smith was the solo baritone horn player. The clarinet section consisted of Kenneth Kane, Tommy Irving, Robert Kent, Wendy Clausen, Susan Berg, Roger Livingston, Charles Livingston, Bill McDonald, John MacDonald and Chris Slotter.

In the percussion section were Robert Berry, James Arnold, Paul Baker, Warren Branning, Robert Stack, James Avard and David Carroll. Also a member of the band, but absent from school, was Kenneth Revell, trumpet.

Many of these youngsters have only recently started playing and are justifiably proud at having been accepted in this, Cochituate's first grammar school band.

With the addition of a brass horn, a few trombones, alto horns and saxophones the band will be very well balanced. Within a few weeks, Mr. MacArthur expects to start an exclusively Cochituate School orchestra, also. Two groups are also about to be formed in Happy Hollow and Center schools to make up a larger and more complete band and orchestra.

Cochituate Gazette Makes $1.20 Profit

Walter Doucette's sixth grade class in the Cochituate School is putting into practice the various lessons in English learned during the school year.

A school newspaper, the Cochituate School Gazette, has been organized and the first issue has already been published. It is a two page issue containing school news, club news, stories, jokes, and contests.

Editor of the school paper is Janet Persson. Her assistants are Judy Allen, Linda Gladu, Dorothy Cardellicchio and Kenneth Kane.

The first issue, which was completely sold out, made a profit of $1.20. The second issue will feature a contest to determine the best way of expending this money.

St. Patrick Play At Happy Hollow School

To honor Saint Patrick the fourth grade of Miss Patricia Dalton presented an adaptation of the play "The Little People," by Catherine Christopher, to a large audience of parents and friends at Happy Hollow auditorium on Friday, March 16.

Through their able acting the following cast showed how Saint Patrick taught the leprechauns to be kind:

Saint Patrick — Robert Davis
Grandfather — Bruce Keary
Mary — Karen Zaniboni
Michael — Robert Benson
Mother — Maureen Carroll
Father — Richard Miller
Announcer — Cynthia Rossborough

The Little People were acted out by the remainder of the fourth graders.

Star Gazing Party In Davelin Road

On the evening of March 22 the boys and girls of Mrs. Florence Shohl's class at Happy Hollow School could be seen "star-gazing." The entire class met at Davelin Road with Star Maps donated by the Museum of Science.

During their gazing they observed 16 constellations and Venus and Jupiter.

Following a discussion of their findings they were served hot cocoa, cookies and popcorn from a table set up by the parents in a driveway on Davelin Road.

As a culminating activity to their study of Mexico, the third grades of Mrs. Alice McIntosh and Mrs. Selma Steinberg at Happy Hollow School are planning a trip to the Children's Museum in Boston to see an exhibit and a movie concerning the arts, sciences and products of our Mexican neighbor.

A Parent Speaks . . .

By Mrs. James E. Sullivan

From a parent's viewpoint, the value of a parent-teacher conference may perhaps be boiled down to one single word — understanding.

Every parent has problems — little or big — with every child. Every teacher has similar problems — multiplied by 25. Whether they realize it or not, both teacher and parent are dependent upon each other in solving these problems. Personal conferences are absolutely essential to the solution.

Very often a child's teacher is the most important person in his life, after the family, and he is unhappy and frequently not at his best in scholastic achievement if there is not a good relationship between the home and school. We mothers, especially, can foster such a relationship simply by sitting down and talking with the teachers whenever the need arises.

We parents want the best possible education for our children, a good physical plant, a good program, good teachers. Working together, we can and must achieve all three.

6th Grade PTA Meets

WESTON — The Child Study Committee of the PTA sponsored a meeting for all parents of children in the sixth grades on Monday, April 9, at the Country School Auditorium.

Mr. Julius Mueller, Principal of the High School, and Mr. Henry DeRusha, English teacher, spoke on "Transition into Junior High School," and answered parents' questions.

Grades 1 and 2 of the Cochituate School, consisting of Mrs. Jane Campbell's, Mrs. Mary Reynolds', Mrs. Olivia Hill's, Mrs. Priscilla Triebs' and Miss Ethelyn Morrill's rooms will present, in the school auditorium, an all-building assembly for the month of April.

The program will be made up of a rhythm band, dances and marches, several instrumental solos, safety songs and recitations.

COCHITUATE—Girls of Brownie Troop 101, led by Mrs. Richard Groton and Mrs. Melvin Stone, recently visited the Nursery School for Hard of Hearing at Parmenter Health Center and gave each of the little pupils an Easter basket filled with candy marshmallow eggs and decorations. The pupils served the Brownies tonic and cookies.

Mrs. Judith Uhrig's boys went to the Harvard Museum of Natural History and saw mammals, minerals, and rocks. They also saw exhibits of African, Eskimo and South American culture.

Teachers At H. H. Form Association

Under the guidance of the principal, Daniel Frumerin, the teachers of Happy Hollow School have formed an improvement association which meets once a month to discuss a current educational advancement or problem.

The first meeting had as its topic, "Reading in Today's School." The panel was directed by Miss Pauline Natale, second grade teacher, and Mrs. Selma Steinberg, third grade teacher. Following their discussion on the use of phonics and the other word attacking skills all the teachers made suggestions of ways they had found helpful in the teaching of reading.

At another meeting Mrs. Terri Finn, second grade teacher, read a paper on the development of good penmanship skills which she is studying at graduate school in Boston.

Through these monthly meetings the teachers are finding another method of enriching their backgrounds so that they may better serve the students of Happy Hollow School.

Peering out the windows of Mrs. Alice Hall's first grade at Happy Hollow School may be seen many evidences of Easter.

Each child has drawn a life sized rabbit and it may now be seen looking out the window at the children enjoying their recess.

The children have been trying to find a real rabbit to have in their room so that they might learn even more about their animal friend.

WESTON — The Massachusetts Association for Retarded Children will hold its general convention on April 14 and 15 at the Framingham Motor Inn. Donald H. Guild of Natick will represent the South Middlesex Chapter, which serves Weston.

Founded in 1952 with nine chapters and 700 members, the organization is now comprised of 23 units, representing 4000 parents of retarded children in Massachusetts.

WAYLAND — Edward F. Thorburn, president of the Wayland Kiwanis Club, announces that Wayland High School now has applications for the Kiwanis scholarships to be awarded to four outstanding young people in New England. Each scholarship carries four years tuition.

Farmers of Massachusetts have been urged to take advantage of the new Federal gasoline tax law by Francis Barnard of Shelburne, President of the Massachusetts Farm Bureau Federation. The law, which relieves the farmers of paying 2c Federal gasoline tax on gas he uses off the highway, was signed recently by President Eisenhower.

Under the law, the farmers must file a claim to receive the rebate on taxes paid at time of purchase. In order to file for a rebate, the farmer must keep an accurate record of his gasoline purchases and whether they are used on or off the highway.

Weston Children May Enter Classes for Hard of Hearing

WAYLAND — The Nursery School for Hard of Hearing Children at the Parmenter Health Center, at present open only to Wayland children, is to be enlarged to admit children from Weston, Sudbury, Concord, Lincoln, Framingham and Natick, says Miss Roberta Jacobs, Health Center director.

At present there are six Wayland 4-year-olds in the class, which meets two afternoons a week with Mrs. Mildred Reynolds, speech and hearing therapist, as teacher. The class was begun last December.

The decision to widen the scope of the school was made because more children can be accommodated and because there is no school of this kind nearer than one in Waltham, and that is said to be full.

The fee for those who can pay will be $1.50 a class. However, Miss Jacobs says, scholarships are available, and parents of children who could benefit by the classes should not hesitate to apply. She says the little ones now in the class are really making progress, and that early training will help them a lot when they enter the first grade.

The school could use some bookshelves, for holding toys.

Parents of Wayland and nearby Towns who may be concerned are invited to attend a panel discussion on "Needs and Training of Children Who Are Hard of Hearing" at the Health Center, Route 27, Wayland, on April 25 at 8 p.m.

Dr. Albert Murphy, audiologist, will be moderator, and on the panel will be Dr. Bernard Zonderman, otologist, and Drs. Adam Sortini and Alan Feldman, audiologists.

In many places in Wayland and Weston, the snow was two feet deep on April 1 this year.

Dancing Classes May 2

WESTON — Wednesday afternoon dancing classes for the fifth, sixth and seventh grades, scheduled for Wednesday, March 21, were postponed on account of the storms, and will be held on Wednesday, May 2, at the Weston Golf Club.

The Weston Assembly and the Weston Junior Sociable, also postponed on account of snow, will be held Saturday, May 12, also at the Weston Golf Club.

WESTON HIGH NOTES

The Weston High School Play Committee for 1956 has been selected. Members from the present junior class include Carol Raynor, Peter Hanson, Harry Crawford and Valerie Sawyer; sophomores are Joanna Bartlett, Paul Mollomo and Barbara Haywood; freshmen chosen are John Reissner and Arsene Avakian. Under the direction of Mr. John W. Zorn, Chairman of the English Department, these students will choose next year's school play by May.

Seven students from Weston High were among the 450 high school students from the six New England states to participate in the New England Music Festival. This three-day event, which consisted of two days of rehearsals culminating in a third day of concerts, took place on March 22 through 24 at Claremont, N. H. Weston students participating were Judith Wetzel, Deborah Williams, Donald Brayton, Diane Dolan, Joseph Wagner, Anna Melone and Elizabeth Frye. They were accompanied by Mr. Wendell B. Phillips, Director of Music.

Underclassmen have been in the process of arranging their course schedules for the academic year of 1956-57. On Monday morning, March 26, freshmen, sophomores and juniors attended an assembly which was addressed by Mr. Julius Mueller, Principal, and Mr. Charles K. Cummings, Director of Guidance, which stressed the importance of standards in the selection of school courses. On Wednesday, March 28, there was an assembly for eighth grade students, also addressed by Mr. Mueller and Mr. Cummings. These students, together with their parents and advisors, will be planning their program for the next four years, and must do so in terms of the kind of thing they wish to do when their high school course is finished.

The seventh grade geography classes were addressed on Thursday, March 15 by Professor Minnie E. Lemaire, who is the Chairman of the Department of Geology and Geography at Mt. Holyoke College. Her topic was "A Cross-section of the Andes; a Trip from North to South by Air, Train and Bus," and her illustrations showed landmarks, public buildings and travel facilities as well as land formations.

The Weston Teachers Club had its fourth meeting of the year,— this one a bowling party at the Weston Country Club — on Wednesday afternoon, March 28. There was a large turnout and a variety of bowling styles. Miss Barbara C. Stiles walked off with the women's prize, and Mr. Wallace W. Sawyer had top score for the men.

Mr. Martin Martinian, faculty representative of the Weston Rombas Affiliation Committee, recently announced a considerable increase in "pen-pal" correspondence with high schoool students in Rombas, France. This correspondence was spurred on by exchange of Christmas cards and the answers they drew.

Mr. Martinian, who like other faculty members has many curricular and extra-curricular activities within the school, manages also to have an interesting hobby that we hear about only occasionally, fencing. On the week-end of March 9-10 he was in New York directing the Eastern Intercollegiate Fencing Tournament, and had the honor of being voted "best director" by both coaches and officers. He is the only New Englander to have had this distinction in the 59 years of the tournament's history.

Robert Murray, a junior, has won the first prize of $50 in the aviation division of "designs for Tomorrow" for the March issue of the magazine "Young Men." Robert's prize-winning design is of a Delta Wing Commercial Transport, using by-pass jet engines, for which he submitted various drawings and a written description. This project was first begun in his second year Mechanical Drawing class under Mr. Aimo Teittenen, and was submitted to the Science Fair last year. Robert is now working on a new design, which will probably appear in this year's Science Fair.

IT WAS PETER MANSON

In the March 15 Crier, in the story about Weston High students winning science prizes, it should have been recorded that Peter Manson won $80 and a national second prize. By mistake, the name came out Peter Hanson.

Rep. DeNormandie Will Run Again

WAYLAND — James DeNormandie of Lincoln, Representative in the Legislature for Wayland, Lincoln and Sudbury, announces that he will be a candidate for reelection.

Mr. DeNormandie took the seat in the House formerly occupied by Howard S. Russell, who retired two years ago. Mr. DeNormandie has been in Wayland many times in connection with plans for Stone's Bridge, flood control and other matters of Town interest. He has also been concerned with plans for Cat Rock in Weston.

Cub Scout Carnival At School, April 14

WESTON — The annual Cub Scout Carnival is scheduled for Saturday, April 14, from 1:30 to 4:30 p.m. at the Elementary School Gymnasium. Ice cream, soda pop, and a cub-sized midway are the main attractions, with prizes and fun for young and old.

The Carnival is the sole fund-raising event sponsored by the Cub Scouts each year. The proceeds are turned over to the three packs for operative capital.

Admission is 25c and tickets are redeemable at the door for six game tickets. Individual game tickets for those who wish to play more than six games are 5c each and may be purchased at the door.

Walter H. Wilcox, chairman of the Wayland Community Chest, wishes to announce that a meeting will be held at his home on Old Connecticut Path on Wednesday evening, April 25.

Cancer Collection in Wayland, April 24

WAYLAND — Volunteers will cover the Town on the evening of April 24, "Cancer Crusade Night," collecting for the fight against cancer. Kemp Reade is Wayland Chairman and Mrs. Egon Weiss is co-chairman for Cochituate.

On the Wayland committee are David Turner, treasurer, and Mr. and Mrs. Mark Marbet, Mrs. C. J. Owen, Mrs. Dana Frye, Leslie Flood, Mrs. A. S. MacMillen, Jr., S. Heinrich, Edward Noyes, Mr. McCormick, Mrs. Frederick Wayland and Mrs. Roland Lombard.

Nicole Sees Kansas

WESTON — Miss Nicole Maitre, Weston's student from Rombas, France, this year, has been visiting friends at Fort Leavenworth, Kansas. This trip as well as one with a school group in February to the United Nations has given her a chance to see more of the United States.

Personal Appearance

"Big Brother" Bob Emery of WBZ-TV will be at Grover Cronin's, Waltham, from 9:30 until 10:30 a.m., Saturday, April 14.

Weston Garden Club

WESTON — The Weston Garden Club will hold its regular meeting on Thursday, April 26, at the home of Mrs. Clinton P. Biddle, Orchard Avenue. Mrs. Biddle, Mrs. Eben P. Lufkin, Mrs. Albert R. Speare and Mrs. Wilmot Whitney will be hostesses.

Coffee will be served at 10 a.m. The business meeting will be held at 10:30 and at 10:50 Mr. Harold Bent will speak on "Flower Show Practise."

YOU ARE SO RIGHT - - WITH MAPLE

It's a mistake to think that provincial furnishing and decor are suitable only for the small, cottage - type home. They fit equally well into larger and more spacious dwellings. In fact, provincial is right in any size home. For all of you who love its gay, appealing charm, its feeling of friendly informality, there is no better choice.

Today's provincial happily combines the quaint simplicity and picturesqueness of earlier days with the sturdy, practical functionalism we currently demand.

A provincial theme was chosen for the informal family room sketched above. The fireplace wall, composed entirely of natural bricks, provides a starting point for the color scheme. The maple furniture is completely at home in this cozy setting.

The dining group has been conveniently placed near the entrance to the kitchen with traffic lanes left free. When mealtime is over it provides an ideal spot for games. Deep, roomy lounge chairs offer hospitality, invite relaxation and rest. Here is a room setting fashioned and furnished for comfortable, memorable family living.

You have a right to expect style, durability and value with every furniture purchase you make. And we make a special point of being sure that you get all of these when you buy from us. So do come in and let us help you make satisfactory selections from our large variety of American Provincial furnishings. Remember, our latch-string is always out.

Weston Boosters Club Seeking To Build a Scholarship Fund

WESTON — A letter asking for contributions to the Boosters Club fund is soon to be sent to every family in Town. This is what the Club is and does:

It is a voluntary organized group of men and women whose sole purpose is directed toward helping Weston boys and girls and encouraging their development scholastically, athletically and as good citizens.

This past year the Boosters Club formally established the David A. Perry Memorial Scholarship Fund. The scholarships are named in honor of one of the early founders of the club who gave freely of his time and substance in the interests of Weston boys and girls. These scholarships are awarded annually to deserving graduates of the High School to help them further their education.

Two such awards totaling $400 were made last year. At present the scholarship money comes mostly from contributions. What is desired, is to build a fund large enough to provide scholarships out of the interest. Towards this end the Club has adopted the practice of sponsoring a movie show during the Christmas, Winter, and Spring vacations with all proceeds going to the David A. Perry Memorial Scholarship Fund.

The Boosters Club sponsors the Win-Lose-Draw dinner held each Fall following the football season. It awards a white sweater with maroon "W" to each boy and girl in the high school from the sophomore class up, who wins his first varsity letter.

The Boosters Club actively supported the project of erecting and painting the grandstand on the high school athletic field. Individual members put in many hours doing extensive grading and seeding of the area surrounding the newly erected grandstand.

It contributed substantially to the support of the Weston Little League.

It supplies the refreshments for the field day program held each summer by the Recreation Department of the Town.

It does such occasional gracious acts as providing refreshments for visiting football teams which had some distance to travel to play in Weston.

The Boosters Club paid the full expenses of one high school student to visit the United Nations in New York as its contribution to the Town-wide observance of the Tenth Birthday Anniversary of the United Nations.

The Club sponsors the Theodore Chandler Memorial Award, which is given annually to the boy and the girl in the graduating class who by vote of class-mates, faculty, and the Boosters Club have been outstanding in athletic ability, scholarship and school spirit. These awards, first given in 1948, are considered the highest given in the school and climax the presentation of awards at the annual commencement exercises. First winners of the Ted Chandler Awards were Josephine Melone, who died last year, and Frank L. Jacques, Jr. The latter, a graduate of University of Massachusetts, is now finishing his military service in Germany.

The Boosters present organization, a successor to earlier groups dedicated to similar aims, was started after World War II when Weston had a series of undefeated football teams. Active in it, among others, were Theodore Chandler, Judge Frederic A. Crafts, W. Hart Nichols, Wilmot Whitney, David A. Perry, Howard Forbes, Harold G. Travis, Frank L. Hitchcock, and William L. Rinehart. Harry S. Ferries is currently president of the Club, with Ronald S. Beamish and Kimball McMullin, serving as secretary and treasurer, respectively.

In determining and sponsoring worthwhile projects in behalf of Weston boys and girls the officers and directors of the club work very closely with the school administration.

Separate contributions in recent years have been received from some 300 families and individuals. It is the Club's hope that this year's fund campaign will bring a generous response from a much larger proportion of the community. The goal of the 1956 Fund Drive is "Every Weston Family a BOOSTER."

Weston Garden Tour Planned For May 14

WESTON — The Garden Interest Group of the Women's Community League will make a tour of Weston gardens on Monday, May 14, from 2:30 to 4:30 p.m.

Watch for the announcement of gardens to be exhibited and plan to take the tour. Non-member guest fee is 50 cents.

Edward F. Powers, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward F. Powers of 19 Lake Road, Cochituate, an engineering student at West Virginia Wesleyan College, has been pledged to Kappa Sigma Kappy fraternity. He was graduated from Wayland High School in the class of 1955.

WAYLAND — Mrs. Grace Courchine has been appointed a Registrar of Voters to take the place of the late Joseph Perodeau, who died recently.

"Al" LeBlanc Is Assigned To Guam

WAYLAND — Mrs. Mary LeBlanc of 81 Main Street, Cochituate, has received word from the Navy that her son, Albert A. LeBlanc, has been graduated from the U. S. Naval Builder's Class "A" School in California and has been assigned to Mobile Construction Battalion Ten. Gaum.

Albert A. LeBlanc

Mr. LeBlanc was graduated in 1955 from Wayland High School, where he played varsity football and basketball.

"The Gondoliers" at Cambridge School, April 11 and 12

WESTON — "The Gondoliers," Gilbert & Sullivan operetta, was scheduled to be given at the Cambridge School at 8:30 p.m. on April 11 and 12. In the cast: George McKinley, the Duke; Amanda Dushkin, the Duchess; John Wood, Luiz; Lucy Riesman, Casilda; Albert Martin, the Inquisitor, and Maria Cardozo, Inez.

Weston Gave $866 For Retarded Children

WESTON — The sum of $866.19 was raised in Weston during National Retarded Children's Week in November, $200 more than was given in the previous year. It was the second annual public education and fund raising effort by the National Association.

Weston is one of 19 Towns in the South Middlesex Association and was fourth on the list in amount of money raised.

Regular meetings of the South Middlesex Association are held at the Natick Federal Savings and Loan Association, 47 Main Street, Natick, at 8 p.m. on the first Monday of each month. Donald H. Guild of Natick is president.

A new venture will be three day camps for the retarded this Summer, at Dover, Concord and Hudson. Expense should not be great, it is said.

Local persons interested may call TW 3-6010.

Walter Cheslak Is New Tax Collector

WAYLAND — Walter Cheslak has been appointed Tax Collector, replacing the late Theodore H. Harrington.

New Sealer of Weights and Measures is Edward T. Damon, Jr., who replaces Richard A. Howard.

WAYLAND HIGH NOTES

Miss Nathalie Baker has been selected as stage manager for the Senior Class play, "Young April," to be presented on Thursday and Friday evenings, April 26 and 27, 1956, at 8 o'clock. "Young April" is a family comedy. The play, enlivened by frequent bits of humor, is a genuine study of the inter-reactions of parents and children, during the tender, romantic, impulsive age. All proceeds are used for the yearbook and townspeople are cordially invited to attend. Donation is $1.00

The School Library now has a vocational file which offers students material on career possibilities. Not only is it available to students, at their own request, but through teacher guidance.

Congratulations go to the chorus for the wonderful job they turned in at the recent "Capers." The Sophomore Class representatives, Anne Walsh, Cynthia Dunnan, Joanna Duggan, Jean Otto, Linda Cherry, Tracy Hill, Robert Peirce, Bruce Eckler, David Hollis, Clyde Kelton and Frederick Nichols, did a wonderful job with their blackout skits and are to be commended.

Nick Willard has been chosen captain of the basketball team for next year.

Active plans are underway for the success of the annual Junior Prom to be held on May 11, 1956, from 8 to 12. The Juniors have selected as their theme "Stairway to the Stars" and the decorations will carry out this idea. Music will be by Bob Pursell and his Orchestra.

A French Club has been established under the direction of Mrs. Shields. At the first meeting the club decided on the name Le Cercle Francais and elected the following officers:

President, Sandra Simoni; Vice President, Anne Walsh; Secretary, Donna Herland, and Treasurer, Robert Peirce.

The following students have been elected to membership in the High School National Honor Society:

Seniors: Carol Archer, Marilyn Heizman and John McKeen.

Juniors: Dorothy Boesenberg, Dorothy Campbell, John Lynch, George Richardson, Sandra Simoni, Vivienne Thomas and Nicholas Willard.

A chapter of the National Junior High School Honor Society has been established at Wayland. The faculty sponsor is Mrs. Ann B. Shields. The following students in the Junior High School have been elected, by the Faculty Council, as members of the society:

Grade 8

Grade 7

Lawrence Bailey, Charles Cook, Claire Gregory, Mary Beth Hibbitts, John Howard, Randle Johnson, Florence Joy Kerr, Judith Moss, Ann Pearson, John Perodeau and Barbara Quackenbos.

Robert A. Cutter, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd A. Cutter of Wayland, has been pledged to Sigma Phi Epsilon fraternity at the University of Maine, where he is a freshman majoring in agriculture.

Men with TB outnumber women 2 to 1, it is reported.

Weston Town Meeting To Act On '59 and '62 School Needs

WESTON — Looking ahead to the projected school needs of 1959 and 1962, the Weston School Committee has called a hearing for May 7 at the Town House to discuss proposals for new schools which will come up at a Special Town Meeting on May 14.

Dr. Theodore B. Bayles, chairman, says the projections show that 14 more rooms will be needed in 1959 and 14 more in 1962. The growth comes from new residents in Town and from new babies.

The proposition will be to build one of the schools in the North end of Town and the other on the South side. Which would come first, or whether the two should be planned simultaneously, remains to be decided.

Dr. Bayles says that if construction can be started in 1957 the first new school can be ready in 1959, and that he is confident there would be no need for double sessions. He describes the need as "urgent."

The projection of the future school population is based on three surveys. One was made by Calvin E. Gross, former superintendent of schools, another by the Educational Research Associates and a third, in February of this year, by B. Allen Benjamin of Wayland, planning consultant for Weston. All showed the same need.

The Town will also be asked to have a School Building Committee appointed, to handle the building job.

5 Gardens Open For Weston Tour, May 14

WESTON — Opening their gardens from 2:30 to 4:30 p.m. on May 14 to members and guests of the Garden Interest Group of The Women's Community League are the Edmond H. Whites, 26 Columbine Road; Mrs. Albert R. Stedfast, 80 Dean Road; Mr. and Mrs. George N. Chamberlain, Jr., Orchard Avenue; Mr. and Mrs. Frank M. Lewis, 200 Boston Post Road, and the David M. Kelloggs, 177 Boston Post Road.

At the home of Mrs. Henry M. Merrill, chairman of the group, there will be an exhibit of flower arrangements by members of the Workshop, and tea will be served. In the event that rain cancels the tour, the exhibit and tea will still be given. For non-members there will be a 50c guest fee. Everyone is welcome.

Serving on the Committee with Mrs. Vernon M. F. Tallman, chairman of the day, are Mrs. Richard W. Albrecht, Mrs. Joseph Antell, Mrs. Alfred L. Backstrom, Mrs. Richard T. Bassett, Mrs. Manson Benedict, Mrs. George E. Bulwinkle, Mrs. Thomas D. Dennehy, Mrs. Stanley G. French, Mrs. Chester H. Graves, Mrs. Raymond G. Hastings. Mrs. Dexter B. Hill, Mrs. Walter E. Wilson, and Mrs. Eben Wallace. Pourers at the tea include Mrs. Harold A. Allen, Mrs. Fred H. Amon and Mrs. Whitney R. Nolte.

Ground is Broken For New Town Hall

WAYLAND — Without ceremonies, ground for the new $300,000 Town Hall was broken on April 18. Excavation and filling will take about three weeks, it is said, and construction should begin early in May.

Lexington Bear? Did Wayland Have One?

WAYLAND — A day before Lexington residents reported seeing a bear in their midst, several Wayland persons saw tracks in the snow near the gas pipe line, in the vicinity of the Sudbury River and Moore Road, which authorities said matched the description of bear tracks.

"Each track was as big as my open hand, with claws," said one eye witness.

A Boston authority on wild life said it was perfectly possible for a bear, possibly the same one seen in Lexington, to wander into Wayland. Could even be a wildcat in Town, he said. Seems the deep snows of Spring upset the habits of animals, who got hungry and started moving in any direction to find food.

Community League To Meet May 9

WESTON — The annual meeting of the Women's Community League of Weston will take place on Wednesday, May 9, at the Weston Town House.

Luncheon will be served at 12 o'clock. The tables will be decorated with charming basket arrangements by Mrs. Whitney R. Nolte and her assistants. Mrs. Manson Benedict, Mrs. Joseph B. Hartwell and Mrs. Eben Wallace.

The business meeting, at 1 o'clock, will be followed by a musical program presented by the Weston High School Choir.

As in former years, members may obtain their tickets ($1.75) by any one of three procedures. A check for the luncheon, along with a self-addressed and stamped envelope, may be sent with the annual dues to the treasurer, Mrs. Arthur C. Murphy. Tickets may also be purchased at the Children's Exchange on Tuesday, May 1. Or members may call Mrs. A. Harry Hutchison, WE 5-6012, or Mrs. Raymond G. Hastings at TW 4-4595. Tickets should be reserved before Monday, May 7.

Spring Concert of Community Chorus At Wayland, May 6

The Community Chorus of Weston, Wayland and Sudbury will present a Spring Concert on Sunday, May 6, at 7:30 p.m. in the Wayland High School Auditorium.

This year's Spring Concert will include a number of shorter secular works of Mozart, Brahms, Ralph Vaughan Williams and Béla Bartók. This type of program has been quite different to rehearse than the oratorio. Each composition is various in mood, from a humorous Mozart to a tranquil Vaughan Williams, then a spirited folk song of Bartók. Some selections will be done a cappella.

The accompanist, Hazel F. O'Donnell, will play the Mozart Piano Sonata in D Major K381 for four hands with Roland Nadeau, whom many may remember from last year's concert, when he played the First Movement of the Mozart Piano Concerto in A Major.

The Chorus has enjoyed another year under the proficient directorship of Chester Williams, Dean of the New England Conservatory of Music.

The concert is free to all.

Permanent Officers Named in Wayland

WAYLAND — Three out of the four permanent firemen authorized by the March Town Meeting were appointed by the Selectmen on April 22, and two of the three authorized permanent police officers.

New firemen are Clifford Wedlock of Concord Road, Charles Campbell of Pelham Island Road and Richard Gladu of South Street, Cochituate.

New police officers are Frederick Perry of 14 Pleasant Street, Cochituate, and Thomas F. Murray of 17 Commonwealth Road East, Cochituate. Mr. Murray is a Park Commissioner of the Town.

Wayland Men Are Corporators of New Savings Bank

WAYLAND — At the recent annual meeting of the West Newton Savings Bank, Cornelius J. Maguire, Walter B. Parker, Jr. and William A. Waldron, all residents of Wayland, were elected Corporators of the Bank. They will also serve as a special advisory committee for the new Wayland office of the West Newton Savings Bank which is expected to open about June 1.

Although remodeling of the building at 19 Pelham Island Road has been somewhat delayed by weather, work is now proceeding rapidly and Seabrooke Construction Co., owners of the building, expect that the approximate opening date can be met.

Jackson Turner will manage the Wayland office of the Bank, assisted by Judy Hollis and Janet Shepard. All are residents of Wayland, in keeping with the policy of making the Bank a community operation.

The annual report of Treasurer Robert P. Lurvey showed deposits of West Newton Savings Bank to be the highest in the history of the Bank. Although the Bank provides real estate mortgage accommodation in more than 50 towns of the Commonwealth, Wayland, Weston, Sudbury and Lincoln accounted for

Shadowbrook Fund Drive in 2 Towns

WESTON — The Jesuit Shadowbrook Fund Drive, conducted to replace the Novitiate of the Jesuits in Lenox, Massachusetts, totally destroyed in the disastrous fire of March 10, is in full progress in these two towns and in all the surrounding communities. Friends and neighbors of the Jesuits of Weston College, and especially those who have been served by the Jesuits for so many years in the Catholic churches of the three towns, are making a generous response to this appeal.

In Cochituate, the drive is under the direction of Rev. Louis Sullivan, S.J., and in Wayland and Weston, of Rev. Sidney Smith, S.J., both of Weston College.

To Weston Readers

This issue of the Crier, like that of April 12, is being sent to all residents of Weston.

The purpose is to make sure that everybody in Town has an adequate introduction to the paper.

On account of economics, however, subsequent issues will be mailed only to subscribers, of which there are now several hundred. We hope the samples have been such that more hundreds will want to get on the mailing list.

Jane Schleicher Wins Fulbright Scholarship - - A Year in Vienna

(James Abresch)

Miss Jane Schleicher

COCHITUATE — Jane Schleicher, 29, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Schleicher of Shawmut Avenue Extension, has become the first person in Wayland, so far as known, ever to win a Fulbright Scholarship.

She will sail in September for Vienna, where she will spend a year at the Academy of Music, studying opera and German lieder. The scholarship takes care of everything, and may possibly be extended to cover a second year.

Miss Schleicher was born in Cochituate, as was her father. Mrs. Schleicher was born in Natick, but was moved to Cochituate when she was six months old, and has lived here ever since. Mrs. Schleicher is organist in the Cochituate Community Methodist Church and Mr. Schleicher is choir director.

Miss Schleicher grew up in Cochituate and attended the Cochituate School, where two of her first teachers were Mrs. Ronald Campbell and Miss Ethelyn Morrill, who are still teaching there and have pleasant memories of her.

Miss Morrill was graduated from Wayland High in 1945. She took the college course and studied music outside school, winning a scholarship to the New England Conservatory.

At present she is singing at the Lutheran Church of the Redeemer in Brooklyn, N. Y., and also working as a secretary in New York.

She has sung in many churches, including the Cochituate Methodist. In 1955 she had a recital in Carnegie Hall, N. Y., and the notices were most favorable.

For several years she was a soloist in the Community Chorus.

"A true soprano," says Mrs. Walter H. Stockmayer of Weston, long associated with the Chorus. "One of the sweetest and purest voices. It would bring tears to the eyes."

Mrs. Schleicher says Jane liked to swim in Dudley Pond and Lake Cochituate, and to skate in Winter. She reads a great deal and keeps up with the news of the day.

At the Conservatory, where she won a scholarship every year, she majored especially in languages — German, French and Italian. She studied for seven years with Mme. Marie Sundelius, won a $500 Eleanor Steber vocal scholarship, won a two-year teaching fellowship in voice, and is now studying with Rose Bampton and Robert Payson Hill. In May, 1955, she was a soloist with the Boston Symphony Orchestra, Wilfred Pelletier directing. She will be taking refresher courses

Crime in Weston — $800 Taken at Regis

WESTON — A cigarette service company truck was robbed of $800 at Regis College on Monday, April 16, at 2:52 p.m. A Regis student saw two men run from the truck when its burglar alarm went off but has been unable to identify them from photographs.

The truck was parked at the side door of the main building while the driver, Philip Bradsky of Natick was inside. The men used the left small ventilating window to get into the truck, and broke the lock on the money box kept behind the driver's seat.

The Regis student parked near the car used in the robbery described it as approximately a 1945 Pontiac convertible, light yellow or cream, with a light canvas top. The only description of the men was that one was dark and had an overlong haircut.

Police Chief Sumners Viles said that the whole robbery took about 60 seconds and was obviously done by professionals.

Concert Series Has '57 Plans Completed

WESTON — The Country Evening Concert Series has completed plans for its sixth season next Winter. The proceeds from the concerts support a scholarship at the New England Conservatory.

The 1956-57 season will open with Cesare Valletti, leading lyric tenor of the Metropolitan, San Francisco and La Scala Opera Companies. The second event will be a recital by pianist Jean Casadesus, while the final attraction presents the Paganini Quartet assisted by a first desk artist of the Boston Symphony Orchestra.

The concerts will be held in the Weston Country School Auditorium.

Weston Reminder

The adjourned regular Town Meeting will be held April 30 at the Town House. What to do about Cat Rock will be the chief business.

3 Tennis Courts To Be Resurfaced

WESTON — The Recreation Commission expects to complete resurfacing the three public tennis courts by the end of May. Since the courts have to be out of commission for three weeks during the resurfacing, the Commission is not opening the clay courts for play. At present the Commission is taking bids for the job.

Baptist Church to Have New Organ

WESTON — The Organ Improvement Fund of the First Baptist Church of Weston is well on its way to victory. April 29 will be Victory Sunday when pledges and gifts will be dedicated. The goal is $10,000 to rebuild completely, the present 60-year-old organ, replace the present tracker action with complete electric action, and beautify the present organ with additional pipes and additional stops. Six thousand dollars has been pledged to date.

At the present time specifications are being drawn up by a competent organist to guide the Organ Improvement Committee.

The Crier is now Weston's only home-town newspaper.

Wayland, Sudbury Border Dispute Simmers -- Both Want Tax Gravy

WAYLAND — A boundary dispute, not likely to go to the United Nations, is simmering gently between Wayland and Sudbury, all because an old farmer named Caleb Wheeler flatly refused to have his placed "moved" to East Sudbury when the two parts of Town were separated, back in 1780 or so.

Caleb owned the cabbage-head shaped piece of Sudbury which now juts into Wayland along Route 20. He wouldn't move to Wayland, so they left him in Sudbury, and as a result Route 20 leaves Wayland, enters Sudbury, re-enters Wayland, then enters Sudbury again.

What comes up now, as a piece of business of mutual interest, is setting up 100 acres or so of Wayland and Sudbury, on the Sudbury side of the river, as an industrial zone. Not many people live there and it looks like good business property.

Sudbury wants to take away gravel below the level of Route 20, so that Route 20 will eventually have to be lowered. Harvey N. Fairbank, Sudbury Selectman for 30 years, suggests that the gravel could be used to raise the Route 20 causeway out of the flood level.

Wayland zoning rules, says Frederick G. Perry, Jr. of the Planning Board, do not permit removal of gravel below the road level.

Both Towns wish the Commonwealth would get on its horse and do something. Wayland wants the by-pass built around Wayland Center. There is also the question of having Route 27 relocated, to go South along the far side of the river and join Route 20 near the dump. If the Department of Public Works would make up its mind what it's going to do about these projects, Wayland and Sudbury could plan better what to do about the Sand Hill area.

Mr. Fairbank suggested, at a meeting with Wayland officials, that a land swap might help straighten out the situation. Wayland officials, not too seriously, suggested that Wayland would be willing to annex the arrow head which sticks into it from Sudbury.

Both sides make it plain that this boundary dispute is not likely to become as rough as the argument over the Gaza Strip. All they want is to straighten out what's described as " a screwy situation," so that both can eventually harvest some tax money from industrial plants. An engineering survey is now being made, to get more facts.

Another boundary argument, says Mr. Perry, is brewing between Wayland and Natick. The Toll Road has cut off a small section of Wayland between Damon Farm and Pine Street, which now might as well be in China as far as Wayland development is concerned.

On the North side of the Toll Road remains a small section of Natick which includes some yards on Route 30. This little piece of important highway, by report, is so remote from the rest of Natick that that Town never gets around to removing the snow from it in Winter.

One of these days, says Mr. Perry, Wayland is going to start negotiating with Natick to see whether there can't be a mutually advantageous swapping of jurisdiction over real estate.

Letters to the EDITOR

To the Editor:

A study of the arguments, pro and con, concerning the four-year term for Governor, was made by the Wayland League of Women Voters at its four discussion unit meetings in December. The Wayland League members voted overwhelmingly to support the four-year term for Governor, feeling that it would give the chief executive a much greater opportunity to implement his program. As it is now, he must spend the first year in office "learning the ropes," and a good part of the second year campaigning for re-election.

The members also, by a large majority, approved the plan of having the election for Governor come in between the Presidential elections. A greater emphasis on state issues apart from national issues would be possible under this plan, they believe, and voters would pay more attention to their candidates for state offices.

The Wayland League is therefore on record as supporting the present legislation for the four-year term, and we have written Rep. James DeNormandie and Sen. Charles Olsen to this effect, asking their support of the bill. If this bill is passed, it will then be up to Massachusetts voters to approve it on a State Referendum for it to become law. The League of Women Voters will work actively for its passage.

Sincerely yours,
Joyce Bertelsen
(Mrs. L. William)
President

WESTON — The Weston Forest and Trail Association held a walk in the Concord Road area on Sunday, April 8. Mr. Harold B. Willis, Jr. and Dr. Carl C. Johnson were the leaders of the expedition which was open to all townspeople.

18th Annual Weston Scout Meeting, May 1

WESTON — Weston Scouts, Incorporated, will hold its 18th annual meeting at the Girl Scout House on Tuesday, May 1, 1956, at 7:30 p.m.

The corporation was formed in 1938 to provide suitable meeting quarters in Weston and elsewhere for Weston Boy and Girl Scouts. The first housing project was the Girl Scout House which was made possible by the generosity and interest of Weston residents and was opened for Girl Scout activities in September, 1941.

Later projects included partial underwriting of the cost of three Boy Scout cabins at the Nobscot Reservation in Sudbury. Currently the corporation's funds for operating the Scout House and for other purposes are derived from the annual rummage sale conducted by Weston Girl Scout leaders, and from annual membership dues of $1 per person.

Present officers are Mrs. Raymond Bidwell, president; Harry T. Van Huysen, treasurer; O. A. Schlaikjer, clerk; and Mrs. O. A. Schlaikjer, secretary. Present trustees are Mrs. Bidwell, Mrs. David M. Kellogg, Mrs. George W. Hammond, Mrs. R. M. Hower, Messrs. Wilmot Whitney, H. G. Travis, Donald Wyman, Parker Williams and O. A. Schlaikjer.

Any adult interested in furthering the purposes of the corporation is eligible for membership.

The Massachusetts Farm Bureau Federation board of directors recently issued a statement saying it was in favor of the President's soil bank proposal.

$1300 Collected for Wayland Sports Night

WAYLAND — More than $1300 was collected by High School boys and girls for the annual dinner of the Wayland High Association, to be held Saturday night, April 28, and indications were that the party, for the boy and girl athletes of the school, would be the biggest and best ever.

Jackets will be given to senior boys and girls who have won letters, and in addition the Association trophy for best athlete and the school's Babe Ruth award for sportsmanship will be given. There will also be a trophy for winning the Weston football game, and presentation of letters. There will be no formal speeches.

Arnold Bradley, father of Paul and George Bradley, outstanding Wayland athletes, will preside. On the committee are Mr. Bradley Bill Morris, Russ Kerr, Harold Ward, Ralph Salvati, W. M. Griffin, George Thorp and G. P. Richardson. Dinner at 6:30, High School gym.

On account of melting snow, the water has been rising lately in Mill Brook, near Wayland High School.

2 Packages Garden Seeds

Strike 'em Out, Knock 'em Dead In the Spring One Can Have Dreams

Comes a day in Spring when the sun finally shines with warmth.

It is pleasant to stand under the pine tree, with feet dry, and think.

Think of the garden which should be spaded. Of the dog, who should be combed or maybe sent to the glue works, the little rascal who barks at friends and never wakes up in the night when the house is afire. To think of South Sea islands, where the breeze is always soft and warm, where snow and mud never clutter up the landscape half the year.

To watch the birds and listen to the squink, the robin, the scatter-headed jitter and the upplopped jay.

To lose one's self in dreams. To forget the junk in the attick, which should be cleaned out, and also that in the cellar.

To be a pitcher for, say, the Yankees. Standing out there on the rubber before 60,000 screaming people and throwing curves the like of which never baffled batters before. The shoots which roll around the wrists, the neck, the chest and the bat, with serpentine darts which make monkeys out of men. Ah, the thrill of it, and the cheers!

And dreams of glory on the stage. To roll out the words of the Bard, holding the audience spellbound until the very end, when it rises on its big feet and applauds until the phony chandelier unstairs rocks and rolls and bits of plaster come tumbling down on bald heads. Ah, the satisfaction.

Or maybe it's election night. The returns have come in from New Aahford, Mashpee, Iowa and Albany. It's a landslide. The forces of evil have been vanquished and justice (that's us) has triumphed.

Well, we're going to be President. Who'll we have for Secretary of State? Treasury? Interior? Let's look over local talent, which surely is more talented than any other. In Wayland and Weston must be more genius than in Dixie or Manhattan.

Make a note to ask the League of Women Voters and the Community League for suggestions as to appointments.

Or a party. Let's invite the neighbors in and have a time. The snow has gone and there's room to park, and the air is so warm the guests could roam out of doors and not louse up the clean floors inside. Let's have a guest list. Let's invite thousands, and have a party the like of which has never before been seen around here.

Or plan the garden. Over here, the daisies with the blossoms eight inches in diameter. There, the crepey fuschangelies, the kind which won first prize at the Melbourne Dahlia Show of '49. In the middle, the radishes without worms, the blueberries without birds, the worts without work, the sunflower seeds which attract eagles and the dates without telephoning. What a garden!

And dreams of beauty. Mr. (Miss) America. Hauled on a float, in costume, with mobs lining the streets of Pasadena. Here is Mother's pay off, for making us wipe our noses when we were small.

Oh, Spring, when one sniffs the new air as though it were opium, grows to be nine feet tall in the imagination, wins all, conquers hearts, owns the key to Fort Knox, solves the commuting problem and gives all he has promised to the church.

All too soon Spring passes, leaving nothing but the hurricanes, the drouths and the no-sprinkling notices of Summer, to be followed again by the opening of school, the losing football game and the bankruptcy of Christmas.

For an hour or so, however, one may dream. — D. B.W.

Cochituate Boat Club Gets Set for Season

COCHITUATE — Arnold Howard, chief of recreation of the Department of Natural Resources, was the speaker at the April meeting of the Lake Cochituate Boat Club, reports First Mate George A. Clausen of 11 Lake Road, and gave an account of the proposed development of the Lake as a recreational facility. He was introduced by Carl Lydiard, superintendent of Lake Cochituate State Park.

There will be a new entrance to the parking lot, to be finished within a few weeks.

This Summer's development of the Park will depend on Toll Road work.

A temporary ramp into the North lake for launching boats will be made.

Boat owners may put in their moorings any time now. They should call Mr. Howard at CA 7-4600, extension 775.

There are around 1000 registered outboards in the Cochituate area.

Mr. Clausen says Rep. James DeNormandie "has been very helpful" to the Boat Club.

Girl Scouts, Tr. 109, Give Out Awards

COCHITUATE — Intermediate Girl Scout Troop 109 of Cochituate recently held a Court of Awards and Investiture ceremony at the home of Troop Committee Chairman Mrs. Yolanda Malizia. Natick Girl Scout Council Executive Betty McKinney and volunteer trainer Mrs. Harriet Storey conducted the ceremony.

Girls invested who received Tenderfoot pins were Lois Brousseau, Vicky Hood, Edith Kelly, Judy Patterson and Peggy Shea. Scouts receiving Second Class badges were Gail Carroll, Linda Gladu, Marcia Howard, Bonnie Huston and Marjorie McCann.

Guests of the Troop were Troop Committee members Mrs. Cook, Mrs. Howard, Mrs. Huston and Mrs. Malizia, who were pleased and surprised with a presentation of World pins in recognition of their service to the Troop. Following the awards the girls sang songs, played games and served refreshments.

Working with the Parmenter Health Center, Troop 109 has completed the preparation of First Aid boxes for use in the Happy Hollow School and plans to continue the project for Cochituate School classrooms.

As an additional community service project, Lois Brousseau, Bonnie Huston, Edith and Frances Kelly, Joan Lucey, Marjorie McCann, Mary Sullivan, Marilyn Zicuis, Marcia Howard and Jackie Allen prepared 2400 annual reports of the Parmenter Health Center for mailing. Mrs. Polly Hamacher and Mrs. Doris Lucey are the Troop leaders.

WESTON HIGH NOTES

Weston High School held its sixth annual science fair on Friday and Saturday, April 6 and 7. Forty-one students from six classes entered a great variety of exhibits, which were judged and recognized in two classes: Class A for grades 10, 11 and 12; and Class B for grades 7, 8 and 9. First and second place winners in Class A become eligible for entry into the Massachusetts State Fair to be held at M.I.T. on April 27, 28 and 29.

The Fair opened Friday afternoon to the judges, who spent the afternoon and evening examining the exhibits and interviewing the students responsible for them. On Saturday afternoon the display was open to the public, and awards were made to winning students by Dr. Anthony G. L. Brackett, superintendent of schools.

In Class A the first place award went to Carl Peter Rydell of Grade 10 for an exhibit called "Experiments in Hyperspace." This quite abstract idea was planned to demonstrate the inevitability of the fourth dimension, and the possibility of representing objects of more than three dimensions on three-dimensional models.

The second place award in Class A was given to John Gilman of the 11th grade for his "Research in Model Rockets." This exhibit proved that a substantial increase in the thrust of rocket engines can be obtained by varying the design and shape of the augmenter tubes. John contrived a method of measuring this gain quantitatively.

Third place award was earned by Owen Connolly for his "Conic Curves." Honorable mention was given to Harry Crawford of grade 11 for his exhibit "Corrosion of Galvanized Surfaces"; Peter Russett of Grade 11 for "W N 1 I W K Calling"; to Kim Cummings for his "Vitamin K and its Importance," and to John Wyman of Grade 10 for his "Balancing of a Tropical Aquarium."

In Class B, Brian Dougherty of Grade 8 won first place for his exhibit "Cathodic Protection," wherein he showed methods of preventing corrosion of metals. Second place award in this class went to Thomas Kelley for his "Cosmic Ray Study with a Cloud Chamber," and John Reissner of Grade 9 came in third with his "Effects of Various Concentrations of Carbon Dioxide on the Growth of Spinach Plants."

The following students of Class B got Honorable Mention for their entries:

John Garabedian, Grade 9. "Bienural: Third Dimension."

Sam Hawkes and Rowley Ellis-ton, Grade 8. "Model Water System."

Betty Haywood, Grade 8. "Colored Light and Plant Growth."

Charles Janeway, Grade 8. "Fireplaces."

Jonathan Speare, Grade 8. "A Seismograph."

Dick Wiggington, Grade 8. "A Carbon Arc Lamp."

Ronnie Butcher and Ned Gray, Grade 7. "Cloth and Light Phenomenon."

Ken J. Terkelson and James Tyng, Grade 7. "The Solar System."

Keppler Stone, Grade 7. "The Zodiac."

Judges of the fair were Dr. Walter Stockmayer of Weston, professor of chemistry at M.I.T.; Dr. Richard Wareham of Weston, science editor for D. C. Heath & Co.; Dr. Arra Avakian of Weston, electronic engineer of Vectron, Inc.; Mr. Charles Lewis, teacher of physics at the Brighton High School; Mr. Clifford Nelson, Chairman of the Junior High School science curriculum of the Newton Public Schools; and Mr. Walter Gleason, principal of Lilja Elementary School, Natick.

The judges and some elected guests were served dinner on Friday evening by members of the ninth grade foods class under the supervision of Miss Elizabeth P. Cobb. Six members of the Student Council served as guides. Faculty members who supervised the fair were Mr. Paul Humez, Miss Irene Gesiak, Miss Mildred L. Marble, Mr. Richard Ham and Mr. Wallace W. Sawyer, Chairman of the Science Department.

(In the previous Crier, names of Weston winners in the B Division were inadvertently transposed. Actually, Brian Dougherty was first, Thomas Kelley second and John Reissner third. Above is the complete story, furnished by the school, which could not be available in time for the previous issue.)

Just about one-third of the students from grades 7 through 12 achieved the Honor Roll for the third marking period, which ended on April 6. The senior class had a 40 percent representation, and the seventh grade came in second with 36 percent. Below is a list of those students who were awarded highest honors, honors, and honorable mention. To receive highest honors a student must have a grade of A in all major subjects; for honors, he must have at least two A's and two B's; for honorable mention, a B average. In no case is an honor awarded if there is a grade below C minus even in a minor subject.

Seniors: Highest honors — Owen Connolly, Marian Larkin and Judith Wetzel.

Honors — Judith Anderson, Marjorie Benedict, Daniel Bump, David Donaldson, Craig Jameson, Lusanna Lawson, Thomas Malamud, Peter Rayner and Suzanne Wilson.

Honorable mention — Richard Cahill, Blake Foster, Robert Howell, Nancy Nichols, Jeffrey Robbins, Barbara Rushforth, Nancy Wilkes and Judith Wilkinson.

Juniors: Highest honors — Harry Crawford, III and Charles Phillips.

Honors — Walery Chodsky, Deborah Collins, Eleanor Farrar, Alan McClennen, Blythe Page, Susan Smith and Meredith Stebbins.

Honorable mention — Sally Armstrong, Edward Ellis, Jonathan Gates, Peter Hanson, Stuart Harnish, Robert Murray, Edwin Symmes and Frances Tyng.

Sophomores: Highest honors — Alison Hower, Henry Lehne and Josbua Lombard.

Honors — Marla Buerger, Kimball Cummings, Sandra Cunningham, Kent Graham, Vincent Hoagland, Carl Rydell, Cbarles White and Deborah Williams.

Honorable mention — Anita Barclay, Joanna Bartlett, Benjamin Blaney, Walter Cannon, Henry Field, Lorenz Finison, Peter Fowler, James Gambrill, Jane Gross, Barbara Haywood, Nina Marchetti, Philip Mueller, Judith Nilan, Lynten Raynor, Judith Sherman, John Wyman and Bernard Foote.

Freshmen: Highest honors — Arsine Avakian.

Honors — Sally Ayers, Susan Bump, Bruce Hamill, Edward Hubbard, Thomas Kelly, Margaret Koester, Jobn Reissner, Alan Scott, Anne Shaw, Laurinda Shepardson and Ann Wolff.

Honorable mention — Linda Brown, Susan Ferris, Nels Granholm, Stephen Green, Marcia Jenney, Ann Kellogg, Edith Larkin, Stephen Lawson, Helen Mann, Wendy Mann, Susan McGuire, Cecella Melone, Sally Murphy, James Tebo, Susan Toner and Ann Winsor.

Grade 8: Highest honors — Armine Avakian, John Gray and Esther Lombard.

Honors — Nancy Albrecht, Susan Bassett, Karen Beamish, John Brooks, Frederik Crawford, Beverly Eaton, James Hall, Betty Haywood, Charles Janeway and Deborah Lynch.

Honorable mention — Brian Dougherty, Richard Ayers, Janice Cetrone, Louise Dalley, Gretchen Goodall, Sandra Hamill, Maribeth Hanson, Joan Harding, Deborah Harnish, Samuel Hawkes, Read Langenbach, Valerie Laughner, John Mahoney, Richard Newbert, Lewis Pillsbury, Peter Rogers, Lars Rydell, Barbara Sturmer, Ann Tenneson, Peter Von Mertens and Richard Wigginton.

Grade 7: Highest honors — Richard Cutter, Peter Grey, Stephen Richardson, Joanne Symmes, Linda Townsend and James Tyng.

Honors — John Akers, Peter Borrelli, Donna Brown, George Bulwinkle, Nancy Garland, Ned Gray, David Kellogg, Susan Koester, Charles Lehne, Rosamond Lombard, James Ross MacKay, John David Mills, Gail Mosher, Virginia Olney, Erika Saunders, Keppler Stone, Carol Taber, Susan Thomas, Edith Wypler and Jane Wypler.

Honorable mention — Jeffrey Adams, Janet Albrecht, Carter Bottjer, Orville Forte, Betsy Gambrill, Stuart Gauld, Margaret Grimmer, Ann Jones, Forbes McMullin, Karin Mueller, Elizabeth O'Toole, Sarah Perry, Margaret Sloan, Rae Stevens, Ralph Stockmayer, Kenneth Terkelsen, Fred Thyng, Paula Toner and Richard Rizzo.

Mr. and Mrs. Elliott Have Reception In Spite of Fire

(Korday Studio)

Mr. and Mrs. Everett Elliott

COCHITUATE — The wedding reception of Mr. and Mrs. Everett Elliott, scheduled to have been held at Mansion Inn the day after the Inn burned down, was held nevertheless, at the Kendall Hotel in Framingham, at the appointed hour.

Miss Mary Hickey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Hickey of Lake Shore Drive, was married at 3 p.m. Easter Sunday, April 1, to Mr. Elliott, son of Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Elliott of Main Street, Cochituate, by Rev. Otis Kelly at St. Zepherin's Church. The reception followed at 4 p.m.

Plant Thinnings on Sale on May 16

WESTON — May 16 has been set as the date for the annual spring plant sale on the lawn at the First Parish Church in Weston. This event, now in its sixth year, has provided Weston gardeners with a means of exchanging their Spring thinnings, with the result that the newer gardens in Weston often include attractive items from the Town's oldest gardens.

These thinnings together with geraniums, annuals, rock garden plants and shrubs will go on sale at 11 o'clock. Donations of perennial thinnings have been energetically solicited by the committee of Mrs. Richard P. Holland, chairman, Mrs. Clinton V. Dean, Jr., Mrs. Roswell G. Eldridge, Mrs. William A. Elliston, Mrs. Howard M. Forbes, Mrs. Harold P. Granger, Mrs. Douglass Howe, Jr., Mrs. George O. Russell, Jr., Mrs. Warren T. Vaughan, Jr., Mrs. Harold T. Wilson and Mrs. Edwin C. Woodland.

A generous display will be on hand and the sale will close at 4 o'clock. The annual event is sponsored by the Benevolent-Alliance of the First Parish and the sale is open to all. The sale usually is held the first week in May, but this year has been postponed to May 16.

JEAN WESLEY GETS PIN

WAYLAND — Jean Wesley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wesley of Ox Bow Road, Wayland, received her fifth year 4-H pin, presented to her by Middlesex County Agents at the annual Fifth--Year Banquet, sponsored by the 4-H Alumni Club.

The banquet was held at the Wayland High School Cafeteria on April 7.

Music for All in Weston Schools, from 1st Grade to Tschaikowsky

6-Year-Olds Get a Chance To Create

Music plays an important part in the Grade One program. Because of the varying amount of children's music at home, the earliest musical experiences in school are a review for some children and the opening of an entirely new world for others. Our musical activities are divided into five areas:

1. Singing: We select songs to correlate closely with a 6-7-year-old's interests. Various units in reading, language arts, science, arithmetic and our other areas provide subjects for our songs.

2. Rhythmic activity: The natural tendency for little children is to respond to rhythm. In Grade One opportunities are created for this expression through singing games, dances and dramatizations.

3. Instrumental: Rhythm instruments give the children experience to develop rhythm and tone discrimination as well as freedom to express themselves musically and rhythmically.

4. Listening: Music appreciation helps the child acquire a liking for music. Some of our recordings suggest quiet listening while others call for active interpretation.

5. Creative music: Six-year-olds love to pretend and create. Music gives them opportunity for both. Since their first attempt at creative activity is imitative, much can be done to help the so-called "non-singer" by imitating and matching the teacher's singing.

Science and Rhythm Are Correlated In the 2nd Grade

In Grade II the children improve their singing by listening to true tones and by imitating such tones. They learn several rote songs a month and listen to many records for music appreciation. Records demonstrating the sounds of the various musical instruments interest the children.

After the scale and finding "do" on the staff have been taught, the students learn to read notes, first through oral dictation from the teacher and then by means of drills written on the board. Separate exercises are sometimes written by the teacher after which the children are expected to be able to read directly from their books.

The children have two music books, one primarily for rote songs and the other primarily for note reading. The teachers are fortunnate in having several other music books available.

Music and other subjects are correlated in our course of study. For instance, a train or airplane song is taught when the class is studying the Transportation Unit in Social Studies. There are songs about seasons of the year and also songs for Science. Arithmetic and rhythms are correlated. Pupils have learned new words for spelling and gain ideas for pictures for art lessons.

Marches Emphasized By High School Band

The Weston High School Band this year has placed more emphasis on the playing of standard marches and less on music of a concert nature, as has been the custom in previous years. This has become necessary because of the type of events for which the band is called upon to play. These occasions, such as football games, student assemblies and parades, require the band to have a number of good marches in its repertoire.

There are 53 players. Rehearsals are held twice each week, one beginning before school on Thursday, the other scheduled for the third period on Friday.

High School Has a String Orchestra

Weston High School is proud of its string orchestra which consists of 15 selected students who play violin, viola and cello. Members are selected by the supervisor of music on their ability to perform well on their instrument. As membership is limited, there is a waiting list of players anxious to be admitted to the group.

The orchestra meets on Thursday afternoons from 3 to 4 p.m. In addition to learning to play well what is written in the score, students are taught proper blend of parts and the techniques of fine bowing so necessary in small string organizations. Most of the repertoire of the orchestra at present consists of music by Bach, Haydn, Mozart, Purcell and folktune arrangements.

Mrs. Donaleen Brainerd's third grade has learned to waltz. They are also doing some square dancing.

Seashore Tests of Musical Talent Given in 5th Grade

Each year after the opening of school in the fall, every pupil in Grade 5 is given a musical aptitude test to determine his innate musical ability. The standardized tests used are the Seashore Tests of Musical Talent devised by Dr. Carl Seashore.

These tests measure one's ability to discriminate between different tones in regards to pitch, loudness, tone quality, duration, rhythms and tonal patterns. The audio tests are recorded making it possible for each teacher to give the test to her own class. The test is repeated when the students reach Grade 8.

Parents of pupils scoring very high are notified by the Department of Music Education, and the pupils are encouraged to study some musical instrument.

W.H.S. Orchestra Begins To Sound Like Small Symphony

Now in its second year as a regular school organization, the Weston High School Orchestra has grown to such an extent that it may soon be called a genuine symphonic group.

With its 56 players, the orchestra is made up of violins, violas, cello, string bass, flutes, oboe, clarinets, bass clarinet, French horns, trumpets, piano, drums and tympani.

All the sections are fairly well balanced and the students are receiving the experience of performing in an orchestra that is beginning to sound lke a small symphony. Included in its repertoire this year are compositions by Gluck, Bach, Handel, Hayden, Puccinni, Tschaikowsky, Offenbach, Rubinstein, Leroy Anderson and others. The orchestra meets twice weekly — during the third period on Thursday and before school on Friday.

Elementary Schools Have Two Bands And an Orchestra

The Weston Elementary Schools have two bands and an orchestra. Instrumental pupils in Grades III — VI have the opportunity to participate in one or more of the following organizations:

Beginning Band with 25 players.
Elementary Band with 15 players.
Elementary Orchestra with 40 players.

The Beginning Band is made up of brass, wood wind and drum students who began lessons this school year. Through group activity they are learning the necessity of playing in strict time and in tune with others and the importance of team work. At the rehearsals, the band has drill on sight reading, good tone production, proper band positions, how to follow the beat of the conductor, and, as mentioned above, playing in time and tune.

When a student has progressed to a point where his instrumental teacher feels he is ready for the elementary band, he leaves the beginning group and is promoted to the elementary band where similar but more difficult phases of band playing occur.

The elementary orchestra boasts many fine musicians. Eight violin players are regular members of the high school orchestra, and two other players are in the high school band. These pupils are permitted to play in the high school organizations when they have passed the playing requirements set up by the Department of Music Education.

The elementary orchestra has a membership of 40 players consisting of first and second violins and cellos in addition to woodwind and brass instruments, drums and piano. At rehearsals, students have drill on rhythms, scales and sight reading. The repertoire of the elementary orchestra is one of the largest of all the instrumental groups in the Weston Public Schools.

They Get Rhythm In The Fifth Grade

The music program for the fifth grade is divided into four main areas; singing, rhythmic activities, listening and the playing of musical instruments. The classroom teacher teaches the singing, the rhythmic activities and the listening. Instrumental lessons, elementary band and orchestra are under the direction of the music supervisor. The supervisor assists the classroom teacher during visits which are regularly scheduled every two weeks.

The course of music study is divided into three parts; studies in tune, time and music appreciation. Studies in tune include a review tonic chord and difficult intervals, and chromatic tones one half step above scales tones. Chromatic tones one half step below scales tones are introduced at this level. Studies in time include a review of first, second, and figure one rhythms; one, two and three beat tones; and corresponding rests. Rhythms in compound time (6/8) are introduced in Grade V. Studies in music appreciation are based upon the RCA Victor and New Horizon Series for Grade V.

At the beginning of the year all singing is done in unison. Two-part singing begins early in the year. This includes two-part rounds, singing in intervals of thirds, sixths and varied intervals, songs with melody in lower voice, canons and descants. Toward the end of the year a few opportunities for three-part singing are presented.

The music class is very popular with the pupils because singing makes musical expression possible for all.

Mixed Chorus Picked From 100 Candidates

This year, as in the past, the Weston High School Choir has continued to delight audiences with its fine performances. The Mixed Choir of 60 students is selected from more than 100 candidates. Basis of selection is the ability to sing well and in tune. Correct breathing, diction and good tone production are stressed at each rehearsal. Selections include compositions by composers from the time of Palestrina to the 20th Century.

Any high school student not singing in the choir does have the opportunity for vocal instruction by joining the high school chorus. The chorus is open to all students.

They Find Out About Life of Beethoven

Music activities vary in the sixth grade from singing folk songs to listening to the music of Beethoven. Actually, most of the time is spent singing two and three-part songs. This is supplemented by the singing of rounds and unison folk songs as well as by learning songs from listening to records. Two songs for which records were used are The Fox and Lovely Meadows.

During the long music periods the children have listened to the story of Stephen Foster's life on record, following this up by a lively discussion and the singing of some of his famous songs.

Many good reports and illustrations have come from the sixth graders' study of the orchestra and its instruments. The children have seen close-up demonstrations of many instruments by their classmates and have done research on other instruments. In some classes budding young composers are writing music or writing new words to old songs.

7th Graders Should Know Fundamentals

We of The Department of Music Education feel that by the time our students reach the end of the seventh grade they should have a good foundation in the fundamentals of music, so that in the eighth grade we can go a little deeper and in more detail.

For instance, they should be able to identify the names of the lines and spaces, the keys in which a song is written, the meter or time signature and whether a song is written in major or minor.

They should be able to pick up a song and read it at sight with syllables (do, re, mi, etc.), construct a major scale and identify symbols and terms used by composers and arrangers. We encourage the singing of one, two and three-part music, always keeping in mind good tone quality as well as dynomic marking and words.

The other side of our story is the creative and listening program. Some of our students, after a discussion of simple chord construction, have written a little melody with simple chord accompaniment while others tried three or four part harmony.

WAYLAND — Robert R. Miller, 12, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Miller of 3 Simpson Road, Cochituate, won first prize, a spinner set in the Wayland Kiwanis Trout Derby, held April 14 at the pond on Frank Kilburn's place on Old Connecticut Path. The fish, 13 inches long, was eaten.

Second prize, a flyrod and reel, was won by Barry Fisher of Claypit Hill Road, for a 12½-inch trout. John Loker, son of William A. Loker, was reported to have caught the most fish, six, the longest 12 inches.

There were seven young fishermen on the spot at 6:15 a.m., and in the course of the day there were more than 100, all under 15. The Kiwanis Club stocked the pond. Because it was privately owned, the Club was able to get a dispensation to permit fishing in it before the opening of the regular season.

This was the second year in a row that Frank Kilburn, Town counsel, has provided the pond for the trout derby.

Weston High Musical Evenings, May 3, 4

WESTON — On Thursday and Friday Evenings, May 3 and 4, the musical organizations of Weston High School will present their annual Spring concert in the auditorium of the Country School.

Highlights of the concert will be the orchestra of 56 players, the band of 55 members and the choir of 60 selected voices. There will also be selections by the string orchestra, woodwind ensemble, brass choir, and instrumental and vocal solos.

Several organ selections will be played by Miss Elizabeth Frye, class of 1956, at the console of the Baldwin organ. Special organ compositions with the orchestra, brass choir and chorus will also be played.

Although the concert is given by junior and senior high school students, one elementary school musical group will perform. This is the string quartet of four girls, known as The Four Violets. The concert will conclude with a selection by a chorus of 175 voices and the High School orchestra. The program is under the direction of Mr. Wendell B. Phillips, supervisor of music, assisted by Mrs. Jean Munro, music teacher in the Weston Public Schools.

Tickets are now on sale and the number of seats is limited. Price of the tickets is 50 cents for Thursday evening and 75 for Friday evening.

Theatrical Doings In Connection with "All Kidding Aside"

WESTON — The thrill of opening night will be shared by many Townspeople as the Friendly Society show, "All Kidding Aside" goes into the first of five performances on Thursday, April 26.

To be held in the Town Hall, the original musical comedy was written to accommodate a large cast of singers and dancers, and is professionally directed.

Set to the music of Selene Harmon Howe, noted composer of musical shows, the comedy will feature a cast of nearly 100. Proceeds from the performances on April 26, 27 and 28 and May 4 and 5 will benefit the Waltham Hospital.

Mrs. Guy Garland, author of the book on which "All Kidding Aside" is based, was honored by the Boston Traveler for her part in creating the show by being named woman of the week.

Tickets are still available at the Village Book Stall in Weston, and will be sold at the door. Curtain time is 8:30. Robert B. Whittemore, chairman of the show, cordially invites all to see this musical show, which depicts Weston in 1970, the jet age.

Many dinner parties are to be given by Weston hosts and hostesses before the various performances. Among those who will entertain are Mr. and Mrs. John D. Watters, Dr. and Mrs. William T. Van Huysen, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Pexton, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur T. Monahan, Jr., Prof. and Mrs. W. Barton Leach, Mr. and Mrs. Charles O. Richardson, Mr. and Mrs. Guy Garland and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Crawford, Jr., co-hosts, May 4.

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard H. Dowse, Mr. and Mrs. Marston Boden, Mr. and Mrs. John Scott, Mr. and Mrs. V. M. Noel, Mr. and Mrs. John Lord, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Koester, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Talbot, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Rogers, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert E. Hawkes and Dr. and Mrs. Harry E. Braconier.

Selectman Edward M. Dickson of Weston draws the lucky number at the Triple "A" market sale of two weeks ago, while Peter Acconcia, owner, looks on. Douglas Heerdt of 211 Conant Road, Weston, won a $25 defense bond.

Mr. Russell To Preside at John Leavitt Dinner

WAYLAND—Howard S. Russell, who as Moderator of Wayland Town Meetings for many years has had much experience in presiding over large gatherings, will be master of ceremonies at the John W. Leavitt dinner on May 2. Gerald Henderson, chairman of the committee, has tickets.

Course For Weston Girl Scouts in May

WESTON — Mrs. Edward W. Perkins, Jr. and Mrs. Frank M. Lewis are the training committee for the Weston Girl Scout Council's basic leadership course in May. The course offers four two-hour sessions weekly beginning on Tuesday, May 1.

The course will be given at the Girl Scout House for future leaders, troop committee members, and all who wish to become better acquainted with Scouting.

First Parish May Breakfast

WAYLAND — The annual Wayland First Parish May Breakfast will be held on May 3 from 7 to 9 a.m. in the Vestry of the Church. This family affair, to which everyone is invited, has been a custom of the First Parish Church for many years, and is one of the projects of the First Parish Alliance. Mrs. Carl T. Emery is chairman this year, assisted by Mrs. Henry Doane. There will be a choice of menus, including pancakes, bacon and eggs, or danish pastry, from 35 cents to 75 cents.

Local Patrons for Ball at Lincoln

Four Weston and Wayland couples are among the patrons for the "Arts and Letters Costume Ball" in Lincoln, being held for the benefit of the Dana and deCordova Museum's Building Fund. They are Mr. and Mrs. Jerome Hunsaker, Jr. and Mr. and Mrs. Robert T. Parsons of Weston; Mr. and Mrs. John B. Gregory and Mr. and Mrs. Allan R. Finlay of Wayland.

The ball will be held at the Sumner Smith School in Lincoln on Friday, May 11, with Ruby Newman's orchestra. Prizes will be awarded for the most elegant, original and humorous costumes.

7 Girl Scouts Get Campership Awards

WESTON — Seven girl scouts are receiving campership awards from the Weston Girl Scout Council. Camperships are given on the basis of merit only to girls who have been good scouts in Troops 3 through 12.

The awards go to Susan Thomas of Troop 3, Nancy Rogers of Troop 5, Marsha Rennie of Troop 6, Louise Dailey of Troop 7, Susan Dammin of Troop 9, Ricka Hayes of Troop 11 and Beatrice Cahill of Troop 12.

WESTON—The Children's Exchange reports it is getting some very good and attractive used clothing nowadays, and reminds people that all residents of Weston are eligible to have accounts with it. Also on sale each week is home-cooked food, including cookies and pies, all made by residents of Weston.

The Exchange is open from 10 a. m. to 4 p. m. every Tuesday, at the Jones House.

First Parish — Wayland

Rev. Dan Huntington Fenn, S.T.D. Minister

R. Clifford Orr, Organist and Choir Director.

Mrs. John B. Gregory, Director of Religious Education.

Sunday Service: 11 o'clock.

Church School Service and classes: 10:45, at the Parish House, 43 Cochituate Road.

April 25, Laymen's League meeting in the Vestry at 6:30.

April 26. Choir Rehearsal, 7:30, in the Church.

April 30, Annual Meeting of the Parish for legal members at 8 o'clock. This will be preceded by a supper at 6:30 o'clock in the Vestry. Mrs. Henry G. Pearson is supper chairman.

April 29. Junior Choir Rehearsal in the Parish House at 11.

May 3. Annual May Breakfast in the Vestry from 7 to 9 a.m.

Choir Rehearsal in the Church at 7:30 p.m.

May 6. Meeting of the Waylanders, the high school group, in the Vestry from 6:30 to 8 p.m.

Evening coffee parties are being given by members of the Parish in different neighborhoods of the town for the members and friends of the Church for the purpose of meeting Dr. and Mrs. Fenn. Those planned for the immediate future are Monday, April 23, Mrs. Edmund H. Sears on Pelham Island Road; Thursday, April 26, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Schulz, Melville Place, Cochituate; Friday, April 27, Dr. and Mrs. Howard Jenkins, Winthrop Road; Tuesday, May 1, Mr. and Mrs. Donald B. Willard, Old Connecticut Path.

On April 11 a group of energetic women gathered in the Vestry of the Church and spent the day sorting and rearranging the many accumulated possessions of the Church and its various groups. All sorts of interesting items were uncovered which stimulated reminiscences and laughter. The results are apparent in neat shelves, cupboards, shining windows and a barrel well filled with material for the dump. The re-organization was needed, because of the new use of the Parish House, the former parsonage, for an increased number of activities, among them the sewing meetings.

"Toke" Once Traveled on Show Boat Down the Mississippi

By Carol Foster

"Our whole family has always been interested in Town affairs," says William A. "Toke" Loker, who was Selectman in Wayland for 14 years until 1953. "Both my father and grandfather were Selectmen, and one of the first Selectmen after Wayland became separated from Sudbury was Captain Isaac Loker, in 1780."

"Toke" Loker

Mr. Loker lives on the farm which has belonged to his family for more than 200 years. Because the family were the first settlers around here, the area was originally called Lokerville. Part of the farm is one of the new school sites voted at a recent Town Meeting.

After graduating from Wayland High in 1909, Mr. Loker went into vaudeville and for the next 20 years travelled throughout the U. S. and Canada. He sang, danced, acted, gave recitations, drew cartoons on stage and played the saxophone.

"For two years I was with Al G. Fields minstrel show," he says. "We had a private train and went all over the country, playing one night stands for two years. Another summer, just for the fun of it, I joined a show boat company which played down the Mississippi from Pittsburg to New Orleans. That was a wonderful experience."

Gets Top Acts

During his last year of High School, Mr. Loker began his theatrical career, singing illustrated songs in the Princess Theater in Framingham. While he sang, slides would be projected on a screen, and changed along with the songs. Next he joined a "summer park circut," a company which played at parks such as Norumbega, Lincoln Park in Worcester and Salem Willows.

For the last five years, Mr. Loker has arranged with an old friend who is a booking agent in Boston, to have "acts" out for an evening show at the Cochituate School, for the benefit of St. Zepherin's Church. The show was held this year on March 2. The show was so successful that it has become an annual event. Mr. Loker acts as M.C.

"We get top acts," says Mr. Loker. "People can't believe they can see someone on Ed Sullivan's show on TV one night, and again see him in person out here in Cochituate, too. They fit in our show between engagements at night cluhs around Boston. We get nothing but the best and this year one of the things was a puppet show that was one of the best I ever saw."

Mr. Loker is employed by the Massachusetts Agrieultural Department at 41 Tremont St. His work has to do with the daily prices of farm products, which are determined early in the morning at markets in Boston, and broadcast and publicized during the day.

For a few years after returning to his family place, Mr. Loker managed the farm of 63 acres for his father, and continued to farm it after his father's death in 1937. The Lokers raised sheep, hens and hogs, and until the '38 hurricane they also had an apple orchard.

More Work Now

"A term on the Finance Committee was a great help to me as a Selectman," Mr. Loker says. "In that way a man can learn about all the town departments. Of course the present system of electing only one new Selectman at a time is a great improvement. You know, all three used to be elected at once. That would be a very bad thing now, because the job of Selectmen, although a post of honor, is now a hard job. There is at least four times as much work as there was when I was first elected, because, well, it's just progress, which automatically comes in and you've got to meet it."

After 14 years as Selectman, Mr. Loker declined to run again, because the job took too much time and he wanted to spend more time with his family.

"Mother used to worry that I'd marry some chorus girl," he says, "But I met my wife through the director of the Colonial Playhouse program, who was her brother-in-law."

Mrs. Loker, the former Mildred Ballou of Newburyport, has been only indirectly connected with show business. The Lokers have a 13-year-old son, John A., who is in the 7th grade at Wayland. Mr. Loker says they are the last of the local Loker tribe.

"I live in the house I was born in, and for years I never bothered to change the phone listing. It's still listed under my father's name, Sidney Loker. It's going to be in my name in the next phone book though. I've had the nickname Toke all my life. Don't know where it came from."

Still Hold Reunions

Toke was President of his class in High School, of which there were nine members. For several years there has been an annual reunion, as the classmates live nearby. Only four are left now. One, Everett Lawrence, lives in Cochituate too. For the past three years the class reunions have included teachers, one of whom, Miss Thatcher, was only two years older than her pupils.

"It was very informal. We all called our teachers by their first names, as they did us. Since there were only nine of us, we all knew each other well. Our Principal, Frank Y. Hess, came to a reunion the year before he died, and we showed him the Happy Hollow School. He couldn't get over it."

Mr. Loker is an active member of the Wayland Historical Society, at which he has spoken concerning the old shoe manufacturing companies in Cochituate. He says the Cochituate-Wayland rivalry goes back at least to those days, when the two biggest factory owners, Williams and Deane, competed for town political backing.

Knows the Town

"I know some of the history of the Town, because the original Loker settler came in 1638, and built a house on Old Sudbury Road. Captain Isaac Loker, who was one of the first Selectmen, had a small company of farmers who drilled on land on which the new school will be built, and fought at Concord and Bunker Hill. This was great Indian country. One can still see evidences of corn mounds planted by the Indians, and many arrowheads have been found around here, a lot on our farm."

Mr. Loker, a life long Republican, is a member of the Republican Town Committee. He belongs to Pequot Lodge, Odd Fellows, the Elks, and the Meridian Lodge of Masons in Natick.

Legislators Promise Support for Suasco At Dinner Given by Wayland Selectmen

WAYLAND — Many State and local leaders were among the 75 guests of the Wayland Selectmen who attended a Suasco dinner at Red Coach Grill on April 12 and expressed strong support for the flood control project.

(While they were meeting, the Sudbury River in its Spring climb was covering Pelham Island Road once more.)

Rep. Anthony M. Colonna of Framingham, president of Suasco, presided. Among those present were Richard I. Furbush, president of the Massachusetts Senate; House Democratic Whip James L. O'Dea, Jr. of Lowell and Mayor Samuel S. Pollard of Lowell. The latter said his city needs the project badly and is "100 per cent behind it."

Also present were Rep. Barclay H. Warburton of Ipswich, one of the Legislature's flood control experts; Senator Charles W. Olson of Ashland, Rep. James DeNormandie of Lincoln and Rep. William E. Hayes of Waltham.

Wayland Selectmen John R. McEnroy, Frank A. Tarr and Thomas F. Linnehan were hosts. Town Accountant Norman E. Taylor of Wayland attended, as did Wayland Assessor B. Allen Benjamin, who impressed his listeners with what he said about the desirability of the project.

Rep. O'Dea said he and other legislators would push Suasco, and he asked for support from all.

Other guests were Selectmen and other officials of many Towns in the valley.

Deep Sea Theme at Pack 51 Meeting

WESTON — "Life At The Bottom of the Sea" was the theme at the April meeting of Weston Cub Pack 51. All Dens participated. Highlights of the meeting included Den 6's portrayal of animals from the depths of the sea — a shrimp, crab, oyster, clam and conk. Den 15 put on a vigorous re-enactment of a desperate undersea battle between divers and two opctopus.

The feature presentation of the meeting was a fascinating talk on skin diving by Mr. David Biddle. Mr. Biddle's informal discussion of the thrills and perils of skin diving was made even more interesting by the display of $200 worth of equipment (courtesy of James Bliss Co.) used in this exciting sport. Included among the awards made at the Pack Meeting were: Inspection — Dens 9 and 22; Attendance — Dens 6, 9, and 19; Awards — Den 6; Best Skit — Den 15; Exhibit — Den 19 (shells).

Individual awards included Sandy Murphy, Wolf; Gary MacLeod, Silver Arrow; Arthur Stutz, Gold Arrow; Dick Childs, Wolf Badge and Gold Arrow; Jimmy Johnston, Gold and Silver Arrow; and many others.

Next Pack 51 meeting will be held May 11th.

7 New Members Join Weston Methodists

WESTON — At a recent service seven new members joined the Weston Methodist Church before the 11 o'clock congregation. Mr. and Mrs. Douglas E. Nickerson, 199 North Avenue, and their children, Gail, Claire and Guy transferred their membership from the Beth Eden Baptist Church in Waltham, and Mr. and Mrs. Alvin S. Whitmore, 44 Sunset Road, transferred from their former parish of Central Congregational Church in Newtonville.

Following the ritual and welcome by the pastor, Rev. Robert W. Huston, the new members signed the membership book and were greeted by the congregation at a "Coffee hour" directed by Mrs. Charles Law. Sunday, May 27 will be the next regular reception of new members day.

The "Pastor's Class" on church membership meaning, privileges and responsibilities will be conducted by the minister on Sunday afternoons through May. Young people attending these classes are not required to join the church, but those making a decision will be received into membership as part of the special service scheduled for Sunday, June 3.

This special service will be Youth Sunday, honoring those graduating from High School or College and featuring the participation of Senior High Youth Fellowship members in the service.

in German in New York this Summer.

A brother, Herbert Schleicher, is an American Airlines pilot, and another brother, Erwin, is a cattle rancher in Utah.

Mrs. Schleicher thinks Jane will pay Cochituate a visit in August, before sailing, and says she may be able to get here for a short visit in May.

The Booster's Club will be asking Weston residents for money.

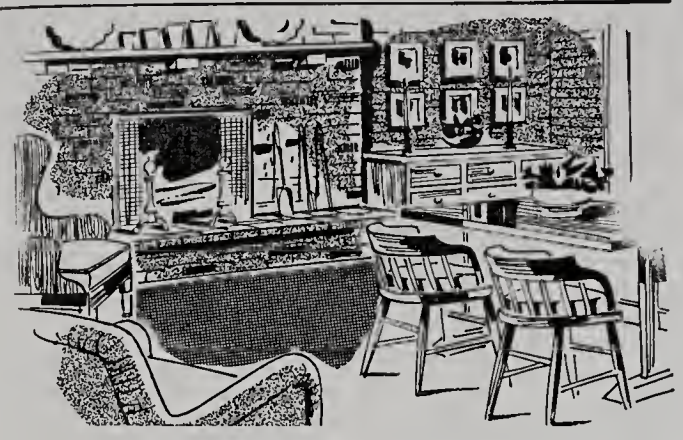
Local Women Will Attend Waltham Hospital Meeting

Many Weston and Wayland women are interested in the annual meeting of the Waltham Hospital Associates, which will be held Monday evening, May 7, in the Nurses' Home on Hope Avenue, Waltham, at 8 p.m. Speaker will be Harlan L. Paine, Jr., administrator of the Winchester Hospital.

The date of the meeting has been changed to the 7th from the 3d, as originally scheduled.

A Word to the Wives...

By HAL BURKE



MADE FOR EACH OTHER

Which comes first in planning a room, the background or the furniture? We are asked this question very frequently. Our answer is, usually — the furniture. Why? Because if you are starting from scratch, chances are you'll decide on a particular style of furniture and build a suitable background around it. Or, if you already have furnishings, there will always be some pieces that you feel you must get along with, and/or others that you cherish for sentimental reasons and want to keep. Often these set the mood and tone of the room and suggest the background.

This was the case in the provincial dining room sketched above. The lovely maple drop-leaf table, an heirloom, was used as a starting point. To this was added the open hutch, chairs, and server — all maple — all faithful reproductions of tried-and-true favorites.

Then green was chosen for the dominant background color to play up the burnished beauty of the maple pieces. The painted dado (soft green) was topped by a small-print provincial type wallpaper that repeats the rich tones of green and yellow in the braided rug. Here is a room where the background and furnishings were literally made for each other.

Give your dining room that cherished heirloom look with one of our new open hutches. Choice of several styles in Maple, Birch, or Fruitwood. Beauty and duty masterfully molded into one piece by one of the nation's foremost manufacturers. Yours at prices that will pamper your budget.

Airman Hodges Wins Military Award

WAYLAND — Airman First Class John C. Hodges, son of Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Hodges of Cochituate Road, has been given the 7016th Personnel Processing Squadron's Outstanding Airman of the Quarter Award.

John C. Hodges

Along with the award go an engraved cigarette lighter, special consideration for promotion, a letter home to his family, a letter of appreciation to be placed in his military file, a scroll, a three-day pass, two tickets to a Broadway show and an inscription on the squadron trophy.

Airman Hodges was graduated from Wayland High School in 1952. He has been stationed at Keesler AFB in Mississippi and Camp Kilmer, N. J. He was chosen for his performance of duty, loyalty, courtesy, military bearing and appearance, off duty conduct, leadership and acceptance of responsibility.

Weston Fellowship Receives Charter

WESTON — The new Weston Methodist Fellowship of men, which had its inception at informal meetings in the fall of 1955, directed by Lay Leader Aimo Teittinen and his committee, was formally received as a member of the national organization of Methodist Men at their April meeting.

Mr. Adam Greene, a layman of the St. John's Methodist Church in Watertown and Boston District Lay Leader, attended the dinner meeting and after appropriate words of congratulation and welcome presented the charter in the national group to the President, Mr. Robert Loesel.

The group is the newest organization in the Weston Methodist Church and its officers are planning a program for the year which will interest men who are concerned with religious, community and social purposes and will organize the opportunities to serve.

Officers, in addition to Mr. Loesel, are Arthur Besse, vice-president; Oliver Rollins, secretary; and Reg Cahill, treasurer. The next regular meeting is scheduled for Thursday, May 10.

1st Wayland Formal Is Well Attended

WAYLAND — Wayland's first formal teen-age dance, the Wayland Assembly, was held at the Wayland High School Gym on Saturday, April 14. All 8th, 9th and 10th graders in Wayland and Cochituate, as well as some out-of-town ninth graders from Concord, Lincoln and Weston, were invited.

160 attended and danced to Ruby Newman's orchestra, led by Frank McKenna, from 8 to 11. The gym was decorated with red and white crepe paper and bunches of colored balloons to create a fitting background for first wearing of evening dresses and dinner jackets.

Mrs. John Baldwin was chairman, assisted by Mr. Baldwin on tickets. Mr. and Mrs. Francis Sandford, Mr. and Mrs. Alan Finlay and Mr. and Mrs. William J. Hammond were in charge of the decorations, assisted by Paul Senory, a Wayland senior, who with a High School crew, raised the decorations. Mr. and Mrs. Ernest B. Walston and Mr. and Mrs. T. Gibson Smith arranged for the refreshments, and Mr. and Mrs. William Stahl and Mr. and Mrs. Carl Kearsley, tables and table decorations.

Ushers were Tim Smith, Willis Johnson, Alan Emery, Earl Emery, Ricky Nichols, Bruce Kearsley, Bobo Quackenbos, Steve Hayes, Jack Tanger and Brooke Gregory.

During intermission the Gerrymanders, the Browne and Nichols octet, sang. Wayland boys in the octet are Tim Smith and Alan Emery.

One teen-ager succeeded in doing the Charleston in spite of a plaster cast on one leg.

"The success of this dance," says Mrs. Baldwin, "means that we shall be able to make this an annual party. For some time, there have been many parents who wanted to have a formal Wayland party for the teen-age group. This year the 8th grade was included so that we would have enough to make the dance possible. Next year it will include the 9th grade and up."

Local Women On Bookstall Committee

Local women on the committee helping with the sale of books at the Yankee Bookstall, Boston, for the benefit of the Children's Medical Center, include Mrs. Alfred Thomas of Weston, Mrs. Benjamin G. Ferris, Jr. of Weston, Mrs. Thomas B. Gannett of Wayland, Mrs. A. Leland Gates of Weston, Mrs. Nathaniel Hamlen of Wayland, Mrs. Paul M. Hamlen of Wayland, Mrs. William De Ford Manice of Weston, Mrs. Russell F. Riley of Weston and Mrs. Richard Stackpole of Wayland.

The sale begins April 26 and runs through May 2.

The Middlesex County Extension Service has put out a release helping to explain Suasco, the organization dedicated to taming the Sudbury, Assabet and Concord Rivers.

Country Garden Club, May 9

WESTON — The Country Garden Club will hold its second annual meeting on Wednesday, May 9, at the home of Mrs. Gerald W. Blakeley, Jr., 479 North Avenue. During the business meeting the club will welcome new members, elect officers for the coming year and discuss the need for neighborhood participation in the control of the Japanese beetle by use of spore powder.

The Conservation Committee will present plans for landscaping the Town pool in cooperation with the Weston Recreation Commission.

Wayland Men

a very substantial number of loans made during the past year.

President of the Bank, Kenneth W. Rogers, predicted the coming year would be another successful one, with substantially increased deposits and even higher volume of mortgage loans. In discussing the Wayland office of West Newton Savings Bank, he also commented on the friendly interest already shown by people of Wayland in having their own local thrift facilities provided by a mutual savings bank of established strength and accomplishment.

Mainstone Trustee Chosen Secretary of Guernsey Group

WAYLAND — Nathaniel Hamlen, Trustee of Mainstone Farm, has been elected Secretary of the Massachusetts Guernsey Breeders Association, an organization interested in the improvement of the Guernsey breed in the Commonwealth.

The Mainstone Farm herd of 180 Guernseys is the oldest established herd of Guernseys in the United States.

Spring Flower Show, Jones House, May 18

WESTON — A large and enthusiastic committee is hard at work preparing for the Spring Flower Show to be held at the Jones House on Friday, May 18, from 2 to 9 p.m. under the joint sponsorship of the Weston Garden Club and the Country Garden Club of Weston.

Mrs. James T. Mountz and Mrs. Walter Raleigh are General Chairmen of the Flower Show committee. With the guidance of the Garden Club Federation of Massachusetts they have evolved a varied schedule of exhibits.

Included are flower arrangements, horticulture, conservation and an educational project provided by the children of Weston. The patriotic theme — "Reflections of Freedom" — underlying the Show celebrates the 200th anniversary of the Jones House, known in Revolutionary days as the Josiah Smith Tavern.

Admission will be fifty cents.

Heart Fund:

Weston raised $5,027.92 in the February Heart Fund collection and Wayland $1,939.15, it was announced recently by Howard Johnson, State chairman. Total for Massachusetts was $875,000, a record.

Mrs. Allan R. Finlay was chairman for Wayland and Mrs. David R. Lutkins for Weston.

Waltham Associates Now Number 773.

WALTHAM — Directors of the Waltham Hospital Associates, including Wayland and Weston women, met at the Nurses' Home on April 8, and Mrs. Lawrence S. Flaherty reported an increase of 119 associate members during the year, bringing the total membership to 773.

Other news of the meeting:

Present were Mrs. William T. Van Huysen and Mrs. Daniel F. Viles of Weston; Mrs. Flaherty, Mrs. Nathaniel P. Brackett, Jr., Mrs. Samuel A. Cohn, Mrs. Oscar S. Falling, Mrs. Robert A. Grimes, Mrs. John J. Harrington, Mrs. Winton P. Simmons and Mrs. Russell P. Wentworth of Waltham; Mrs. John H. Baldwin of Wayland and Mrs. W. Hart Nichols of Weston.

Those who wish to become members may call Mrs. Flaherty at TW 4-3937.

Retiring from the Board after three years service are Mrs. Charles F. Appel of Watertown, Mrs. Baldwin of Wayland and Mrs. Ira Flaschner, Mrs. Harrington and Mrs. Benjamin Wolk of Weston.

Mrs. George B. Flint of Lincoln and Mrs. Grimes and Mrs. Theodore A. Wester of Weston are retiring after completing their service.

Mrs. Flaherty has been appointed treasurer, replacing Mrs. William B. LeClair, who resigned because of illness in her family.

The Associates have purchased 56 pairs of drapes, costing $700, for private and semi-private rooms in the Hospital.

John Leavitt Is Honored at Dinner

WAYLAND — More than 150 out-of-Town dignitaries and Wayland friends gathered at Ten Acres on May 2 to attend a testimonial dinner in honor of John W. Leavitt, Wayland Selectman for 23 years, who retired from public office this year.

Gerald Henderson, chairman of the committee, presented the guest of honor with an atmospheric clock, one which runs forever on a two-degree change in temperature. "It will outlast John, I think," said Mr. Henderson, who added this salute:

"May the road always come up to meet your feet, may this wind always be at your back and may God always hold you in the hollow of His hand."

"I thank you from the bottom of my heart," said Mr. Leavitt, in accepting the gift. In return, he offered to the Town a guidon of the 12th Company, 21st Regiment, Massachusetts State Guard, composed of 200 Wayland men enlisted in World War II, first purely Wayland military outfit since the Battle of Lexington. He said he hoped it could be placed in the new Town Hall.

Among those at the head table were Senator Charles W. Olson, Selectman Thomas F. Linnehan, Selectman Edwin Swenson of Natick, Ronald S. Campbell, Howard S. Russell, who was toastmaster; Mrs. Leavitt, Mrs. James NeNormandie, wife of Rep. DeNormandie, and Selectman Frank S. Tarr.

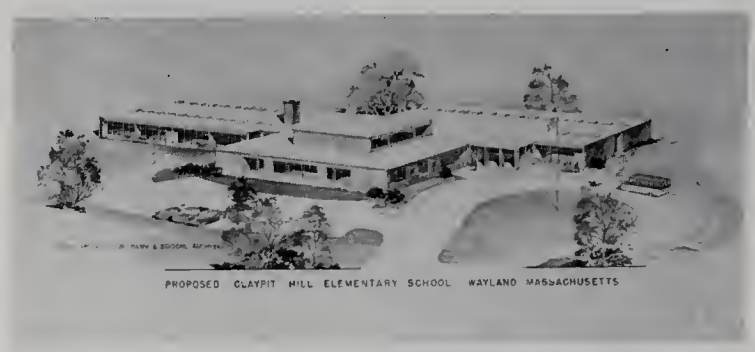
Messages of congratulation were received from Gov. Herter, Gen. Otis Whitney and others.

From Chairman Robert M. Morgan of the Finance Committee came a telegram dated 5 a.m. from Juarez, Mexico, saying Juarez is just the sort of place of which it would be a pleasure to be Selectman: no town officials, nobody wants public office and "lots of light entertainment."

Mr. Campbell told about Mr. Leavitt's military career. He served on the Mexican border in 1916, then in France and later was a sort of military mayor of German towns. He organized the State Guard company in World War II and bears the rank of Colonel — which Howard Russell said he never knew before.

On the committee, besides Mr. Henderson, were Gustaf Blomgren, Dorothy Damon, Norman G. Fair, Mary Lou Howard, Richard A. Howard and Edward Perry. Thaddeus Nichols handled the program.

Dancing and sociability followed the speaking.



Weston Votes Not To Buy Cat Rock

WESTON — Weston citizens packed Town Hall at the adjourned town meeting on April 30 to vote by an overwhelming majority to drop the Cat Rock issue.

Selectman William R. Dewey, Jr. made a motion to pass over and so dispose of article 18 on the warrant, which called for taking any action including the appropriation of money for a Town forest in the Cat Rock area. Mr. Dewey said that the lowest price agreeable to Techbuilt Inc., which owns the 191 acres, was $200,000. Two appraisals made by experts employed by the town were $92,000 and $143,000 respectively.

The Selectmen did not feel that they could recommend to the town the expenditure of $57,000 more than the highest appraisal received. An appropriation of $200,000 would have meant an increase of $10 on the tax rate.

The question was raised about taking the land by eminent domain. Selectman Richard H. Field replied that the town would have court expenses and that it would be "unwise to sign a blank check for a jury to fill in."

The vote ended long debate at public meetings and work by Town officials. The issue involved a Town policy on large marketable land areas as well as affecting the debt structure and tax rate in the town. The original state bill by Rep. James DeNormandie of Lincoln to acquire the Cat Rock and adjacent areas in Waltham and Lincoln for a Metropolitan District Reservation has been referred to the committee on conservation for report to the 1957 Legislature.

The Weston Water Commission has awarded a contract to Cherry Brothers of North Oxford for painting the interior and exterior of the Cat Rock standpipe. The cost is $2600.

Committee Votes For 2 Schools at Once

WAYLAND — The School Building Committee reports that on May 5 it agreed unanimously to employ the architects of the Claypit Hill Road school to proceed with the same plans for the Loker Street School, at a saving to the Town of $15,000 in architects' fees and a further substantial saving in contract costs.

This action was taken because it was discovered that by a rare chance the Claypit Hill plans fitted the Loker Street site.

Chairman Allan F. Finlay of the Committee says the new proposal will not hold up construction of the Claypit Hill school.

The Town has voted $600,000 to build the Claypit Hill school and has voted $25,000 for plans for the Loker Street school. It is hoped, says Mr. Finlay, to have a Special Town Meeting before too many residents go away for Summer vacations, to ask for money to build the Loker Street school simultaneosuly with the Claypit Hill one.

The State School Building Assistance Commission, which will pay about half the cost of the new schools, has approved the plans.

Philip R. Gladu Is 4th Permanent Fireman

WAYLAND — The fourth permanent firefighter for the Wayland Fire Department will be Philip R. Gladu of 101 Main Street, Cochituate, the Selectmen have announced. The others, announced recently, are Clifford Wedlock, Charles Campbell and Richard Gladu.

The appointment of four permanent men was authorized at the regular Town Meeting in March.

Pros and Cons Argue Mansion Inn Case

WAYLAND — Sharp differences of opinion were expressed at a public hearing before the Board of Appeals, held April 23 at the Cochituate School cafeteria, on whetherer the Mansion Inn, destroyed by fire on March 24, should be rebuilt, in some form, as an eating and drinking place.

George Bogren, Dunbar Holmes and Roger Ela, members of the Board, presided, and more than 100 attended.

The issue, Mr. Ela explained, was that old Mansion Inn, which had been in business for a long time when the Town zoning laws were first enacted, back in 1934, was allowed to remain in operation as a pre-existing use case, although the Mansion Inn property was in a residential area.

The rule then laid down, he said, was that the property, said to be 8.7 acres, would revert to residential use should the Inn ever be 75 per cent destroyed.

Selectmen in Favor

After the March fire, Mansion Inn, Inc., of which Armando Nappi of East Boston is president and

New Route 20 Buses

New Diesel Buses On Route 20 Runs

A fleet of new Diesel powered buses will go into service on the Marlboro Division of the B & W Lines about May 14, it was announced by Leland L. Waters, General Manager of the Company.

These coaches which will operate between Boston and Worcester over the Post Road are the product of General Motors Corporation whose engineers have spent 12 years perfecting a new type of spring suspension in which the coach body literally floats on air.

Jarring, jolting road shocks are all absorbed by flexible bellows which replace the conventional springs and make these new coaches the most comfortable available.

Roomy foam-rubber seats are upholstered in two-tone combinations of rose.

Weston Voters To Consider Big School Issue at Meeting May 14

WESTON — Great interest is being focussed on the article concerning the town's future school system coming up at Special Town Meeting on May 14.

The issue is whether or not to decentralize the schools. The School Committee recommends that one new elementary school of 14 rooms be built in the North part of town, and another in the South.

Thus the School Committee recommends passage of the article.

Those opposed want the proposed new school built in the center near the existing schools.

Some of the arguments pro and con:

Case for Decentralization

The School Committee says:

At the Special Town Meeting on May 14 the School Committee will recommend that initial steps be taken to provide for two new 14-classroom elementary school buildings, one for the fall of 1959, and the other for 1962. The steps recommended now are the determination of sites, acquisition of necessary land, appointment of a building committee, and appropriation of money for land and layout plans for the first of the two schools. Appropriation for construction is scheduled for the next annual Town Meeting.

The timing of the new schools is based on growth of the school population based on the known number of children of both school and pre-school age now living in Weston and on estimates of growth from additional children moving in. The present elementary school population (kindergarten through sixth grade) is 917, about double the number in 1948. Projections made by outside consultants and by the school department indicate that when the town is fully developed the elementary school population will again double.

Meanwhile as the junior and senior high grades grow the School Committee plans to utilize and develop the old Elementary School plant with relatively minor alterations and additions as the junior high plant. The 7th grade is now housed there. It is planned that the 8th grade will be there in 1959 and the 9th grade in 1962.

The Committee proposed that one of the new schools be built on the so-called Jennings land now owned by the Town. This is just north of Glen Road and between Gail Road and Old Colony Road. Two alternative areas are under con-

Eva Has a Wayland Jacket To Take Home To Vienna

WAYLAND — The rule is that only seniors are given jackets at the annual Wayland High Association dinner for student athletes, but they made an exception this year for Eva Krummel.

Eva, prounounced Ay-vee, comes from Austria, and has been attending Wayland High as a junior. Here only on a year's visit, she'll be going back to Vienna.

Since she played basketball and field hockey, and won't be around next year to receive her jacket, students thought it would be a good idea to let her have it now. So the black and orange jacket, with "Wayland" across the back, was given to her at the sports dinner, April 28, and people on the streets of Vienna will have something from far away to look at.

Eva cried.

Community League Names Officers

WESTON — At the Annual Meeting and luncheon of the Women's Community League of Weston, held May 9 at the Weston Town House, the proposed new slate of officers and directors for 1956-1957 was presented by the head of the Nominating Committee, Mrs. David R. Brooke. Officers for 1956-1957:

President, Mrs. George N. Chamberlain, Jr.

First Vice President Mrs. Lewis W. Mustard, III.

Second Vice President, Mrs. Charles G. Ball.

Recording Secretary, Mrs. Vernon M. Tallman.

Corresponding Secretary, Mrs. L. Everett Johnson.

Treasurer, Mrs. Arthur C. Murphy.

Directors for a three year term: Mrs. Putnam P. Flint, Mrs. John C. Gray, Mrs. Frank L. Hitchcock, Mrs. Arthur B. Johnson, Mrs. Edward W. Marshall and Mrs. Julius H. Mueller.

Also announced were the President's appointments to fill two unexpired terms of two years each, Mrs. Ralph M. Hower and Mrs. Eben Wallace.

Children's Exchange Last Sale, May 29

WESTON — A final clearance sale on Tuesday, May 29 will close Children's Exchange business at the Jones House for this year.

Any clothing that is not withdrawn by May 22 will be included in the bargain sale, and all clothing not sold will be given to charity.

The Children's Exchange, part of the Women's Community League, earned almost $4000 last year. Proceeds go to scholarships and to the welfare fund.

Five Win Awards At Science Fair

Robert E. Lucey, of Wayland High School, was a second-place winner in the Massachusetts Science Fair announced at M.I.T. on April 30. Carl Peter Rydell, of Weston High School, was a third-place winner, and honorable mentions were awarded to Mary Jane Fabisak and Earl S. Woods, of Wayland High, and John W. Gilman, of Weston High.

Please License the Dog

Many need no reminder. As of May 4 about 300 dogs had been licensed in Wayland, not to mention several kennels.

However, the Town Clerk's Office is still looking for the remaining 700 dogs now in Wayland.

Office Hours - At the Wayland Town Hall
Tues., Fri.: 9:30 a.m. - 1 p.m.
Wed., Thurs.: 2 - 5 p.m.
1st & 3rd Mondays: 8 - 9 p.m.
(each month)

If it is inconvenient to go to the Town Hall, licenses may be applied for by mail. Send a check or money order payable to the Town Clerk of Wayland. Give dog's name, breed, color, age and your name and address.

Each dog licensed before June saves the Town the expense of sending notices.

Mr. and Mrs. Bruce A. Mansfield, 1 Cole Road, Wayland, announce the birth of their first child, Linda Jane, April 17, at the Newton-Wellesley Hospital.

400 Wayland Kids Get Salk Shots

WAYLAND—Four hundred preschool children and pregnant women received Salk vaccine polio shots at the Parmenter Health Center on Saturday morning, April 28, and a make-up clinic for those who missed it is scheduled at the same place for 10 a.m., May 12.

Dr. James P. Burke, Dr. Charlotte A. Stewart and Dr. David R. Corey wielded the needles. They were assisted by the Health Center staff plus volunteers, who included Mrs. Dorothy Cormack, Mrs. Lucille Cain and Mrs. Mary Fitch, nurses; Mrs. John Tanger, Mrs. T. Nichols, Mrs. Sigrid Smith, Mrs. D. L. Bartholomew, Mrs. Francis Menge and Miss Carol Deverell.

Dr. James P. Burke of Wayland gives the needle to Janette A. Wedlock, almost 3 years old, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Wedlock of Concord Road, while her mother and Mrs. Berton J. Fitch, Jr. try to persuade her it's all right.

A moment later it's all over, and Janette tries a smile.

Other children under 15 were given the shots on various days at the schools.

Some of the pre-school tots howled, and others took the treatment like little stoics. But the Center was a busy place for a couple of hours and automobiles were parked all around.

LISTINGS WANTED

To Install Dr. Fenn On Sunday, May 13

WAYLAND — Dr. Dan Huntington Fenn will be installed as minister of the First Parish Church of Wayland at a service on Sunday, May 13, at 3 p.m. The ministers and churches of Wayland as well as the ministers and churches of the 22 churches of the South Middlesex Unitarian Conference have been invited.

Taking part in this special service, which is a confirmation of the relationship entered into by church and minister, will be Dr. Frederick May Eliot, president of the American Unitarian Association, who will speak on the responsibility of the layman. Rev. Frank M. Smith, executive secretary of the New England Council of Unitarian Churches, will speak on the responsibility of the minister, and Dr. Charles E. Park, minister-emeritus of the First Church in Boston, will give the prayer. Dr. Donald Ewing, minister of the Wayland Trinitarian Congregational Church, will read the Scripture, and Rev. George C. Gutekunst, minister of the Methodist Church in Cochituate, will lead the responsive reading. Representing the church, the Act of Installation will be led by the Chairman of the Parish Committee.

There will be special music by the choir under the direction of the organist and choirmaster, Mr. R. Clifford Orr.

Dr. Fenn, recently minister of the newly built Unitarian Church of Tucson, Arizona, began his ministry here in Wayland on March 11. Preceding his five-year pastorate in Tucson, he was for nine years Director of the Department of the Ministry of the American Unitarian Association. His other pastorates have been in New England. Dr. Fenn has also been a Special Lecturer at the Harvard Divinity School, Chaplain of the House of Representatives of Massachusetts and an exchange minister in Hampstead, London.

Following the service, there will be an informal reception in the Vestry.

Little League

WESTON — Standings of the Little League as of May 5 were:

Team	Won	Lost
Dodgers	3	1
Red Sox	0	3
Detroit	2	2
Cardinals	1	2

Six farm teams are being formed for the 80 eight-to ten-year old boys who have reported. They will play twice a week. Uniforms consisting of caps and jerseys will be available in the near future.

Cochituate PTA Meeting

COCHITUATE — "Music of All Lands" will be the theme at the final meeting of the Cochituate PTA at the school on May 15, at 7:30, and the Framingham Concert Band, under the direction of Chester Ryan, will entertain. All children and adults in Town are invited.

Mr. Melvin Orenstein is this year's president.

St. Peter's "Pops" Night

WESTON — A night at the "Pops" is planned by St. Peter's Couples Club on Sunday, May 27. A chartered bus will carry the group. Tickets may be obtained from Mary Faulkner, TW 3-3234, for $1.50 per ticket.

Weston College acquired the extensive lands and house of Grant Walker, president of the Danvers Bleachery & Dye Works, after his death in 1920.

Flower Pilgrimage, Coch. Garden Club

COCHITUATE — The Cochituate Garden Club scheduled a Pilgrimage on May 10 through homes of various members, where appropriate flower arrangements were judged.

Mrs. Arthur Dudley was general chairman of this variation from the Club's usual Spring Flower Show, with Mrs. Louis Hornow and Mrs. John Davies as co-chairmen of the tea committee. Mrs. Frederick Whiteside was in charge of maps, Mrs. William Hall of publicity, with Mrs. Alexander Lizotte, Mrs. Kent Bulfinch and Mrs. Duane Haagensen as additional coordinators.

The homes visited in Cochituate were those of Mrs. Frederick S. Whiteside, 78 Rice Road; Mrs. Benjamin Johnson, Jr., 262 Cochituate Road; Mrs. Peter Wanecek, 215 Old Connecticut Path; Mrs. Ronald V. Sharpe, 6 Old Farm Road; Mrs. Arne Furst, 22 Fuller Road; Mrs. Howard C. Phillips, 37 Oak Knoll Road, North Natick, and Mrs. Arthur H. Dudley, 20 Mitchell Street.

Odd Fellows Will Send 2 to Camp

WAYLAND — At a recent meeting of Pequod Lodge of Odd Fellows, it was voted to clothe and send two children to Summer camp this year. This is part of the civic program started by the Grand Encampment of Odd Fellows last year.

Anyone who knows of a deserving Wayland child who would otherwise be unable to enjoy the facilities of a Summer camp is asked to get in touch with the Noble Grand, Louis A. Lloyd, Springhill Road, Wayland; the Vice-Grand, Gordon Littlehale, 70 Wellesley Street, Weston; or the Secretary, Earle W. Baldwin, 116 Higgins Road, Framingham.

8th Annual Dance on the Green For Weston and Lincoln, June 2

WESTON — Once again there will be dancing on the green in Weston on Saturday, June 2, at 8 o'clock. There will be fun for all, especially with Charlie Baldwin, who will be the caller.

The Women's Community League of Weston sponsors the dance for the benefit of scholarships for Weston and Lincoln high school students and for Community services. For the first time, Lincoln is being included in this yearly event and it is hoped Lincoln residents will share in the fun. It is the eighth annual dance on the green to be held in front of the Town Hall. People are asked to get their groups together and come for an evening of entertainment. Everyone is welcome.

Tuesday, May 1, a meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Bryan Smith, Byron Road, chairman of the committee. She is assisted by co-chairman Mrs. Richard P. Berry. Mrs. Edwin U. Curtis is in charge of posters. The ticket chairmen are Mrs. Frederick D. Bonner, Mrs. Pennell N. Aborn and Mrs. Eben Wallace. Mrs. Alan McClennen is chairman of the Lincoln area. Mrs. James C. Cook is in charge of publicity. The district chairmen are Mrs. M. Thomas Stantial, Mrs. Leander F. Rafuse, Miss Elizabeth McAuliff, Mrs. Robert A. Stauffer, Mrs. John G. Hutcheson, Mrs. Henry M. Merrill, Jr. Mrs. Alden Henderson, Mrs. Martin Marshall, Mrs. Everett Shekleton, Mrs. David Perry, Mrs. Chester Graves.

Mrs. George M. Herrick, Mrs. William Bartel, Mrs. Raymond Clapp, Mrs. John P. Larkin, Mrs. William N. Bogle, Mrs. Frank Stevens, Mrs. James L. Whittenberger and Mrs. Robert V. Huston.

Mrs. Sumner Is Chairman

WAYLAND — Mrs. William H. Sumner of Shaw Drive has been appointed chairman for the 1956 Mental Health Campaign in Wayland, it has been announced. The Massachusetts Association for Mental Health is seeking $230,000 in the Commonwealth.

Weston Pre-School Salk Shots, May 12

National Honor Society Inducts New Members

WAYLAND — Seven Junior members of the National Honor Society were inducted into membership at exercises at the school assembly on May 3 and at another ceremony held that evening with dinner at Red Coach Grill. Seventy-five relatives and friends attended the evening exercises.

Headmaster William M. Griffin, Mrs. Ann B. Shields and Miss Jean T. Nelson of the High School faculty took part. Superintendent of schools Edward J. Anderson and Mrs. Anderson attended, as did Selectman Thomas F. Linnehan and Mrs. Linnehan and School Committeeman William A. Waldron.

New members inducted were George Richardson, John Lynch, Sandra Simoni, Dorothy Campbell, Dorothy Boesenberg, Vivienne Thomas and Nicholas Willard.

Seniors inducted were: Carol Archer, Marilyn Heizman and John MacKeen. Other seniors participating were Kathleen Andrews, Eileen Bresse, Rita Brosseau, Mary Jane Fabisak, Agnes Houston, Carolyn LeDrew, Joan Lizotte and Judy Simoni.

Weston High Notes

The Carl T. Rhoades Chapter of the National Honor Society at the Weston High School welcomed to its ranks eight new members of the junior and senior classes. The ceremony took place on Wednesday, April 11, at 1:30 p.m. in the High School gymnasium, and was followed by a reception in the Art Room for new members, their parents, invited guests and the faculty. This marks Weston's second year in this society, whose elected members must be outstanding in scholarship during their high school years, and must in the opinion of the faculty show to a high degree the qualities of leadership, service and character.

Mr. Julius H. Mueller, Principal, opened the program. Daniel Bump, Master of Ceremonies, led the salute to the flag and the scripture reading and prayer, after which five present members read interpretations concerning the history and meaning of the National Honor Society.

Craig Jameson recounted the history of this society in America. Marporie Benedict spoke of the meaning and significance of scholarship. Blake Foster defined leadership. Judith Wetzel explained service, and Marian Larkin gave an interpretation of the word, character.

Mrs. Theresa Zamprogno, sponsor for the group, led the National Honor Society pledge, and Mr. Mueller presented the certificates. Dr. Anthony G. L. Brackett, superintendent of schools, addressed the assembly, and the orchestra under the direction of Mr. Wendell B. Phillips, played two selections from the "Ballet Parisien" by Offenbach.

New Honor Society seniors are Owen Connolly, Barbara Rushforth and Thomas Malamud. Juniors are Walery Chodsky, Harry Crawford, Blythe Page, Charles Phillips and Frances Tyng. Provisionary members from the sophomore class are Marla Buerger, Kimball Cummings, Vincent Hoagland, Alison Hower, Henry Lehne, Joshua Lombard, Nina Marchetti, Carl Rydell and Deborah Williams.

Six student Council members served as ushers, and refreshments at the reception were prepared by the ninth grade foods class under the direction of Miss Elizabeth P. Cobb.

Garden Club Sale

WAYLAND — The Wayland Garden Club will hold its annual Perennial and Food Sale from 10 to 2 on Saturday, May 19, at the First Parish Green. A variety of well started sturdy plants will be available as well as home made dishes of all kinds.

Mrs. William Hodgkinson is chairman, assisted by Mrs. Arthur Kimball, Mrs. Charles Jameson, Mrs. Frederick Heinrich, Mrs. Will Ryder and Mrs. John Sibley.

Ceremonies Held By Honor Society

WAYLAND — For the first time members of the Junior High School were inducted into the National Junior Honor Society at ceremonies on May 4. Names of the new members announced by Kathleen Andrews, secretary, were:

7th Grade: Lawrence Bailey, Charles Cook, Clare Gregory, Mary Beth Hibbits, John Howard, Randy Johnson, Florence Joy Kerr, Judith Moss, Anne Pearson, John Perodeau, Barbara Quackenbos.

8th Grade: Donna Atkins, Judith Bigwood, Michael Burke, Lynda Jane Clausen, Harriet Colby, Martha Drinkwater, Susan Ferguson, Deborah Hill, Linda Moyer, Dorothy Ong, Lucinda Parker, Marcia Sandford, Martha Seley, Carol Schultz, James Sullivan, Marsha Tashjian, Judy White, Karen Smith.

Eileen Bresse, president, gave the address of welcome, Mary Jane Fabisak stated the purpose of the Society. Others participating were Joan Lizotte, Rita Brosseau, Barbara Roche, Agnes Houston, Judith Simoni, and Carolyn L. Drew.

Presentation of cards and pins was made by W. M. Griffin, principal, and Mrs. Ann B. Shields, sponsor.

The Wayland Unitarian Church was built in 1815.

Annual Meeting of Weston PTA, May 16

WESTON — The annual meeting of the Weston Parent Teachers Association will be held Wednesday, May 16, 1956, in the High School Gymnasium at 7:30 p.m.

A very enlightening and entertaining evening has been planned by the children in the Elementary and Country Schools under the guidance of Miss Alice M. Olliff, art director. They have, through cooperative effort, prepared an exhibition to be on display throughout the evening. The theme of this exhibition is "Storyland."

In addition, a group of 60 children from Grades 4, 5 and 6 will participate in a program of art activities. This will convey to the parents the many types of art activities which are carried on in the classroom both in individual situations and also in learning how to share responsibilities and work together in small or large groups.

The customary 8 o'clock meeting time has been advanced to 7:30 p.m. to provide adequate time for the Art Program.

Because this is our final meeting of the school year there will also be election of officers.

Kindergarten Registration

Registration for 1956-1957 Weston kindergarten classes will be on Thursday, May 24, between the hours of 8 a.m. and 4 p.m. at the Case House, 69 Wellesley Street. It is suggested that each mother bring her child with her. Also, please bring his birth certificate and certificate of vaccination.

All children who will be 5 years of age on or before January 1, 1957, are eligible to register for kindergarten. Children who will become 5 years of age between November 1, 1956 and January 1, 1957, and who are registered, will be admitted in September, 1956, on a trial basis, provided there is room for them.

Because of kindergarten registration on May 24, at the Case House, there will be no school for regular kindergarten classes on that day.

Mother's Club Drawing

COCHITUATE — Mrs. Nellie Robinson of Medfield won the drawing for a food basket, held April 21 at the home of Mrs. Allen Havell, Saxonville, who is president of the Cochituate Mother's Club. The drawing was for the annual scholarship given to a Wayland High High School student.

The Club had a theatre party scheduled for May 2.

John MacKeen Wins $50 U. N. Prize

WAYLAND — John C. MacKeen, a senior at Wayland High, has won second prize for the Commonwealth of Massachusetts in the annual United Nations High School contest, formerly the League of Nations contest, now in its 30th year.

John C. MacKeen

Gov. Christian A. Herter will give John his prize of $50 at a presentation ceremony at the State House on May 18.

John is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence MacKeen of 4 West Commonwealth Road, Cochituate. He will go to Northeastern in September to study electrical engineering.

Two Garden Clubs Will Sponsor Flower Show at Jones House

WESTON—Plans for the Spring Flower Show at the Jones House on May 18 from 2 to 9 p.m., sponsored by the Weston Garden Club, whose president is Mrs. Merton E. Williams, and the Country Garden Club of Weston, whose president is Mrs. John R. Perry, Jr., are now in their final stages.

Not only are members of both Garden Clubs to participate, but the Weston Forest and Trail Association will have a conservation exhibit, the Massachusetts Audubon will show an educational exhibit, the Weston Brownies and Girl Scouts will enter the children's exhibit, the Norumbega Nurseries will have a professional exhibit, and there will be a men's horticultural exhibit.

The theme of the show is historical, and the clubs are competing for a national award, the Red, White and Blue Rosette offered by the Garden Club Federation.

Mrs. James T. Mountz and Mrs. Walter Raleigh are the general chairmen. The secretaries are Mrs. J. Kenneth Bennett and Mrs. Ridgley Shepherd, and the treasurers are Mrs. M. Kirkbride Patterson and Mrs. B. Howard Spicker. Mrs. Charles G. Ball and Mrs. Sheldon Summers are in charge of entries, while placement is under the direction of Mrs. J. Manton Bradley and Mrs. Lewis Mustard, III.

Horticulture will be supervised by Mrs. Donald Wyman and Mrs. Ransom U. Rowe, and the staging of horticulture is being planned by Mrs. Karl Adams, Jr. and Mrs. Charles H. Ford. Mrs. Howard M. Forbes and Mrs. Edward B. Hubbard have invited the judges. The printing has been done by Mrs. Warren T. Bryant and Mrs. Harry C. Crawford, Jr.

Fifth Graders Had Fascinating Week At Camp Sargent

The fifth grade pupils from the Cochituate, Center and Happy Hollow Schools returned from their week at Camp Sargent in Peterboro, New Hampshire with a better working knowledge of what is meant by erosion, watersheds, glacial dumps and the way in which the earth's surface is constantly changing.

The theme of the work for the entire week was the way in which man and natural changes affect the earth. After a discussion period in the main dining room each day, all classes separated into work groups and went on field trips to find and study the effects of beavers on lakes, glacial dumps and changes in the Monadnock region and to study plant pioneers and how they help in changing the face of the earth.

The children visited an old run-down farm and saw how man lived a century or more ago. Of interest were the areas showing the selective and clear cutting of the native forests. One of the highlights of the trip was a visit from an astronomer, Mr. Spence, from Reading, Massachusetts, who showed the children, through the magic of the slide projector, the galaxies, nebulae, planets and groupings of the stars as seen through the far-seeing eye of the Palomar Observatory.

The children sat spellbound, and, due to the full cooperation of the evening weather, went out after the lecture to see some of the planets and brightest stars and to do some constellation work.

In spite of three feet of snow which was very hard packed, the children were able to plan and carry out a mid-day cook-out.

To most of the children, the study of one of the spillways which is a flood control unit for the Merrimack River Valley was a most exciting experience. From morning classes and field trips they learned about watersheds, surface run-off and water tables. They then went out in the field to see each of these taking place and to study various types of soil erosions.

A full schedule, good weather and the comradeship of evenings of square dances and campfires gave to each student a full store of pleasant memories and worthwhile and enjoyable experiences.

Here's How They Made Some Cheese

Do you know how to make cottage cheese? The third graders in Miss Keane's room at the Cochituate School can tell you how. They can also tell you that making cheese is not only easy but fun.

The children began their experiment by souring two quarts of milk. The mixture was warmed before it was placed in a cheesecloth bag, to allow the liquid to run out. When just the solid matter was left in the bag, sweet cream and salt were added to taste and the group discovered they had delicious cottage cheese.

The next day the third graders wrote up the experiment in their science experiment folders, and decided to study about other foods which can be made from milk.

Life on the Congo Studied by Grade 4

The Social Studies Program in Grade 4 revolves around life in other lands, in contrast to life in our own country.

Mrs. Mary Neal's class in the Cochituate School has finished a unit on Life along the Congo River. Each boy and girl chose one of the following topics to study: people, homes, industries, plants, animals, transportation, history, clothing, food, trade, cities, climate, religion. They teamed up with one or more friends to work on the project with them.

At the end of a two-week period each group presented its report to the class and showed illustrations they had made to accompany it. Besides the reports, many took part in the construction of a Congo village. Nearly all the children made a map of Africa, putting in the Congo River and some of the important cities along the river. This map will also be used in their study of the Sahara Desert and Nile River Valley.

Mrs. Neal said children doing outstanding work on the Congo Project included Emily Rizzo, Barbara Kane, Nellie Revell, Donna Marston, Linda Baker, Agnes McCann, Linda Wirick, Anne Tourville, Shanna O'Grady, Diane McSherry, Jack Larkin, Dexter Nelson, Charles Henderson, Barbara Story and Janet O'Leary.

Food Study Started By Appleseed Story

The story of Johnny Appleseed started Miss Jacqueline Durbin's special class on a study of foods and their importance to health. They tried to find as many kinds of apples as possible and then had an "apple party." They talked about the way apples grow, the way they are harvested and the many ways they are used in cooking. Some of the girls collected recipes.

The study of apples led to an interest in other fruits, vegetables, meat and dairy products. The children had many questions about where food comes from, how it grows and how it gets to the grocery store. The older boys and girls looked up information and reported to the class.

Evelyn Wheelock gave an excellent report on apples. Betty McNeill found out that bananas are called "upside-down" fruit and grow in hot countries. Joan Morrell was surprised to learn that a cow has four stomachs. John Holmes reported that there are Holstein, Jersey and Guernsey cows.

The monthly assembly at Happy Hollow School Auditorium was conducted by the first grade of Miss Katherine Barron and Miss Pauline Natale's second grade. Following the Bible reading, Lord's Prayer and salute to the flag Miss Natale's class sang appropriate songs and Miss Barron's class recited the poem "The Little Plant."

When phoning for fire assistance, please give your street and number first, then your name.

Cochituate Pupils Perform for PTA

On April 24, a "Gymnasia" was presented to 500 members and friends of the Cochituate School P.T.A.

Representative children from the first, third, and fifth grades demonstrated their skill in ball-handling, coordination activities, rhythmics, dancing, tumbling, stunts and various games.

Miss Marjorie Ball, physical education specialist, directed the program and described to the audience the physical development of the children from grade to grade.

The children displayed a zeal and precision in their demonstrations that made for a delightful and enjoyable evening while leaving an impression of the true value of such a physical education program.

The evening was made even more enjoyable when the sixth grade Glee Club presented a program of songs in two and three part harmony under the direction of Mrs. Pauline Radford, vocal music specialist and Mr. Walter Doucette, sixth grade teacher.

At the conclusion of the program, the children were offered refreshments by the P.T.A. and then departed happily.

WESTON HIGH NOTES

A number of the faculty members of the Weston Schools attended the Regional Conference on Instruction that took place at the Statler Hotel on April 18 through 21. This conference was sponsored by the National Education Association in cooperation with state and local educational groups, and covered every aspect of instruction. Mr. Julius H. Mueller, Principal of the High School, was a member of the panel which presented and discussed the question. "What instructional methods seen best for achieving our educational objectives?"

On Thursday afternoon the "Experience sharing groups" began, where in groups of teachers, expert in their fields, posed problems, raised questions and shared experiences. The same groups met similarly on Friday and Saturday, at which time they attempted to draw some conclusions and offer some answers to these questions. Mr. Thomas McFarlin, Principal of the Elementary Schools, led the group that probed the problem, "Ways to reduce delinquency"; Miss Lucy Tinker of the elementary school, participated in the discussion on "Teaching handwriting." Dr. Anthony C. L. Brackett, Superintendent of Schools, was a consultant in the group, "Helping the emotionally disturbed student." On Friday morning Mr. Wallace W. Sawyer, Chairman of the Science Department, was a panelist of a section discussion considering science and mathematics in today's junior and senior high schools.

The Weston Post of the American Legion Auxiliary has selected Frances Tyng of the Junior class to attend Girls State for one week in June at the Bridgewater State Teachers College. Such a selection is a distinct honor, and carries with it the opportunity to spend a full week with many other girls from Massachusetts in a program of learning and recreation. Participation in "Government in action" with an opportunity to "see how the wheels of government revolve in a democracy" is the main purpose of the program, and it is intended to foster leadership and usefulness in citizenship. Iris Hubbard, also a junior, has been chosen as alternate delegate.

Davis Hess, who graduated from Weston High in '54, is a member of the crew at Princeton University, according to a notice received from the college.

Mr. John W. Zorn's new one-act play, "The Three Brothers," will be published by the Ivan Bloom Hardin Co. this Spring. Mr. Zorn is Chairman of the English Department, and this will be the third play he has had published in the past two years.

APRIL 28, the day the temperature hit 80, there were still patches of snow to be seen on the north side of the Mainstone Farm woods and along the Post Road bypass in Weston.

Carol Lindbohm, Fred Tassinari And Paul Senory Win the Prizes

WAYLAND — Fred Tassinari was given the trophy for being best athlete and Paul Senory and Carol Lindbohm were given the Babe Ruth Good Sportsmanship awards at the annual dinner of the Wayland High Association, held April 28 at the Wayland High School gym with more than 250 boys, girls, guests, parents and friends on hand.

Jackets were given to 28 senior boys and girls and to Eva Krummel, a junior from Austria who won't be here next year.

Thanks largely to a house-to-house canvass made by the boys and girls, the affair was so successful financially that the Association was able to buy 30 parkas for the football team.

Among the guests was Austin S. Hale of Weston, friend of all local athletes, who was given a big hand when he was introduced. Another Weston guest was Frank Woods who re-presented the V.F.W. trophy to Wayland for winning the Wayland-Weston football game last November. He said he was sorry to be there, and that it was too bad more Wayland football players hadn't graduated. Co-captains Fred Tassirari and Ralph Marotte accepted the trophy for Wayland.

Officers of the Association are Russell T. Kerr, president; G. P. Richardson, vice president; Dominic Anzivino, secretary, and Harold Ward, treasurer. Master of ceremonies was Arnold B. Bradley. Presentations of letters and certificates was made by the coaches, Samuel P. Stickland, Ralph Salvati, Mrs. Elsie T. Fredrickson, William Frary and Ed Barry.

Senior girls who received jackets, presented by Mr. Kerr, were Kathleen Andrews, Carol Archer, Eileen Bresse, Rita Brosseau, Carol Dyer, Marilyn Dusseault, Mary Jane Fabisak, Carole Haugh, Marilyn Heizmann, Agnes Houston, Carolyn LeDrew, Joan Lizotte.

Carol Lindbohm, Nancy McEnroy, Eleanor Perrin, Judy Simoni, Janet Shepard, Mary Ann Smith, Joan Tewksbury, Claire Witzell and Rachel Wheelock.

Senior boys who received jackets were Paul Bradley, Ronnie Houghton, Paul Keating, Ralph Marotte, Paul Senory, Fred Tassinari and John Thorburn.

Letters, certificates or chevrons were also given out. The list:

Happy Coincidence---Town May Be Able To Save Money on Schools

WAYLAND — Meeting with an advisory committee of citizens representing civic organizations, the School Building Committee on April 26 announced the discovery of a happy coincidence which may save the Town some money.

The money for a 14-room school off Claypit Hill Road has already been voted, and work is to begin soon. In addition, $25,000 has been voted for plans for another 14-room school near Loker Street.

Several persons had asked whether the Claypit plans couldn't be used for the Loker Street school, too.

Usually, they say, this isn't feasible, because of differences in terrain.

However, Chairman Allan R. Finlay of the School Building Committee consulted Walter S. Brodie of Kilham, Hopkins and Greeley, the architects. Mr. Brodie took a look at Loker Street and reported that, by a rare chance, the Claypit plans fitted Loker Street even better than they did Claypit.

The architects agreed to pass on some savings to the Town, if the same plans should be used for both schools and if both should be built at once.

To use the same plans would involve, it was said, a little change in timing.

The immediate need was for one elementary school. As it is, it appears, double sessions will have to be held at Happy Hollow until the Claypit school is finished. With luck, that may be mid-Winter.

To get the money to build the Loker Street school, a special Town Meeting would have to be called, perhaps in September. Should it seem worth while to build the two school simultaneously, the Special Town Meeting might be set ahead, perhaps to June.

The need for the Loker Street school is not as immediate as that for the Clapyit Hill one. However, the second school will be needed soon enough, and there seems to be a chance to save a substantial amount of money by doing both together.

Community Church Lists 548 Members

COCHITUATE — The Fellowship Room of the Community Methodist Church of Cochituate was packed with officials for the hearing of reports and plans at the annual meeting, held April 24. The Rev. Ira J. Roberts, Superintendent of the Worcester District, presided.

The Methodist Youth Fellowship consisting of junior high and senior youth has averaged 46 in attendance each Sunday night. They have had interesting and informative meetings, have conducted services of worship at the rest homes and have supported the missionary program of the conference.

The church treasurer reported all bills paid in spite of the extensive renovation program underway. The Finance Commission chairman reported the 1956 church budget by far the largest in the history of the church.

The pastor reported increases in church membership and attendance. The total membership has now climbed to 548. Not content with past accomplishments, Mr. Gutekunst, outlined challenging goals for the four commissions: education, finance, membership and evangelism, and missions which will keep everyone hard at work throughout the year ahead. The pastor expressed grateful appreciation to all who had worked so hard during the year.

St. Julia's Card Party

sideration on the North side. One is west of Merriam Street opposite Sunset Road, the other east of Merriam Street north of Foxchase Lane.

The decision to decentralize is based on studies over several years and is in accordance with the unanimous advice of professional consultants. The basic reasons given by the School Committee are: It is better for the children. It is time to bring the schools closer to the homes they serve. More pupils will be able to walk to school and can enjoy a more flexible program. Bus rides will be minimized. Playgrounds and buildings will be available year around for afternoon activities within easier reach.

The Committee also feels It is better for the Town. Expensive bus miles and traffic congestion in the center will be reduced. Twenty eight buses will be required for the 3000 children expected ultimately. Availability of neighborhood playgrounds will save cost of acquisition and maintenance of separate recreational sites. The country atmosphere of the Town will not be further impaired by building schools on land now owned by Harvard. Land in the center now owned by the Town for school or cemetery use would at most provide room for one school plant.

Case for Centralization

An informal brief prepared by some exponents of centralization makes these points:

Centralization avoids completely the problems of exactly which neighborhood to use for decentralized schools and what number of rooms. The present concentration of pupils can be predicted (based on the pre-school survey), but not the concentration of child population in 10 or 20 years.

Centralized schools would be more economical to build. A 14-room school is planned initially with future expansion to 21 rooms. It is more expensive to build in two stages. Central schools could share auditoriums and use the public library.

Sidewalks are needed if children are to walk to school. Therefore it would seem that land for sidewalks would have to be taken from property owners along the roads, since the roads already are narrow.

Transportation problems could be even worse if children go by bus from all areas in Town to both the decentralized school in their area and the junior and senior high schools in the center. Besides, the State assumes the major share of this expense.

Specialized services, such as the music program, inevitably must expand as the school population grows. These services must either be expanded to each decentralized school or a more expensive price paid for attempting to operate them in the new areas.

Land is available in the central part of Town. The remainder of the Case property is largely low land which could be made into a large outside play area. It is adjacent to land owned by the Town, reserved for the Cemetery Department, but not in use. Also adjacent is high land belonging to Harvard University.

The Town needs a good junior high, and it is a question whether the old elementary school can be remodelled without considerable cost and ever be adequate.

Mr. Nappi, at the hearing, was represented by attorney Paul V. Salter of Boston. Mr. Salter told the gathering Mr. Nappi wanted to run a good, respectable restaurant and dancing establishment, with no abuses. He said no exact plans had been prepared, but that Mr. Nappi was thinking of a building perhaps 125 feet by 50, to cost somewhere between $50,000 and $100,000, on approximately the same site as the old Inn.

Frank S. Tarr of the Board of Selectmen spoke in favor of rebuilding. Were the variance refused, he said, 14 houses might be built on the site, and were the land to be taken for a park, it might cost the Town $35,000 to $40,000.

Selectman John R. McEnroy also spoke in favor of rebuilding, saying that the Board of Appeals could impose suitable restrictions. Norman G. Fair and Otto Kohler, nearby residents on West Plain Street, also spoke in favor, as did a number of employees of the Inn.

Lakefield Residents Opposed

Then Robert R. Miller of Simpson Road, in the adjacent Lakefield development, led off for the opposition. He presented a petition signed by 50 persons living near the Inn, against the rebuilding.

"From a civic standpoint," he said, "I do not think we need another tavern." Since the Inn had been out of operation, he said, there had been no automobiles parked on the lawns, no bottles thrown around and no traffic late at night.

There were voices of dissent from the floor as Mr. Miller started to talk, but the meeting quieted and he completed his statement.

"I don't care whether they build houses there or not," he said. I'd rather have a house than a tavern next door."

Rev. George C. Gutekunst of the Cochituate Community Methodist Church spoke against rebuilding, saying he believed it would be much better if the property were developed into some kind of recreational facility for children.

Six or seven other Lakefield residents also spoke against. One said that last Summer they heard rock-and-roll music coming from the Inn six nights a week. An Inn musician retorted that they never played rock-and-roll music and anyway, they only had music two nights a week.

To a question as to whether a precedent might be set in this case, Mr. Ela replied that each situation is decided on its merits. This was, he said, the first time in Town that the question of rebuilding after a fire had come up.

Mr. Miller asked whether an appeal could be taken from a decision of the Board of Appeals, and Mr. Ela said there could always be an appeal to a court.

This is Audubon Week, during which any local resident who sights the nest of the one-eyed whipsocket will be given a wheel from an old covered wagon for a lawn decoration.

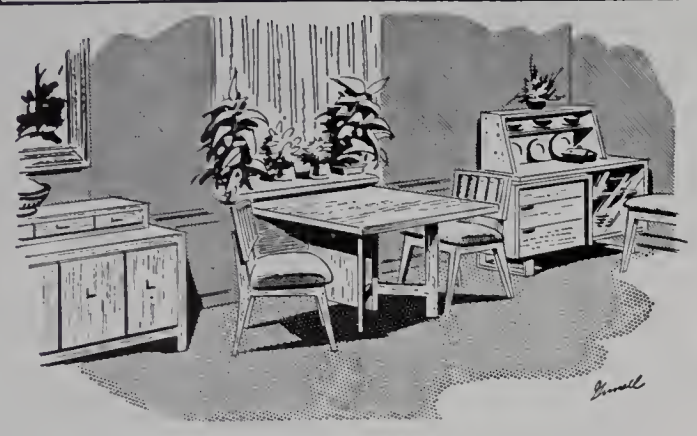
treasurer, applied to Building Inspector Homer L. MacDonald for a building permit for rebuilding. The permit was refused, on the ground that the Inn was 75 per cent destroyed.

Mansion Inn, Inc., went to the Board of Appeals, which called the public hearing.

A Word to the Wives...

By HAL BURKE



KEEP IT SIMPLE

Have you often said to yourself: "I want my home to be attractive, convenient, comfortable, and easy to care for?" If so, your answer lies in simplicity. And simplicity is never a happenstance. It is the result of the well-ordered combination of a number of factors: suiting the scale of the furniture to the size of the rooms, planning room arrangements that leave traffic lanes free, arranging for plenty of storage space to insure the absence of clutter.

The sketch above shows how these factors have all been employed to add charm and cheer to a long, difficult-to-arrange dining room.

Deep aquamarine walls and a cloud-grey broadloom rug form an attractive color background for the silver-toned oak finish on the furniture. A drop-leaf table opens to family-plus-guest size when needed. The new modern hutch has the advantage of storage drawers on one side and glassed-in china shelves on the other. Chairs are new and interesting with generous-sized slip seats covered in a tangerine, rough-textured fabric that adds gay color contrast. Cupboard, at left, has adjustable shelves for dishes. A tier of three drawers is compartmented for silver. A window garden completes the picture.

Eye-appeal, comfort and value! These are the things we insist on giving you with every purchase you make from us. We offer you fine furnishings for living room, dining room and bedroom . . . plus all the occasional pieces you want. Do come in, browse around, let us help you make satisfactory selections.

2 Parades To Be Held in Wayland

WAYLAND — Parades will be held in both Wayland and Cochituate on Memorial Day afternoon, with services in all the cemeteries.

The parade will form first at 1 p.m. at Town Hall and march to North Cemetery, led by Police Chief Ernest H. Damon and a police escort. Chief Marshal will be Philip E. Harrington, with William F. Curley Jr. as chief of staff and a staff of Clifford Wedlock, Edward D. Lee, Howard A. Harrington and Charles Nightingale.

In the procession will be the 215th Army Ground Forces Band, M.N.G.; a guard of honor, veterans' organizations, Auxiliary units, veterans, Boy Scouts, Explorer Scouts, Girl Scouts and Campfire Girls. Gold Star mothers, Town officials and disabled veterans will ride.

At the North Cemetery the prayer will be given by Rev. William J. Carty and the address by Carol Schultz. There will be a salute by the band, taps, salute to the flag and the Star Spangled Banner.

At the South Cemetery exercises will be the same, except that Rev. Donald S. Ewing will give the prayer and Harriet Colby will deliver the address.

From Wayland the personnel will go in buses and automobiles to Cochituate to reassmble at Legion Hall. Chief Marshal for this parade will be George C. Bogren and chief of staff James E. Garvey, with a staff of Howard B. Travis, Dr. David R. Corey, Paul E. Kohler, John H. Rooney, Ivan Beal and George Stockbridge.

At St. Zepherin's Cemetery the prayer will be given by Rev. Otis F. Kelly and the address by Marjorie Columbus. At Lakeview Cemetery Rev. John A. Baxter will give the prayer and Francis A. Hartin Jr. the address.

From Lakeview the parade will return to Legion Hall by way of Commonwealth Road East and Main Street, and disband. Refreshments will be served to Boy and Girl Scouts in the Cochituate School and to others in Legion Hall.

V.F.W. Memorial Service

COCHITUATE — Veterans of Foreign Wars will conduct their second memorial service at the World War II Memorial, East Plain Street and Route 30, at 12 noon on May 30, with all veterans invited. The invocation will be given by Rev. Fernie Strength of Natick and the benediction by Rev. William J. Carty. The Wayland High School band will play.

Clifton Haynes is chairman of the committee, assisted by Paul E. Kohler, Ivan Beal, George Monreau, James E. Garvey, John C. Bryant and John Fitgibbon.

Wayland Shouldn't Lose

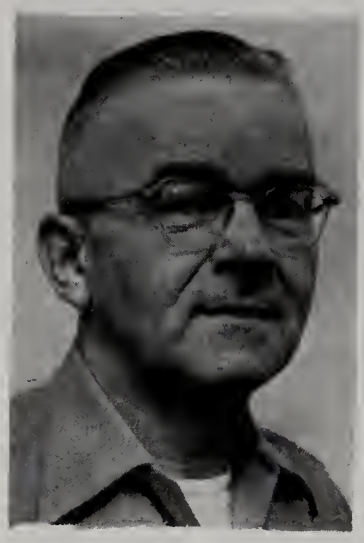
WAYLAND — Norman E. Taylor, Town accountant, says the Town should not lose more than $200 or $300 in the case involving a deputy tax collector of Natick whose accounts were reported short. The man had been collecting delinquent accounts for several Towns, Wayland among them, and his accounts were reported $24,000 short, including $2500 of Wayland money.

He was bonded, however, and Frank Kilburn, Town Counsel, is working on the case.

New CD Director

WESTON — Miss Florence E. Freeman has been appointed Director of Civil Defense. She succeeds Vice-Admiral W. N. Derby, retired from the U. S. Coast Guard, who has been director for the past two years.

Tax Collector



New Wayland tax collector is Walter Cheslak, recently appointed to fill out the term of the late Theodore Harrington.

Weston Announces Memorial Program

WESTON—Commander A. Kent Herring, of Weston Post V.F.W., a chairman of the Memorial Day Committee, announces that formal exercises will be held at 2:30 p.m. on Wednesday, May 30, in the new Linwood cemetery.

Marching groups will include the Legion, Legion Auxiliary, the V.F.W., the Police Department, the Fire Department, Brownies, Girl Scouts, Cub Scouts and Boy Scouts. These groups will assemble in front of the Town House by 1:45 p.m. ready to march. The parade will get underway at 2 p.m. under the direction of Commander A. Kent Herring, who will serve as parade marshal. Music will be by the Weston High School Band, under the direction of Wendell B. Phillips, director of music in Weston Public Schools.

The parade will go down Town House Road to Church Street, thence to Boston Post Road, through the center of Town to Linwood Avenue and thence to the new cemetery. En route brief stops will be made at the Fiske Memorial and the Old cemetery for placing of wreaths.

The formal exercises in the new cemetery will include invocation by Rev. Frank M. Graf, St. Julia's Church; a music selection by the Sulizanna Trio, composed of three high school girls, Suzanne Wilson, Elizabeth Frye and Anne Melone; an address by Mr. Walter H. Trumbull of Weston; benediction by Rev. E. F. Chauncy, Rector of St. Peter's Church, and the decoration of graves.

The parade will return over the same route up Town House Road, where the units will pass in review.

Following the parade a concert will be given by the High School band on the terrace in front of the Town House. Refreshments will be served to the children marching in the parade.

In case of rain the formal part of the exercises will take place in the Town House at 2 p.m., followed by the parade, to place wreaths at the memorials, and on the old and new cemeteries.

Members serving with Commander Herring on the Committee are Julius H. Mueller, Edward M. Dickson, Marston H. Boden and Mr. Eric Reissner.

New Officers on Duty

WAYLAND — Frederick Perry and Thomas F. Murray, new permanent police officers, went on duty May 14. Also in service is a second police cruiser, another Chevrolet. The Town now has 24-hour police protection.

Wayland Community Chest Elects Officials

WAYLAND — Theodore R. Magoun of Eden Road was elected president of the Wayland Community Chest at the annual meeting on April 25. Francis W. Bartol was elected vice-president and Mrs. James E. Sullivan, clerk treasurer.

It was announced that $400 had been allocated to the Hannah Williams Playground, $1385 to the Wayland Junior Town House, and $500 to the Wayland Massachusetts Society of Prevention of Cruelty to Children.

Directors elected were Theodore R. Magoun, Francis W. Bartol, Richard W. Foster, Hugh F. Colliton, Jr., Mrs. Russell T. Kerr, Norman D. Harris, Ray W. Harris, Bernard J. Nolan, Dunbar Holmes, Frederick P. Walther and Mrs. John A. Worthen, III.

Dr. Havis Speaks at Green Thumb Club

WAYLAND — Dr. John Havis of Red Barn Road, connected with the Waltham Field Station, spoke to the Green Thumb Garden Club on May 15 at its meeting at the home of Mrs. William Siebert. His subject was the Japanese beetle, its threat to local gardens and how to fight it.

Mrs. Caroline Allen won a flower arrangement contest. Plans were made for a field trip to Arnold Arboretum, May 26, and the annual meeting and dinner at the Maridor, 7 p.m. June 12. The Spring auction will be held in Bartholomew's barn, Sherman Bridge Road, at 10 a.m. June 9.

Tax Rate $60

The Board of Assessors of the Town of Wayland have announced that the tax rate for the year 1956 is $60, an increase of $4 over the 1955 rate. This falls in with the prediction of officials prior to the Town Meeting, when substantial expenditures were authorized for schools and for other expanding departments of the Town government, including the new Town Hall. The Town's valuation increased $2,553,224 in 1955 to a new total of $16,144,889.

Wayland Students to Run Palsy Drive

WAYLAND — A committee of High School students including Robert Graves, Linda Cherry and Tom Cutter has been formed to manage the cerebral palsy campaign in Town. The group met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie J. Caulfield, Moore Road, with Leo Leary, New England chairman of the C. P. Association, to hear all about it.

Fifteen student campaign captains will visit the Kennedy Memorial Hospital and will conduct a house-to-house campaign for funds. Those wishing to volunteer should see Linda Cherry.

New Boat for Pool

WESTON — A new rowboat, bought by the Weston Chapter of the Red Cross, will be afloat in Weston Memorial Pool when the swimming season opens on June 19. It will be used to teach water safety.

The Red Cross pays the instructor's salary for the Summer. Each year the Weston Red Cross pays for instruction of one or more Weston boys or girls at the Red Cross Aquatic School at Camp Kiwanis in South Hanson. It also buys emblems for swimmers and equipment for the pool.

Civic Relativity

WESTON — Repartee at the Special Town Meeting:

Question: "Aren't we putting the cart before the horse?"

Answer: "No, we're considering the motion before the house."

Summer Day Camp To Be In Weston

WESTON — In the April 12 issue of the Town Crier it was reported that the South Middlesex Association for Retarded Children, of which Weston is a member town, would run three Summer day camps for retarded children. One of these camps was to be located on the grounds of a private school in Dover, one in Concord in connection with that town's summer recreation program, and one in Hudson.

The Hudson site has not proved to be practical, and the third camp will, therefore, be located in Weston. Mr. Arthur B. Johnson has given S.M.A.R.C. permission to use the building and land at 193 Boston Post Road, which are used during the school year by the Pathfinder Club of Weston.

The camp will run for nine weeks, from July 2 through August 31. There will be a director and assistant director, plus teachers who are qualified for work with the retarded. Milk will be provided at lunch time, and there will be rest periods after lunch.

The hours will be from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. (these may be shortened slightly). The charge will be $3.00 per week for those who can pay it, and transportation will be provided insofar as it is possible.

Anyone wishing further information about the camps or about the work of S.M.A.R.C. may call TW 3-6010. If you desire to enroll a child in the camp, you may write for an application form to S.M.A.R.C., 1 Wheeler Lane, Natick.

Well Child Health Conference at PHC

WAYLAND — The first child health conference will be held on June 14, between 12:30 p.m. and 2 p.m. at the Parmenter Health Center. It will be sponsored by the Wayland Board of Health and the Parmenter Health Center.

The well child health conference will be conducted to provide an opportunity for parents to bring their preschool children, age 1 month to 6 years, to the physician for guidance through their early growth and development period.

Advice about formula, diet, physical and emotional growth and development will be given. Physical examination will be included in the monthly visits.

It is emphasized that this is a service for the well child only. No sick child will be seen and no treatments will be given.

The conference will be discontinued during the summer months but will be resumed in September.

WESTON — A Special Town Meeting on May 14 with standing room only voted to set up a five-member school building committee and a seven-member site-study committee. Weston thus endorsed the School Committee's timetable for one 14-room elementary school building in 1959 and another in 1962.

The building committee was voted $15,000 for preliminary investigation of architects and plans to build and equip one or two elementary schools on sites to be hereafter designated.

The site committee was voted $3500 to study and investigate the whole matter of site including the problem of centralization versus decentralization and the comparative direct and indirect costs, and will submit a written report to the town in October, 1956. Dr. Theodore B. Bayles, School Committee chairman, presented both motions, which authorized Mr. Francis G. Goodale, Town Moderator, to set up both committees.

The School Committee's article originally specified the acquisition of sites in the North and South parts of town as well as setting up special committees for school construction. In a letter to the Town, dated May 11, the Committee modified its position. It stated that as a result of the public hearing on May 7 and talk with Town officials it would move to set up a site committee instead.

Debate raged over decentralization versus centralization, and threatened to sidetrack the main issue of getting schools built in time to accommodate the children. Some of the highlights:

Mr. Daniel F. Viles emphasized the sidewalks and road-widenings that would inevitably be needed with decentralized schools and the effect that would have on Weston's character. He suggested the phrase "comparative costs," which was then incorporated into the site committee motion.

Mr. Russell L. Dorrance offered an amendment, which was defeated, to empower the building committee to build a junior high. Mr. John G. Brooks answered that the old elementary school was originally built as a high school with facilities

Mohammedan Refugee Coming

WESTON — The Weston Methodist Church has assumed support of a Mohammedan refugee from Jerusalem, and expects his arrival with the year. Wayne D. Wetzel, who has served the church in many capacities for six years, is leaving Weston to return to Ohio.

Dorothy Boesenberg Elected

COCHITUATE — Dorothy Boesenberg of West Plain Street has been elected by the Junior Class of Wayland High School to represent the school at Girls' State, Bridgewater, this year. The alternate chosen is Sandra Simoni of Timber Lane, whose sister, Judy, was the Wayland delegate last year.

Founders' Month At Cong. Church

WAYLAND — The Trinitarian Congregational Church is observing Founder's Month during May. The Church was founded May 21, 1828. It was at this season that the new building was dedicated a year ago.

A replica of the church, built by Mr. Randolph Krueger and Mr. Clayton Rix, and painted by Mrs. Ruth Fuller, will be in the vestibule of the church each Sunday during the month. In it will be placed "Special Founders' Month Offerings" to be held uncounted until the last Sunday in May. At that time the offering will be counted, announced and dedicated.

The special Founders' Month Gift will be used for the advancement of the church building program.

On this Sunday new members will be admitted into the fellowship of the church. After the 11 o'clock service, a reception will be held in Fellowship Hall.

Pack 51 Field Day

WESTON — Richard Shaw, Johnny Lord, Jackie Ryan, Doug Bonner and David McLeod were given Webelo badges at the final meeting of Pack 51, held May 11, with a presentation of awards. The Flag Ceremony was conducted by Den 19 and a standing vote of thanks was given to den mothers and committeemen.

Attendance award went to Den 15, inspection award to Den 15 and the award for most achievement points in the year, a special banner, went to Den 9.

Mr. Stewart Woodworth Jr., Cubmaster, reminded all the Cubs that the Field Day will be held Saturday morning, May 26, at the Elementary School field.

Cerebral Palsy Camp at Newton

WESTON — As part of the national observance of Cerebral Palsy Week, Weston residents are being asked to make contributions of which 75 per cent will be used in this area.

The Newton Wellesley Weston Affiliate of United Cerebral Palsy has organized a nursery school and Summer day camp in Wellesley for children aged 3 to 8 and a Summer day camp for older children in Newton. More trained personnel and equipment are needed.

Checks may be sent to Mr. Richard Lincoln at the Newton-Waltham Bank in Weston.

John Handrahan Is Veno Sales Manager

WAYLAND — Edward A. Veno, Wayland realtor, announces the appointment of John W. Handrahan as real estate sales manager and the development of a new area, "Sedgemeadow", off Moore Road, to contain 38 new houses costing $20,000 and up on acre lots.

Mr. Handrahan was born and educated in Waltham and has lived in Wayland for 20 years. He is a member of the Boston Real Estate Board and of the Board of Directors of the Wayland Kiwanis Club, Inc. The sales force includes Marian Gierasch, Marjorie Gombos and Ethel Cassidy of Wayland, Charles Cutter and Martha Gates of Weston and Nan Annett of Sudbury.

Wayland League

WAYLAND — Allen R. Finlay was scheduled to be the speaker at the annual meeting of the Wayland League of Women Voters, to be held in the First Parish Church at 2:30 p.m., May 24. Mrs. Frank Kilburn was in charge of refreshments.

Local study subjects for the coming year, principally the Town Library and assessment methods, were to be explored by Mrs. Richard Best, Mrs. Philip Lane and Mrs. Douglas Surgenor. Reports were to be made by Mrs. John Quinn, nominating committee; Mrs. David Trageser, budget; Mrs. Kemp Reade, state council, and Mrs. L. William Bertelsen, national convention.

The League started its first large-scale finance drive on May 15 by sending an appeal to 700 residents.

Leslie M. Tourville of 221 Commonwealth Road, Cochituate, has been appointed Principal of the new Lincoln-Sudbury Regional High School.

Anyone for Flying?

WESTON — Harry Corman of Aberdeen Road would like to form a flying club of persons in Weston and Wayland, if enough are interested. Anybody over 16. Phone TW 4-2474, and if enough interest is shown a meeting will be called.

Community League Plans '57 Dances

WESTON — The 1956-1957 program for square dancing of the Weston Community League, run for the benefit of the scholarship fund, has been announced. Mrs. John Chipman Gray will again be director and there will be some innovations.

Four children's dances will be held, on the third Fridays of October, November, December and March. On these evenings, from 7 to 8:15, Charles Baldwin, caller, will concentrate on instructing 5th graders. From 8:15 to 9:30 there will be square dancing for 6th and 7th graders.

Something new will be two large square dances for adults and teenagers from 8th grade up. The first will be held Nov. 9, following United Nations Week, and will be on an international, fiesta theme. Mrs. Herbert E. Hawkes is chairman.

The second adult square dance will be held Jan. 19 as a Winter holiday party. Mrs. Arthur S. Spangler heads the committee for for this.

New publicity chairman is Mrs. Allen E. Cole.

WESTON — The Town hopes a contractor will be selected and work begun by the end of July on widening the Boston Post Road in the center of Town.

Little Leaguers To Canvass

WESTON — Little League baseball players, perhaps 175 of them, will canvass homes on Saturday, June 2, asking people to contribute to the support of the program. Six sponsors have given a good deal, but the League's management says more is needed, and householders are asked to be as generous as possible.

A copy of the Allen Benjamin report on Weston is available at the Weston Public Library. Mr. Benjamin was consultant for the Planning Board, and Town committees, including the School Committee, have relied heavily on his report.

Weston High Notes

The gala event of the Class of 1957, the Junior Promenade, took place May 11. In a gymnasium ingeniously decorted in turquoise and gold some 80 couples of students as well as faculty members and especially invited parents danced and cheered for the Prom Queen, Catherine Nardelli and her court. The court consisted of four juniors: Martha Conrad, Frances Tyng, Carol Smith and Catherine Bourinot, and four seniors, Patricia Cusumano, Nancy Wilkes, Sandra Weidig and Judith Wetzel.

The committee of students who, under the direction of Mrs. Theresa Zamprogno and Miss Alice B. Olliff, made all of the preparations, Alan McClennen, general chairman; Curtis Endee, orchestra; Carol Smith and Nancy Jones, decorations; Robert Walsh, publicity; Eleanor Farrar, tickets and program; Edward Ellis, refreshments and Iris Hubbard, ushers and invitations.

The High School plans to hold graduation exercises for the class of 1956 on the lawn in front of the school building on Thursday afternoon, June 7 at 4. All Weston residents are invited to attend, but there will be a large block of seats reserved for parents and friends of the graduating class, to which admission will be by ticket only. In the event of bad weather, the exercises will be transferred to the gymnasium and only ticket holders will be admitted.

With the cooperation of the Weston Police Department, School Street will be closed to traffic from Maple Street to the intersection of School and Wellesley Streets from 3:30 to 5:45. Cars may be parked in the parking spaces behind the Weston Elementary School and the Country School, on the Pool Road, on the westerly side of Wellesley Street, and on the westerly side of School Street except directly in front of the High School.

The Massachusetts Industrial Arts Education Society held its tenth annual state-wide Industrial Arts Fair on May 14, at the Stoughton High School. Certificates of Merit were awarded to students whose projects displayed craftsmanship worthy of being so noted, and 50 of these were named as outstanding award winners. This group earned free transportation for their projects to the National Industrial Arts Fair to be held in Detroit, Michigan, this Summer. Cash awards have been donated by the Ford Motor Company, sponsor of the national fair. Outstanding Weston winners were: Raymond Coburn, Marble top table; Paul Chadwick, Presentation drawings of a solar house; Barbara Haywood, pictorial drawing, and Susan Toner, mechanical drawings.

Winners of the Certificate of Merit were Kenneth Terkelsen, John Day, Brian Doherty, Philip Cannon, James Regan, Edward Denton, Raymond Coburn, James Tebo, Raymond Coburn, Joshua Malcolm C. Oliver and Mr. Aimo el, Frank Best and Henry Lehne.

These students did their propect work under the supervision of Mr. R. Teittinen of the Industrial Arts Department.

Third Annual Fair of Red Barn Nursery School Coming June 9

WESTON — Rain or shine, the third annual fair of the Red Barn Nursery School, Inc., will be held Saturday, June 9, from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m., at the Herbert Hawkes barn, 80 Wellesley Street. Rex Trailer of TV "Boom Town" will be there with his horse and guitar, and there'll be puppet shows by Bob Mundstedt, games, grabs, horseback rides, an animal walk, a boa constrictor, refreshments and baby sitting facilities.

It's for the school's building fund.

Mrs. Robert H. Marden and Mrs. David H. Reid are co-chairmen, assisted by Mrs. Thomas S. Barrows, Mrs. Raymond C. Bosbco, Mrs. David R. Brooke, Mrs. Allen E. Cole, Mrs. Harry Corman, Mrs. William Crawford, Mrs. Alfred T. Dengler, Mrs. J. Bruce Dougherty, Mrs. William Harrison Faulkner, Jr., Mrs. David S. Grey, Mrs. M. M. Lindsley, Mrs. John B. Paine, Jr., Mrs. Robert S. Sturgis and Mrs. Robert A. Weaver, Jr.

A Use for Local Garden Surpluses

WESTON — People with surpluses of flowers, fruit or vegetables in their gardens are asked to take what they can spare to the porch of the First Parish Church on Monday afternoons, whence they will be transported to Boston and distributed where they'll do the most good among the poor, the sick and shut-ins.

Flowers should be tied into bunches, not bouquets. Mr. Frank Riley takes the produce from the church to Weston railroad station, whence it goes to Horticultural Hall for sorting and distribution. The project is sponsored by the Fruit and Flower Mission of the Benevolent Fraternity, a Greater Boston organization.

Weston chairmen are Miss Helen M. Kelsey and Mrs. C. Grover Smith, assisted by Mrs. Lester E. Flint.

Weston Cited for Agenda Program

WESTON — A citation of the Freedom Agenda Committee of the Carrie Chapman Catt Memorial Fund, Inc., has been sent to Weston in recognition of the success of the local study group in studying the Constitution, the Bill of Rights and the Federal security program in 1954 and 1955.

On the committee were Rev. Joseph E. O'Donnell, chairman; Mrs. Victor C. Harnish, Mr. Charles K. Cummings, Jr., Mrs. Ralph M. Hower, Dr. Dane Prugh, Mrs. Robert A. Townsend, Mrs. Erlund Field, Mrs. Mead Hartwell, Mrs. George E. Bottjer, Mrs. Harry Corman, Mr. and Mrs. William T. Burt, Jr. and Mrs. Harry Ferries.

The committee has finished its work and disbanded, but the citation comes anyway.

WAYLAND — Allen E. Leonard of Post Road, Wayland, a fourth grade pupil at the Center School, was one of the piano pupils of Mrs. Walter Knight who played in a recital at the Belmont Woman's Club, May 6. He played an English jig, Andante by Mozart and an accompaniment.

Rev. Dan H. Fenn Installed, May 13

WAYLAND — Rev. Dan Huntington Fenn was installed as Minister of the First Parish Church, Wayland, in simple exercises held Sunday afternoon, May 13, at the church.

Taking part in the service were Rev. Robert D. Richardson, recently interim minister of the church; Rev. George C. Gutekunst of the Community Methodist Church, Cochituate; Rev. Donald S. Ewing, minister of the Trinitarian Congregational Church, Wayland;

Rev. Frank Edwin Smith, regional director, Southern New England Unitarian Council; Rev. Frederick May Eliot, president of the American Unitarian Association, and Rev. Charles Edwards Park, minister-emeritus, The First Church in Boston.

Among those attending was Rev. Miles Hanson of the First Parish Church, Weston. R. Clifford Orr was organist and choir director.

George K. Lewis, chairman of the parish committee, spoke in the act of installation.

After the ceremony, a reception was held in the vestry.

Now's the time to eradicate woodchucks, says the Middlesex County Extension Service.

Poppy Sales Appeal

If you break faith with us who die
We shall not sleep . . .

And so in memory of all these heroes we sell popies, little flowers of paper and wire made entirely and exclusively by the hands of some disabled veteran working in his hospital condemned to years of hardship and suffering often worse than death.

So much depends upon the poppies! They provide an interesting activity for the poppy makers, proving to them that once more they can earn money for special things they want and need.

No price is fixed on the poppy. The newsboy's penny and the business man's dollar are equally acceptable and welcomed. The money received provides material for next year's poppies and remuneration for the veterans, but the bulk of it is spent right in our community in our program of rehabilitation and child welfare and cannot be used for any other purpose. Needless to say, we always spend more than is collected. . . .

Mrs. John W. Leavitt,
A. L. Auxuliary

Newton Street Petition

WESTON — More than 75 residents of Newton, Ash and Ware Streets have sent to the Selectmen a petition opposing any plan "to straighten, widen and relocate" Newton Street. The petitioners say they want to leave the street as it is to discourage traffice on it.

Weston High Class Starts Something

WESTON — A committee of members of the Weston High School Class of 1931 is planning now for a grand 25th graduation anniversary celebration. Miss Alice Ayer, class secretary, has sent out invitations to members of the class, who are scattered over seven states and the Philippine Islands.

Mrs. Irena Asberg Smith is in charge of decorations and promises an original keepsake to each member present. Mrs. Marion Theall Manson will be hostess at a party given at 227 South Avenue, Weston, on June 9, preceding the annual Alumni banquet at the Country School.

Each member of the Class of 1931 has been asked to contribute $25 to the scholarship fund established by the Alumni Association four years ago.

Thomas Clarke, class president, says that he hopes that this action will start a precedent whereby all 25-year classes will make a generous contribution to this scholarship fund.

In this way the fund will automatically grow large so that perhaps many students eager for further training and lacking in funds may benefit. Harry B. Jones, treasurer, reports he has received many donations and the results appear very promising.

Pheasants seem to be getting more numerous all the time.

Sherry Morrison To Be Soloist

Sherry Morrison, Weston pianist, who will be soloist with the Needham Philharmonic Orchestra on May 26th.

School Meeting

WAYLAND — The faculty of Wayland Junior High invites parents of pupils in the 6th grade to meet with them in the school library on Monday evening, May 28, at 8 p.m. A meeting of the Junior-Senior High faculty for parents of 8th graders is scheduled for Thursday, May 24, also at the school library at 8.

Troop 110 Holds Awards Ceremony

COCHITUATE — Girl Scout Troop 110 held an Investiture and Court of Awards ceremony recently, with promotions for many girls. Leaders of the troop are Mrs. Michael Cardellicchio and Mrs. Eugene Slotta.

Sheila May Smith, Donna Schultz and Gayle McEnroy were brought forward by Roberta Richmond, Donna MacKenzie and Carol Luukkonen to make the Girl Scout Promise and receive Girl Scout pins.

Gloria Jean Dunning and Dorothy Cardellicchio were awarded Second Class Badges. They were presented by Second Class Scouts Carol Knowlton and Lorraine Osborn.

Mrs. Harold Ham and Mrs. Arthur Holmes were given World Pins for their contributions of time and effort to the Troop Committee. Marie Ham and Mary Holmes made the presentations to their mothers.

The Cochituate Emblem was given to Joyce Bregoli, Sandra Brown, Dorothy Cardellicchio, Ann Dunham, Gloria Jean Dunning, Judy Dyer, Nancy Ferguson, Marie Ham, Donna Schultz, Sheila Smith, Elsie Bigwood, Judy Anderson, Mary Holmes, Carol Knowlton, Donna MacKenzie, Gayle McEnroy, Kathleen Nolan, Lorraine Osborn, Carol Reese. Roberta Richmond, Anne Marie Slotta, Joyce Young and Carol Luukkonen.

Mrs. Arthur Holmes served refreshments.

originally there for workshops, a gymnasium more expensive than needed for an elementary school, and accessible playing fields.

Mr. Edward R. Langenbach brought the meeting back to order at one point by emphasizing that the first problem is to have new schools when needed, and secondly where they shall be.

Mr. Eugene O. Hanson withdrew his amendment to restrict the site committee to sites within one half mile of the present schools, pending its written report.

Selectman Richard H. Field reminded the meeting that new schools require a two-thirds vote and voters' good sense.

The meeting also voted $3000 for Soldier's Benefits, $45,000 for water mains and $500 for the Town Forest Committee to investigate the possibility of further Town forests.

Methodist Church Growth

WESTON — Membership in the Weston Methodist Church grew from 235 to 268 last year, pledged income is 60 per cent higher and average attendance at the two Sunday services now exceeds the capacity of the pews, it was reported at the annual church conference. William C. Brown, Malcolm A. Lamont and Albert R. Speare were elected trustees for three years.

A Tribute to Dorothy Stone, From Friends in Wayland

WAYLAND — A host of friends suffered a great loss in the death, March 16, of Dorothy C. Stone of Hazelbrook Farm, Wayland. Wife of J. Sidney Stone, prominent Boston attorney, Mrs. Stone was born in Boston and educated in private schools there, was a member of the Vincent Club and the Sewing Circle. Fifty years ago the Stones moved to Wayland, purchased and remodelled one of the oldest houses in the town.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Stone became very active in local affairs. She was a member of the First Parish Church, served for 18 years on the Wayland School Committee, coached and acted in the Vokes Players and was prominent in the Wayland Woman's Club. Her interests were many and varied, yet she was always willing to give her assistance to any worthwhile project. Mrs. Stone was an authority on old glass and china and had a collection of old pewter. Endowed with considerable artistic talent, she studied painting under Mrs. Esther Braser, was a member of the Esther Braser Guild of Tray Painters and taught a class of tray painting in Wayland.

Probably Mrs. Stone's closest hobby was her flowers. She was a real "dirt gardener". Twice elected president of the Wayland Garden Club, she was also a member of the Lincoln Garden Club, the Massachusetts Horticultural Society, a district Director and a vice president of the Massachusetts Federation of Garden Clubs and a judge at many flower shows in neighboring towns. Mrs. Stone was largely responsible for sending the Flower Mission Basket from Wayland to Boston weekly, in the summer months, for many years. The placing of fresh flowers in the Wayland Public Library was another favorite project.

At the beginning of World War two, in addition to a prodigious amount of knitting and work for the British Workshop and participation in the Women's Motor Corps, Mrs. Stone became a Gray Lady and for seven years went at least once a week to Fort Devens where she arranged flowers for the wards, and even made a flower garden outside. Like her flowers, her personality always brought cheer to the patients.

Information Wanted

Anyone having information as to Bela Johnson, or his descendants, please communicate with the undersigned. He was a son of Jesse Johnson and Elizabeth Harris Johnson, and was born in Enfield, New Hampshire, on January 11, 1789 and died in Weston, Massachusetts, on October 25, 1847, and had married Sarah Conant in 1809.

His son, George Conant Johnson, was born December 5, 1809 and married Betsey Lane and later he married Jemoma Owen Wright. It is believed that he had four children, namely, Frances P. Johnson Lane, Juline B. Johnson Chandler, Irene Johnson and Sarah Etta Johnson. Frances P. Johnson Lane was born in 1833 and died in Lebanon, New Hampshire, in 1856, and she was the wife of William W. Lane and is believed to have had at least two children. Juline B. Johnson Chandler was born February 28, 1835, and in 1854 she married Kimball True Chandler and resided in Iola, Wisconsin.

His daughter, Sophronia Ann Johnson, was born January 25, 1812.

His daughter, Catherine Lathrop Johnson Whittier, was born June 27, 1814 in Enfield, New Hampshire, and died May 6, 1850 in Concord, New Hampshire, and was the wife of Otis W. Whittier.

His son, Benjamin Franklin Johnson, was born January 10, 1825.

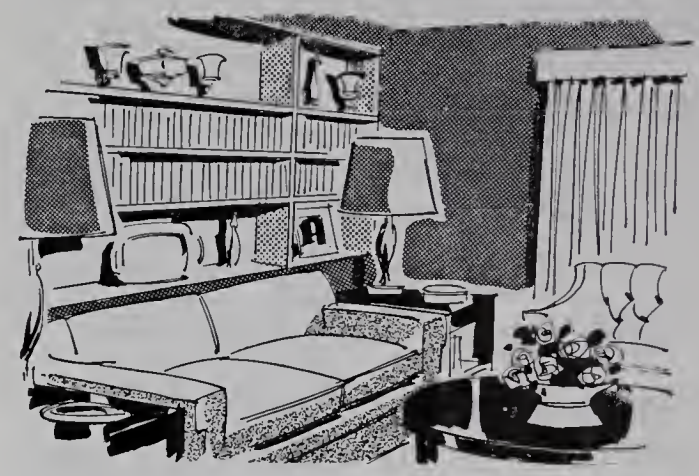
A Word to the Wives...

By HAL BURKE



A FLAIR OF YOUR OWN

Each year thousands upon thousands of couples take a march to the altar, say their "I do's" and then set about establishing new homes for themselves. Each of these new homes is destined to have an individuality all its own — each will reveal the personal flair of its occupants — reflect their tastes, express the unity of its creators.

Many of these new home makers will seek help to achieve this; others, countless more, will, of necessity, do a great deal of the work themselves to save money for the furniture and the "extras" that they want.

In the room sketched above, you do not see a fixed rubber-stamp pattern. It is a room as new as today, a living expression of forward-looking home making. In order to lighten the strain on the budget (it takes money to set up housekeeping) the occupants did the painting themselves. The inside of the open shelves across one entire wall has been painted a bright tangerine color. This adds drama and excitement to the grey walls and paler grey ceiling.

Sofa (converts to a double bed at night) is pearl grey the exact shade of the cotton rug. Ebony finish tables and tangerine chair round out the picture.

Decorating and furnishing your first home is always an exciting and exacting challenge. If you would like some help in the way of ideas and suggestions on how to infuse your home with your own personality, come in and talk with one of our trained decorators.

Weston in the Jet Age Comes Alive in "All Kidding Aside"

WESTON — Local talent hit the jackpot when the curtain went up on the First Parish Friendly Society's "All Kidding Aside" on April 26 for the first of five performances ending May 5. Music was tunefully jazzy, dancers sprightly, and acting lively. "As good as Broadway," was the general reaction to the fourteenth musical presented by the Society since 1915 and the fifth original musical.

It is hard to do justice to all the talent displayed in a production with a cast of nearly 100 plus a large backstage group creating everything from music and lyrics (Selene Howe, Peg Durant and Polly Garland) to costumes and directing (William O. Partridge).

Weston in 1970 would be worth sticking around for, to see a Jet Joint operating with Alice Mallett as the gal who knows her way around, Sally Noonan singing as she come to grips with "Life," a bartender like Dave Bradley who writes theses, and the amazing feats of a dancing chorus throwing girls up in the air.

Sprinkle around a few girls like Jane Paine, Pug Morse and Emily Lemander, and some Calypso Kids (Guy Garland, Dick Wigginton vocalizing, Bob Johnson, Tom Peebles and John Wells), and what do you have? The forces of evil (Vincent Melone as a "hood" and Becky Underhill as a floozy) meet the forces of good (Sylvia Stockmayer as an embattled mother and Antoinette Fallon as her would-be delinquent daughter) and for a while you have a delightful stalemate with Bill Saunders (country boy going bad) in the middle. Add to that Henry Lingley and Herbie Lyons coming on the stage big as life, and a few other friends singing in a barbershop or mother's march, or just walking across the stage, and the evening is complete. — M.F.

Concert Series Elects Officers

WESTON — At the annual meeting of the Country Evening Concert Series, held May 8 in the Lower Town House in Weston, Thomas J. Scott was elected treasurer. Mr. Scott succeeds Mrs. Homer Sweet, founder member of the corporation and treasurer for the past five years. Other officers elected were Mrs. Albert B. Hunt, president, and Charles M. Ganson, secretary and general counsel.

Mrs. Reginald Elwell, ticket chairman, reported an increase in series sales over past seasons. She noted that the most popular concert of the past season, as measured by sales of single seats, was that of the Budapest String Quartet. The treasurer's report, read by Mrs. Sweet, showed a balance approximately double that of a year ago, and it was voted to increase the annual contribution to the scholarship fund which is maintained by the Country Evening Concert Series at the New England Conservatory.

Other directors of the organization are Mrs. Karl Adams, Jr., Mrs. Russell Dorrance, Mrs. F. C. Dumaine, Jr., Mrs. Charles Ford, Howard Gambrill, Jr., Albert Hunt, Mrs. Charles Stewart, Mrs. Ralph Woodworth, Jr. and John G. Wright. Advisory Board members present at the meeting were Mrs. Nicholas Danforth, Erlund Field, Mrs. Leopold Gruener, Mrs. Owen C. Howe, Jr., Mrs. Anthony Morse, Jr. and Mrs. J. Donaldson Nichols.

Community Chorus Ends Good Year

Ray D. Farnsworth was elected president of the Community Chorus of Wayland, Weston and Sudbury at the annual meeting held in Apirl. Other officers: Mrs. Walter T. Goodale, vice president; Mrs. Theodore Chandler, secretary for Weston; Mrs. Richard York, secretary for Wayland, and Dr. Stewart L. Leach, treasurer.

Next year will be the tenth anniversary of the Chorus. For the first concert of '56-'57, the Chorus will present Bach's Christmas Oratorio.

The Spring concert, of lighter music, was enthusiastically received. During the Christmas season, a concert was also given at St. Mark's School in Southboro.

Members of the Chorus have expressed their appreciation for the service of Director Chester W. Williams, Dean of the New England Conservatory of Music; Hazel F. O'Donnell of Weston, accompanist, and Roland Nadeau, occasional guest at the piano.

Weston Red Cross Wants Volunteers

WESTON — The Weston Red Cross asks for the services of volunteers, trained nurse's aides or those able to drive automobiles. There will be a nurses's aid refresher course (not a training course) at Waltham Hospital in late September. Those qualified are urged to take it and to call Mrs. David H. Reid, 6 Irving Road, TW 3-7269.

Those willing to drive for the Red Cross motor services, no experience required, may call Mrs. Hollis T. Durgin, 27 Viles Street, TW 3-7280.

600 Attend Weston Spring Flower Show Marking Jones House 200th

WESTON — The Spring flower show at the Jones House on May 18, sponsored by the Weston Garden Club and the Country Garden Club of Weston, celebrated the 200th anniversary of the historic building, formerly the Josiah Smith Tavern. The theme of the show was "Reflections of Freedom" and the clubs were competing for a national award, the Red, White and Blue Rosette, offered by the Garden Club Federation.

These clubs were the first Garden Clubs to compete for this award, and the results of the competition will not be known for a year. The show was largely attended both afternoon and evening, and more than 600 tickets were sold.

In the Arrangement Class first prize winners included Mrs. Eben Williams of the Country Garden Club in Class 2 in the hall; Mrs. Charles Ford of the Country Garden Club in Class 3, Colonial Room; Mrs. Ransom Rowe, the Country Garden Club, Class 4, the Tap Room; Mrs. Edward C. Green Jr., Weston Garden Club, miniatures, Class 5; Mrs. John W. Ayer, Weston Garden Club, Class 7, Ballroom; Mrs. Robert Marsh, the Country Garden Club, Invitation Class 8, Ballroom; Mrs. B. H. Spicker, the Country Garden Club, Class 9, Bedroom.

In Section II, the Children's Exhibit, a Special Prize went to the Weston Girl Scouts. In Section III a Special Award in Horticulture was given for the collection of African Violets loaned by Mrs. Owen Howe Sr., the professional exhibit of Norumbega Nurseries, the men's horticularal exhibit, and the exhibit of the Case Estates of the Arnold Arboretum.

Horticultural first prizes won by members of the Weston Garden Club were by Mrs. M. Kirkbride Patterson for narcissi and andromeda, Mrs. Horace Cole for bleeding heart, Mrs. Harold Alcaide for triandus narcissi, Mrs. Mortimer Farley for purple plum, Mrs. Charles E. Mead for viburnum calesi, Mrs. John W. Ayer for flowering dogwood and Miss Muriel Haynes for azalea.

Deciduous Trees Will Come Back

Oaks, hickorys and ash trees which were defoliated by the heavy freeze of May 24 will put out new leaves before long, says Fern A. Taylor of Edgewood Road, who's in the tree business.

He explains that on deciduous trees there is an extra bud under every leaf, held in reserve by Nature. If the reserves don't get called out this year, they'll do regular duty next year.

In the frost this year, in many cases, the newest and tenderest leaves on the hardwoods were completely destroyed, so that within a few days they would crumble to powder in the hand. However, Mr. Taylor says, they will come back and be all right unless they are defoliated again this year. In that case they'd be dead, because there's only one spare set of buds.

In some years, says Mr. Taylor, the trees leaf out early and then get struck by frost around May 10. This frost was unusual in that it struck so late.

Double Graduation In Brown Family

WAYLAND—Timothy M. Brown Jr. of Concord Road was scheduled to receive his master's degree at M.I.T. on June 8 and Mrs. Brown was graduated from Wellesley on June 4 with a bachelor of arts degree in history of art. Mr. and Mrs. Brown were married last December.

Mr. Brown is the son of Mrs. Francis H. Brown of Concord Road, with whom he and his bride have been living since December. Mrs. Brown, the former Carol Ann Canaday of Jacksonville, Florida, was graduated from The Bartram School, Jacksonville.

After the double graduation, the couple will go wherever Mr. Brown gets a job.

Vacation Church School, June 18

WESTON — The Weston Council of Churches will sponsor a Vacation Church School at the First Baptist Church, opening Monday, June 18, and continuing on Monday-through-Friday mornings through June 29.

Sessions will open at 9 a.m. and close at 11:30. Weston and Wayland children aged 4 through 10 are invited. Registrations, limited to 60 boys and girls, will be made at the children's own churches.

The faculty will be under the direction of Rev. Robert Huston of the Weston Methodist Church and Rev. Joseph O'Dounell of the First Baptist Church.

Wayland Interne Plan Interests The School World

WAYLAND — The teacher interneship plan of Wayland schools and Northeastern University is a pioneering step which may have a great effect in the future training of teachers, says Superintendent of Schools Edward J. Anderson, who explains it further than the Boston papers did when it was announced recently.

Twelve student teachers, juniors and seniors, will work in pairs, one attending Northeastern while the other works in the Wayland schools.

The working periods will be 10 weeks long.

In the first period, the student teacher will do such jobs as supervising in cafeteria or playground or collecting milk money. In the second 10-week period, the student will take a more active part in classroom work, perhaps helping with remedial reading. In the third and following periods, the interne will do more advanced teaching, under the direct supervision of the regular teacher.

Better Teaching

The Northeastern course for these teacher-internes will become five years, instead of four as at present. A student picked in his junior year to be an interne will wind up getting a total of 60 weeks of practise teaching.

"The result," says Mr. Anderson, "is that the student will graduate from college as a qualified teacher, instead of having to start getting experience after graduation."

For the first 10 weeks, the interne will receive no pay. After

Judith Wetzel Wins $2000 Scholarship

WESTON — Judith Ann Wetzel, daugher of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne D. Wetzel of 38 Brook Road, has won a $2,000, four-year scholarship from the Alcoa Foundation, and will go to Cornell in September. She was valedictorian of the 1956 class at Weston High, where she won letters in hockey, basketball and tennis, was drum major of the band, took part in class plays and was a Prom Queen.

Weston School Site Committee Chosen

WESTON — Francis G. Goodale, Town Moderator, has appointed the members of the School Site Committee recently authorized at a Special Town Meeting. It includes:

Rudolph L. Helgeson, Dr. Arra S. Avakian, J. Robert Ayers, Mrs. Ruth A. Glover, Eugene O. Hanson, Robert G. Hutchinson and Mrs. Robert E. Sullivan.

Suzanne Wales, Now Recovered, To Marry Kenneth White June 17

Suzanne and Kenneth

COCHITUATE — Suzanne Wales, daugher of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Wales of Park Ridge Road, and Kenneth White, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clement A. White of Stonebridge Road, will be married on the afternoon of June 17 at St. Zepherin's Church, Cochituate.

Mrs. Wayne Wales will be matron of honor, Mrs. Ellery K. Dodge and Florence Wales, bridesmaids, and Jane Wales junior bridesmaid. Tom White will be best man for his brother, and Wayne Wales will be usher. There will be a reception after the wedding. at Eagles Hall in Framingham.

Suzanne Wales is the only person in the world to survive physically and mentally the shock of having over 75% of her body burned; the result of an explosion in September, 1953, which blew up her home when she went to light the hot water heater in the cellar where there was a gas leak. Suzanne spent the next four and a half months in the Peter Bent Brigham Hospital, and had 16 skin grafting operations.

Friends and neighbors contributed blood, money and clothing, and took in the other members of the Wales family after the explosion and helped them build a new house in which they now live.

One of the first things Suzanne said after the explosion was, "What did I do to our house, Daddy?" But for the next three months it was a question whether she would survive. Her Doctor, Francis Moore, told her family she was at the only age possible (17) for survival of such an accident.

After months in a sterile room in a "Foster" bed made so that she could be sandwiched and flipped over without anyone touching her burns, she was able to learn to walk again and went home to graduate from Wayland High School with her class in June. For the past year and a half she has been a file clerk at Dennison Mfg. Co. in Framingham.

Kenneth White is a cable splicer for the New England Tel. and Tel. Co. He and Suzanne have been going together for more than three years. He is a graduate of Wayland High, class of 1952. After their wedding he and Suzanne will live in Framingham.

Wayland Strawberry Festival, June 16

WAYLAND — Strawberries will be all over at the annual strawberry festival and square dance of the Junior Town House Association, scheduled for Saturday night, June 16, at 8 o'clock on the baseball field outside the High School.

Joe Perkins, the Kuntry Kaller, will call, and Dick Best of Wayland will be guest caller. Tickets are 75 cents each. Everybody welcome. Refreshments feature strawberries.

Mrs. David Stewart is general chairman, assisted by Mrs. Donald Bruster and Mrs. George F. Johnson. Others on the committees are Mrs. Robert W. Hanlon, Mrs. B. Allen Benjamin and Mrs. A. S. MacMillan, Mrs. Arthur E. Grannis, Mrs. C. G. Stergis, Mrs. J. W. Mavor, Mrs. Jack F. Furrer, Mr. Malcolm K. White and Mrs. James H. Jandl.

Mr. and Mrs. Dick Best have arranged a square dance demonstration by a team of 5th and 6th graders. Taking part will be Ruth Naylor, Margery Melann, Joan Hartman, Ann Hodgkinson, Bitsey Baldwin, Ann Kearsley, Janice Frederickson, Kathy Carr, Paul Mahoney, Ricky Kather, Dana Walston, Robert Miller, Robbie Paine, Henry Plump, David Smith and Johnny Benjamin.

Alternates are David Charnock, Keith Van Buskirk and Leslie Foster.

Cochituate Beach to Be Open on June 22

WAYLAND — The Park Department plans to open the beach at Lake Cochituate on Friday, June 22, and keep it open until Sept. 3. Hours will be 10 a.m. to 8 p.m.

Registration periods will be June 18, 19 and 20, from 1 p.m. to 5 p.m., at Wayland Town Hall, and June 21, 22 and 23, 10 a.m. to 8 p.m., at the Cochituate Beach House.

Resident contributions of $2 per family are asked for.

Use of the beach is restricted to residents, but guests by the day, sponsored by residents, may swim for 50 cents per day, with a 25-cent refund for return of the tag.

Wayland Schools To Close June 22

WAYLAND — All Wayland schools will close on Friday, June 22, says Superintendent Edward J. Anderson, and Junior and Senior High students will have final examinations on June 20, 21 and 22. Marks will be mailed home later.

The late closing is necessitated by the polio "vacation" of last September.

High School graduation will be June 14, and after that the seniors will be through. The others in High School will have a schedule of two-hour examinations, morning and afternoon, for the last three days.

Recreation Com's'n Runs Broad Program

WESTON — A 12-year-old Weston institution which provides swimming and games for thousands of Weston children, on a budget of $12,672.50, is the Recreation Commission.

Its main jobs are to run the Summer recreation program, to oversee the Brook Road play area, to operate the swimming pool and to provide any recreational facility for old or young for which there is a reasonable demand.

Last year 2412 badges were issued for the pool and it was used 22,908 times. Last Summer the daily average attendance at the playground was 70 boys and girls. Attendance suffered because of the polio scare, although there were no cases in Weston.

The pool, near the Country School, is fed by a spring and by Town water. This year a new circulating and filtering system has been installed, which should keep the water cooler.

The Commission employs John Proctor, who is also dean of boys at the High School, as a year-round director, besides half a dozen pool attendants and playground helpers.

A current project is installing three "Laykold" courts, with excellent surfaces, for tennis, and it is hoped to have them for use this Summer.

The Winter program includes adult baseketball, adult woodworking classes, Saturday sports for children and other activities. At present there is a request in for an organized bridge group.

The Commission does not handle Little League, Boy Scouts or other specialized activities. Its work is for the general public.

Members of the Commission are Karl Adams Jr., chairman; Robert Townsend, Frank Hitchcock, J. Manton Bradley, Mrs. Robert Hutchinson and Mrs. V. Raymond Powers.

Local business men offer many goods and services.

Meadowbrook Day Camp Names New Teachers

WESTON — The Meadowbrook Day Camp of Meadowbrook School in Weston announces staff appointments for the eight-week season of 1956, from June 25 to August 17.

Mr. Donald R. Mapel of Newton succeeds Mrs. Thomas C. Peebles as Director. Mr. Mapel teaches at the Shady Hill School in Cambridge and is a former counselor of Meadowbrook Camp. Mrs. Peebles will continue with the camp as consultant.

Adult Counselors in the Senior Camp (for children of ages 6-10) are Mrs. Peggy Greifer, student teacher of art at Shady Hill School; Mrs. Charlotte Goodman, graduate student in Education at Harvard University; Mr. David Bernstein, student at Boston University; Mr. Scott Mackinlay, graduate of Boston University and swimming instructor; Mrs. Jo Whitfield, arts and crafts specialist; and Mrs. Allen Barker of Wayland, ballet instructor.

In charge of the Junior Camp (children of ages 3½-5) is Mrs. Mary Lindsley who teaches at the Red Barn Nursery School in Weston. Assisting her are Mrs. Carol Neitlich, a student teacher from the Nursery Training School of Tufts University; Miss Marion Barstow, nursery school teacher at Meadowbrook School; and Miss Carin Stern. Miss Stern is a kindergarten teacher in Sweden and has come to this country for a year of study at Wheelock College.

COCHITUATE — Elmer Bigwood of Cochituate was the principal speaker at a 4-H picnic held May 20 at Camp Middlesex in Ashby.

Allen Reed, Jr. Graduates from Naval Academy

WESTON — Mr. and Mrs. Allen E. Reed of 92 Sunset Road and their two daughters, Louise, a junior at Hood College, and Susan, a junior at Weston High, went to Annapolis to attend the commencement exercises at the Naval Academy in which their son, Allen Reed Jr., was graduated as an ensign.

Ens. Allen E. Reed Jr.

Allen Jr. attended Weston High for three years, in the class of 1951, then spent two years at Bordentown Military Academy. There he played all sports and was an all-state private school basketball player. He was the salutatorian at the graduation exercises and in the first 10 scholastically.

At Annapolis he played varsity lacrosse. After 60 days leave he will report for 10 months of flight training at Pensacola. Graduation was on June 1, preceded by a week of festivities.

Six hundred acres of land about Lake Cochituate were granted in 1640 to Henry Dunster, the first president of Harvard College.

14 Wayland Seniors Will Go On To Higher Schools

WAYLAND — Fourteen seniors of Wayland High School have decided on their further education. The list:

Kathleen Andrews, Regis College. Paul Bradley, Bates College. Eileen Bresse, Northeastern University's College of Business Administration. Beth Cusumano, Massachusetts School of Art. Carol Dyer, Katherine Gibbs School. Mary Jane Fabisak, Pembroke College of Brown University. Carol M. Haugh, Lasell Junior College. Agnes Houston, Regis College.

Carolyn LeDrew, Lasell Junior College, Joan Lizotte, Massachusetts General Hospital School of Nursing. Allen Lynch, Boston University. John C. MacKeen, Northeastern University. Judy Simoni, Dickinson College, Carlisle, Pa. Fred Tassinari, Boston University.

WESTON — The Weston Garden Club will meet on Thursday, June 14, at the Summer home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles O. Richardson, Pastures New, Temple, N.H. Members are invited to bring box luncheons and Mrs. Richardson will provide coffee and dessert. Guests of members will be welcome.

For directions to Temple, call Mrs. Miles Hanson Jr., TW 4-4015.

In 1906 a committee was appointed to investigate the Wayland almshouse and its management.

300 Boys Enroll For Way - Co Baseball

WAYLAND — More than 300 boys have signed up for participation in the fifth Way-Co baseball program, sponsored by the Park Department with funds voted at Town Meeting and supervised by more than 50 adult volunteers. The divisions:

Little Nippers, ages 8 to 10.

Wayland, four teams: Seals, managed and coached by Will Brown and Foster Abbott; Colonels, Robert Sampson and Robert Piers; Bears, Warren Bolton; Mounties, John Sibley and Parmelee Hill.

Cochituate, four teams: Padres, Lockhart Hicks and Ray Carpenter; Royals, Kenneth Tibbetts and Thomas Parsons; Marlins, Robert Selby and Robert McKnight; Jets, Charles DeMartini. Directors, John Sibley and Jack Arnold.

Little League, ages 10-13.

Wayland: White Sox, Jerry Joyce and Paul Honen; Tigers, Edward Sweidler and Caleb Roehrig; Yankees, William Shannon and Larry Langley; Indians, Daniel Weed and Austin Letson.

Cochituate: Braves, Tony English and John Houghton; Giants, Jack Keating and Joseph Malizia; Dodgers, Godfrey Blombach, and Cardinals, Philip Harrington. Directors, Robert Paine and William Morris.

Pony League, ages 13-15. Directors, George Pearce and Kenneth Moran. Now having practice sessions of 60 boys to pick a Wayland team and a Cochituate team to be entered in the Natick Pony League. Boys not chosen will play games at home.

Prep League, ages 15-18.

One team is being formed, coached by Robert Kent and Albert Statton, to play in a four-team league with two teams from Natick and one from Ashland.

Big Nippers, ages 18 and up.

Last year there was an informal team, and the committee will have another this year, if enough interest is shown.

Money is appropriated only for field equipment. However, the committee thanks Raytheon, which will outfit one Pony League team, and the Newton-Waltham Bank, Wayland Kiwanis Club and Charles Alward Post, A. L., which have already supplied uniforms.

At a recent meeting of the committee, Robert C. Whelchel resigned as director, after being largely instrumental in starting the program and in running it for four years. New officers are Jack Arnold, director; George Pearce, treasurer; Herbert Dicks, schedules, and Jerry Joyce, purchasing. Others who have been active in the program are Alfred Johnson, Robert Davis, Donald Tarbell, Larry Bartnick, Frank Cassidy, William Young, Daniel Sheehan, George Rousseau and Melvin Orenstein.

Henry Doane Heads Committee

Henry M. Doane of Wayland, head of the Roxbury Carpet Company in Saxonville, has been named chairman of the Industrial Committee of Suasco, the flood control organization.

Also on this committee are Ralph M. Sawyer, manager of Lombard Governor in Ashland; Donald L. Atkins of Atkins & Merrill, Sudbury; G. A. Lund of Lund Products in Maynard and Thomas T. Clark of Talbot Mills, North Billerica.

At the Talbot mill is the famous dam which slows down the rate of flow of the river.

St. Peter's — Weston

During June there will be Holy Communion and morning prayer at 9:30 a.m. Starting the first Sunday in July, there will be just one service, at 9:30 a.m. Holy Communion will be celebrated on the first Sunday of July and August.

Children aged 4 to 10, those who will be in kindergarten through grade four, will meet in the Church School room of the church for a program which, under the direction of our Religious Education Committee, will be operated throughout the summer on Sunday morning. This program is for children in families who are attending services. We hope this will enable families who could not otherwise attend to come to church during the summer. The program will open the second Sunday in June.

The Weston Council of Churches will operate a vacation Church School at the First Baptist Church for two weeks in June beginning on Monday, June 18. The sessions will be held from 9 a.m. to 11:30 a.m. Monday through Friday. There will be a program for pre-school children and those who will be in grades 1, 2, 3 and 4 in the Fall. Children 4 years old and over will be in various groups for the morning classes.

The fee for the two week period will be $2.00. Registration will be limited to 60 children and will be handled through the cooperating churches. The program will be under the leadership of Rev. Joseph O'Donnell of the First Baptist Church and Rev. Robert Huston of the Weston Methodist Church. They will be assisted by a group of adults and young people. The program will include worship, study, and various creative activities in music, handwork and dramatics. There will be further information in the Town Crier.

The annual cook-out of the Calendar Club will be held June 8 at 6:30 p.m. at the home of Vicky and Tom Osborne.

The Couple's Club will hold its annual cook-out on Friday, June 15, at the home of Bob and Barbara McMullin on Summer Street, at 6:15 p.m. Officers for next year will be elected.

St. Julia's — Weston

St. Julia's Sodality of Our Lady will hold its next meeting on Tuesday, June 12 at 8 p.m. at the Church. This will be the final meeting of the season, so Mrs. Howard Rogers, Prefect, urges all women of the parish to attend.

The first card party to benefit the building fund of St. Julia's Church was held at the Town Hall on Thursday, May 24. Dessert and coffee were served at 8 p.m. before an evening of bridge, canasta and whist.

First prizes were won by the following: Bridge, Mrs. David Tinker of Acton; Canasta, Mrs. Ford Waugh of Weston; Whist, Mrs. Joseph MacDonald of Weston.

Rev. Frank Graf, administrator of the church, and Mrs. Thomas J. Kelly, chairman, and her committee report the party very successful and want to acknowledge the many contributions from Weston, Wayland, West Newton, Wellesley and Waltham merchants.

Another card party is planned for the Fall and details will be announced later.

2 Weston Doctors Tell of Research

WESTON — Two Weston doctors reported on research at medical conventions in Atlantic City on April 30 and May 1.

Dr. Charles A. Janeway reported on a group of children unable to produce antibodes who get a kind of arthritis. Dr. Janeway is pediatrician-in-chief at Children's Hospital and professor of pediatrics at the Harvard Medical School.

Dr. Gustave J. Dammin reported attempts to find the mechanism that makes patients with kidney disease accept tissue transplants from unrelated individuals for as long as 115 days. Ordinarily such transplants are rejected unless the recipient has extensive burns or some defect in producing antibodies. Dr. Dammin is pathologist, in-chief and Harvard Medical School professor of pathology at the Peter Bent Brigham Hospital.

WESTON — Mr. and Mrs. Ralph H. Griffin Jr. (Gwain Williams) announce the birth of a second child, a son, Mark Lothrop Griffin, at Wyman House, Cambridge, on May 2. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Ralph H. Griffin of Damariscotta, Me., and Mr. and Mrs. Harry J. Williams of Kenliworth, Ill. Great-grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Thomas E. Wilson of Chicago.

Ted Gets a Carving

John D. Wilcox of 140 Old Connecticut Path, Wayland, made a wood carving of Ted Williams at bat and showed it to him at Fenway Park recently.

John, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter H. Wilcox, graduates from Belmont Hill this year. He played on the B. H. championship basketball team and he used to play baseball in the Wayland Summer leagues.

Said Williams, "I am honored that anyone thinks enough of me to do all this work." Each graduate of the school makes a carving of something which interests him, and John chose Williams as his subject.

Weston Library Summer Schedule

WESTON — Beginning June 16, the Weston Public Library will be closed all day every Saturday through Sept. 1., Librarian Jeannette Favreau announces. The rest of the Summer schedule:

Monday, Wednesday and Friday, open 9 a.m. to 8:30 p.m.

Tuesday and Thursday, open 9 a.m. to 5:30 p.m.

The Juvenile Department will be open Monday through Friday, 9 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. This enlarged program for the Children's Room becomes effective Monday, June 11, and will continue through Tuesday, Sept. 4.

Weston Wins Title

Wayland 7, Weston 6

JUNE 1

Wayland rallied for three runs in the last inning to come from behind and win 7 to 6. Warsky walked, George Bradley doubled and Paul Senory singled them home. Senory stole second and scored on Nick Willard's line single to win the game and force a playoff for the league title and a tournament berth.

Weston 4, Wayland 3

JUNE 1

Weston exploded for 3 runs in the first inning. Big blow was a triple by Ken Healey. Wayland rallied to tie the score with the aid of back-to-back triples by Senory and Tassinari. Weston pushed the winning tally over on a Bill Henley double, a wild pitch and a sacrifice fly by Harding. Ken Healey struck out the last two Wayland batters to sew up the title.

Science Study Gets in Bulletin

WAYLAND — An account of the study of science in the Center School, Wayland, occupies more than half the space in the May issue of the Elementary School Science Bulletin, published by the National Science Teachers Association of the National Education Association, Washington, D. C.

Editor of this issue of the Bulletin was Clark Hubler of Wheelock College, Boston, whose wife, Reta A. Hubler, is principal of the Center School. Some of the material was printed on the Crier's school page this Spring.

The Bulletin circulates all over the country.

WAYLAND — "Thursday's Children", Academy Award film, was obtained for showing at year's final meeting of the Happy Hollow PTA, held at the school on June 5. A demonstration of Scottish dancing and music ended the evening.

One hundred and twenty-five building permits were issued in Weston last year, with the total Town population now at 6,257.

Dusseault - Perrin

COCHITUATE — Mr. and Mrs. Alfred P. Dusseault of 34 Dudley Road announce the engagement of their daughter, Marilyn, to Mr. John M. Perrin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter F. Perrin of 20 Stonebridge Road, Cochituate.

Marilyn Dusseault

Miss Dusseault is a senior at Wayland High School. Mr. Perrin, a graduate of Wayland High, is now employed as a lineman for the telephone company.

A June wedding is planned.

Wayland Interne

that, he will be paid on a modest scale which is not yet worked out. Mr. Anderson says negotiations are under way with one of the large foundations to obtain financial support for the plan.

What Wayland gets out of it should be more and better teaching, with the internes taking a good deal of routine off the shoulders of regular teachers and serving as additional teachers themselves. The internes will be 21 years old or older when they start their practise work, as mature as many regular teachers are when they start regular teaching jobs.

Four other Massachusetts communities are going to adopt the Wayland plan next year, it is reported, and many others have shown great interest in it.

Cochituate Interne Picked

Northeastern students have long had the study-and-work program in business and industry. This is believed to be the first broad adaptation of the same scheme to teaching. Some similar plans are said to be in operation outside New England, but Mr. Anderson says this is the "most comprehensive" he has heard of.

The idea came up at a meeting of Mr. Anderson with the four Wayland school principals, W. Maxwell Griffin, Reta A. Hubler, Elmer R. Kane and Daniel A. Frumerin.

The problem was the large number of pupils now in each classroom, on account of the lack of new school space, and how to cope with it. One word led to another, and the question was raised whether student teachers would help. Mr. Anderson reached for the telephone, called Lester S. Vander Werf, Dean of the Northeastern College of Education, and explained the idea.

"I'll be out tomorrow," said the Dean, and that's how it got started.

The Wayland principals with the consent and support of the School Committee, worked out the details and helped pick the first 12 internes. In the first group will be Mrs. Anne Hunt MacDonald of Maguire Road, Cochituate, who has attended the University of Colorado and George Washington University and is now a senior at Northeastern.

At the start, four pairs of internes will work in the elementary schools, one in the Junior High and one in the Senior High.

"Be just a little lazy", advises the Heart Association.

Weston Show

first prizes were Mrs. Richard Berry with japonica and frittillaria; Mrs. Walter Raleigh with flowering crab; Mrs. Charles Ford for magnolia; Mrs. Ransom Rowe for African violets; Mrs. Sheldon Sommers for narcissi; and Mrs. Albert Tompkins, narcissi and tulips.

Mrs. Whitney Nolte of the Garden Interest Group of the Women's Community League won a horticultural first for narcissi, and Mrs. William Elliston won a prize for her narcissi and quince.

The judges were Mrs. William Riley, Mrs. Percy Merry, Mrs. George Taylor for Horticulture, Mrs. Guy Whipple, Mrs. Ralph Cote, Mrs. William Breed for Arrangements, and Mrs. Chester Cook, Mrs. Mark Werman and Mrs. Leon Monnier for the Red, White and Blue Award.

The show not only filled the Jones House but also the barn which housed the horticultural exhibits, the professional exhibit and the conservation exhibit. The co-chairmen of the show were Mrs. James T. Mountz of the Weston Garden Club and Mrs. Walter Raleigh of the Country Garden Club.

Reform Synagogue To Organize

Residents of Wayland and Weston are invited to attend a meeting to organize a Reform Jewish congregation on Tuesday, June 5 at 8 p.m. The meeting will be in Lower Dennison Hall, Framingham. Rabbi Roland B. Gittelsohn of Temple Israel will talk on the meaning of Reform Judaism.

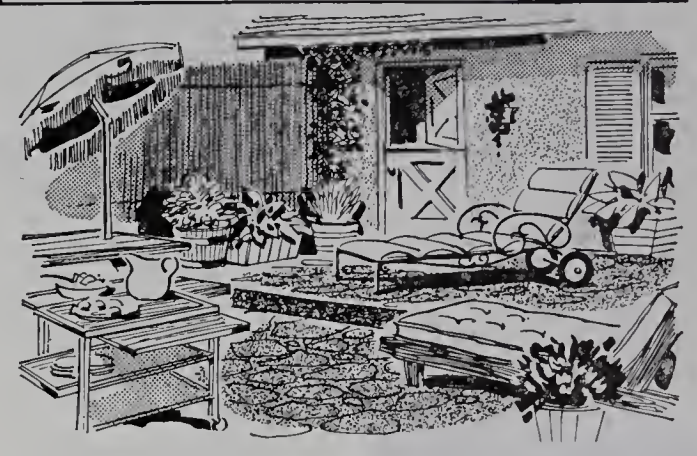
A Word to the Wives...

By HAL BURKE



SUMMER SPLENDOR

We seem to require more living space during summer to help us get away from the stifling heat. That's one of the advantages of an outdoor room. Planned as a room, it automatically enlarges the home's living space — gives the family a place to spread out and relax where the air is fresh and the breeze is cool. It also provides an ideal spot for informal entertaining.

The outdoor living room sketched above takes full advantage of the natural splendor of the garden. The hard-surface floor and back wall of the house have been painted a soft green to blend in with the foliage and to give a feeling of coolness. Potted flowering plants add color accents, may be easily moved for different effects. Rustic furniture was chosen because it seemed to be the natural complement to the setting. However, this is entirely a matter of choice. Modern metal furniture would be equally effective here. Yellow umbrella and chaise cushion covers contribute eye interest and bring out the warm beauty of the redwood furniture. The mobile cart with removable shelf makes light work of meal serving.

Here is a self-sufficient room for outdoor living that will pay its way many times over in family fun and comfort.

Outdoor rooms require the same careful planning that indoor rooms do. So don't be hesitant about coming in and asking for advice on your outdoor room settings. Our trained decorators will be most happy to help you in any way that they can whenever you come in. Make it soon.

Weston Salvation Army Appeal Doubles the 1955 Collection

Seated: Mrs. F. Steeves Fulton, Mrs. Arra S. Avakian, co-chairman; Mrs. Ray E. Palmer, residential chairman, and Mrs. John N. Garabedian, general chairman.

WESTON — The Weston Appeal for the Salvation Army made a house-to-house canvass this year for the first time in many years, and collected twice as much as in 1955.

Some questioned the need of the Salvation Army in Weston.

Richard F. Lincoln, treasurer of the Appeal and of the Service Fund, said the 20 per cent of the fund which remains in Town is used in special cases.

Sometimes a child needs to go to camp for a period, as when there is illness in the home, and sometimes there is temporary need, as in short-term unemployment. Cases are referred to by number, and only the referring agent — the welfare agent, school nurse, perhaps a clergyman — knows the name of the beneficiary.

Some houses were missed during the campaign, says Mr. Lincoln, and any who wish to contribute may send donations to Salvation Army, c/o Newton-Waltham Bank and Trust Company, Weston.

50 Are Graduated In Weston's First Outdoor Exercises

WESTON — Fifty were graduated from Weston High in commencement exercises held out of doors in front of the school in perfect early Summer weather on June 7. It was the first outdoor graduation in the school's history.

Nearly 700 attended.

The essayists were Judith Anderson, whose topic was "Weston Education", and Judith Wetzel, on "Weston Spirit".

The class gift was a whirlpool bath for the physical education department.

Awards were given by Headmaster Julius H. Mueller and the diplomas were handed out by Dr. Theodore B. Bayles of the School Committee.

The High School Band played the entrance and exit marches.

The awards:

Alumni Award, Judith Wetzel.

D. A. R. Good Citizenship Award, Anna Dolores Melone.

American Legion Award, Judith Ann Wetzel.

American Legion Auxiliary Award, Daniel Boardman Bump.

Sears Essay, First Prize, Judith Anderson.

Sears Essay, Second Prize, Judith Wetzel.

New Mansion Inn Hearing June 28

WAYLAND — A repeat performance of the hearing on the proposed rebuilding of Mansion Inn will be held at 8 p.m. on Thursday, June 28, in the cafeteria of the Cochituate School, the Board of Appeals (Zoning) announces.

The rehearing, it is explained, is made necessary by the fact that since the first hearing, held April 23, there has been a change in the Board's membership. Dunbar Holmes has been replaced by Frank A. Smith of 1 Sylvan Way, for a three-year term.

Sharp differences of opinion were expressed at the April 23 hearing, with some neighbors in favor of rebuilding and others, particularly those in the Lakefield development, strongly opposed.

The petition for rebuilding was entered by Armando Nappi of East Boston.

During the past month there has been a fire in the ruins of the Inn and another in the coach house, which was undamaged in the first fire.

Wayland Arts and Crafts Program

WAYLAND — The Summer Arts and Crafts program will be held at the High School beginning July 2 and ending July 27, Monday through Friday, 8:45 to 11:45 a.m.

Children from kindergarten through sixth grades will be eligible to attend.

Many kinds of arts and crafts will be offered including woodwork, wood carving, metal modeling, and metal pounding, felt work gimp work, shell jewelry, basket weaving, leather work and various other crafts.

Kindergartners through second grades will meet in the gym under the direction of Mrs. Eva Gately, fourth grade teacher at Happy Hollow School.

Third through sixth graders will meet in the cafeteria under the direction of Mrs. Lillian Jones, art supervisor at the High School.

Letters were sent to all parents the first of the week of June 18. If your child does not get it home with him, and you are interested, call Mrs. Jones, Elmwood 8-2694.

The cost will be $1.00 registration per family plus 35c per day or $6.00 for the four weeks if paid in advance.

New Wayland Bank To Open in July

WAYLAND — The West Newton Savings Bank announces that its new branch at 19 Pelham Island Road, in Wayland Center, will be open early in July. Renovation of the building, which was once a brick school house, vintage of 1808, was begun in February, and the alterations have been done in such a way as to retain the significant characteristics of the structure.

The staff of the bank will include Jackson Turner, manager, and Judy Hollis and Janet Shepard, tellers. All live in Wayland. Chairman of the board of the bank is Roland F. Gammons of Fortune Lane, Wayland, and Wayland corporators, who will serve as an advisory committee for the Wayland office, are Cornelius J. Maguire, Walter B. Parker, Jr. and William A. Waldron.

The West Newton Savings Bank was incorporated in 1887 and has assets of more than $20,000,000. Like other mutual savings banks in Massachusetts, it has no stockholders. All earnings are distributed to depositors after provision for expenses and proper reserves. It is now paying a dividend of 3%, and depositors' accounts are insured in full under Massachusetts law.

One Session, Double Teachers, To Solve the School Problem

Double sessions in the Wayland and Cochituate Elementary Schools will be avoided as a result of a co-teacher program worked out by Principals Elmer R. Kane, Cochituate; Daniel A. Frumerin, Happy Hollow; and Superintendent Edward J. Anderson.

At a recent open meeting called by the School Committee for parents of elementary school pupils, held at Cochituate School, two plans for the forthcoming year were presented by Superintendent Anderson. The double session plan was voted down unanimously in favor of the alternative co-teacher plan, by the 150 or so parents present.

Here's how the system, which the school administrators are still improving, will work: All classes of more than 32 pupils will have extra teaching help.

In the case of the largest classes, two full-time teachers will be on hand, a head teacher and a co-teacher. In others, a teacher-helper will divide her time between two classes.

"We will have a ratio of not more than 26 pupils to one teacher," says Supt. Anderson. "This would be the same as we would have in a double session system, and I think the children will get more individual attention."

Will Be Crowded

All pupils will attend the nearest school, with the exception of Center School 6th graders, who will go to Happy Hollow School, which can take them in because of a small 6th grade group there. It's possible that one classroom in the High School may be used for a Center School Class as well.

The principals feel that in a class of 36, for instance, the co-teacher system can help tremendously with remedial reading or arithmetic. Now, a teacher may have three or four groups going, which he must manage singlehanded.

The most acute crowding will occur in the second and fourth grades.

400 at Happy Hollow

At Happy Hollow, the second grades will be large enough for two full-time teachers per class. Other classes affected will be the first, third and fourth with two classes sharing a teacher helper.

"We are now looking for teachers who have had co-teaching experience," says Mr. Frumerin. "I think that it's certainly superior to the double sessions."

A rough guess of pupil enrolment at Happy Hollow is 400. This year there were 325. The largest class there this year had 33 pupils.

"There will be a much larger staff," continues Mr. Frumerin. "There will be five plus the regular

Community League Has New President

WESTON — A special meeting of the Women's Community League was called on Monday, June 4 at 11 a.m. in the lower hall of the Weston Town House to accept with great regret the resignation of Mrs. George N. Chamberlain, Jr., and to elect a new President.

After Mrs. Chamberlain's letter of resignation had been read and the Community League's gratitude and affection for her expressed, it was voted to accept the resignation, tendered because of uncertain health.

An election followed in which Mrs. Arthur A. Nichols of Sunset Road was elected President of the Women's Community League. A past Treasurer and Board member of the organization, she has already served with distinction, and the Community League is most happy to welcome her back to active duty.

New Scholarship For Wayland High

WAYLAND — One of the newest scholarships available to Wayland High School graduates is named in honor of Mrs. Lura E. Schofield and the late Frank I. Schofield of Old Connecticut Path. Their son, Arthur I. Schofield, told his father's story at the High School graduation.

Mr. Schofield was born in Nova Scotia in 1886, one of 14 children, Arthur said. At the age of 7 he had to go to work. At 22, unable to read or write, he and a cousin came to Boston. Frank had 15 cents.

They took a street care at random, rode to the end of the line, then walked until they came to a farm, where they applied for work and got it.

Later on, things got better. Mr. Schofield became a contractor, taught himself to read and write and became a citizen. But, said Arthur:

"He was always plagued by a feeling that his education was insufficient, and he always felt that anybody who had a chance for an education should utilize it."

For many years Mr. Schofield ran the place on Old Connecticut Path as a dairy farm, and his son Arthur has continued it. At a recent Town Meeting, however, the Town voted to buy the 90-acre farm as a site for a new high school.

Korean Professor To Speak at Jones House, June 26

WESTON — Robert S. Sturgis of 5 Doublet Hill Road will introduce Dr. Kwang Lim Koh at a meeting of the Korean Institute to be held at the Jones House at 8:15 Tuesday, June 26, with everybody welcome.

Dr. Koh and other professors battled Communist efforts at bulldozing in a Korean university, and he will tell how that incident convinced him that the translation of Western political classics into Korean can affect Korea's political future.

WESTON — Henry M. Fiske of 527 Boston Post Road attended his 59th reunion at Harvard this month.

Richard Groton, Maunsel Babin Named Patrolmen

WAYLAND — Richard H. Groton of 17 Winter Street and Maunsel Blake Babin of 6 Happy Hollow Road have been appointed patrolmen by the Board of Selectmen, to complete the police force of five men authorized at the March Town Meeting.

Special policemen appointed by the Selectmen are James G. Garvey, 2 Corman Lane; Joseph P. McEnroy, 7 Leary Street, and George F. Rousseau, 65 West Plain Street.

An Open Letter From a Parent

June 14, 1956

Mr. John Butler, Chairman
Wayland School Committee
Wayland, Massachusetts

Dear Mr. Butler:

Ever since the meeting on Thursday, May 31, on the redistricting of the elementary schools I have been mulling over in my mind the plans presented and the discussion. I have been sorely perplexed, but have come up with some strong impressions that I would like to pass on to your committee.

First, it seems almost incredible that there are people in town who do not know the statistics on the number of children now in town who must be housed in classrooms and the sad facts on the number of classrooms available. Those figures should be publicized again. This was very evident to me from the questions asked at the meeting. Make the statistics as personalized as possible — we parents have a strong tendency to think in terms of how things are in our "Johnny's" room. Break the statistics down to how many in a grade in a school, if possible. And by all means emphasize how many by grades for whom there are no rooms. Then get it out to the public fast, particularly in the spots where there are newcomers in town. It is high time the townspeople faced up to the graveness of the error that was made last year. There is no good answer to this problem — the good answer was badly fumbled a year ago when it was voted to wipe out all plans and start over again. Give us the straight unvarnished facts however unpleasant, and leave out the generalities.

Second, I had a very strong impression that the people at the meeting (which was not a truly representative one by any means) were willing to grab at any scheme rather than have a double session. Nobody like double session, particularly those who have lived through one, as I have; but I feel it far better than a crowded one session. I do not feel that the children could possibly get the instruction in a crowded one session in spite of two teachers in a room and a lower teacher-pupil ratio and in spite of a normal length school day. I do not feel that it is physically possible to put into one room as much "humanity" — especially such mobile, vociferous humanity — as will be necessary to carry out this program based on the figures given that evening. All I can visualize is an unrelieved bedlam, with frazzled nerves of both children and teaching staff.

Furthermore, it seems downright dangerous to set up such a rigid plan at this time, for, as I see it, it leaves no leeway whatever for the new children who will move into town in the course of this summer and all of the next school year. By double session (in both Cochituate and Happy Hollow if necessary) we are bound to have elasticity with which to absorb the newcomers. And we are bound to have far more relaxed teachers and children — a very, very, important consideration, I think.

And now for the newcomers, a subject not touched on at the meeting. The thing that has precipitated this letter is the fact that last Sunday Martin Cerel advertised Open House at his new development, Brookdale-at-Wayland off School Street. My curiosity was aroused as to just what that would mean with respect to the schools. So I have done some inquiring at the Town Hall, and what I have found utterly appalls me. On checking with the Building Inspector who issues the building permits I find that ten days before this Open House of Brookdale Cerel had obtained only 11 building permits but had sold 14 houses. And goodness knows what has happened since last Sunday's Open House. We all know, however, how very rapidly his developments are filled (Lakefield was built and occupied in one summer). The Planning Board has approved 67 lots for this Brookdale subdivision.

Taking the conservative figure of 2.5 children per house (I am told that Natick has used successfully 2.8), these fourteen houses already sold alone would bring 34 children to town. Can the one-session system absorb 34 children, and if so where? What if they are largely children in the first three grades?

And of course Brookdale is only one of seven subdivisions whose plans have been approved and are under way, to say nothing of the scattered building on existing streets. I refer you to the following figures obtained at the Town Hall.

Subdivisions in Wayland Approved By the Planning Board

Subdivision	Houses	Potential Children*
Brookdale - at - Wayland by Cerel (Irving Farm off School St.) (14 houses already sold)	67	167½
Dudley Acres by Campanella Bros. (Dudley Rd.)	24	60

Spagnuolo (off Stonebridge Rd., Puritan Homes)	17	42
Sedgemeadows by Veno (off Moore Rd.)—first part	19	47½
Caffey (Concord Rd. — Oxbow Rd.)	9	22½
Wayland Real Estate — Adams Lane and Three Ponds Rd.	16	40

Building Inspector

Has issued this year to date 81 building permits — translated into 202.5 children. Estimates 170 permits for the year — translated into 425 children.

The Building Inspector has already issued 81 permits so far this year. That figures 202.5 children. He estimates 170 permits for the year — 425.0 children. Where can even a portion of these be fitted into a one-session plan?

Let's face up to this thing squarely.

Very truly yours,
Mrs. Willard B. Dik

WAYLAND — "Life guards are not baby sitters," the Park Commissioners assert, and they have ruled that no child under the age of 10 will be allowed on the Cochituate beach this Summer unless accompanied by an older person who is at least 16.

No small child is to be left alone on the beach at any time, they say.

Another new rule is that no food shall be eaten on the beach. Moreover, they insist, tags are not transferable. Anybody caught switching will lose the beach privilege for the season.

Carol Wildman Wins Degree From Simmons

COCHITUATE — Miss Carol M. Wildman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Wildman of 3 Gage Road, was graduated from Simmons College on June 11 as a bachelor of science in home economics. She was a member of the Academy, Simmons honor society.

Bids Are Out For School Buildings

Arrangements prepartory to construction of the Claypit Hill and Loker Street Schools are nearing completion. Says Allan R. Finlay, chairman of the School Building Committee: "We've been working substantially on schedule. We've made a lot of progress on the 1001 details which must be taken care of before the first shovelful is dug."

The contract for the steel supplies for the Claypit Hill School was awarded to the West End Iron Works by vote of the School Building Committee at a meeting on June 13. "The contract was awarded in such a way as to give maximum assurance of having the steel on hand", says Mr. Finlay.

Because steel supplies threatened to be the major obstacle in construction, the Building Committee looked into the possibility of using laminated wooden beams as a steel substitute. Fire insurance premiums proved too high to make this feasible without sprinklers.

At present, bids are being called for the road building and land preparation contract for the Claypit Hill School. If the drainage, road and water line work is done before the contractors begin on the building, it will make it easier for them to move their equipment to the site.

By the end of the month the Committee expects to call for bids on the main contract for both school buildings. Steel and road contracts for the Claypit Hill School have been called for early.

The Claypit Hill School is scheduled for earliest possible completion. But the Committee refuses to guess when the Claypit Hill or Loker Street schools will be completed.

"Too much depends on the weather", says Mr. Finlay.

New Officers For Mother's Group

COCHITUATE — Mrs. Robert A. Sutherland of Cochituate, president-elect, took over the gavel from retiring President Mrs. Lawrence K. Cook of Wayland at the June 6 meeting of The Mothers Association, held at the Sea N' Surf restaurant.

Other new officers are Mrs. Howard M. Fraser, vice-president; Mrs. John K. Ferguson, secretary, and Mrs. Thomas Burke, treasurer.

White — Wales

COCHITUATE—Suzanne Wales, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Wales of Park Ride Road, was married to Kenneth White, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clement A. White of Stonebridge Road, at St. Zepherin's Church at 2 p.m. June 17.

Mrs. White is the girl who made a happy recovery from serious injuries received in September, 1953, when her home blew up.

Two hundred guests attended a reception in Framingham after the ceremony.

COCHITUATE — Mrs. Irving L. Dame of 39 Wallace Road recently visited her daughter, Faith, at Washington D. C. and saw the sights of the Capital and nearby Virginia. She also visited Philadelphia and the United Nations in New York.

Aims, Objectives . . .

The aims and objectives of the present day program are to develop the general physical condition and health of the boys and girls of our school, to promote normal growth, to develop sound attitudes, habits and knowledge of wholesome living, to present the opportunity for experiences of leadership, to develop interest, joy and satisfaction in many skills which will continue to have a carry-over value in the use of leisure time.

It is a requirement that every boy and girl attending Weston public schools be compelled to take physical education in some form during the school year, unless of course, physically unable to do so.

Program Begins in The 1st Grade

In many public school systems no real program of physical education is offered until the 3rd or 4th grade. Weston's physical education program, conducted by trained physical education teachers, begins with grade 1 and runs through grade 12.

In the first three grades the program centers around the needs of these children for fun, big muscle activity, development of physical skill, coordination and strength; learning to follow directions and to play wtih other children harmoniously. The children have two instruction periods a week taught by the physical education teacher, and a daily play period supervised by the grade teacher.

The program of activities is aimed at giving all children equal and ample opportunities to learn, play, practice and succeed in both individual and group activities. Much of the play in grades one and two is creative, dramatic, and vigorous, and focused on each individual child, the all important "I".

By the third grade, children are becoming more group conscious and there is a shift of emphasis from "I" to "We" in play activities; and team games are introduced. As much individual attention as is possible is given.

Attendance After School Triples

The after school sports program is open to all boys and girls in grades 4, 5 and 6; and equal opportunities are provided for these children to participate in and enjoy the activities which they have learned in the instructional period. As such, it is considered as an outgrowth and an addition to the instructional phase of the physical education program.

The program is open to all children regardless of ability. Teams, captains, helpers and positions are rotated within each meeting.

Children needing more individual help than can be given in the class period and more time and chances to improve by playing are encouraged to attend the program (and they do!).

The value of an interest in the after school program is proven by figures. The attendance, which is voluntary, has tripled in three years from an average yearly attendance of 1,000 boys and 1,000 girls in 1953-1954 to 3,000 each this year.

Intramural Sports Give Fun for Many

Time, space and personnel prevent us from carrying on an extensive program of intramural athletics; however, we do manage to conduct some activities in order to give those who are not on regular teams an opportunity to compete. During the Winter season intramural basketball is scheduled at the elementary school gym three afternoons a week for grades 7 through 9. During the fall season 7th and 8th grade girls participate in field hockey.

Girls Have Soccer, Softball, Archery

The fall program runs from the first day of school until the second or third week in November. The girls are given drill in fundamentals of field hockey, soccer and speedball. Indoor activity consists of relays and games.

The winter program includes basketball and volleyball. Another phase of the winter program is gymnastics and dance. The gymnastics includes individual, dual and group tumbling, pyramids, springboard, box, rings and ladder. Each class presents its best pyramid on the annual "Field Day." Field Day culminates interclass or inter-section competition in such events as softball, volleyball, track, baseball throws, archery and pyramids. In the dance program are modern, square and social dancing. Girls in grades 9 through 12 are given an opportunity to create their own dances.

Softball and archery are the major part of the spring program. For students with certain physical handicaps, archery offers safe competition and recreation.

Only 5% in Weston Fail Fitness Test

The program for grades 7 through 12 is divided into seasonal units. The students in grades 7 and 8 participate three times per week.

Each student is assigned a locker, or basket, for physical education equipment. Showers are required by all students after each class. Clean towels are provided. Inspections are conducted regularly to see that each student has clean and presentable equipment. Short lectures are given to stress the value of cleanliness, exercise, rest and proper care of injuries.

Every student is required to lead the class in some phase of the program during the year. The value of cooperation and loyalty is stressed because each individual realizes that if he is to receive the cooperation of his classmates during his endeavors to lead the class, he in turn, must give his fullest co-operation.

Special emphasis is placed on good conduct and sportsmanship. The boy must learn to control his temper, respect his opponents and officials, and, above all, to give his best.

In all seasons we give tests to measure strength, motorability, speed and agility.

This year we gave the Kraus-Weber tests of minimum muscular fitness to all students in grades 7 through 12. This was the test that received so much publicity, and brought about the White House Conference on Physical Fitness, because of the alarmingly poor scores by the children of this country from age 6 to 16. Kraus-Weber found approximately 60% failures, while we had fewer than 5%.

Lightning can strike twice. One Massachusetts farm has been struck four times since 1930.

Daily Play Period In the 4th Grade

By the 4th grade, boys and girls get separate physical education programs, although they come together often for co-recreational activities.

In the upper grades, greater emphasis is places on team sports. Opportunities to become intelligent followers as well as effective leaders are provided through rotation of jobs as captains, scorers, timers, officials and team members. The aim is that these children will learn to play one or more activities well.

Varsity Athletes Must be Insured

A physical examination, required of all students participating in varsity sports, is conducted in the Spring by the school physician. Everyone is required to be insured either by a plan authorized by the State Headmaster's Association, or a letter by the parent, stating that the individual is covered by private insurance such as Blue Cross and Blue Shield.

The boys' interscholastic sports include football, grades 10 to 12; cross country, grades 9 to 12; and junior high school football, grades 8 and 9; basketball, grades 10 to 12; baseball, grades 9 to 12; golf, grades 9 to 12; tennis, grades 9 to 12; and baseball, grades 7 and 8. The girls' interscholastic sports include field hockey, basketball and cheerleading, grades 9 to 12; softball and tennis, grades 7 to 12.

Varsity letters are awarded to those playing in one half of the total number of periods or innings, as the case may be, for the major sports: football, basketball, baseball and field hockey. A sweater is presented by the Boosters Club to each boy or girl the first time he qualifies after the freshman year.

The Weston Public Library has 39,920 books. During 1955, it added 1000 adult books and 784 children's books. Three hundred and ninety-one were discarded.

Town Reporter, Unique Paper, Was Popular Weston Institution

WESTON — The farewell issue of the Weston Town Reporter in April ended the career of a unique institution of Weston. So far as known, Weston was original in having its citizens so behind the idea of a Town newspaper that yearly they voted an appropration to assure its publication and delivery to each household.

Its existence for 11 years also depended on various public-minded citizens who gave their time to put the newspaper together. William T. Wolf became editor in 1952, with John S. Myers, Jr. and Henry W. Patterson as co-editors. This Reporter committee was headed by Harry T. Van Huysen as chairman, who wrote "Strings Around Your Finger," which he has continued for the Crier, with Mrs. Frank S. Sumner as secretary.

Mr. Patterson, first editor of the Reporter, gives some of its history. The Reporter first appeared in April, 1945, to replace the Civil Defense bulletin called "Alert." Rationing was still on and the Town needed a means of communication. The Town was reluctant to support an enterprise which might only be a haphazard experiment and appropriated less than $400 for the first year.

Mr. Patterson was asked to be editor and one of his assistants was Charles O. Richardson, Jr. The paper was responsible to the Selectmen for its content, and put out five issues the first year. The next year the paper rated an appropriation of $1000 for 10 issues, and was out of the supervision of the Selectmen.

Being unique, the Reporter's first problems were to define the kind of news fit to print in a Town publication. Pressure groups wanted to air grievances. People were annoyed when their articles were cut. The committee had to solicit news, which involved endless telephoning. Finally it boiled down to the accustomed form in which it appeared for years. All organizations in Town which desired space automatically sent in their articles. Eight or 10 reporters became too many and the group putting out the Reporter dwindled to five.

The Town voted at the March Town Meeting to suspend publication of the Reporter in favor of the Crier, keeping the Reporter committee intact.

During the Reporter's lifetime, its editors put in many hours of unpaid work, and their efforts resulted in a paper which was warmly received and carefully read.

Potvin — Watling

Cochituate — Mr. and Mrs. Albert E. Potvin of 36 Sunset Road have announced the engagement of their daughter, Ruth G. Potvin, to Frank C. Watling, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence B. Watling of Hudson Road, Sudbury. No date for the wedding has been set.

Miss Potvin was graduated from Wayland High School in 1954 and is employed by the Natick Federal Savings and Loan Association. Mr. Watling was graduated from Sudbury High in 1953 and is now stationed at the U. S. Navy Great Lakes Training Station in Illinois.

WAYLAND — Allen G. Powning, son of Mrs. M. Allen Powning of 5 Winthrop Road, a Junior at Brown University, has been elected recording secretary of Psi Upsilon fraternity. He is a graduate of Middlesex School.

200 WHS Alumni Meet in 85th Annual Reunion

WESTON — The Country School was the gathering place for nearly 200 Weston High School Alumni who returned to celebrate their 85th annual reunion Saturday, June 9, at 6 p.m.

Seated at the head table in the gymnasium for the banquet were Mrs. John O'Brien, Mr. and Mrs. Lincoln Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Philip F. Coburn, Miss Jean D'Intinosanto and Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Clive. The party was made gay by the colorful display of the hats and noise makers of the 20 members of the class of 1931, assembled to celebrate their 25th reunion.

After the dinner everyone was seated in the auditorium where Mrs. O'Brien opened the business meeting by greeting 49 members of the 1956 graduating class. Judy Wetzel was introduced as the graduating senior attaining the highest four-year scholastic average and will have her name inscribed on the Alumni plaque which now hangs in the High School.

Reports by the secretary and treasurer were read and accepted and the following slate of officers were elected to serve for the following year: Lincoln H. Smith, president; Russell A. Johnson, vice-president; Jean D'Intinosanto, secretary; Philip F. Coburn, treasurer; Miriam O'Brien, Stuart Clive and Harry B. Jones, executive committee; Barbara Williams, Jane Morse and Ruth Moller, nominating committee.

David Donaldson, president of the graduating class of 1956, expressed the delight of his class members in joining the Alumni Association, and Owen Connolly, chairman of the Year Book committee, declared that the class of 1956 would present at least $300.00 to the Scholarship Fund.

Mr. Thomas C. Clarke, president of the 25-year class of 1931, presented a check for $300.00 to Mr. Raymond Coburn, chairman of the War Memorial Educational Scholarship Fund Committee. Mr. Clarke stated that this money was donated by the members of his class with the hope that all 25-year classes will follow their example and raise the principal of this scholarship fund so that perhaps many needy students may benefit from it in the future. Mr. Raymond Coburn reported on the progress of the scholarship fund and announced that the principal has now reached $3700.00. He also thanked the classes of 1956 and 1931 for their splendid donations and urged future classes to follow their example.

The distinction of being the oldest alumna present went to Mrs. Harriet G. Jackson, class of 1888. Recognition also was accorded Miss Maude Pennock, class of 1896, Edward C. Green, Edward S. Coburn and Mrs. Helen Hill, class of 1901, Miss Constance E. Burrage and John Guthrie, class of 1902, Mrs. Helen Wells, class of 1904, Mrs. Marion Green, class of 1905, William Caunt and Dwight Cooper, class of 1906. Mr. Cooper came from California expressly for the Alumni reunion.

Robert Johnson, class of 1947, was master of ceremonies for the entertainment program. Linda Cooke and Kathleen Chisholm of Weston did a tap and ballet dance routine and the "Chem-Tones," professional quartet from Lexington, sang a medley of old time songs. A newly organized five piece band, under the direction of Thomas Clarke of the Weston High School, played several rock and roll numbers.

The class of 1956 performed an automobile skit and sang their graduation song, "One God".

Hazel O'Donnell, soprano soloist, was the star attraction of the evening, singing "With a Heart That's Free" and "This is My Beloved", accompanied by Miss Elizabeth Frye on the piano. Owen Connolly of the class of 1956 then performed a few feats of magic and after the mess was cleaned up we slowly started for home. Thomas C. Clarke

---

Peter A. Holland, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard P. Holland of 96 Conant Road, Weston, won a major "M" for crew at Middlesex School.

Ray Humphrey Wins Honors at Norwich

Cochituate — Raymond Humphrey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Humphrey of Dudley Road, Cochituate, has been tapped for Skull and Swords, Senior honorary society at Norwich University, and has also been initiated into Epsilon Tau Sigma, academic honor society. He was also elected recorder of the Corps Honor Committee.

He is a junior in liberal arts and has made the dean's list every semester. He is a sergeant, first class, in the cadet corps, and vice president of the Junior class. He was an editor of the yearbook and is managing editor of the college paper.

FASHION TAKES THE FLOOR

In compliance with today's fashions in home decor, floor coverings are becoming increasingly important as a decorating element. Frequently a beautiful rug or carpet is made the center of interest in a room, and all of the other components planned to emphasize its color, pattern and/or texture.

Whether you feature your floor covering, or use it merely as a background element, there are several practical considerations that will influence your choice: quality, size, shape, suitability to function and the style of the room and furniture, and the amount and kind of wear it must withstand.

The floor covering in the above sketch was selected to conform to the formal feeling of the room. Texture plays an important role here—introduces a sense of movement, and subtly reproduces the tufted design on the upholstered pieces.

It is well to remember that textured or sculptured floor covering has the advantage of not showing footprints so readily as smoother-surfaced carpets and rugs.

In this room a feeling of warm luxuriousness has been achieved by the combination of rich color, interesting texture and the deep, springy pile of the wall-to-wall carpet.

Whether you are looking for one small room-size rug or carpeting for your entire home, you're sure to find just what you want in our wide assortment of fine floor coverings. As always, you'll find price commensurate with quality. So pay us a visit today!

The dog license refund which yearly is voted to support the Weston Public Library amounted to $2,438.75 in 1955. The fees collected first must go to the county to pay for any damages by pets, such as the killing of chickens. That's why it is called a "refund."

In case of fire, save people first.

Weston Makes It To The Semi-Finals

WESTON—Weston High's baseball team, champs of the Dual County League, won two games in the Eastern Massachusetts tournament and then lost to Ipswich in the semi-final.

The scores:

JUNE 4

Weston exploded for 16 hits and 11 runs to win the first game. Bilt and Tom Healey led the assault with 4 and 3 hits respectively.

One Session

staff of 12, and the Northeastern students."

Elmer Kane, principal of Cochituate School, has already seen his school through double sessions.

"We had as smooth as possible double session arrangements," he says. "As successful as could be hoped, in that the children suffered no serious educational loss. One of the most difficult problems was keeping the building clean during constant use. After all, we are responsible for clean surroundings as well as good education. I feel everyone concerned with this new plan will do their best to make it work. The advantages are: normal school hours, stability to normal districting, and use of existing faculties with children closely akin to the final redistricting."

Problem Was Studied

"No teachers will be forced into a co-teacher arrangement", says Supt. Anderson. "Some would like it, and some not. Not too many classes are involved. This affects only the elementary schools, and the only class out of district will be the Center School 6th grade at Happy Hollow. We have enough large rooms and not too many large classes."

Less than one-third of the classrooms will be involved. Some classes will still number in the 20s. We will concentrate on hiring people with the new set-up in mind, and arrange things so that less experienced teachers will work with more experienced.

Along with the problem of child and teacher wearying in the afternoon of a double session, parents have been worried over the transportation problem. Others worry about children walking home on dark winter afternoons.

Many fear that the live human steam generated in a large and crowded classroom would prevent any education at all. Some are acutely aware that there are these days more children. No one can hope that the present stopgap, however well arranged, can take the place of a needed building. It's considered a lesser evil. Mr. Anderson refers one and all to "enrollment trends" on page 198 in the Town Report.

WAYLAND SCHOOL DEPT.

Painting specifications for painting in the Wayland Public Schools may be picked up at the office of Superintendent of Schools located in the Wayland High School, Wayland, Mass. All bids are to be returned to the office of Superintendent of Schools by 12 noon June 25th, 1956.

Town of Wayland Board of Appeals

(ZONING)

A public hearing will be held Thursday, June 28, 1956, at 8:00 p.m. in the cafeteria of the Cochituate School on the application of Armando Nappi to rebuild Mansion Inn. (Rehearing made necessary by change in membership of the Board of Appeals).

Public Hearings will be held Monday, July 2, 1956, at the Town Hall, Wayland, on the following applications at times indicated:

8:00 p.m. Donald K. Rieck. To build porch on house at 307 Old Connecticut Path, Cochituate, with less than 30 foot set-back from Indian Road.

8:20 p.m. Malcolm Horton. To build house on lot owned by Malcolm and Grace Horton at end of Mathews Drive, Cochituate.

Some Changes In School Personnel

WAYLAND — Edward J. Anderson, superintendent of schools, announces a number of resignations from the school system. Eleven new teaching positions are to be added in the Fall, he says, on account of the increase in the number of pupils, but the announcement of new names is not yet ready.

Those leaving:

Junior-Senior High School;

Forrest L. Morton, language arts and social studies.

Miss Jean T. Nelson, guidance.

Mrs. Elsie Frederickson, who agreed to fill out last year as a physical education teacher when Mrs. Mildred Goddard left.

Cochituate School:

Elmer R. Kane, principal. He is going to Columbia University for two years to get a doctor's degree.

Mrs. Priscilla H. Triebs, first grade. The stork.

Mrs. Mary E. Reynolds, second grade. Her husband is going to Detroit.

Miss Justince C. Cavanaugh, third grade. She's getting married.

Happy Hollow School:

Mrs. Terri L. Finn, second grade. Her husband is moving to New Jersey.

Mrs. Alice J. McIntosh, third grade. The stork.

Mrs. Miriam W. Ruopp, fourth grade.

Miss Sue Spaulding, first grade. She's getting married.

Center School:

Mrs. Reta Hubler, principal.

Mr. Anderson says the normal annual turnover in a school system is 8 to 10 per cent, and that's about what this set of changes amounts to.

Army Thinks North Wayland Nike Site Is a Show Place

The crew lines up with the missiles. In the group are Chief William E. Blake of the Boston Army Base fire department, CWO S. A. Bongiorno, Lieut. Chester F. Cambell. Wayland Civil Defense Director William R. Hulbert and troops.

WAYLAND — "Some persons have expressed concern about the dangers of explosion at a Nike site," says Lieut. Chester F. Cambell, commander of the installations at Lincoln and North Wayland, "but actually the place is no more dangerous than a gasoline filling station."

The local site, he says, is considered the most attractive of all the posts of its kind guarding Boston. The radar installation is on a big knoll overlooking Drumlin Farm, the old Hatheway estate, and it is haunted by birds, particularly pheasants. A good deal of landscaping has been done at both sites, and the Army considers the local "fort" a show place of its kind.

Relations with townspeople have been excellent, Lieut. Cambell says. The Town of Lincoln, especially, has made the soldiers welcome and has made a playing field available in Summer. When any of the 90 soldiers have time off, they usually go to Waltham or Boston for recreation. None of the men lives in Wayland or Weston.

Lieut. Cambell has told W. R. Hulbert, director of civil defense in Wayland, that in the event of any local emergency, such as flood or storm, he would be happy to give any help possible.

Much of the information about the place is secret, of course, and visitors are not allowed to go below ground. However, people are being taken on guided tours all the time, and enough is visible to give a good idea of what is supposed to happen in time of trouble.

None of the missiles has ever been launched from North Wayland, and none will be except in earnest. Radar and the rest of the warning system would pick up an assigned target, the missile would be pointed skyward and fired and directed to its target.

The place is in ceaseless operation. Men get time off, but the site remains in business 24 hours a day. An armed sentry guards each gate. The unit on duty is the 514th AAA Missile Battalion, Battery A.

Why First Aid Course Was Discontinued

WESTON — First Aid as a course in Weston High School has been abandoned because it was found to be unpopular with students, in that it largely duplicated what they had learned in Scouts, the National Guard and Summer camps, says Dr. Anthony G. L. Brackett, superintendent of schools.

Dr. Brackett says the decision to drop the course was made some time ago, as the result of a report made to the School Committee on Feb. 7 of this year by the then superintendent, Calvin E. Gross.

In his report, Mr. Gross said the course was instituted just after World War II, and required two periods a week for 12 weeks during the Winter of the senior year, taking the place of physical education.

Dr. Theodore B. Bayles of the School Committee says the Committee decided, on the basis of the report to it, that the first aid course was no longer profitable.

Linda Draws Dog Picture, Wins Dog

WESTON — Linda Dairiki, 7 years old, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Setsuo Dairiki of 45 Kendal Common Road, drew a picture of her "dream dog" in a WHDH radio contest recently and won the dog, a cocker spaniel named Trixie, along with a year's supply of dog food and a series of obedience lessons at the Weston Dog Ranch.

Linda and her mother went in to WHDH on Thursday, June 21, when the presentation program, including a 10-minute interview with Linda, was transcribed. It was broadcast between 8 and 9 a.m. Sunday, June 24.

Weston Gives Contract For New Fire Engine

WESTON — The Town of Weston has given to Peter Pirsch and Sons, Inc., of Kenosha, Wis., the contract for the new 750-gallons per-minute fire pumper voted at the regular Town Meeting in March. Pirsch was the low bidder at $19,652. The new pumper will replace the 1931 Buffalo pumper.

Drabbington Lodge Becomes Only Convalescent Center in Weston

WESTON — Drabbington Lodge on North Avenue, for more than half a century a big landmark in Town, has been acquired by Mr. and Mrs. James Pearce Jr., and will be operated as the Weston Convalescent Center and Nursing Home after alterations are completed, probably by mid-Summer.

The Lodge was built in 1899 by the late George A. Thurston and operated as a residential hotel for Boston professional men and business men. The 50 guests used to commute to Boston, using Kendal Green station. A golf course went with the Lodge.

Among famous persons who stopped for a time at the Lodge were the Wright brothers.

The Lodge was built on the site of the old home of Henry Gowing, which had been enlarged and used as an inn. Some time in the 1890s the Gowing house burned, and the new Lodge was built.

"Drabbington", which sounds like something out of Charles Dickens, was the name of the home town of the first Mrs. Thurston, in England.

For a time in the 1930s the Lodge was leased to Posse-Nissen School. Later, it served as a dormitory for 80 Boston University girls.

In recent years the golf course has become the site of a housing development.

The Pearces acquired the property from Garfield R. Burgess of Waltham, through J. Irving Connolly of Weston.

As it stands now, the building is on a two-acre site, three stories tall, with 37 rooms and three big gables facing North Avenue. It will be used by old folks and convalescents up to the number of 27. There will be facilities for occupational therapy, large public rooms downstairs and a TV room upstairs. Tea will be served afternoons and there'll be opportunities for social life.

Mr. Pearce, a graduate of the school of hotel management at Cornell, owns the Garnet Inn at Center Harbor, N. H. Mrs. Pearce is a graduate of the Presbyterian Columbia Medical Center of New York. They will live at the Center.

Workmen are now putting in sprinklers and fire escapes and making other alterations.

Hit-and-Run Case

COCHITUATE — Daniel McNeill of 2 Mathews Drive, son of Mr. and Mrs. William F. McNeill, was promised a bicycle for his birthday if he did well at Cochituate School.

He did do well.

On June 13, his 11th birthday, his mother gave Dan a new bicycle.

On Sunday, June 24, around 10:30 a.m., Dan and his cousin, Ralph McNeill, 14, were walking South along Cochituate Road, near Pequot Road, on the West side of the road. They were pushing the bike.

An automobile came up behind and struck them both. They were knocked down, dazed by bumps on their heads, and bruised.

The front wheel and front fork of the bicycle were crushed. The bike was a wreck.

They could only describe the automobile as black Ford. They had no idea who was in it. The vehicle did not stop.

Chief Ernest H. Damon investigated. He says the driver seems to have gone away unobserved.

Mrs. McNeill hopes somebody may have seen or heard something about the incident.

12 Resign From Weston Schools

WESTON — Twelve teachers are leaving the Weston system this year for various reasons, says Dr. Anthony G. L. Brackett, superintendent. The list:

High School Teachers:

Miss Irene W. Gesiak, Science. Accepted position at Brown University, Providence Rhode Island.

Mrs. Anita M. Gorman, arithmetic, Grade 7. Returning to Missouri.

Mr. Paul R. Humez, science. Leaving teaching profession.

Mrs. Dorothy A. Mula, physical education. To raise a family.

Elementary School Teachers:

Mrs. Frances F. Dawson, Grade 3. To give full time to household duties.

Mrs. Joyce T. Fedden, Grade 5. To give full time to household duties.

Mrs. Bettie M. Herzog, Grade 1. To raise a family.

Mrs. Sharon L. MacCartney, Grade 4. To raise a family.

Miss Ruth S. McKinley, Grade 3. Accepted positions as editor of Weekly Reader, Wesleyan University Press and Charles E. Merrill Publishing Co.

Miss Charlotte J. Sharp, Grade 1. To teach in another community.

Miss Patircia Wolcott, Grade 3. Accepted position as editor in elementary textbook division of Houghton Mifflin Co.

Mrs. Caroline A. Wollny, Grade 4. Accepted position as art specialist.

Post Road Widening

WESTON — The job of widening the Boston Post Road in the middle of Town should be done by September, Town authorities said they hoped.

The plan is to dig back into the wooded hill opposite the stores, starting about 10 feet wide on the eastern end and narrowing to nothing the other end, at a gentle angle. Then the sidewalk and stone wall would be replaced, to allow more parking space and more room in the middle of the busy street.

Norman Fair To Be Board Field Agent

WAYLAND — The Wayland Board of Health announces that Norman G. Fair has been appointed part-time agent for it, to make inspections and do other field work, and that Mrs. Whitman N. Hall of Concord Road, a registered nurse, will be part-time clerk, with headquarters at the Parmenter Health Center.

Mr. Fair was a member of the Board of Health for two terms, until the last Town election, and as a member he did much of the work he will be doing in his new capacity.

The Board of Health, which includes Dr. Charlotte A. Stewart, John C. Quinn and Dr. David R. Corey, voted the appointments unanimously.

Last Fall the Board sent to all Town residents a bulletin called Wayland Health News. It promises a second edition, to be sent out soon, to explain details of the new arrangement.

Weston has 125 Civil Defense wardens divided into four districts. The emphasis by the Federal Civil Defense Administration has shifted from "duck and cover" to "evacuate".

Mrs. Willard Named Parmenter Trustee

WAYLAND — Mrs. Donald B. Willard has been chosen a trustee of the Parmenter Health Center, taking the place of Waldo Noyes, legal representative of the Harvard Trust Company, who resigned because he felt that he had finished his work in connection with getting the Center started.

The list of trustees now includes Carlisle D. Scotland, president; Mrs. Pierpoint Blair, treasurer; Mrs. Frederick S. Whiteside, clerk; and J. Sidney Stone, George C. Bogren, Ernest C. Tillson of the Harvard Trust Company and Mrs. Willard.

Open Letter

The School Board
Weston, Mass.
Gentlemen:

The First Aid examination records of our high school seniors have again been sent to Red Cross area headquarters, and our boys and girls will soon have their cards certifying that they are proficient in this subject so vital to present-day living. To know that these young people leave our high school trained in what to do in case of accidents gives us parents much satisfaction.

Now, Principal Mueller stopped me on the street the other day and said, "I think you should know that the School Board has decided that First Aid will no longer be taught in the high school."

Imagine my astonishment!

You read the papers and know how prevalent accidents are, but let me quote National Safety Council figures: Our motor vehicle accident rate has reached the staggering figure of 38,500 deaths annually and 1,500,000 non-fatal injuries. The home was the scene of 4,100,100 accidental injuries, 27,500 of them fatal. In industry, there were 47,500 fatal accidents and 4,500,000 non-fatal injuries.

When our young people enter such a world they ought to know the principles of First Aid. There are doubtless "frills" that may be dropped from the school program, but First Aid is a subject vital to present-day living, requiring but twenty periods of instruction, and should be continued. I trust that at your next convenience you will reconsider this matter and will assure us parents that First Aid — a subject useful all their lives — will continue to be taught in our high school.

Very truly yours,
George K. Saurwein
Chairman First Aid

Wendelyn Hodgkins Arrives

WAYLAND — Mr. and Mrs. George A. Hodgkins, now of 144 Central Street, Auburn, Mass., write to announce the birth of Wendelyn Hodgkins at Hahnemann Hospital, Worcester, on June 15.

Mr. Hodgkins was formerly minister of the Trinitarian Congregational Church in Wayland. Mrs. Hodgkins writes:

"Things are going well in Auburn and it is home to us now, yet Wayland will always be a most special place for us."

WESTON — Miss Nancy Cummings, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles K. Cummings Jr., of 455 Concord Road, was scheduled to sail from New York on July 3 on the S. S. Arosa Star to spend the Summer in Great Britain as a member of The Experiment in International Living.

Edward W. Quinn Joins Ad Agency

WAYLAND—Edward W. Quinn of 5 Pequot Road has joined Hoag & Provandie, Inc. Boston advertising agency, as an account executive, after serving as advertising manager of Martin Cerel, realtor.

(Fabian Bachrach)

Edward W. Quinn

He served with the Army Aid Corps in the Pacific Theatre in World War II. In 1949 he was graduated from Clark University and in 1950 he received his master's degree from the Graduate School of Business, University of Michigan. He spent two years with Radio Station WTAG in Worcester, as sales promotion manager.

Mr. and Mrs. Quinn have two children, David, 3, and Deborah, 4 months.

Health Hint for New Residents

The Massachusetts Heart Association says that anybody moving into a new neighborhood should establish contact with a physician before anybody in the family becomes ill.

A good way to find a doctor, they say, is to call the local hospital and get the name of a general practise physician.

In Greater Boston, one may call BEacon 2-5555, the medical service maintained by the district medical society. This will furnish the names of several doctors.

In an emergency, but only in emergency, one may call KEnmore 6-8812, the Massachusetts Medical Society's number, for a physician.

Hospitals near Weston and Wayland are the Waltham Hospital in Waltham, the Leonard Morse Hospital in Natick and the Framingham Union Hospital in Framingham.

The Association says it's a good idea to establish personal contact with a local physician by sending some member of the family for a checkup. In any case, it warns, don't wait until somebody gets a pain at 4 o'clock in the morning before trying to find a doctor.

Wayland Records Are in Sudbury And Vice Versa

WAYLAND — When Sudbury and East Sudbury were separated, back in 1780, they say, Rev. Israel Loring of East Sudbury moved to the church at Sudbury and took with him the church records, which were also the Town records.

Thus it happens that some of the "Wayland" records are now preserved in Sudbury and some "Sudbury" records are kept in Wayland.

The Wayland-Sudbury relationship is a bit confusing. The first settlement of "Sudbury", in 1638, was actually in Wayland, probably along Bow Road and Old Sudbury Road. Within a few years settlers crossed the river and built homes in what is now Sudbury.

As time went on, the distance between the two districts, and the hazards of weather and the river in flood, made it difficult for people on the Sudbury side to get to Wayland to church and Town Meeting.

In 1780 there was a split, with the West side area keeping the name "Sudbury" and the Wayland side becoming "East Sudbury".

In 1835 Wayland assumed its present name. Some think the Town was named for Francis Wayland, a president of Brown University who was interested in East Sudbury, but others aren't so sure.

But one who reads the early History of the Town has to remember that where the text says Sudbury, half the time it means modern Wayland.

Mr. Ewing Speaks At Portia Dinner

WAYLAND — Rev. Donald S. Ewing, pastor of the Trinitarian Congregational Church of Wayland, was one of the principal speakers at the annual Senior Banquet of the Portia Law School, held Wednesday evening, June 20, at the University Club, Boston.

Dr. Ewing, who was awarded an honorary degree at Portia Law School last December, warned against the false goals of security, wealth and position, and urged the graduates to invest their lives through self-sacrifice in values that endure.

Wayland Tops In C. D. Expenditure

WAYLAND—According to a recent issue of Civil Defense News, published by the Massachusetts Civil Defense Agency, the Town of Wayland was surpassed only by the City of Holyoke in taking advantage of the Federal Matching Funds program to secure emergency equipment for Civil Defense purposes.

In Area 1, comprising the Greater Boston area, Wayland stood at the top of all towns with proposed expenditures for the fiscal year 1954-1955 of $14,396.96, one-half of which will be paid by funds appropriated for the purpose by the Federal Government.

According to Civil Defense Director W. R. Hulbert, the main portion of this money relates to the purchase of the rescue truck which is still on order with the Federal Civil Defense Agency. Other expenditures for which one-half Federal funds were secured include two walkie talkies for emergency use by the Police Department, an auxiliary fire training kit including much needed protective clothing for 20 Auxiliary Firemen, base radio station (transmitter and receiver) and remote control for the Fire Department, one-half recurring charges for emergency Civil Defense telephone service, and Auxiliary Police badges.

600 Dance at Wayland Strawberry Festival

WAYLAND — Afternoon thunder showers cleared the air for a cool evening of square dancing June 16 on the Wayland High School Athletic field. Some 600 danced to the music of Joe Perkins, the Kuntry Kaller, who proved so popular with the group that most folks regretted the 11 o'clock closing hour.

Dick and Beth Best of Wayland also were on hand as guest caller for several dances, and to lead a demonstration of square dancing by sixteen fifth and sixth graders also from Wayland. This excellent exhibition proved an incentive to many of the audience for the remainder of the evening.

Strawberry sundaes featured at the refreshment stands proved popular and the committee wishes to thank the following concerns for donations of food: Johnson's Drugs, Marshall's Apothecary, Post Road Liquors, Capps Market, Red Coach Grille, Robin Hood Ten Acres, Higgins Ice Cream, and especially Collins Market and Dath's Package Store.

Mrs. David C. Stewart, general chairman, and Mrs. George F. Johnson, chairman for next year's Strawberry Festival and Square Dance, announce that plans are under way for a fuller evening entertainment with dancing from 8-12 and with accent on teenage and adult participation.

The Wayland Junior Town House, a Red Feather agency, wishes to thank all who worked for and supported this year's successful dance. The Strawberry Festival is the main fund raising activity of the Town House whose activities include support of Boy and Girl scout troops, the operation of a non-profit kindergarten with scholarships available and in focus just now the popular summer Arts and Crafts session at the High School.

2 Towns Pay $13,500 For Mosquito Control

Both Wayland and Weston have been sprayed for mosquitoes again this year, as part of the East Middlesex Mosquito Control Project, and the result seems to be that it's possible to sit out of doors in the evenings in comfort.

In both Towns, it is reported, there are a few complaints, but it generally turns out that the trouble is due to some local bad spot, not to a big swampy area.

The Project as a whole includes more than a dozen cities and towns. The idea was and is that one town can't do an adequate job by itself, because the insects ignore municipal boundaries, but with a larger area good results can be obtained.

Wayland pays $7000 a year and Weston $6500.

A new technique has been used in the last couple of years, it is said. Men on foot go into swamps when the ground is frozen and there is ice on the pools, and spray everything. When the ice melts, the poison sinks into the water and kills the larvae. This is said to be cheaper than airplane spraying, although that is still done.

In case of fire, save people first.

Speaker

At these exercises, Paul E. Zayotti of 16 Orchard Lane, Wayland, was awarded the Hill Basketball Trophy.

Among the graduates this year were Paul Zayotti, Jonathan D. Wilcox of 140 Old Connecticut Path, Wayland, and Quentin R. Searle of 58 Dean Road, Weston.

Sudbury Shopping Center Flourishes

SUDBURY — A second section of the Sudbury shopping center, just now being opened, adds convenience and attractiveness to a business district which has been flourishing for the past three years.

The center was deliberately planned to serve the shoppers of Sudbury, which covers a large geographical area. The first section was built on Concord Road, at the intersection of Route 20, by Edward H. Hills.

In this section are a new post-office, a new branch bank decorated in Colonial style and a building housing a market, gift shop, real estate and insurance office, drug store and a stationery and mimeographing shop. All the structures, both here and in the new section on the South side of Route 20, are in an architectural style which harmonizes with the surroundings and with the general background of the community.

In the new section, built by Donald W. Neelon, formerly of Wayland, are a "5 and 10" variety store, flower shop, TV and appliance store and a jewelry store. A clothing store and barber shop are to be added.

Adjacent are a furniture store, a dentist's office and a beauty shop. There is plenty of parking space. To be added is a professional building for offices.

Edward J. Anderson, superintendent of schools in Wayland, would like some spare copies of the famous Nicholas L. Engelhardt Report on the schools. Two thousand copies were printed and distributed, but now the school department has only one or two copies left.

Wayland LWV To Study Assessing

WAYLAND — The Wayland League of Voters voted to take as its local project for 1956-1957 a "study and evaluation of the assessment method used by the Wayland Board of Assessors."

Mrs. L. William Bertelsen, who continues as president, explains that the purpose is just to find out, not to "breathe down the Assessors' necks", and the the Assessors, George C. Lewis, William S. Lewis and B. Allen Benjamin, have promised full cooperation.

At the annual meeting in May the Board recommended a study of the Wayland Library for next year. However, many of the members had in mind other methods of assessing used in Natick and Weston, and the membership decided to study the Wayland system.

Officers for the coming year: Mrs. L. Williams Bertelsen, president; Mrs. Leslie Flood, 1st vice president; Mrs. Kemp B. Reade, 2d vice president; Mrs. Richard Best, secretary, and Mrs. Egon Weiss, treasurer.

New Trash Disposal Service Is Started

WAYLAND — A new service, intended to take the trash out of Sunday mornings in Wayland and Cochituate, has been launched by Stanley Lacka of Fuller Road, Cochituate; Putt Lynch Jr. of Main Street, Cochituate, and Hank Henry of Newtonville.

They'll call at the home each week, pick up the rubbish and ashes and transport them to the dump, for a small price. It's the L. & L. Disposal Service.

Mrs. D. E. Parker

COCHITUATE — Funeral services for Mrs. Donald E. Parker of 10 Haven Lane, who passed on June 26, were held June 29 at the Waterman-Brown Chapel in Wellesley. The service was conducted by George Brodhead, Christian Science reader.

At last count, 93 boys and girls of school age in Wayland were attending private schools instead of the Wayland public schools.

Grass Is All Over, And What's More, It's Loaded With Worms

For what it costs to keep these handsome surburban Towns covered with grass, a Kansas farmer could plant a county to wheat and add appreciably to the surplus, and they needn't look at us, because nobody around here is going to eat all that breakfast food.

Now grass is a coating supposed to cover bare dirt, which it will do under favorable conditions: that is, in the absence of children, dogs, hens, pigs and the impulse to garden.

Seed for grass costs about as much as an equivalent amount of caviar.

On top of that is the expense of cutting the stuff. That's all grass is for. It's supposed to grow 1-7/8 inches tall and then be chopped off. It's like raising a child to be three feet tall and then keeping him short by cropping his head.

A plain old handpowered lawn mower won't do any more, either. Anybody seen pushing a lawn mower by hand will be accused of not keeping up with the neighbors, and that's not to be thought of. Moreover, to be really up to date, one should buy a new model each year.

Need a Horse

Of course, the boys in the family should handle the grass cutting, and that they'll do. The only trouble is, they have to be caught first, and that involves chasing them with a horse and a rope, and not everybody can tie a slipknot in a lariat.

Buy oats for the horse and they'll spill on the lawn and up will come more oats, displacing grass of the finer type.

Best way to get rid of the grass problem, some say, is to leave the lawn alone. It will then, in the first year, grow daisies, birch shoots, raspberry canes and burdocks. In the next year pine trees and oak saplings will appear, and after 20 more years the old home will look like Robinson Crusoe's hideout on that island, where, it may be remembered, he never cut any vegetation smaller than a tree 8 inches in diameter.

Some use a lawn as a foundation for croquet, but this, they say, leads to broken legs. Ever walk across a croquet pitch in the dark?

Another good way to get rid of grass is to throw a lawn party. This involves putting up a tent, because it's bound to rain, and the tent stakes will gouge the turf nicely. Then, unless precautions, such as picking the guests carefully, are taken, corrosive liquids will spill on the ground, killing the sward, and more turf will be destroyed when the company starts falling down and digging its pointed head into the ground. People sleeping on the grass won't help it any, either.

Big Grass Secret, Too

To become popular with the neighbors, invite all the children over to play baseball on the grass. This will kill so much of it that the cost of broken windows will seem trivial.

Best way out would be to learn to eat the stuff. In this respect, however, man is still away behind the ox and the donkey.

On top of everything else, there's a secret about grass which the seedsmen and the greenskeepers won't tell. The sad fact is that grass, even the best of it, is full of worms. — D. B. W.

Gives Check

Weston Day Camp Opened July 2

WESTON — Sunday, July 1, was open house and registration at the day camps at Weston and Dover being operated by the South Middlesex Association for Retarded Children, with official camp opening the following day. The camps will continue for nine weeks, Monday through Friday, until August 31. Both camps have full enrolments of 25 children each.

The camps will include all the feasible activities of a summer day camp, with mid-morning and mid-afternoon rest periods.

The parents provide a nourishing box lunch of sandwiches and fruit, and the Association furnishes milk and cookies.

These Association-sponsored day camps for retarded children are the first of their kind in Massachusetts and are made possible by the generous response of the public to the fund drive held last fall. Transportation is being provided for the children, either through car pools or by special taxi or bus service.

The Weston camp, on the grounds of the Pathfinder Club, 193 Boston Post Road, is under the direction of Mr. Donald G. Jones of Maynard, special class teacher in Somerville, assisted by his sister, Margaret, a 1956 graduate of Fitchburg State Teachers College, where she specialized in the teaching of retarded children.

Cochituate Girl Scouts Get Award At Camp Nacochwa

COCHITUATE — Brownies and Girl Scouts of Cochituate completed troop activities of this school year last week with a neighborhood outing at Camp Nacochwa. After picnic suppers, games, singing, and folk dancing, all girls gathered around a "campfire", unlit because of the dry condition of the woods, for singing and fellowship.

Council President Mrs. John Garrett in an impressive candle ceremony brought council appreciation to all the troop leaders for their devotion to girls and the Scouting program. Leaders so honored were Mesdames Helen Stevens, Marion Batts, Florence Prouty, Virginia Megson, Natalie Groton, Helen Driscoll, Doris Lucey and Mary Cardellicchio, and Co-Leaders Alice Wildman, Jeanne Johnson, Velma Bowen, Muriel Reynolds, Mabel Stone, Yolanda Malizzia, Jeanne Slotta and Mrs. George Keller.

In a brief Court of Awards Mrs. Garrett presented Second Class badges to Troop 109 Intermediate Scouts Gail and Lois Brousseau, Nancy Cook, Edith and Frances Kelly, Joan Lucey, Betsy Howard, Judy Patterson, Jane Wales and Marilyn Zicuis.

The Hospitality Badge was earned by Linda Gladu, Marcia Howard, Bonnie Huston and Marjorie McCann of Troop 109, signifying that they have had successful experience in the art of hostessing and are prepared to serve in that capacity. In grateful acknowledgement of their leader's service to the troop, the girls gave Mrs. Doris Lucey a world pin which was presented by her daughter Joan.

The closing ceremony was a "Scouts' Own" prepared by Troop 110 under the leadership of Mrs. Mary Cardellicchio and Mrs. Jeanne Slotta, followed by "Taps" by buglers George Newton and Ken Revell.

Troop 36 in Fly-Up

To a Brownie, the day she "flies up" is a happy occasion, for it means that she is eligible to become a Girl Scout. In a recent Fly-Up ceremony, five Brownies of Troop 36 were welcomed into Intermediate Scouting and given Girl Scout pins by Mrs. Robert Megson.

Laureen Dame, Patti Gladu, Karen Campbell, Emily Rizzo and Agnes McCann were congratulated and presented Brownie Wings by their leader, Mrs. Walter Prouty. At the final meeting and cook-out of the troop, held at the home of Mrs. Irving Dame, Jr., attendance stars were presented to Rosamond Bowen, Karen Campbell, Eleanor Calnan, Laureen Dame, Diana Dean, Dorothy Gallagher, Nancy Gallagher, Patti Gladu, Agnes McCann, Mary McCann, Donna Melanson, Miriam Prouty, Emily Rizzo, June Tarr and Kristian Kohler. Troop leaders are Mesdames Walter Prouty, Robert Bowen and Irving Dame, Jr.

Methodist — Weston

Rev. Robert W. Huston

Summer Services at 10 a.m. Nursery provided each Sunday in the vestry by a member of the Couples Club.

The Rev. Jack F. Padgett of Haddonfield, New Jersey will be the summer supply preacher for the first two and last two Sundays of July. Mr. Padgett, an honors graduate of Boston University School of Theology in 1953, has been teaching philosophy and religion at Juniata College and has returned to the Boston Area to complete work on his doctorate. He will conduct the service and preach at each of the 10 a.m. worship services during the absence of the minister, Rev. Robert W. Huston, on vacation.

Mr. Huston will preach the sermon "The Power of Negative Thinking" on Sunday, July 15, just before he goes to the Methodist Youth Center at Rolling Ridge, North Andover, to be the morning chapel speaker for a senior high school youth institute week. He will return to the pulpit on August 5, and the church will continue its 10 a.m. worship hour through September 23.

Twelve new members were received at a recent morning worship. Those joining by transfer from other denominations and by confession of their faith were received in a special service by Rev. Robert W. Huston, minister, assisted by Mrs. Charles Law, chairman of the membership and evangelism commission.

Joining on confession of their faith were Mr. and Mrs. Robert A. Mills of Pequot Road, Wayland, and Lorenz J. Finison II of 31 Cart Path Road, Weston. Transferring from the Allston Methodist Church were Mr. and Mrs. Henry Maloof of 319 North Avenue, Weston; from the Methodist Church of Fall River, Massachusetts, Mr. E. Brayton Durfee of Happy Hollow Road, Wayland. Mrs. E. B. Durfee joined by commendation from St. Mary's Episcopal Church of Manchester, Connecticut; Richard J. Rice of Pequot Road from St. Paul's Episcopal Church of New Haven, Connecticut and Mrs. Rice by commendation from Christ Church (Episcopal) in Waltham.

Mr. Cyril MacKenzie of 454 Conant Road, Weston, was commended by the Episcopal Church of Watertown; while Mrs. MacKenzie, from the Mt. Morris Pennsylvania Methodist Church and their daughter, Nancy MacKenzie from the Union Church of Watertown.

The new members were welcomed by the congregation in the formal service and later at an informal "coffee hour" in the vestry. Assisting Mrs. Law at the coffee hour were Mr. and Mrs. Bill Brown, Mrs. Vincent Lisanti, and Robert Loesel.

First Baptist — Weston

Joseph E. O'Donnell, Jr., Minister

July 6. The pastor will conduct a train tour to the American Baptist Assembly, Green Lake, Wisconsin. There he will be a counselor and leader at the third section of the Senior High Training Conference. This conference will also be the first national laboratory school for adult workers with youth conducted by the American Baptist Convention. He will return on July 15.

8, 9:30. Morning Worship. Nursery for babies and small children. Special music. Guest minister: Rev. Mr. Norman Olsen, Protestant Chaplain at the Veterans Administration Hospital, Bedford, Mass. His sermon topic: "Divine Love".

Wayland Women Among Authors of Citizen's Book

WAYLAND — Mrs. Rudolph Bruce of Plain Road and Mrs. Janet K. Starr, formerly of Wayland, were two of 33 authors of "Massachusetts State Government; A Citizen's Handbook", a reference work which the League of Women Voters has been preparing since 1950.

Mrs. Rudolph Bruce of Plain Road, Wayland, president of the Massachusetts League of Women Voters, presents a copy of the new League handbook on government to Gov. Christian A. Herter.

The book, published by Harvard University Press on June 29, is said to be the first compendium of the governmental structure of Massachusetts issued since 1930.

Mrs. Bruce, now president of the Massachusetts League of Women Voters, has been prominent in Vokes theatricals and in Wayland community activities. She has two sons.

Mrs. Starr, now of Old Connecticut Path, Framingham, is active in Republican politics. A graduate of Wellesley College, she has three young sons.

"Tad" Crawford Goes to Rombas

WESTON — Harry C. Crawford III, "Tad", son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry C. Crawford Jr. of 111 Summer Street, will go to Rombas, France, next year for a year of study. He will be the first Weston boy to go to Rombas, whence two girls have already come for a year of study at Weston.

The new student from Rombas next year will be Andre Roesslinger, 16, who comes highly recommended. Andre is in the Rombas equivalent of the high school junior class, so he will have one more year at Rombas when he returns. In Weston, Andre will stay with Mr. and Mrs. Crawford and with Mr. and Mrs. Walter H. Stockmayer of 20 Pigeon Hill Road.

"Tad" is also 16, a junior at Weston High, where he is a member of the National Honor Society and an outstanding cross-country runner. After spending the year at Rombas, he will have his senior year at Weston High.

Nicole Maitre, this year's Rombas student, will sail for home August 20.

Co-chairmen of the Affiliation Committee for next year are George B. Foote and Ralph M. Hower.

Richard Chamley: Denied application for repair shop in basement of residence at 16 Greybirch Lane.

Domenic F. Dicori: Granted sideline variance for porch at 13 Valley View Road.

Weston has more than 4000 motor vehicles on the road — the next to highest family ownership in the state. But its auto insurance rates are among the lowest.

Seniors Shine in College Tests

Weston — Of the 52 seniors in the Weston High School 16 have taken the College Entrance Examination Board Aptitude and Achievement Tests, and the recent report from the CEEB make it possible to answer two questions often raised about the Weston schools, i. e., does the group at Weston High School provide the high-level competition which pupils need in order to do their best possible work, and do the bright pupils do as well on these important measures of college readiness as they should be expected to do?

The CEEB report seems to justify affirmative answers to both questions.

The 16 seniors who took the March achievement tests were among the ablest pupils in the class, though some of the ablest did not take these tests. Amherst, for example, does not require them. These 16 pupils took three achievement tests each, or 48 in all, chiefly in the fields of English, social studies, French and advanced mathematics. Comparing their performances with those of the pupils all over the U.S. who took these tests, we find:

33 per cent of the Weston scores exceeded 95 per cent of the whole group.

40 per cent of the Weston scores were in the top tenth of the whole group.

71 per cent of the Weston scores were in the top quarter of the whole group.

96 per cent of the Weston scores were in the top half of the whole group.

100 per cent of the Weston scores were in the top three-quarters of the whole group.

The median Weston score exceeded 87 per cent of the scores made by the whole group.

Birds, Beasts And Fish Flourish In Beauty Spot

There's a spot in Wayland where time stands still, where the developer doesn't raze the forests for new houses, where the meadows aren't filled in for road building, where existing beauty is cherished, rather than expended in the name of "progress".

This spot is an area of 60 acres or so in North Wayland, bounded by Claypit Hill Road, Concord Road and Glezen Lane, owned by Georges Barrel. Here one can still find lovely pine woods, out of which flow cold clear springs, marshy land with unique vegetation, high ground covered with forest walks, and a natural stream dividing the whole. This stream has never run dry, being fed by numerous gushing springs, and it is the headwaters of Wayland's loveliest watershed.

Back in the 1600s, according to ancient Town records, the road from Watertown passed by here on what is now Clay Pit Hill Road. And here one can still see the cellar holes of the two houses in this region, deeded in Town papers by Wayland's earliest settlers. Mr. Alfred Cutting owned this land, and his ancestors got the land from the Indians; it has now passed for only the third time in history to Mr. Barrel.

Natural Brook

Mr. Barrel used to live on Glezen Lane in what is now the Benson house. In those days (1915 thereabouts) there were few houses in this part of Town, and Mr. Barrel used to walk over to his "camp" on Claypit Hill Road, where he started clearing the land and building his house.

He was, then as now, interested in wildlife and the conservation of bird, fish and animal populations, and he saw a great opportunity to create a refuge for them on his own plot of land.

On a hill he placed his house, surrounded by a cleared field, backed by lovely woods, overlooking meadows and a fast flowing clear stream. The Phillips Wildlife Laboratory was greatly interested in this stream, recognized as one of the few remaining natural brooks in this area. The headwaters are somewhere in the land described above, fed by many many springs and four major swamps which give birth to the so-called Clay Pit Hill Brook.

This brook flows about two and a half miles in all, first paralleling Concord Road through the marshes to Plain Road, where it opens out into two ponds. The lower of these was dammed up years ago to form our present Mill Pond, the skating center of Wayland at this time of year. From here it flows across Mill Brook Road and through the center of Town, by the High School, finally entering the Sudbury River at Pelham Island Road.

Mr. Barrel had long noticed trout in the waters he owned. In the interests of conservation and to encourage more natural environments for wildlife, he formed a group of friends who joined together to stock his ponds with trout. They hired a dredger to clear a channel through the marshlands below his house, and formed a series of small ponds.

(Present members of the group are Mr. Barrel, C. Malcolm Campbell, Gerald Henderson, John Henderson, Bradford E. Kelleigh, Waldo J. Kelleigh, Albert Lawrence, Willis B. Ryder and George W. Shepard.)

The bottoms of the ponds were thick with hundreds of years of sedimentation, making a murky bed of humus under all the waters. After dredging this out, however, the good old Wayland gravel bottom was found, so now the ponds are clear and clean. The fish themselves now keep the waters free with their natural fanning action, and the swift current carries away any debris.

That current is one of the reasons that water north of Clay Pit Hill Road never freezes over. The other, and main reason, is that the temperature of the brook is relatively warm, thanks to the many springs, which pour forth 50-degree water all year long. However, south of this road, the current is slowed by a large swampy area, and in Winter this is usually frozen, much to exploring skaters' delight.

To get back to the trout in this small hatchery. Not only are they in their natural habitat, but so are black duck, wood duck, otter muskrat and pheasant, which also abound on Mr. Barrel's land. The otter apparently come up stream from the Sudbury River to feed in the ponds. They may spend a night or two "on the town", and then retire once again to their own homes.

None of the ponds, each with its dam, is screened, so all wildlife can pass easily to and fro. The fish thrive. The ponds don't have to be restocked each year as the trout reproduce naturally. Probably millions of eggs are produced each year, but only four or five out of each thousand will develop to maturity.

Mr. Barrel also provides duck houses for the comfort of his feathered visitors, and right now is eagerly watching a big hole high in a hillside oak tree. A large flicker has been working on this project, and Mr. Barrel proclaims it is just right for next season's wood duck family, should it choose to take up residence.

For a while he had trouble with raccoons raiding the duck houses. Their big paws would reach in the doors and steal the eggs. Several "architects" designed new duck houses, to no avail, until someone realized the animal's great weakness—his fetish for keeping his paws clean. Now all houses sitting on their poles are protected by a band of encircling sticky pitch, and the coons rob no more.

Nature proceeds as she has since before the first two settlers built their crude shacks on Clay Pit Hill Road, and wildlife lives undisturbed in this quiet kingdom.—Sonia Spalding.

Poem

A Weston resident, cleaning out his desk one rainy Sunday afternoon, came across this poem, written back in 1950:

Many of us feeble duffers
Like to think we act as buffers
'tween the veil and duster set
And the modern bop coquette.

The modern girl now cuddles up
To some hot rod smart alec pup.
The older girls just loved a fella
Who could sing old "Dardanella".

Stone Bridge Bill Is Up For Action

WAYLAND — Rep. James DeNormandie of Lincoln and Senator Charles W. Olson of Ashland, working together, recently rescued the Stone Bridge project from a study bill into which the Legislature had dumped it, and the project has been returned to the Senate Ways and Means Committee for action.

Mr. DeNormandie says he is hopeful that the bill will pass at this session. The money is available under the hurricane bond issue. About $180,000 is involved. The Town, however, must act to take land for the new opproaches.

Nor should this be difficult, he says, because the present plan is to place the new bridge about 100 yards upstream, where it will not involve any houses. The new location would also serve to straighten a bad curve in Stonebridge Road. Frank Kilburn, Town Counsel, has been working on the matter with the legislators.

The Stone Bridge, of historical interest, was badly damaged in a hurricane flood. For many months it was impassable, and only recently a Bailey bridge has been laid over it, providing passage for one vehicle at a time. The idea is to patch up the old span and save it, while building a modern span nearby.

Bypass Is Dead

What happened was that a cog slipped in the legislative machinery.

The Stone Bridge thing was dumped into a general "study bill", which slipped through both House and Senate. This was equivalent to killing it for a year. In this study bill also reposes the Wayland bypass proposal, which is dead for this session.

But after the study bill passed the Senate, Senator Olson moved for reconsideration and obtained it. Now the bill is back on the rails, with what Mr. DeNormandie thinks is a good chance of passing.

He also thinks the Wayland bypass may get favorable action in about another year. He says there is a growing realization that the Wayland Center situation has changed a good deal, and that before long something will have to be done about it. A bypass, of course, would do for Wayland Center what the existing bypass has done for the center of Weston.

Meanwhile, work is supposed to have started by now on the new bridge over the Sudbury River on Old Sudbury Road. This also replaces a bridge of historical significance, which also will be saved. The canal bridge will be destroyed, but the four-arch bridge, which dates back to the 1790s, will become a monument. It was near this spot that King Philip's warriors were beaten off in April, 1676, when they tried to burn the Town.

Money for this bridge is available under a Town, County, State arrangement, with the State paying the lion's share.

Old Names Show Up In 1875 County Map

WAYLAND — Maps of Wayland, Cochituate and Weston are shown in a county Atlas of Middlesex, published in 1875 by J. W. Beers and Company of 36 Vesey Street, New York.

Individual pages in the book are 11 by 14 inches. Many of the houses are shown, with the names of their occupants.

Both the Wayland and Weston maps show the line of the "proposed" Massachusetts Central Railroad, the one which was built in the 1880's and still runs.

On the Wayland map are shown the names of Gleasons, or Glezens, for whom the lane is now named. Also on the map are the names of Shermans, Lokers, Bents, Parmenters, Cuttings, Heards and many others famous in the early history of the Town.

On the Weston map are the names of Rev. E. H. Sears, the Hubbards, the Joneses, the Fiskes, the Warrens, the Coburns, the Cases, the Leadbetters, the Uphams and others.

In the front of the book the population of Wayland is given as 1240 in 1870, and of Weston, 1261, in the same year.

The Summer Season is Quiet

Wayland

Weston

Cochituate

It wouldn't be correct to say that these Towns are dead in Summer, but they are quieter then.

People on vacations, schools closed, children away or sleeping late in the mornings, civic and social organizations in low gear, everybody trying to take it easy. . . .

However, the pictures above give an exaggerated impression of the Summer calm. For sake of the gag, the photographer got up early one morning to make shots of scenes which are lively during business hours at any season. (Photos by Stuart Harnish)

Water at Town Hall Site Causes Alteration of Basement Plans

WAYLAND — Springs of water were struck at the bottom of the excavation being made for the basement of the new Town Hall, and as a result some changes are being made in the construction plans.

F. Clifton Haynes, chairman of the Town Hall Building Committee, says borings were made before construction was started. However, the borings didn't happen to hit the particular places where the water is.

What they'll do, he says, is build a "boat" of thick waterproof concrete. Tile drains around the foundation will carry off the spring water into Mill Brook in ordinary seasons. In flood time, a valve can be closed to keep the brook from backing up, and in case of necessity a pump can be used.

Mr. Haynes says that while striking water was not a pleasant surprise, the problem it poses is not uncommon and there are accepted engineering techniques for meeting it. In fact, he says, the same thing happened when the present Wayland High School building was being constructed, and there has never been any trouble from the springs there.

The basement, 74 feet by 34, is for Civl iDefense. It will contain a control center, a communications center, a room for auxiliary generators and a pistol range. It will be 8 feet, 6 inches deep. The rest of the building will be on a slab, up out of reach of any recorded flood.

Under the basement, says Mr. Haynes, will be 8 inches of drainage rock. On top of that will be 3 inches of concrete, with a waterproof membrane, and on top of that 12 inches of reinforced concrete. That's the cellar floor. The walls will be concrete, 16 inches thick, waterproofed.

The springs do not produce a torrent. The water seeps gently out of the sand on the North side of the basement. One day recently it was running off in a little brook a foot or two wide and two or three inches deep.

In a community not so well supplied with moisture as Wayland the people might have been glad to see such water. They said it was of the best quality, clear and cold.

Mr. Haynes replaced John W. Leavitt as chairman of the building committee. Mr. Leavitt resigned when his term as Selectman ran out.

2d Polio Shots at Parmenter Center

The Wayland Board of Health has received word from the State Health Department that polio vaccine will be available soon, and has arranged a schedule for inoculations at the Parmenter Health Center for second shots.

Weston has not yet received its notice. When it does come, says Mr. David Moxon, health agent, the Salk vaccine will be made available to family physicians and a public clinic will probably be held also. But there is no schedule as yet.

In Wayland, 1700 first shots were given earlier this year to children under 15 and to prospective mothers.

In cooperation with the Wayland Board of Health, Miss Roberta Jacobs, director of the Parmenter Health Center, has arranged this schedule of inoculations, to be held at the Center, free:

July 31, at 10 a.m.: For those with surnames beginning from A through H.

July 31, at 11 a.m.: For those with surnames from I through M.

August 9, at 10 a.m.: Surnames from N through R.

August 9, at 11 a.m.: Surnames from S through Z.

There will be a makeup clinic for those who miss the regular ones on August 14 at 10 a.m. at the Center.

Eligible for the shots, which are free, are those under 15 who have had the first shot, as well as those who haven't had the first; infants who are 3 months old or more, and expectant mothers, whether or not they have had the first shot.

To receive the inoculations, says Miss Jacobs, people must apply for forms at the Center and turn them in, filled out, before July 23. The Board must have these forms before it can order the vaccine from the State Health Department.

It is recognized that Summer is a difficult time to round up children. However, says Miss Jacobs, the State Health Department thinks it a good idea to try to get as many as possible before Labor Day, which is considered the peak of the polio season. Last year there were something like 16 cases in Wayland.

Vaccine will also be made available to the physicians in Town. Local doctors will give the shots at the Center.

In Weston, says Mr. Moxon, 900 first shots were given in June at clinics and 315 in doctors' offices. He, too, recognizes the difficulty of giving the second shots in Summer, when so many children are out of Town.

Nomination Papers, Registration Dates

Nomination papers for candidates for State offices at the Sept. 18 primary are due to be returned to the Town Clerks of Weston and Wayland by 5 p.m. on Tuesday, July 24.

Town Clerk Leila Sears of Wayland announces a schedule of special registration dates for new voters:

Tuesday, July 24, 2 to 5 p.m., at Town Hall. Monday, Aug. 6, 8 to 10 p.m., Town Hall. Friday, Aug. 17, noon to 10 p.m., Cochituate Branch Library. Wednesday, Sept. 26, 8 to 10 p.m., Town Hall. Friday, Oct. 5, noon to 10 p.m., Cochituate Branch Library.

At Weston, Town Hall is open for registration of new voters every day from 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. As required by law, however, the Registrars of Voters will be in session until 10 p.m. on Aug. 17, the last day for registration for the primary.

In Wayland, Miss Sears insists that the registrants bring either a birth certificate or equivalent proof of citizenship. The equivalent, she says, may be Army discharge papers, long form; baptismal certificate, if baptism occurred soon after birth, or a passport for a native born person.

In Weston, Town Clerk Edward M. Dickson's office does not insist on having birth certificates, although it reserves the right to demand such proof. Statements by registrants are made under oath.

The Clerks are careful about these things, it is explained, because cases have occurred in which persons not citizens have voted for many years.

Weston Playground Program Flourishes

WESTON — The Summer recreation program started June 25 and these first few weeks have been very successful. The playground has an average of 170 children per day participating in various sports suited to their age levels.

The arts and crafts program is very popular. A total of 568 children were registered as of July 11, and the daily session averages 60 children. This year the children have been making articles for the Metropolitan State Hospital in Waltham.

The shop for children over 8 has registered 134, and 300 articles of wood and metal have been made.

As of July 10, the swimming pool had issued 2356 badges and 8553 persons had used the facilities. Swimming classes have been full and the children have been developing their skills rapidly.

Summer Fish Story

In a Town not far from here, it is reported, the Summer situation was sensationally complicated for a few days by a hornpout egg.

In one house the water suddenly stopped flowing. Men came and blew out the pipes. Then the water came back on, but it was indescribably fragrant.

In an effort to drain away whatever was causing the trouble, they attached a hose to a basement outlet. Then the hose burst, leaving three inches of water in the cellar.

They took a sample of water for analysis, and there was fish scale floating in it.

The explanation seems to be that while there is a perfect filter system at the Town's reservoir, tight enough to keep fish out of pipes, it's not small enough to keep fish eggs out. Presumably a hornpout egg got through and hatched in a pipe between the street and the house, grew to be as big as a sardine and then perished.

Under the circumstances, water wasn't used in the house for a week, and they say life in it was gay indeed.

Not to identify the Town where this happened, its telephone exchange is called Clearwater.

New Weston Truck

WESTON — The Town has awarded a contract to the International Harvester Company for a new dump truck, 25,000 pounds gross vehicle weight, for the Highway Department, at a price of $6,162. Delivery is promised in 45 days. The money was voted at March Town Meeting.

Wayland V.F.W. Dinner, Aug. 8

WAYLAND — The 10th annual banquet and dance of Wayland Post 6260, V.F.W., in honor of National Commander Timothy J. Murphy of Boston, will be held at Ten Acres, State Road East, at 7:30 p.m. Aug. 8, and many distinguished guests, including Gov. Herter, have promised to attend.

Commander of the Post is George J. Monreau, and tickets may be obtained from John H. Rooney, 22 Hawthorne Road, OL 3-9208. Chairman of the committee is James Garvey, and members include John H. Rooney, John Bryant, John D. McEwan, Sylvester Landry, Joseph P. O'Day, William A. Rowe and Philip Harrington.

At least 300 guests are expected.

No Town Meeting Until September

WAYLAND — Chairman Frank C. Tarr of the Board of Selectmen says that while it had been hoped to hold a special Town Meeting on the school situation in August, it has been found that it will have to be delayed until September.

NEWS ROUNDUP

Raytheon is going to have an exhibition of art works created by its employees of all classifications at the Waltham plant, Sept. 14 to 28. Deadline for submitting entry blanks is Aug. 15. Three top prizes will be $10 gift certificates for materials at a Boston art store.

Meetings of the West Suburban Area Group, Boston Chapter of the American Association of University Women, will be resumed in the fall.

The Middlesex Health Association provided chest x-rays for 27,970 local residents last year.

"Mothers Association" Now "The Mrs. Club"

WAYLAND — To straighten out a confusing similarity of names, members of the Mothers Association voted at their June meeting to change the name of the organization to "The Suburban Mrs. Club". The Mothers Association had been getting all mixed up with the Mothers Club, which is something else.

The Mrs. Club, which now has about 30 members, does not insist on motherhood as a requirement for membership. It started in Wayland and Cochituate, but some of its members live in nearby towns.

Big Games Coming Up in Way-Co Baseball Program

WAYLAND—With the approach of the windup of regular league activity in the different divisions the Way-Co program now swings into play-off and "All Star" series. In the Little League Division, the White Sox and the Indians of the Wayland teams will square off with the Braves and Cardinals, with the first games scheduled for Wednesday, July 18. These teams are the respective winners and runners-up of both sides of town and the winners of the first game will meet at the High School Field on Friday evening, July 20, for the Division Championship. Coaches Bob Paine of the Indians, Jerry Joyce of the White Sox, Phil Harrington of the Cardinals and Tony English of the Braves are all busy preparing their teams for this top game of the season.

On Saturday, July 14, the Cochituate All Stars were scheduled to play the Wayland All Stars in the first game of a best-of-three series for the Town Championship. The second contest will be played at Cochituate on Saturday, July 21, with a double header in the making should the teams be tied up after the second game. These Saturday contests will be held at 4 o'clock and it is hoped that a good crowd of parents will be on hand to cheer home their favorites.

From the two squads of All Stars Coach Bill Morris will choose his anual Way-Co All Stars and he has planned a lively schedule with six games under lights at Cochituate field. Games with teams from Natick, Ashland and Mendon are already arranged.

In the Little Nipper Division an All Star team from Wayland handled by Coach John Sibley and staff will battle against its Cochituate counterpart for the Town Championship in this Division. Coaches Bob MacKnight and Lockhart Hicks are readying the Cochituate Nippers, hoping to avenge a 21 to 3 beating last year. This series will take place during the week of July 23.

WESTON — Seventeen members of the Weston Fire Department took part in training programs at Bedford Air Base on June 16 and 23, from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. The instruction covered fire department procedure, rescue work and how to fight a plane crash fire. Instructors were Air Force personnel at Hanscom Field.

A Man You Can Trust

This is the wish of the public. This is also the wish of Cochituate Motors as it has been for the past 18 years.

The man on the street must depend on the honesty of his dealer when buying his used car. A nice paint job could hide many defects. When dealing with any of the Salesmen at Cochituate Motors, Russ Hooker or Norman Drennan, you are sure of an honest trade and a fair price because —

Residents Protest Boys' Camp at Dudley Pond

WAYLAND — After two hearings, the Board of Health said it would investigate the circumstances and decide whether to grant a permit to the Lexington Boys Club, Inc., to operate a day camp on Dudley Pond next door to the home of Dr. Edward J. Moynihan on Maiden Lane.

Opponents of the camp were residents of the area, who said it wasn't a suitable place and that the premises did not conform to the rules laid down by the Board of Health.

Representatives of the Boys Club of Lexington, including Guy Newhall of Dudley Road, Cochituate, director of the day camp, said they would do anything required to conform to the Town rules.

The opponents said they just didn't want any camp there at all, as such use might open the way to similar use of property by others in an area zoned for residential use.

Objectors met with the Board of Health and the Board of Selectmen on Sunday morning, July 15, after a public hearing had been held before the Board of Health. The Board, through Chairman John C. Quinn, said it would be bound to issue the permit if it were found that the premises conformed to the regulations. However, as the objectors had raised a question about this, Mr. Quinn said the Board would determine the facts and then make its ruling.

They will probably be held at Framingham Teacher's College.

Women college graduates in this area who would like to join this new A. U. W. group, please get in touch with Mrs. Alan H. Woodcock, Bracket Road, Wayland, ELmwood 8-2217.

G. P. Richardson, superintendent of the Wayland Water Department, says the job of installing water meters in Town residences is 15/23 completed. That is, 1500 have been installed already in 1500 of the Town's 2300 homes. The job should be finished next year, he says.

Moreover, it looked for a time as though the use of garden hoses might have to be stopped for a few hours over July 4, but the new well at Baldwin's Pond was put into service just in time and kept the water flowing. Looks as though restrictions on use of water will not be necessary this Summer.

Town Accountant Norman E. Taylor of Wayland made a vacation trip to Bar Harbor in July.

Mrs. Ralph M. Hower of 467 Concord Road, Weston, boarded a Pan American Clipper July 3 at Logan Airport en route to England, Germany and Italy.

Should there be a Wayland Special Town Meeting this Summer, says Town Clerk Leila Sears, "new voters may vote at such meeting only if they have been registered 20 days or more prior to the meeting." That's the law, she says. Action on the school building program may necessitate such a Special Meeting, it has been reported.

Elmer W. Bigwood of Commonwealth Road, Cochituate, attended the cabinet meeting of the Massachusetts-Rhode Island Association of Gideons held Saturday, July 7, at Orleans, Massachusetts. Mr. Bigwood is editor of the state paper, "The Massachusetts-Rhode Island Gideon".

Weston Boy Wins 2 Tennis Titles In One Afternoon

WESTON — One young man who can not wait for Weston's Town-owned tennis courts to be completely resurfaced is 15-year-old John K. Wyman of 102 Wellesley Street. He has been playing tennis in several other towns this summer and has played in several tournaments in eastern Massachusetts.

On July 8, he won two State titles and was runner-up in a third. He and his partner, Charles Underwood of Sharon, won the State Junior doubles championship (for boys 18 years old and under) at Lowell, as well as the State Junior doubles championship (for boys 15 years old and under).

Not being satisfied with this rugged accomplishment in one Sunday afternoon, he played a third finals match for the singles state championship but was finally defeated, when he was only two heart-breaking games from his third championship.

During the last few weeks he has won the Central Massachusetts singles and doubles championship for boys 15 years old and under held in Worcester, the doubles in the Eastern Massachusetts Tournament held at Wellesley in June, and was runner-up in both the singles and the doubles in the New England tournament held at Longwood Tennis Club in Chestnut Hill.

These tournaments and others are run by the New England Junior Tennis League, sponsored by the New England Lawn Tennis Association. William Hoblitzell Jr., of Weston is chairman of this most energetic New England Junior Tennis League and is running several of the tournaments later to be played this Summer at various parts of New England. Boys who are 18 years and under who would like to qualify for tournament play this summer should get in touch with Mr. Hoblitzell.

Dr. Granholm Gives Rabies Information

WESTON — New England has been free of rabies for quite a few years, says Dr. Paul R. Granholm of 348 Boston Post Road, president of the Massachusetts Veterinary Association, in a Summer statement about the disease issued through the Association.

Rabies still exists, he says, in parts of New York State, in the Midwest and in the South. Recently introduced new vaccines are better than the older ones.

Rabies is a virus infection, he says, transmitted from one animal to another by actual bite wounds. It's not caused by heat, excitement, improper diet, worms or anything except the virus. Too often, he says, dogs which have been teased or excited into a state of near hysteria are mistakenly called "mad" or rabies stricken.

As a tip to vacationists, he says that Canada will not admit dogs unless they have been inoculated. He says that taking dogs to new surroundings exposes them to the possibility, even though seldom realized, of rabies, and he suggests that before a dog is taken on trips his owner should consult a veterinary about the advisability of inoculation.

In the days just before the Revolution, the Golden Ball Tavern in Weston was operated by one Isaac Jones, a notorious Tory. In 1775, this Jones was denounced by a patriot convention at Worcester. People were advised to have no business with him, and "to shun his house and person and treat him with the contempt he deserves."

Riverview Terrace Got Started After A Fire in 1946

WAYLAND—The Riverview Terrace Improvement Association, Inc., was formed in 1946, after three houses burned down on Riverview Circle for lack of town water in that vicinity.

The first meeting place was on Ed Denty's lawn where a group gathered soon after the fire to see what could be done to get Town water in the Riverview section. Mr. and Mrs. W. Higgins offered their empty store as a meeting place for the members. Later, meetings and card parties and other activities were held in a vacant cottage, now torn down. For a time, the Association was located in Mr. and Mrs. Robert Walker's garage. Finally, the Town of Wayland Park Department acquired land on Riverview Avenue, including an empty summer cottage.

The cottage was made into one large room and a cellar was put under it, most of the work being done by members. At the rear of this building was a big deep depression which members cleared and had filled in. Now, with assistance from the Park Department, there is a park which is used for baseball and other sports.

For several years the Association held Field Days on July 4 and Labor Day.

Through efforts of the Association, town water was brought to the Riverview section over Stonebridge road. Some rundown cottages were condemned and torn down.

The present officers of the Association are Ely Preston, president; Mrs. Donald Callahan, secretary, and Mrs. Robert Bullock, treasurer.

The National Morgan Horse Show is scheduled for July 27, 28 and 29 at Northampton, Mass.

ROTC Cadet

Bruce T. Dunnan

WAYLAND — Cadet Bruce T. Dunnan, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. John Dunnan of 171 Concord Road, put in four weeks of Summer ROTC training with the Air Force at Ellington Air Force Base, Texas, ending July 13.

Cadet Dunnan attends Brown University, to which he will return in the Fall.

Heart disease is the chief cause of death nowadays because so many other diseases have been fought so successfully.

First Baptist — Weston
Joseph E. O'Donnell, Jr., Minister

July 22: 9:30, Morning worship. Nursery for babies and small children. Special music. Guest minister: Dr. Everett C. Herrick, President Emeritus of Andover Newton Theological School. His sermon subject: "Samaria."

July 29: 9:30, Morning worship. Nursery for babies and small children. Special music. Guest minister: Dr. James P. Berkeley, Professor Emeritus, Old Testament, Andover Newton Theological School. His sermon subject: "The Many Sided Twenty Third Psalm."

The Weston Council of Churches completed its first cooperative vacation church school on June 29, with an average attendance of 40 children between the ages of 4 and 9.

The teaching staff included Mrs. Robert T. Loesel and Mrs. Melville Martin, kindergarten; Mrs. Fritz Gross, primary; Mrs. Gene Morin and Mrs. Carlton Allen, juniors. Assistants were used in groups for creative activities, recreation and story telling. Assistants were Junior and Senior High girls.

Mrs. J. Bruce Ayer and Mrs. William B. Saunders led the dramatics group. Mrs. Hazel F. O'Donnell led the music group and was organist. Mrs. Jack Williams was registrar and assistant director, and Rev. Joseph O'Donnell was director. On the planning committee were Mrs. Putnam Flint, Mr. Ralph Child and Rev. Robert Huston.

Another school is tentatively planned for the last two weeks of June, 1957.

On July 1 the following were received into membership:

Mr. and Mrs. Lester Johnston, Sr. and Lester, Jr. by baptism; Mr. and Mrs. James Kitchens and their daughter, Laura, by letter from the Ardmore Baptist Church, Winston Salem, North Carolina.

The pastor also reports that the Organ Improvement Fund is now over the top. A goal of $10,000 for the rebuilding of the present pipe organ, has been oversubscribed. Additional gifts will be gladly received with the hope that tower chimes can be added to the present plans for improvement.

For pastoral service, parishioners may contact Elmer W. Bigwood, Local Licensed Preacher, while the pastor is on vacation. Mr. Gutekunst will return to the pulpit on Sunday, August 5, after enjoying a month's vacation at Norway, Maine.

Williams — Lawlor

WESTON — In a ceremony at St. Peter's Church on July 7, followed by a reception at the Weston Golf Club, Miss Jane Cooper Lawlor was married to Mr. William Grey Williams, Jr., USA. The bride, daughter of Mrs. Luke Hamilton Montgomery of Nashville, Tennessee, was given in marriage by Mr. Herbert Crouch of Weston.

(Bradford Bachrach)

Mrs. Williams

The bride's attendants were all from Weston. Miss Sarah H. Hobbs was maid-of-honor, and bridesmaids were Miss Jean Marshall, Miss Martha Ann Gates, Miss Priscilla Mason and Miss Beverely Eaton. Miss Judy Eaton was a junior bridesmaid and Miss Ann Perry and Miss Cynthia Eaton were flower girls.

The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Dearden Lund of Jenkintown, Pa., and Mr. William G. Williams of Fort Washington, Pa. Mr. Daniel R. Fascione of New York City was best man. The ushers were Mr. James Staub of Stamford, Conn., Mr. George Gifford and Mr. Larry Finklestein of Philadelphia, Mr. H. Bentley Crouch of Weston, and Mr. Antoni H. Milkowski Jr., of New York City. Junior usher was Mr. M. Richard Crouch of Nashville, Tenn. Ring bearer was Jamie Peebles of Weston.

The bride was graduated from Weston High School in 1953, from Sullins College in Virginia in 1955, and the Parsons School of Design in New York in 1956. Mr. Williams was graduated from Friends Select School in Philadelphia in 1951, and in 1955 from Kenyon College.

Salvation Army Appeal Workers Are Commended

COCHITUATE—With the "good neighbor" house-to-house solicitation for the Salvation Army's Friendly Appeal in Cochituate rapidly nearing completion, Mrs. Anselm Delaney of Stone Bridge Road, residential chairman, issues a special "thank you" to both her volunteer workers and to the contributors.

Captains taking part were: Mrs. Ernie Richards, Mrs. Edward Gilman, Mrs. John Pelletier, Mrs. Robert McKnight, Mrs. David Abbot and Mrs. Mary Fox.

Aids included Mrs. Roy VanWort, Mrs. Anthony Vincuilla, Mrs. Walter Perrin, Mrs. Norman Miller, Mrs. John Downey, Mrs. Wallace Jones, Mrs. Edward Thorburn, Mrs. Alice Baxter, Mrs. Gladys MacDonald, Mrs. Roy Hall, Mrs. A. J. Perodeau, Mrs. Herbert Schleicher, Mrs. Francis LaFrance, Mrs. Theodore Parker.

Mrs. J. Watson, Mrs. William Rockett, Miss Marie Walker, Mrs. Leonard Widiss, Mrs. Arthur Marston, Mrs. William Loker, Mrs. Arnold Benware, Mrs. Phillip Harrington, Mrs. John Trotman, Mrs. John O'Reilly, Mrs. John Ferguson, Mrs. John Rooney, Mrs. Robert Campana, Mrs. Charles McKeen, Mrs. C. Korengas, Mrs. Mildred Morrill and Robert Hale.

Mrs. George F. Johnson of 7 Haven Lane, Cochituate, is the campaign treasurer. Other members of the committee are Mrs. Helen Tufts, Director of Welfare, and Elmer W. Bigwood, publicity chairman.

A final push is needed if Cochituate is to maintain its proud record of going "over the top" in the Friendly Annual Appeal and anyone who has not contributed may mail or bring his donation to Mrs. Johnson, the campaign treasurer, 7 Haven Lane.

The Weston Fire Department answered 325 "service" calls in 1955, as against a high of 225 in any previous year. This meant more owners locked out of houses, children locked in bathrooms — and more "strange smells."

New Location for Fuller Company

Granville H. Fuller of Orchard Lane, Wayland, stands outside the new Fuller Lumber headquarters on the Boston Post Road in Sudbury.

SUDBURY — The new location of the Fuller Lumber Company on Route 20, next to Twin Maples restaurant in Sudbury, is another of the enterprising "new" businesses serving the area west of Boston. May 1, 1956, marked the opening of the new location, which not only is to replace the well known Brighton plant but is eventually to expand beyond it.

Fuller Lumber Company is not only a lumber company but a building center which specializes in custom and readymade unfinished furniture, kitchen cabinets and fencing. It offers customers a planning service which includes remodelling work on playrooms, unfinished attics and garages.

This service also takes care of the complete building of a new house from stock or custom plans, supplying all the wood materials from framing lumber to interior finish. The company has its own woodworking mill in Brighton which manufactures cabinets, etc., to order.

Complete financing facilities for remodelling and new house construction are available with the Fuller Lumber Co.

The new location consists of six acres of land and a 100-foot building. The building is being converted into an all-glass front exterior for the retail display, with a warehouse being built behind it. Ample parking space, a post and rail fence and lawn complete the picture.

Mr. Granville Fuller Jr., a resident of Wayland, is treasurer of the company. Mr. Granville Fuller Sr., of Wellesley, is president.

Wayland H. S. '09 Has 47th Reunion

WAYLAND — Four of the five living members of the Wayland High School class of 1909 met at Ten Acres on Sunday, June 24, for their 47th reunion, the tenth consecutive gathering.

Class President William Loker and Ernest F. Lawrence, both of Cochituate, attended, as did Margaret Ward Kearney of Brighton and James O'Brien of Essex. Miss Louise Thacher of Merrimac, one of the two living teachers of the class, also attended. Mrs. William Loker filled out the group.

The party had a turkey dinner and talked over old times.

New Wayland Branch Bank Opens, Dressed in Early American Style

Before

After

WAYLAND — The Wayland Branch of the West Newton Savings Bank, first bank ever to be set up in Wayland Center, has opened for business in what used to be known as the Bigwood house, which originally was a Town school, built in 1808.

In remodelling and redecorating, every effort has been made to preserve the early American atmosphere. The new woodwork outside is white with black shutters, and the old bricks have been used in the first floor outer wall. In appearance, the new bank building matches the other structures around the center of Wayland.

The Wayland Historical Society was consulted about the building's background, and it was at its suggestion that the original handmade bricks were used where possible. The Wayland Garden Club has been consulted about the landscaping.

The interior decorating of the bank was done by Mrs. Robert M. Morgan of Old Sudbury Road, of Country Associates. The wallpaper on the long interior wall shows a typical Wayland scene, a wide marsh with ducks flying.

The building has been leased by the bank from the Seabrooke Estates.

Others who will have quarters in the building are Dr. Murray E. Pendleton of Weston, pediatrician; Dr. Alfred Sharpe, dentist; Robert, hairdresser; Charles W. Brennan of State Road East, attorney, and Marshall's Apothecary.

The West Newton Savings Bank was born March 10, 1887, and its growth has been continuous. Its assets now amount to $20,500,000. The decision to move to Wayland was made after five years of study, and the Wayland branch is the West Newton's one and only branch.

Mr. Roland F. Gammons, who was president of the bank for many years and is now chairman of the Board, is a resident of Wayland, as is Jackson Turner, manager of the new branch. Miss Judy Hollis and Miss Janet Shepard, both of Wayland, will be tellers. Cornelius

Shop Takes Ride, Town Saves $5000 On Road Project

WESTON — Mrs. Bernice Caffrey's shop on the Post Road in Weston Center was moved the other day on a truck to an unaccustomed position on the parking lot outside the Town House, as a necessary preliminary to widening 500 feet of the Post Road in the middle of Town.

The activity involved in getting the building from its site to a truck attracted a Summer crowd of spectators estimated at 25. While the shop is at the Town House it is not doing any business.

Meanwhile, the Town has cooked up an advantageous deal with the Commonwealth for the road widening and resurfacing. Weston had appropriated $7500 for the job. Then the Commonwealth allocated $10,000 towards the project and agreed to do it under Chapter 90, the State-County-Town arrangement, and Weston will now get out of it for something like $2500.

The whole job is supposed to be done by Sept. 15 and Mrs. Caffrey's shop is supposed to be back on enlarged and improved premises by Sept. 1

Mansion Inn Can't Be Rebuilt, Says the Board

WAYLAND — The application of Armando Nappi of East Boston for permission to rebuild Mansion Inn and operate it as an eating and drinking place has been denied by the Wayland Board of Appeals.

Two hearings were held on the petition, the second made necessary by a change in the Board's personnel before a decision was reached.

At the hearings a conflict of opinions appeared. Residents of Lakefield, the new development next to the Inn property, were against letting the Inn be rebuilt. Others spoke strongly in favor.

It was the first time a case of this kind had come up in the Town's zoning history. When the Town was first zoned, the Mansion Inn site of nine acres was put in a residential area. As an existing business, however, Mansion Inn was then allowed to remain in operation, with the provision that if the building should ever be 75 per cent destroyed it could not be rebuilt as an inn.

The Board, including Roger E. Ela, Frank A. Smith and Frank A. Larson, was unanimous. Its reasons:

"This property is in an area zoned for residential use. Because Mansion Inn was a business which existed at the time the zoning by-law was adopted, the by-law permitted it to continue as a "non-conforming" use. But the By-law specifically provides that ". . . no building or structure which at the time of the adoption of this By-law was being put to a non-conforming use shall if destroyed to the extent of at least 75% of its insurable value, be rebuilt . . . unless a permit therefor is authorized by the Board of Appeals." Section V (r) of the by-law, which applies to this case, provides in part as follows:

"The applicant shall show to the satisfaction of the Board that the use of the premises for which application is made shall not constitute a nuisance because of noise, . . . or other objectionable features, and that such use shall not otherwise be injurious to the inhabitants or their property or dangerous to the public health or safety. When not so satisfied, the Board shall refuse a permit.

"It is a basic principal of zoning, recognized in the law, that although non-conforming uses are permitted to go on while premises so used con-

16 Articles In Warrant For Special Meeting

WAYLAND — An appropriation of about $600,000 for the Loker Street School, a proposal to rezone 47½ acres of A. William Rowe on Cochituate Road for business and a proposition to buy bleachers for the High School athletic field are on the order of business for the Special Town Meeting scheduled for Aug. 15 at the High School.

In the July 19 Crier it was reported that the special meeting could not be held until September. However, circumstances changed after the Selectmen made this announcement.

The Articles:

1. Bookkeping transfers of money.

2. To rezone Mr. Rowe's property for business. This is the piece opposite Sandy Burr, marked by the sign "Forty Acres Private". Mr. Rowe says he wants to have a first-rate shopping center. The Finance Committee recommends that the Town be guided by the Planning Board.

3. About $600,000 for the Loker Street School.

4. A supplementary appropriation for Claypit School, if necessary.

5. A right of way for John J. Rowan.

6. Money for High School stands. The Finance Committee isn't against it but suggests a committee to study the matter. $10,000 is the figure.

7. A betterment job on 1150 feet of Winthrop Road and Winthrop Terrace. Involves widening, drainage and surfacing.

8. To accept a bequest of $2000 for the Library from the late Dorothy C. Stone.

9. To ask the Country Commissioners to take land for approaches to the new Stone Bridge.

10. To take land for a relocation of Route 30, from Oak Street to the Weston line. Rebuilding incident to toll road construction has made a dangerous curve here, and the proposition is that it be fixed under Chapter 90, with the State paying a bigger share than usual.

11. Drainage problems at the Schofield Farm on Old Connecticut Path, Rich Valley Road and Pequot Road at Cochituate Road.

12 and 13. Drainage easements lower down on Pequot Road.

14, 15 and 16. Drainage easements on Sherman Bridge Road.

Worcester Trains Through Weston?

Should the Turnpike Authority take over the Boston & Albany right of way from Riverside to Boston, it is reported, there may be a change in railroad routes affecting Wayland and Weston.

Wellesley and Newton residents have been protesting the possible loss of service from Riverside to Boston. What they would get in its place, it is said, would be super bus service, with vehicles running express on the toll road and making faster time than the present trains.

Should the Boston & Albany discontinue the Riverside line, it is said, it mght well run its Worcester, Framngham and Boston local trains over the Central Massachusetts. There is a North-and-South railroad track between Framingham and South Sudbury. Worcester-toBoston trains could go to Framingham to South Sudbury and thence along the existing route through Wayland and Weston to the North Station.

This would give Wayland and Weston more trains a day, it is suggested.

Express trains to the West, it is further suggested, could run over the Boston & Maine line between Boston and Ayer. That's the line which cuts through the north part of Weston.

Between Ayer and Worcester is a first class track, which would be the connecting link.

Thus, the Chicago express trains would be racing through Weston instead of Newton and Wellesley as at present.

All these complications arise on account of the toll road's present status. It ends at Nickerson Field in Weston, where a fantastic system of bridges and interchanges is in process of construction. The thing lacking is a direct connection between Riverside and Boston.

Complicating the situation further is the Prudenial Insurance Company's desire to build a huge office structure, at a cost of many millions, in the Boston & Albany's Back Bay yards. A question is whether a toll road running through the yards would make the building project impossible.

The Newton-Wellesley transportation system concerns many Weston residents and some from Wayland, who drive to Riverside and park for the day, taking the train to Boston.

All the Turnpike Authority says is that it's "studying" various routes, including the railroad right of way. (That's what it said when it was considering a plan to run

Stone Bridge Is Saved—State Puts up $187,000 for New Span

WAYLAND — Rep. James DeNormandie's bill to save historic Stone Bridge over the Sudbury River was signed by Gov. Herter on July 26.

It provides $187,000 to build a new, modern bridge 100 yards upstream, about half way between the present structure and the place where the aqueduct crosses the river; to restore the old bridge to something like its original form, and to provide a floodway there, either a big culvert or a ditch.

The project involves building a long quarter mile of new road on the Wayland side. The new section will leave the present Stone Bridge Road at a point where there is now a sharp curve near the Dravieau Farm, across a meadow to the new bridge location.

Just how to get the flood waters by the old bridge will probably be decided by the engineers, Mr. DeNormandie thinks. His first idea was that a big ditch could be dug around the Framingham end of it, making it a bridge to nowhere. However, another idea is that a big pipe underneath might do the business.

A provision of the bill is that the Town of Wayland and Framingham must provide the land for the new bridge approaches.

Mrs. Willard B. Dik, president of the Wayland Historical Society, says:

"I think this is wonderful news. Mr. DeNormandie has done a super

1955 Weston Town Reports Wanted

The Weston Office of Selectmen has received a number of requests for copies of the 1955 Annual Report which it has not been able to fill because extra copies are not available. If there is anyone who has finished with his copy of the report and would be willing to return it to the Town Hall, it would help the Town to fill the requests and would be much appreciated by those who have requested copies.

Coach Strickland Accepts New Job

WAYLAND — Samuel P. Strickland, boys' physical education teacher at Wayland High and coach of several outstanding basketball teams at the school, including the 1956 Dual League championship outfit, has resigned to become assistant principal of Bridgewater High School.

Mr. Strickland had been with the Wayland schools for 10 years. Bridgewater High is considerably larger than the Wayland school.

Mr. Strickland expressed his satisfaction with his years in Wayland in a letter to the Crier (see elsewhere in this issue) and he also sent notes of appreciation to his basketball players.

His 1956 team lost only two games, one to Sudbury, which was wiped out by a subsequent victory, and the final of the tournament in Boston Garden. Tournament winner was Bridgewater.

Letters to the EDITOR

To the Editor:

I have just resigned from the Wayland schools to accept the position of Assistant Principal of Bridgewater High School. After ten years of close relationships in Wayland it makes me sit down for a moment and reflect over the past.

It has been wonderful. I wouldn't change one minute of it for any amount. However, we cannot dwell too long on the past. We must look to the future.

Wayland's future seems to be looming ever brighter in the skies. For this, we can all be thankful. But with all the fine people, with their sons and daughters, Wayland cannot be denied.

Although my own future, for the moment, is going in another direction, I will always be mindful of the fine cooperation and sincerity of the Town of Wayland.

Most sincerely,
Samuel P. Strickland

July 21, 1956.

To the Editor:

A few moments ago a hit and run driver left my little daughter's pet cat dead on the road. She was a pregnant female that was expecting her kittens momentarily. If he or she reads this letter I would like them to know how much grief and heartache they caused when they did this horrible thing. You'll notice that I am not exempting the women. Some of them offend as much as the men.

Accidents happen, but it takes only a few moments to stop and do the humane thing. All too many pet and wild animals are killed in this Town every day because of speeding automobiles. It certainly makes me wonder if our children are safe when I see dead animals on the roads so often.

Sincerely,
Frances Cherry.
(Mrs. E. M. Cherry.)

Open Letter On The Toll Road

July 19, 1956

Hon. Christian A. Herter
Governor
Commonwealth of Massachusetts
State House
Boston, Massachusetts

Dear Governor Herter:

The Board of Selectmen of the Town of Weston would like to bring to your attention a traffic situation involving many potential problems which will affect not only Weston but many other communities.

As you know, the Massachusetts Turnpike, with a temporary eastern terminus at Route 128 in Weston, is well on its way to completion. This will concentrate a volume of traffic estimated at approximately 24,000 vehicles per day in the already overloaded existing roadway facilities which carry traffic north, east and south to and from this terminus. Assuming equal distribution between east and west bound traffic, 12,000 more vehicles will be poured daily into Route 128 and Route 30 many of which will try to find their way through the suburban streets of Newton, Waltham and Watertown to Boston. These secondary roads are already clogged with heavy traffic which makes access to Boston most difficult for residents of all these communities as well as for those of all other communities west of Boston.

Up to the present, no specific plans have been forthcoming either from the Massachusetts Turnpike Authority or from the Department of Public Works for the construction of new, or the modification of existing, facilities to absorb and carry this concentration of traffic away from the Toll Road and into the City of Boston. There is a traffic congestion problem in the making which, we believe, can result in serious accidents and traffic tie-ups in a number of locations. Consequently, we would like to urge that appropriate steps be initiated and action taken to anticipate these problems by providing increased facilities to handle traffic heading to Boston from the area west of 128.

This board is in agreement with the position set forth by the enclosed editorial which appeared in The Boston Herald on July 17, 1956 entitled "Our Western Gateway Squeeze." Such new access routes from the western suburbs to Boston should be provided as additional facilities and in such form that they do not reduce the total capacity of rail and highway route now available to commuters. Nor should communities from west of Boston be discriminated against by failure to provide free expressways comparable to those offered residents to the north and south of Boston. If such failure were motivated by a desire to protect the economic monopoly position of a state created toll road authority at the expense of one segment of our Metropolitan population, it would be inexcusable.

We are confident that you will do everything possible to ensure an equitable allocation of highway facilities among the various geographical sections of the Commonwealth in relation to the present and future traffic needs.

Very truly yours,
Wm. R. Dewey, Jr.
Chairman

Meredith Stebbins Hurt on Mt. Hood

WAYLAND — Meredith Stebbins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. Frederick Stebbins of Nob Hill, received a broken jaw and bruises in a 700-foot rolling fall into a crevasse on Mt. Hood, Oregon, on July 29. She will be a senior at Weston High School this September.

Meredith, 16, was on a Youth Hostel trip in the West and had been gone a month and a half, visiting Los Angeles, San Francisco and other places, and meant to go on to Canada.

Her parents had no idea that mountain climbing was on the schedule, and they got news of the accident by a telephone call from a Boston newspaper at 2 a.m. One girls was killed and several others hurt, as a whole group skidded down the mountain side.

Mr. Stebbins took a plane for Portland immediately, meaning to bring Meredith back if possible. She was in a Portland hospital.

Local Candidates File for Primary

A number of candidates filed nomination papers in the local area on July 17 for places on the ballot for the Sept. 18 primary election.

For State Representative, 7th Middlesex District (Waltham and Weston):

Democrates, James C. Corcoran, Lawrence J. Duffy and James P. McCarthy, all of Waltham.

Republicans, J. Robert Ayers and Edward M. Dickson of Weston, and Joseph F. Twombley, Charles F. Graceffa, Eugene Tougas, Jr., Walter A. E. Anderson and Henry A. Turner, all of Waltham.

This is a double district, with two representatives to be elected in November and two from each party to be nominated at the primary. Incumbents are J. Robert Ayers of Weston and William E. Hayes of Waltham. The latter is not seeking reelection.

In the 10th Middlesex Representative District, which includes Wayland, Sudbury, Lincoln and Hudson, James DeNormandie seems to have been the only Republican to file. He seeks reelection. In Hudson, Hector R. Buteau of Curley Drive of that town filed as a Democrat.

Christian A. Herter, Jr. of Newton and Harris A. Reynolds of 40 Possum Road, Weston, both Republicans, filed for Governor's Council in Weston. Mr. Herter also filed in Wayland.

Charles W. Olson of Ashland, long State Senator for a district which includes both Wayland and Weston, filed in Ashland. He's a Republican. John T. Dias of Framingham, a Democrat, filed in Framingham.

July 24 was the day when the candidates had to file their nomination papers for certification. From the cities and towns their papers were to go to the office of the Secretary of State within a week. Any candidate who may wish to withdraw has until Aug. 3 to do so. Otherwise his name will go on the ballot.

NEWS ROUNDUP

The Weston School Site Committee, which has until Oct. 1 to report, has been meeting at least once a week this Summer, discussing suggested sites and making field trips to examine possible locations. It has used some consultants. The issue is whether Weston schools should be centralized or decentralized, and a Special Town Meeting is expected in the fall.

The Jones House and part of the Weston Town House will be painted in August. Bids for the jobs will be opened Aug. 6. The Jones House will be white as at present.

Nancy Ela of Wayland was one of 24 4-H Club members of Middlesex County who attended the annual Junior Leaders' Conference at the University of Massachusetts, July 9-13.

Dorothy Boesenberg was the Wayland delegate to Girls State at East Bridgewater. George Richardson of Wayland was the delegate to Boys State at Amherst.

Dr. and Mrs. Bernard Stecher have returned home from a long stay on the Cape. Dr. Stecher's office is on Main Street, Cochituate, and his home is at 60 Felch Road, North Natick.

Word has been received from Riverside, Calif., of the birth of Susan Elizabeth Manker on June 21. The new baby's parents, Gretchen and Ray Manker, have two other children, Kathy, 4, and Ray, Jr., 2, both born in Wayland. Ray, Sr. was minister of the First Parish (Unitarian) Church, Wayland, for five years before leaving last August to accept the call to Riverside.

Blake - Melone

Mr. and Mrs. Weston Blake of Weston have announced the engagement of their daughter, Joanna Hill, to Daniel Guy Melone, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Melone, also of Weston.

Joanna Blake
(Bradford Bachrach)

Miss Blake is a graduate of Weston High School and is a sophomore at Smith College. Mr. Melone, a graduate of Weston High School, is completing his final year at The Bentley School of Accounting and Finance in Boston having previously attended Northeastern University.

The late Mr. and Mrs. George Frank Blake of Weston are Miss Blake's paternal grandparents.

Rollie Whelchel Sets New Record

COCHITUATE — Rollie Whelchel of West Plain Street, star Wayland High athlete of a few years ago, set a world's softball record this Summer by pitching 91 1/3 innings without allowing a run.

He is playing for the New Haven Bears this season, and his record is 13 won, none lost. On July 7, with Rollie pitching, the Bears beat the Raybestos Cardinals, world's champs, 1 to 0 in 13 innings.

After playing football, basketball and baseball at Wayland, Rollie attended Cushing Academy two years, then served two years in the Army. Last September he entered Harvard, where he played freshman football. He reports for varsity football on Sept. 4.

Two more resignations from the Wayland school system have been announced by Superintendent Anderson. Mrs. Olivia Hill, teacher in the Cochituate first grade since 1951, goes to a job as reading consultant in the Mt. Kisco, N. Y. schools. Mrs. Judith Uhrig, fourth grade teacher at Center School for one year, has left because her husband has a new job outside the Boston area.

New Heads For 2 Wayland Schools

WAYLAND — Superintendent of Schools Edward J. Anderson announces the appointment of William E. Maxson of Cambridge to be principal of the Center School, and that of Walter F. Doucette to be principal of the Cochituate School.

These positions became vacant this Summer when Mrs. Reta Hubler resigned from the Center School and Mr. Elmer Kane from the Cochituate School.

Mr. Maxson is 38, is married and has two children, was graduated from Amherst in 1940, did graduate work at Middlebury and has a master's degree from Tufts. He majored in history. For the past three years he has been headmaster of the Leslie-Ellis elementary school in Cambridge, an instituion maintained in connection with Leslie College. He has been a teacher and principal since 1945.

Mr. Doucette is no stranger to Wayland. He has been teaching the fourth and sixth grades at Cochituate School since 1951. A native of Waltham, he has a degree from Boston University and is studying for his master's degree there. He served in the Navy from 1943 through 1946 and he is a past president of the Wayland Teachers Club. He is married and has two sons.

Mansion Inn

tinue to exist, it is desirable that uses in an area be brought and kept in conformity with the zoning of the area. By including in the Zoning By-law the provisions under which this Board can permit rebuilding of premises devoted to nonconforming uses when destroyed, the Town recognized that there might sometime be special circumstances under which reconstruction would be justified, where this could be done without harm. For example, such a situation might be the destruction of some small neighborhood store needed for service in the area which could have no harmful effect on the neighborhood. Such special circumstances do not exist in this case.

"Except for two small neighborhood stores, this area is wholly residential in character, and it has become even more so since the zoning by-law was adopted, with the construction of many new homes.

"The proposed operation would include a restaurant with facilities for seating 500 patrons at tables, a cocktail lounge or bar, dancing, and open-air outings, with operating hours from 8:00 a.m. to 1:00 a.m. except that on Sundays they would usually be 1:00 p.m. to 1:00 a.m. The applicant stated at the hearing that he would provide a black-topped parking lot for at least 500 cars and unpaved parking facilities for 500 more cars. The recognized allowance is 300 to 400 square feet per car, so the paved parking lot would have an area of about three and one-half to four and one-half acres. An operation such as this, on this large scale, in a residential area would necessarily have a harmful effect on the neighborhood and property values in the neighborhood. There would obviously be a certain amount of noise from music and automobiles entering and leaving the premises and the general noises of open-air outings. The mere presence of a liquor establishment in a residential neighborhood in itself has some adverses effect on the neighborhood. Any permit which might be issued would continue in force notwithstanding who might own or operate the premises. Even though the operation might be well conducted under present management, there would always be the danger that with a change of management such an establishment might be operated in such a way as to be extremely harmful to the neighborhood and the Town. Older residents will remember that there have been times when such was the case at Mansion Inn.

"The effect on the neighborhood of a new building with a black-topped parking lot of three and one-half to four and one-half acres, which would have the obvious character of an extensive business operation, would be quite different than the effect of the "mellowed" old Mansion Inn.

"There is also the factor that automobile traffic entering Old Connecticut Path at this point from such an extensive operation of this kind would be a hazard, which will increase as traffic on Old Connecticut Path increases by reason of the Toll Road interchange.

"When the Town adopted the Zoning By-law by Town Meeting vote this entire area was zoned for residence. The Mansion Inn tract is sufficiently large so that if the Town had wished to provide for the continuance of Mansion Inn, even if it should be destroyed, it could have done so by zoning this area for business. In subsequent Planning Board studies and Town action on changing the business zones there has been no action recommended or taken to change this tract to business zoning. A departure from the basic zoning pattern of the Town such as is here involved should by by Town vote.

"This land is entirely suitable for residential use. With houses facing a circle drive in the center of the tract, this sightly location could become one of the most attractive residential spots in the Town.

"It is to be regretted that the elimination of Mansion Inn will deprive some residents of the Town of opportunity for employment that they have had in the past. Also, it is recognized that past managements of the Inn have been generous in making its facilities available for certain community activities, and that some residents of the Town have found the Inn a pleasant place to patronize. However, there are other similar possible opportunities for employment and facilities available in the Town and in nearby communities, and these personal considerations cannot outweigh the provisions of the zoning by-law and basic principles of zoning that must control the action of this Board. The factor of hardship on the applicant by reason of loss suffered in the fire has also been considered, but it must be recognized that the present owners acquired the Inn within the last year, while this by-law was in force, and when they knew or were responsible for knowing that the Inn could not be rebuilt as a matter of right if it should be destroyed. People acquiring homes in the neighborhood have done so on the basis of knowledge of provisions of the By-law under which the only right to continue the operation would be while the old Inn existed.

Although consideration has been given to the personal factors of hardship on the applicant and on residents who have worked at the Inn and on local organizations which have used its facilities, the Board, as a semi-judicial body, must be controlled in its judgment by the provisions of the zoning by-law and applicable principles of zoning related to the fact that the Town has zoned this area for residential use. On this basis the application must de denied."

Evi Was Aboard The Rescue Ship, Ile de France

WAYLAND — Evi Krummel from Vienna, who came to Wayland in 1955 to spend a year in the junior class at Wayland High School, ended her adventure aboard the Ile de France at the rescue of the Andrea Doria survivors.

Evi's hosts in Wayland were Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Kriedl of Bennett Road, friends of her parents.

She turned out to be one of the most popular kids in school. On the Saturday night before she left for home a group of school friends showed up for a surprise party for her.

At the party were Joyce Mulligan, Arthur Holmes, Ann Kane, Karin Weeks, Bob Brown, Earl Woods, Ellen Cusumano, Richard Irwin, Emery Irwin, George Richardson, Nick Willard, Judy Simoni, Jeanne Houghton, Eunice Peck, Frannie Brosseau, Tom Cutter, Spencer Richardson, Jean Otto, Jimmy Cornwell and Vivienne Thomas.

Then Evi and Mrs. Kriedl sailed from New York aboard the Ile de France on Wednesday, July 25, and a few hours later were in the midst of the excitement. They planned to go to Paris and then to Italy for a couple of weeks before going to Vienna.

Eiv (pronounced Ay-vee) took part in sports at Wayland High, and at the sports dinner this Spring she was given her jacket a year ahead of time.

After its false start, the Ile de France sailed again on July 27. Her passengers weren't allowed to leave the ship to telephone home, so Mr. Kriedl had no first hand account of the event.

job. Senator Olson was helpful, too, and the Historical Society and the Wayside Chapter, D.A.R were behind the bill all the way. Ray Callahan, president of the Framingham Historical Society, was interested, too.

"The State is doing so much for us, I'm sure the Town will do its part. This will improve the traffic section in Riverview and help that district in many ways."

Just across Stone Bridge on the left, on the Framingham side, is where John Stone made the first white settlement in Framingham in 1646. He came from Cambridge to Sudbury (Wayland) in 1639, and then pushed on. The bridge was named for him, not for its material.

Those who have been interested in the project now hope that steps can be taken, perhaps over a period of time, to have the public acquire a good-sized piece of river front, particularly on the Framingham side and perhaps including the site of John Stone's house. The Town of Wayland already owns a good deal of low land along the river.

They picture a well kept picnic site, perhaps, like other roadside rest areas in the Commonwealth, with perhaps facilities for launching canoes on the river, which is going to be cleaned up some day. It wouldn't be any Coney Island, but a permanent asset to Framingham, Wayland and the Commonwealth.

The old bridge, 200 years old, is interesting in itself as an example of dry masonry, arches built without cement. Besides that, it is the bridge over which the famous cannon from Ticonderoga were dragged in the Winter of 1775-1776, on their way to Dorchester Heights.

Burton R. Clay of 47 Wheelock Road, Wayland, a representative of the Herbert W. Florer Agency of the Aetna Life Insurance Company at Boston, has been attending a four-week course at the home office in Hartford.

254 Attended 5th Crafts Course

WAYLAND — The fifth annual arts and crafts course for elementary school children, sponsored jointly by the Junior Town House Association and the school department, ended a successful four-week program on July 27, with an enrollment of 254 and an average daily attendance of 140.

The children did hand work of all kinds in wood, leather, textiles, metal and plastics, with plenty of time out for recreation.

Mrs. Lillian Jones, High School art teacher, was director again, assisted by Mrs. Eva Gately, fourth grade teacher at Happy Hollow; Mrs. Betty Morin, Mrs. Evelyn Stearns of Framingham and Miss Ruth Bailey, High School librarian.

Junior and Senior High School students who helped out were Ernest Cherry, Judy Cherry, Martha Collins, Kenneth Berger, Cynthia Dunnan, Linda Clausen, Ruth Fichter, Robert Kenyon, Mary Lee Genay, Deborah Hill, Joanna Duggan, John Gebhart, Austin Letson, Virginia Martin, Dona Herland.

Worcester Trains

the toll road right through the middle of Wayland.)

One Weston citizen suggests that this talk about taking the railroad right of way may be a shrewd "snow job". He thinks this way: Suppose the Turnpike Authority puts up this railroad route and lets all the opposition focus on it, and then says, "OK. nobody wants this line, so we'll run the road down along the Charles River." Then the opposition has perhaps spent itself and the public may accept the alternate route without too much grumbling. And perhaps the Charles River route is the one the Authority has preferred all along.

Building Committee Explains School Issues up for Action

WAYLAND — The Special Town Meeting called for Wednesday, Aug. 15, will consider two Articles on the school building situation. One calls for building the Loker School at the same time as the Claypit Hill School, and the other may not require action.

Two weeks ago the Selectmen believed it would be impossible to hold the Special meeting before September, and it was so reported in the Crier. However, a few days later the situation changed. The School Building Committee encountered timetable complications which made it important to have action taken immediately.

As the Committee explains, the idea of building the two schools simultaneously is to save money for the Town.

Ground has already been broken on the Claypit Hill site, and the Building Committee ventures a hope that, with good fortune, this school building may be ready for use by April 1, 1957.

The problem of overcrowding between September and April is to be met, it has been decided, by having double teachers, plus teachers' aids, instead of double sessions.

Here follows the report of the Building Committee:

At the request of your School Building Committee the Selectmen have called a special town meeting on Wednesday, Aug. 15, 1956, for the principal purpose of considering action on school building matters. We all recognize that this date, coming at the peak of the vacation season, is inconvenient for many. Accordingly, this report is (1) to explain the need for a meeting at this time, (2) to outline the progress made to date, and (3) to acquaint you with proposals to be presented at the Aug. 15 meeting.

At the special town meetings of Feb. 15 and March 7, 1956, funds were appropriated in the amount of $25,000 each for plans and specifications for two 14-room elementary schools to be located on the Claypit Hill Road and Loker Street sites. In addition, $600,000 was appropriated for construction of the Claypit Hill school.

Because of the threatened steel strike, which has since become a reality, the steel work in the Claypit Hill school was designed and bid in advance so that, insofar as possible, steel supplies would be available when needed and at prestrike competitive prices. In addition, the driveway, water line, drainage, parking lot, grading and seeding work at this school has been bid separately, and the first stage of this work started, so that the site will be ready for actual building construction when the main contract is awarded.

As your Building Committee turned its attention to the Loker Street school project, it was determined that the Claypit Hill plans were equally adaptable to the Loker site, and that costs might be held down significantly if the two schools could be bid together. After consulting its Advisory Committee, the Committee adopted this approach. Since then, all efforts have been devoted to overcoming the numerous engineering, legal, and technical problems, including necessary State approvals, in order to bring both schools to the bid stage at the same time.

The problems involved in combined bidding on the two schools are substantial. This is why your Building Committee finds it necessary to request a Special Town Meeting Aug. 15 if it is to secure the expected cost advantages for the Town without unduly delaying the Claypit Hill school.

For example, to qualify for the 50% State reimbursement, we must get the School Building Assistance Commission's final approval of the Loker Street school plans. While this Commission has given preliminary approval, it won't grant final approval until after the Town has voted to build the school. And to complicate matters further, the Commission's only meeting between now and September is on August 17. Furthermore, to obtain authority for the necessary borrowing, the Town Treasurer must get approval from the State Finance Board; but that Board won't act before the School Building Assistance Commission has finally approved the plans. And, still further, without the assurance of funds, your Building Committee, of course, can't contract with any builder.

Thus, the following time schedule has been arranged by the Building Committee:

July 18: Construction bids called for on Claypit and Loker Street schools.

Aug. 9: Construction bids to be opened.

Aug. 15: Special town meeting to act on these bids.

Aug. 17: Meeting of State School Building Assistance Commission.

Aug. 20: Meeting with State Finance Board.

Under this schedule, if the Loker Street building is authorized by the Town and obtains the necessary additional State approvals, contracts could be awarded on both schools shortly after Aug. 20.

Bids on these two schools are being taken on two alternate bases: (1) the Claypit Hill school alone, and (2) the Claypit Hill and Loker Street schools combined. In this way, if the Town should decide not to authorize the Loker Street school, construction of the Claypit Hill school could nevertheless be started immediately under previous authorization. On the other hand, should the Town authorize the Loker Street school it is expected that significant cost advantages will occur under the combined bid and work would go forward on both buildings at the same time.

The Town Warrant for the Aug. 15 meeting, which you will receive at the same time as this report, contains two Articles relating to school construction. One, as indicated above, raises the question of authorizing construction and eqiupment of the Loker Street school and appropriation of funds for this purpose; your Building Committee plans to recommend an amount at the meeting based upon the outcome of the bids to be opened Aug. 9.

The other article is to guard against the possibility that the Aug. 9 bids may exceed the funds appropriated by the Town for the Claypit Hill school. Your Committee at this time has no reason to expect those funds to be insufficient. However, these are highly uncertain times costwise. The Committee plans to move that this Article be "passed over" if bids are within existing funds.

To provde for the increased enrollment coming this autumn, part of the Claypit Hill classroom equipment will be purchased in advance and used in existing school buildings. By September 1957, however, no makeshift arrangements can cope with the indicated deficiency in our classroom space. At that time we are likely to need at least 19 elementary classrooms more than are available in present buildings, and this deficiency will be 24 or more if kindergarten classes are added. The need for both the Claypit Hill and Loker Street schools by September 1957 seems to your Committee both obvious and urgent.

We ask all of you who can do so to be present at the Special Town Meeting on Aug. 15.

Wayland School Building Committee: John B. Butler, Ray W. Harris, Cornelius J. Maguire, Daniel H. Sheehan, Edward F. Thorburn, William A. Waldron, John F. Yeager. Edward J. Anderson, Secretary, and Allan R. Finlay, Chairman.

Wayland V.F.W. Post is Host to Commander Murphy

WAYLAND—Members of Wayland V.F.W. Post 6260 were hosts to Timothy J. Murphy, National Commander of the V.F.W., and many State, Town and National dignitaries at a reception and dinner at Ten Acres on Aug. 8. Three hundred attended.

A. William Rowe of Wayland spoke first, introducing James E. Garvey, chairman of the committee, who then presented George A. Monreau, Jr., Commander of the Wayland Post. Commander Monreau, on behalf of the Post, gave Commander Murphy a diamond wrist watch.

On the committees:

Publications, William Rowe and Tom Garvey.

Tickets, Quartermaster Joseph O'Day, John McEwen, Philip Harrington and John Rooney.

Program book, Francis Hartin and Bill Evens.

Dinner arrangements, Sylvester Landry, Kenneth Ringer and Frank Woods.

Entertainment, Chaplain John C. Bryant and Carl F. Lindbohm.

Chaplain Bryant gave both the invocation and the benediction.

Commander Murphy made the only speech. Other guests took bows.

The guest list:

Congressman Harold D. Donohue; Congressman Donald W. Nicholson, Congresswoman Edith Nourse Rogers, Richard I. Furbush, President of the Massachusetts Senate; Carl A. Sheridan, chairman of the Committee on Administration and Finance; Commissioner George J. Cronin, Commission on Administration and Finance;

Rep. James DeNormandie, Judge Louis J. Farley, Gen. Otis M. Whitney, Supt. Edward L. Connelly, M. D. C. Police; Supt. Edward W. Fallon, Boston Police Department; Joseph McVey, State Commander, V.F.W.;

John P. Powers, State Quartermaster and Adjutant, V.F.W.; Leo D. McCann, National Budget and Finance Committee, V.F.W.; John H. Walsh, former State Commander, American Legion; George E. Gardner, president, Northeast Airlines;

Thomas F. Linnehan, John R. McEnroy and Frank S. Tarr, Wayland Selectmen, and Charles J. Maguire, chairman of the Wayland School Committee.

Nichole Will Sail For Home Aug. 20

WESTON — Nicole Maitre, who studied and lived in Weston for the past year through the Weston-Rombas Affiliation, sails from New York on Aug. 20 for France.

Miss Maitre has been on a tour with a student group from Bougie, Algeria, from July 28 to Aug. 18. The tour included Pittsburgh, Cincinnati, Kentucky, Virginia and Washington, D. C.

She worked as a camp counsellor and teacher of French at the Ecole Champlain in Ferrisburg, Vt., and was so liked that she has been asked to return to it for the whole season another year.

Weston Registration

WESTON—August 17 is the last registration session for voters before primaries. Registration will take place between 8:30 a.m. and 10 p.m. at the Town House.

Dog Is Identified

WESTON — Police Chief J. Sumner Viles identified a collarless dog in short order the other day. He put a police tag on it.

The dog, a sort of setter, was hanging around Webster Road, where some of the residents reported it.

The police picked up the dog, which, lacking a tag, was unidentified.

Chief Viles tied a Weston Police traffic tag around the animal's neck, with the regular note, "Please communciate with the Weston Police."

Then he turned the dog loose.

Twenty minutes later the dog's owner telephoned in, to ask, "Say, what's this all about?"

Crow Who Loves Putty Is Nibbling Parmenter Health Center Windows

WAYLAND—Parmenter Health Center is under attack by a putty-loving crew of crows, reports Miss Roberta Jacobs, director, and the authorities on crows say they never heard of such a thing.

The putty around the windows is a kind that's soft on the inside, and it's believed to contain linseed oil. Almost all of the putty on the rear windows has been eaten away along the bottom, and the feeding is now going along up the sides.

Nothing has been done about it yet except to put out some crow repellent. They don't know yet whether it's repelling.

Miss Jacobs said she called up the Wild Life Division at the State House, and was told this was a new kind of wild life. They'd never heard of a putty-loving crow.

Miss Jacobs can't be sure whether it's one crow or several. She has seen one at his eating, and so have other members of the Center staff. At 11 p.m. on a moonlight night she heard hammering around the building, and she thinks it must have been the crow.

This has been going on all Summer, since the end of June. If it's just one crow, he's a big, fat, black, saucy rascal.

Shooting was suggested, but police said it was too near other buildings.

Reserve Unit is Set up at Wayland

WAYLAND—Company A, 302nd Infantry Regiment, 94th Infantry Division, is this Town's newest and only military organization, and, while it meets every Tuesday evening at the American Legion Hall in Cochituate, it has no Wayland boys in its ranks.

This is part of the Army Reserve deal by whch boys between the ages of 17 and 18½ may enlist while they're still in school, then serve six months at Fort Dix, New Jersey, after graduation, and not have to leave home for service again.

The unit was set up here in July. It now has 31 members, from Natick, Framingham, Holliston and other towns, commanded by Lieut. Robert A. Prescott of Holliston, of Holliston 2206.

When schools open, says Lieut. Prescott, some missionary work for the project will be done in Wayland and Weston High Schools. The Army is moving the training centers out from Boston, for the convenience of the reserves, and Wayland is the center for one area. Training center for Weston is Lynn, but, says Lieut Holliston, Weston boys could be taken at Wayland.

Turnpike Detour At Park Road

WESTON — Another detour is in order before the Massachusetts Turnpike Authority is finished with its work in Weston.

The Toll Road wants to open the section between route 128 and Framingham by November 15. But the steel strike has postponed the completion of a bridge to carry Park Road across the road until January 1 or later, and Park Road will be cut off until then.

The alternative will be a hard surface detour from Ridgeway Road to Park Road on the south side of the Tollroad, including part of the permanently relocated Orchard Avenue.

55 at Kelloggs' Golden Wedding

WESTON — Mr. and Mrs. David M. Kellogg celebrated their golden wedding anniversary on July 18 with a family party for 55 at their home on the Boston Post Road.

Their daughter and four sons were present with their families: Mr. and Mrs. Newell Ellis, Mr. and Mrs. David M. Kellogg III, Mr. W. Alexander Kellogg, who live in Weston; Mr. and Mrs. Stanley G. Kellogg of New Ipswich, New Hampshire, and Mr. and Mrs. John W. Kellogg of Fairhaven, New Jersey. Also present were 12 of their 15 grandchildren.

Weston friends present were Dr. F. VanNuys, Dr. E. F. Chauncey, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Van Huysen, Mr. and Mrs. Karl Adams, Mr. and Mrs. Frank S. Sumner and Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Mellor.

Floral centerpieces for the 14 supper tables on the lawn were arranged by four Kellogg granddaughters, directed by Mrs. Adams.

The Kelloggs were married in 1906 in Glen Ridge, New Jersey, and after several moves including a stop in Buenos Aires, eventually settled to Weston 26 years ago.

"I think I'll have one every year," was Mr. Kellogg's comment after the party was over.

Mr. and Mrs. Kellogg are spending the rest of August at the Marshall House in York Harber, Maine.

Legislators Pass 2 Suasco Bills

Two bills urged by Suasco passed the Massachusetts Legislature towards the end of the session, and their effect should be to put Suasco in position to seek an appropriation for constructive work next year.

The first bill created a Water Resources Board for the Commonwealth, and the second directs the Water Resources Board to make a study of the Sudbury Valley situation and report by Jan. 1. No money is involved in either bill.

The effect is that Suasco is the only business before the new board. The Suasco organization will work closely with the Board, and thus everybody will find out what should be done and an appropriation to pay for it can be asked in 1957.

Active in getting the bills passed were Rep. James L. O'Dea, Jr. of Lowell, Rep. Anthony M. Colonna of Framingham, Rep. James DeNormandie of Lincoln and Sen. Charles W. Olson of Ashland.

Aug. 16 — Crafts

WESTON — A crafts display and hobby show will be held at 10 a.m. on Aug. 16 at the Elementary School gymnasium. Finals in all sports will be held and awards made. The afternoon program starts at 1:45 with various contests.

Dickson Withdraws In Favor of Ayers And J. S. Trombley

WESTON — Edward M. Diskson, Town Clerk and Selectman, who filed nomination papers for Representative in the 7th Middlesex District, has withdrawn in favor of J. Robert Ayers of Weston and Joseph S. Trombley, Waltham City Solicitor.

Mr. Dickson said, "I feel they will best serve the interest of the 7th District."

This leaves six Republican candidates to run in the Sept. 18 primary for two positions. Three Democrats are running for two positions on their side.

The incumbents are Mr. Ayers and William E. Hays, Jr. of Waltham. The latter is seeking nomination for the State Senate.

Republicans still running, besides Mr. Ayers and Mr. Trombley, Charles F. Graceffa, Henry A. Turner, Walter A. E. Anderson and Eugene L. Tougas, Jr., all of Waltham. Democrates, all of Waltham are Lawrence J. Duffy, James P. McCarthy and James C. Corcoran, Jr.

992 Vaccinated at Parmenter Center

WAYLAND—Nine hundred and 92 received their second polio shots at the Parmenter Health Center at two clinics held July 31 and Aug. 9, and a makeup clinic was scheduled for Aug. 14.

On July 31, 614 were vaccinated, and on Aug. 9, 378 more. Most were children. Drs. Charlotte A. Stewart, David R. Corey, James P. Burke and Ernest H. Damon did the work, assisted by nurses Mrs. Nelson Cook, Miss Gertrude Martin and Mrs. Lucille Cain.

Among others who helped were Mrs. Ted Lenda, Mrs. Lyman Seley, Mrs. John Tanger, Miss Gail Dashiell, Miss Carol Deverell, Mrs. Olive Rice, Mrs. Marion Durphey, Mrs. Lois Field, Mrs. Nancy Hart, Mrs. Mabel Stone, Mrs. Edress Chislett, Mrs. Florence Prouty, Mrs. Dorothy Lee and Mrs. Megson.

Weston Clinic

WESTON — A clinic for the second Salk polio shots was scheduled to be held at the Country School on Aug. 15. Further clinics will be held after the opening of school. Dr. David H. Reid, Dr. William T. Van Huysen and Dr. Thomas C. Peebles were in charge.

Miss Schleicher to Sing on Aug. 26

COCHITUATE — Miss Jane Schleicher, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Schleicher, who is going to Vienna in September as a Fullbright scholar, will sing a solo at the Aug. 26 service at the Cochituate Methodist Church.

At the Aug. 19 service there will also be special music, with Robert Brown and Mr. Schleicher singing a duet. The services start at 10 a.m.

Miss Schleicher plans to be at home in Cochituate until Sept. 13.

800 at Opening Of Wayland Bank

WAYLAND — Eight hundred persons attended, many opened accounts, the weather was fine and many individuals and businesses sent flowers, as the Wayland branch of the West Newton Savings Bank, first savings bank in Wayland history, opend its doors on Aug. 1.

There was a drawing for the privilege of having Account Number 1. Winner was Judy Ide, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Ide of Old Connecticut Path. Judy wasn't there, but her mother opened the account and drew the number.

In the first three days, says Jackson Turner, manager, more accounts were opened.

Kenneth W. Rogers, president of the bank, says that the officers of the institution were very much gratified at the warmth of their reception and at the amount of business done. He thinks it shows the bank was correct in its opinion that there was a need for the branch in the community.

The reception began at 1 p.m. and was supposed to continue until 6. So many people came, however, that it was actually nearer 6:30 when the doors were finally closed for the day. Souvenir pencil sharpeners were given away and refreshments were served in a tent on the parking lot in the rear.

On the first day, new accounts were opened so rapidly that clerks had to be sent from West Newton to help the Wayland staff.

On hand to greet the visitors were president Rogers; Roland F. Gammons of Wayland, chairman of the board of trustees of the bank; Maxwell Gaddis, vice president, and Cornelius J. Maguire and William A. Waldron, both of Wayland, of the advisory committee.

Among those who sent flowers were Mrs. Everett R. Bigwood, who used to live in the building before it was transformed; Mr. and Mrs. Herbert R. Fallgren, Elmwood Associates, the Newton Savings Bank, The Newton National Bank, the Country Associates, Country Flower Shop, Russell's greenhouse, MacRae Furniture, the Newton-Waltham Bank and others.

Indian snakeroot is now being used to hold down blood pressure.

Letters to the EDITOR

To the Editor:

I have visited Wayland during two weeks this summer and I would like to tell you that I have found that Wayland undoubtedly is the nicest place I have seen in this country, quite different from anything else. However, I feel that this difference should not extend to the telephone system, as seems to be the case.

As anyone knows, one of the most frustrating experiences of human life — including experiences like breaking a shoe-string, running out of gas far from any gas-station, or not being able to start the motorboat until half the summer has passed — is to lose a dime in a public telephone. That is exactly what happened to me in Wayland Center. The reason: dime shall be inserted after the buzz has started, not before, as in all well-constructed, decent telephones.

Although this by no means could diminish the good impression Wayland has made on me, I know that there are people who run out of temper even more easily than I do. May I therefore suggest the installation of a more friendly and service-willing telephone?

Open Letter

August 4, 1956

The Honorable Charles W. Olson
The Honorable James De Normandie
The State House
Boston, Massachusetts

Dear Sirs:

This is a letter we had hoped could be written a long time ago. However, committee action being necessarily slow, it was not until today that we received from Representative O'Dea a draft of recommended changes in the Massachusetts probation system.

Our League of Women Voters in Wayland has long been interested in the problem of the juvenile offender. We have studied prevailing conditions and the great variations existing in standards throughout the state, and wholeheartedly support the recommendations made by the Wessell Committee for an improved probation system.

May I urge you, therefore, in the name of the Wayland League to do everything in your power to see that this proposed legislation is acted upon favorably in the current session of the Legislature? In doing so you would be taking an important step towards the prevention of crime in the Commonwealth.

Sincerely,
Joyce Bertelsen (Mrs. L. W.)

Work Starts On New River Bridge

WAYLAND — Work has been started on the Old Sudbury Road bridge over Sudbury River, as part of a four-way deal in which expense is shared by the Commonwealth, the County and Wayland and Sudbury.

Like the Stone Bridge replacement, this also will preserve an historical landmark. The old bridge, dating from the 1790s, will be left, but the causeway will be cut beyond that. Then the old bridge, scene of a lively fight in King Philip's War, will be left alone with a piece of the old road and the monument to those killed in the battle of 1676.

The new bridge will be some distance to the South of the old one. New approaches to it will be built by filling across the low land on both sides of the river.

The old bridge, only wide enough for one automobile at a time, has been a traffic hazard for many years. A number of persons have lost their lives there.

Old Sudbury Road has been rebuilt for .7 of a mile, from the railroad track northward, and now has a fine, smooth surface.

Weston Tennis Courts are Busy

WESTON — Tennis players of Weston are delighted with the three new laykold courts behind the Elementary School, says the Recreation Commission. They have been in use for two weeks and it has been found necessary to post a schedule to reserve the courts so everyone may share in their use.

The daily program in operation at the playground for children uses the courts between 10 and 11. Adults have preference after 5 p.m. if they reserve a court. Rules of the courts:

1. Play is reserved for residents of Weston.
2. No one may play for more than one hour per day if others are waiting.
3. No one may sign for more than three hours per week.

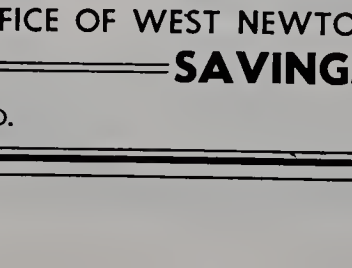
Dudley Circle is Being Developed

COCHITUATE — Work has begun on the Dudley Circle development of 23 houses on a dozen acres or so off Main Street, Cochituate, near the aqueduct. Old camps have been razed and Dudley Pond is now visible from the street. The development is being done by Westfield Homes, Inc., Joseph Campanelli, treasurer.

WESTON — In a mathematics examination sponsored by the Metropolitan New York Section of the Mathematical Association of America, Weston High placed 74th out of 820 schools reporting, thus ranking well within the top tenth.



Foley — Brosseau

WAYLAND — Miss Rita Louise Brosseau, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred E. Brosseau of West Plain Street, was married on Aug. 4 at St. Zepherin's Church to William Gordon Foley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald A. Foley of Saxonville.

Mr. and Mrs. Foley
(Ed Jenner)

The bride was graduated from Wayland High School in 1956. Mr. Foley was graduated from Framingham High in 1954. They will live at 67 Cedar Street, Framingham.

Miss Eileen Bresse of Wayland, a classmate of the bride, was soloist at the ceremony, which was performed by Rt. Rev. David Bushey of Worcester, a cousin of the bride.

Maid of honor was Miss Frances Brosseau, sister of the bride, and another sister, Lois Ann Brosseau, was junior bridesmaid. Ushers were Kenneth Colonna of Framingham and Peter Bogren of Cochituate. There was a reception for 125 at the Marlboro Country Club.

off Route 110. Events will include judging of dairy cattle, square dancing, a horse show and a chicken barbecue. No admission charge and the public is invited.

The Wellesley National Bank has been approved to make FHA property improvement loans to home owners, who may borrow up to $2500 for three years. The approval was contained in a letter sent to William W. White, president of the bank, by Cyrus B. Sweet, Assistant Commissioner of the Federal Housing Administration.

Miss Barbara Haywood of Weston will receive her diploma from the Academie Moderne on Aug. 17, when she will participate in "Charm", a fashion show presented by the entire class.

Commander Edward M. Dickson of Weston Post 214, American Legion, was co-chairman of the arrangements committee for the family outing of the Middlesex County Council of the Legion, scheduled for Sunday, Aug. 12, Soiretta Park, Natick.

Principal Julius H. Mueller of Weston High, with Mrs. Mueller and two of their children, Karin and Philip, have returned from a 3300-mile automobile trip through 14 states. They had a small trailer and did some camping in state and national parks.

Their daughter, Miss Margery F. Mueller, was graduated in June from the University of Massachusetts, where she was a member of Roister Doisters, the dramatic club, and Sigma Kappa soroity. For four years she served as secretary to Rev. Kenneth Beckwith, director of the Congregational conference for Berkshire County. Miss Mueller has been accepted for the training program of Proctor & Gamble Company and will report for work Oct. 1.

Julius H. Mueller Jr. will start his second year at the Boston University School of Medicine this fall. He has been employed in the laboratory there and at Mt. Auburn Hospital this summer.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard W. Foster of Glezen Lane, Wayland, are traveling in Europe with their children. They write home that they have met agreeable people in Yelverton, South Devon, and that they find the British pub a marvelous institution.

They also sent home a copy of the Tavistock Gazette, published for Devon and Cornwall. The big scandal in Tavistock is that prison warden Cyril F. Crowl has been charged with smuggling tobacco into Dartmoor Prison.

COCHITUATE — Johanna McCann, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John J. McCann of 70 Edgewood Road, is the youngest member of the Holliston Dog Club.

Raytheon has a $3,800,000 contract to produce 39 new type weather radars to spot severe storms, especially hurricanes.

An Open Letter

TO THE RESIDENTS OF WAYLAND, COCHITUATE, WESTON And SURROUNDING TOWNS

We of the West Newton Savings Bank are deeply grateful for the cordial reception given us on the opening of our new Wayland office. Visitors and depositors exceeded our most optimistic estimates and all, we are happy to say, seemed to be most favorably impressed with the facilities.

Although our quarters are modest, a great deal of time and thought has gone into the planning and furnishing. We have made every effort to provide comfort and convenience for customers so that our services may be offerred in an atmosphere of informality and friendliness.

We hope that those who have not yet visited us will do so soon. Our staff will be happy to explain the services we offer, open a new account, or just have a neighborly "get acquainted" chat.

We appreciate greatly, the warm welcome given us and wish to extend our thanks to all our friends, both new and old.

Sincerely,

Kenneth W. Rogers

President

John Starrett Beach Supervisor, Has Some Ideas

WAYLAND — Special events have been held at the Park Department's Lake Cochituate beach, a swimming meet is scheduled for Aug. 25 and many fine swimmers are developing at the beach, but one of the ideas of John Starrett, beach supervisor, is that the new Wayland High School should include a first-rate swimming pool, for the use not only of students but of the community.

Mr. Starrett, who now lives in Natick, lived for many years on Training Field Road, Wayland, and was graduated from Wayland High School in 1944. He is an admitted water enthusiast, both for recreation and safety.

Charles Grover of Toronto, who set a world's endurance swimming record in 1948, gave an exhibition at the Cochituate beach in July. A little later, experts gave a demonstration of the use of the aqua lung, showing both its values and its dangers.

The swimming meet, scheduled for Aug. 25, a Saturday, will be held next day in case of bad weather. It will be for swimmers aged 10 through 16.

Mr. Starrett's thought about a possible high school pool is that the building is being put up, presumably, for many decades of use, and that including an all-year swimming facility in it would not only provide the townspeople a great recreational feature but should also add to the Town's prestige.

A pool 80 feet by 56, he thinks, might come to around $180,000, including lockers, showers, filtration and all the rest of it. If the State School Building Assistance Commission would go for it as part of the cost of the new school, the Town might get 50 per cent off on the price. He admits it would be something new for a high school in New England, but he thinks a little pioneering in this direction would do no harm.

He thinks ability to do a certain minimum amount of swimming might be made a graduation requirement, and he thinks many organizations and individuals in the Town might be happy to use a pool the year around.

Julius H. Mueller, Principal of Weston High, thinks the annual Wayland-Weston game will have to be played at Weston this year, on account of the difficulty in finding a neutral field with adequate seating accommodations. In fact, it's his idea that all future Wayland-Weston games will probably have to be played in the home Towns.

Birthday Calendar

WAYLAND — Members of the Quarter Century Club of the Trinitarian Congregational Church would like to remind people that the annual birthday calendar has to go to the printer by Sept. 15.

This calendar, being published for the fourth year, will carry the name of a child or an anniversary date for 25 cents. The calendar sells for 50 cents, and the proceeds are used by the Good Cheer committee of the club for gifts to the sick, Christmas baskets and so on.

Post Road Widening

WESTON — A contract has been awarded to P. V. Barone Corp. of Brighton and work is beginning immediately to widen the Boston Post Road in the center of Town. The job should be finished by September 15.

The estimate was for $6500 maximum rather than the $8000 originally expected.

Arthur G. Walsh, who has been appointed director of the process engineering department of the National Research Corporation of Cambridge, will make his home in Weston. He has a wife and two daughters. He is a graduate of Tufts College, in chemical engineering, and he has done graduate work in meteorology at M. I. T.

Pelham Island Rd. Committee Meets

WAYLAND — Theodore R. Magoun is chairman of the committee to study the possible raising of Pelham Island Road, to get it above flood level, and the group has held a number of meetings to explore the background and possibilities connected with the program.

The committee was voted at the March Town Meeting. The issue was raised by residents of Pelham Island, who, tired of being marooned across the river by floods, asked that something be done about the road and that, in time of deluge, the Town provide a motorboat ferry for them. The Town so voted.

The motorboat problem, says Mr. Magoun, lies with the Selectmen, not the committee to study the highway.

Others on the committee are Ronald Campbell, George Bowers, George K. Lewis, Mrs. Marie L. Cutler, Richard M. Verrill and Leslie Crossley. The group will not report until next March.

In Weston Rotary

Rev. Egisto Chauncey said grace at a recent meeting.

Hector Osmond, president, reported on a picnic for foreign students held Aug. 11 at the home of Dick Robinson. Dan Kennedy and Murray Burke were the committee.

Charlie Cutter distributed tickets for the Red Sox baseball game which the Weston Rotarians are to attend Aug. 21.

A recent speaker was Harold Wilson, a new member, who talked about the paper business. Harry Starr and Leston Cushing were among the guests.

TOWN OF WAYLAND
BOARD OF APPEALS
(ZONING)

A public hearing will be held Thursday, August 23, 1956, at the Town Hall, Wayland, at 8:00 P.M. on the application of Edward C. Murphy to build a new house on lot at 22 Marshall Terrace while residing in cottage that already exists, — old cottage to be torn down upon completion of new home.

BOARD OF APPEALS

WAYLAND PLANNING BOARD
Notice of Public Hearing on Proposed Zoning Changes

An amendment to the Zoning By-Laws has been presented for the vote of the Town by petition of certain citizens and voters.

A public hearing will be held by the Wayland Planning Board on September 17, 1956 at 8:00 p.m. in the Cafeteria of the Wayland High School on these proposed amendments as required by Section 6, Chapter 40A of the General Laws.

The proposed article presenting these changes is as follows:

"To see if the Town will vote to amend the zoning by-laws and the zoning map by making the following changes in district boundaries or take any action thereto: Change from Residence District 40,000 square feet with 180 foot frontage to Business District A as bounded and described as follows:

"Westerly and Northwesterly by Cochituate Road;

"Easterly by land now or formerly of Anthony and Elizabeth o Barbara;

"Northerly again by land now or formerly of said Barbara;

"Easterly by land now or formerly of Edwin B. Sears and the State Street Trust Company Trustees;

"Northeasterly by land now or formerly of Estelle Young;

"Southeasterly and Easterly by land now or formerly of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts;

"Southwesterly by an abandoned County Road;

"Southeasterly and Southerly by land now or formerly of Charles T. Morgan Trustees, to the point of beginning."

A map showing this area is posted at the Town Hall and at the Cochituate Library.

M.I.T. Foreign Students Enjoy A Typical Wayland Weekend

Foreign Students from M.I.T. Summer School relax on Wayland weekend arranged by Mr. and Mrs. Daniel E. Kennedy Jr., of Training Field Road. Front row: Francis Kufuor, Gold Coast; Ki Chio Chang, Korea; Mrs. Kennedy. Back row: Dan Kennedy III, Mr. Kennedy, Samuel I. M. Ogwo, Gold Coast; Peter Hearne, England and Sabura Chatani, Japan. The Kennedys are owners of the Weston Studio.

When the foreign students studying at M.I.T.'s summer school return home, Wayland will be one of their weekend memories, as well, of course, as New York and Washington.

As in past years, Wayland families on June 29 and 30 entertained about a dozen of the engineers and scientists who come from all over the world to broaden themselves in their fields under the Institute's top professors.

Sabura Chatani, an electrical engineer who is employed by an associate company of Westinghouse Electric, is a native of Japan. His name means in English "Third Son, Tea Valley," but he suggested everyone call him Sam. He stayed with Mr. and Mrs. Daniel E. Kennedy Jr., who made the arrangements for the weekend.

Peter Hearne is an aeronautical engineer who is working on helicopter research for British European Airways. He figures there'll be intercity helicopter service in England within five years. He commented on the resemblance between the Wayland countryside and that of England. His first child was born the day he took off for the U. S. !

Of special interest to New Englanders was George Lividas' mission. He is from Greece and is here to study hurricanes. However, there are no hurricanes in the Aegean Sea. Just thunderstorms that need tracking.

Ki-Chio Chang is a mechanical engineer on the staff of the Korean Government's Science Research Institute. Upon arriving in Wayland he immediately made contact with the only other Korean in Wayland. He is the 8-year old adopted son of Mr. and Mrs. John Teger, of Old Sudbury Road. His name is In Sik and he arrived in this country only six weeks ago. In Sik and Chang struck up firm friendship.

Two from Gold Coast

Two of the students were from the Gold Coast. Samuel I. M. Ogwo is a teacher of physics. His university allows him a round trip to London every year to keep in touch with the world. Francis Kufuor is an organic chemist who is synthesizing certain of his country's food products.

Scandinavia was represented by Ole Vanbery, a civil engineer, from Norway, and Lars-Erik Orreval of Sweden, an electrical engineer.

Three other physical scientists were Ugo Farinelli, Italy, Alastair Ward, Scotland, and Pieter Dubbledam, also a violinist, from the Netherlands.

The other students who visited were Heinz Gumin, of Germany, mathematician; and Joseph Aboulafia, of France, chemist.

Hosts for the students included Mr. and Mrs. Warren Erikson, Mr. and Mrs. Allan R. Finlay, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Grannis Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Ray Harris, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Lincoln, Mr. and Mrs. Walter B. Parker, and Mr. and Mrs. Henry G. Pearson.

225 Young Wayland Swimmers Will Receive Red Cross Certificates

A total of 225 Red Cross certificates for swimming will be awarded to Wayland and Cochituate children at the Happy Hollow School on Friday, September 14, at 8 p.m.

The certificates will be awarded by Ernest Cherry, chairman of the Wayland Red Cross water safety program, Mrs. Constance Johnson and Miss Carol Davis, swimming instructors.

Of this group, five local high school students, Beverly Holmes, Elaine Gladue, Diane Knowlton, Rodney Parker and Peter Van Wart, will be awarded Red Cross instructor's aide certificates.

This group is the first to qualify for the instructor's aide certificates in the 30-year history of the Way-

Weston Site Committee Has Been Toiling

WESTON — The School Site Committee authorized by Special Town Meeting on May 14 has been busy this summer while other citizens loafed. At present it is waiting for an estimate of the relative cost of various school locations before making its report to the town by the October 1 deadline.

The seven members who have been meeting at least once a week are J. Robert Ayers, chairman; Rudolph L. Helgeson, Arra S. Avakian, Mrs. John D. Glover, Eugene O. Hanson, Robert G. Hutchinson and Mrs. Robert E. Sullivan.

The committee has personally inspected all proposed centralized and decentralized sites. It has had a long conference with the State School Building Assistance Commission which must pass on any future school if Weston is to receive state aid. It has consulted with all possible town committees and school officials, and called in several independent architects who have checked all plans.

Allen Benjamin of Wayland, retained as a consultant by the Planning Board, has prepared a more detailed study of the probable future population in connection with long range school planning.

Mr. Francis G. Goodale, Town Moderator, has purposely not completed selection of the five-member School Building Committee, since the Site Committee's work is not yet finished.

"Mr. Pennypacker," Vokes Play

The November production of The Vokes Players will be "The Remarkable Mr. Pennypacker," Broadway hit of 1953-1954. Mercedes Bassett will be director. Dates will be announced later.

Community Chorus To Meet Sept. 17

The first meeting of the Community Chorus of Weston, Wayland and Sudbury will be held on Monday evening, Sept. 17, at 8 in the Wayland High School Auditorium. For our first Concert of the year we will start rehearsing the Bach "Christmas Oratorio", so those who have a score bring it along.

We hope to have a large attendance this year to help celebrate the Tenth Anniversary of the Chorus. Membership is open to anyone who enjoys singing and all newcomers are most welocme.

The Executive Committee for the Chorus this year is President Ray D. Farnsworth; Vice-President, Edith Goodale; Treasurer, Stewart Leach; Secretary for Wayland and Sudbury, Laurie York; Secretary for Weston, Mary Chandler. Our Director is Chester W. Williams, Dean of the New England Conservatory of Music and our accompanist is Hazel F. O'Donnell of Weston. — Mari Dengler.

Wayland High School Notice

Wayland Junior-Senior High School opens on Sept. 10 at 8:15 a.m. Buses are scheduled to reach the High School at 8:05.

Students will find home room assignements posted on the bulletin boards and on the outside of the home room doors.

By grade level the numbers of the home rooms are listed: 7th grade, Rooms 15, 25, 27, 29; 8th grade, Rooms 17, 22, 23, 24; 9th grade, Rooms 5, 6, 16, library; 10th grade, Rooms 7, 9, 14; 11th grade, Rooms 2, 3, and 12th grade, Rooms 12, 13.

Rombas Students Arrive and Leave

WESTON — Nicole Maitre sailed for France Aug. 20 on the Arosa Kulm, having finished her year as a student here with the Weston-Rombas Affiliation. Also aboard were 18 French Algerian students with whom she had toured the eastern United States this summer. Evidence of her popularity this past year was her election by her fellow-students at Weston High School to be an honorary member of their class.

For the first time this next year a Weston representative goes to Rombas, as well as bringing another Rombas student to Weston. "Tad" Crawford, 16, sails on Sept. 8 on the New York from Boston, in response to an invitation from M. Babin, head of the Rombas Affiliation Committee. He plans to disembark at Southampton and visit friends in Winchester, before taking the Channel boat to St. Malo. There he will be met by Dr. Michel Valentin, member of the Rombas Committee, who will take him to his historic house on the coast of Brittany, and drive him to Rombas via Paris for the opening of school on Oct. 1.

Meanwhile Andre Roesslinger, also 16, sails on Sept. 4 from France, arriving in Quebec on Sept. 13, where Mrs. C. F. Gimber will meet him. He has twice been awarded the "prix d'excellence" for standing first in his class, and is an exceptional student in science. He will live for the first half of the year with Professor and Mrs. Walter H. Stockmayer.

Buzz Bowers Is Wayland Coach

WAYLAND — Charles Bowers (Buzz), one of the best athletes ever graduated from Wayland High School, is coming back to be basketball and baseball coach and physical education teacher.

He's one of the four sons of Mr. and Mrs. George F. Bowers of Concord Road. Mr. Bowers is a member of the Wayland Planning Board.

At Wayland High, whence he was graduated in 1947, Buzz won nine letters in football, basketball and baseball. The 1946 basketball team on which he played won the schoolboy Class C championship in Boston Garden, and in baseball, in 1947, Wayland lost the final tournament game to Somerville, 2 to 1, with Buzz pitching.

Since high school, he has acquired a degree from Michigan State University, where he pitched, and served in the Army. At present he is relief pitcher for Schenectady in the Eastern League. In a grapefruit league baseball game he once struck out Ted Williams. A younger brother, Fran Bowers, who was graduated from Wayland in 1951, also made an outstanding record in athletics.

Buzz is married to the former Virginia Colpitts of Weston. They have two daughters, Debbie, 3, and Nancy, 2. He will finish the baseball season at Schenectady and be in Wayland in time for the opening of school.

Another Wayland resident who will be on the High School teaching staff this year is Robert Scotland of 73 West Plain Street, son of Mr. and Mrs. William J. Scotland of 69 West Plain Street. He has been teaching at Brookline High and will teach history in Wayland.

WESTON — The Red Barn Nursery School will open on Sept. 26 in Building B of the Elementary School. A newsletter to all registered pupils will give full particulars of the opening, which is to be staggered over several days.

Town Schools Ready To Reopen With More Pupils, New Teachers

WAYLAND — Wayland schools, filled to capacity but with seats for all pupils, will open in the week of Sept. 10 with nearly 200 more students than last year and with 11 additional teachers, says Supt. Edward J. Anderson.

The High School will open on Monday, Sept. 10, and the elementary schools on Wednesday, Sept. 12. Teachers will report at 9 a.m. on Sept. 4 for a workshop course and interviews with parents until school opens.

It's hoped that all parents of elementary school pupils will be seen by teachers. They will be reached for appointments and told where their children will be. If not reached, parents asked to take their elementary school children to the nearest school between 9 and 12 on Sept. 10 and 11.

There will be no double sessions, and Mr. Anderson says no child will be short changed educationally by the crowding. The two largest elementary classes will number 40 pupils. In large classes there will be two teachers, one of whom will be able to take groups out of the room for special attention. In some ways, says Mr. Anderson, these pupils will get a better deal than usual.

The Center School sixth graders will go to Happy Hollow, he says.

25 New Teachers

Mr. Anderson and the School Committee have engaged 25 new teachers, 11 of them additions to the staff.

Wayland Bleachers For Weston Game?

Some way may be found, it was suggested last week, to have Wayland's new portable bleachers transported to Weston for the annual football game on Nov. 17.

Weston has 800 seats on the home side of the field, in a fixed grandstand. There are no seats on the other side.

Julius H. Mueller, Weston principal, said recently that he thinks future Wayland-Weston games will have to be played on home-and-home grounds, because of the difficulty of getting outside fields. Seating facilities at Weston have been inadequate, however, and at Wayland, until this year, non-existent.

In both Towns, gate receipts, after expenses, are turned over to the athletic fund, instead of being put into regular Town funds. The arrangement is that the proceeds of the Wayland-Weston game are split 50-50.

Mr. Mueller said the other day that he was interested in the idea of having extra seats for the big game. It was thought that the promise of seating accommodations might attract a larger crowd than would otherwise attend. And Frank S. Tarr of the Wayland Park Department, which is to be owner of the stands, said he'd be happy to negotiate. He says it would cost about $300 to move the stands to Weston and back again.

WESTON — All Weston schools will reopen on Sept. 6, with increased enrollment and more teachers but with room for all and no class of more than 30 pupils, says Superintendent of Schools Anthony Brackett. During the Summer, school buildings have been repaired, painted and cleaned up for the new year.

In addition, money has been spent for new furniture, filing equipment and musical instruments.

Estimated enrollment for this year is 1546, as against 1435 a year ago. In all, there are 18 new teachers, including eight who are additions to the staff, which now num-

Weston Man Shoots Coon With Camera

WESTON — John O. Nilan of 211 Meadowbrook Road has been having trouble with garbage eating raccoons, as the picture above, shot at 3 o'clock one morning, goes to show.

The sunken pail had a cement building block on top of it, to discourage marauders. However, the coons would come about every other night, tip the block off and get into the leftovers. When they got through, down would come the cover with a bang loud enough to wake the family.

A couple of times Mr. Nilan caught sight of the coons — there seemed to be two of them — with a flashlight. They didn't seem at all timid. Then he caught the fellow shown above wth a flash bulb.

Mr. Nilan has since foiled the coons by an arrangement of two sticks and an iron rod across the container cover. They haven't figured this one out yet, although they've come scratching around.

It has been reported that raccoons are actually becoming more numerous in this vicinity, although nobody sees them because they prowl at night. They loot garbage pails and gardens.

It says in the books that coons are clean creatures who wash their food. Local coons don't seem to be so fussy.

Wayland Votes Another School And New Bleachers

WAYLAND — Three hundred Wayland voters, in Summer clothes, voted $638,000 for the Loker Street School almost without debate, at a Special Town Meeting held in the High School auditorium on the evening of Aug. 15.

In addition, they voted an additional $62,000 for the Claypit Hill School, made necessary, it was said, by increases in building costs.

Where once school issues would provoke hot arguments in Wayland meetings, there was nothing warm about this one except the weather. Although a two-thirds vote was needed, the votes on both the school Articles were recorded as unanimous.

One citizen did say he had knowledge that Congress was going to make Federal money available for school building next year, and he seemed to be suggesting that it would be better to wait and get some of it.

But Chairman Robert M. Morgan of the Finance Committee said there would be more schools to be built in Wayland in the next five to 10 years, and any contributions to them from Uncle Sam would be cheerfully accepted.

New Bleachers

In addition, the meeting voted $4500 to buy movable bleachers to seat 900 at the High School athletic field. This vote, too, was unanimous. They should be ready for the 1956 football season.

Since sports have been played at Wayland High, there never have been any seats for spectators except a small stand at the Cochituate field, where some baseball games have been played.

At football games, watchers have been in the habit of roaming up and down the sidelines on both sides of the field. Towns with which Wayland has athletic relations, except Ashland, have some stands.

The stands which sponsors of this Article had in mind are easily demountable, so that they can be used either for football or baseball. There are 20 sections, of which 15 are planned for the Wayland side of the football field and five for the visitors' side.

The movement for the stands came from the Wayland High Association. Then an informal committee was formed, including Bill Morris, chairman; G. P. Richardson, Jack Arnold, Frank Tarr, Arnold Bradley and Jerry Joyce, which presented the idea to Town authorities.

The School Articles

Allan R. Finlay, chairman of the School Building Committee, explained that by building both the Claypit Hill and the Loker Street Schools from the same plans, the Town would save $35,000 or $36,000. Besides that, the State School Building Assistance Commission, a couple of days after the Town Meeting, approved a 50 per cent reimbursement to the Town.

Thus, two schools costing more than $1,300,000 will actually cost the Town only half that much.

Mr. Finlay told the meeting that whereas it had been estimated the schools would mean an additional $1.80 to $1.90 on next year's tax rate, the increased appropriation would raise that by 10 cents or so. However, the meeting seemed in no mood to quibble about dimes.

The Article calling for the rezoning of land of A. William Rowe on Cochituate Road was referred to the Planning Board, which will hold a public hearing. It was explained that there was not time enough to hold such a hearing before the Town Meeting.

The meeting lasted only one hour and 15 minutes. Every one of the 16 Articles was passed, and hardly was heard a dissenting word. Moderator Howard S. Russell presided.

COCHITUATE — Mr. and Mrs. Eugene I. Roe, Jr. of Commonwealth Road East announce the birth of a son, Jonathan Willard Roe, at Leonard Morse Hospital, Aug. 25.

Letters to the EDITOR

To the Editor:

Heartfelt thanks and appreciation to you and to your staff for your fine work in helping to combat tuberculosis in the Wayland area. Throughout this year as in the past, the Wayland Town Crier has been outstanding in its presentation of the story of tuberculosis—its problems, program, and progress — to the people of Wayland. Through your excellent news coverage and by your promotion of good health measures the Wayland Town Crier has impressed residents with the importance of tuberculosis and the work of the Middlesex Health Association.

Sincerely,
Allister F. MacDougall

Newcomers Lose Their Timid Cat

WAYLAND — Mr. and Mrs. James Ogsbury of Pelham Island Road, who moved into Town from Burlington, Vt., on Aug. 2, have lost their 9-year-old toothless cat, Nickie, and they hope somebody has found him. He's gray and white, rather timid, defenseless and unfamiliar with his new surroundings.

Not only did the Ogsburys lose their cat. Before they left Burlington one truck, carrying a quarter of their goods, burned up in a garage. They lost all their Winter clothes, the children's bicycles, all their table linen, a set of electric trains and other stuff.

The children are Jay, 13; Jenny, 9, and Judy, 6. They're going to enter Wayland schools. Mr. Ogsbury is a manufacturer's representative in Boston. A girls' camp director in Fairlee, Vt., recommended them to Wayland or Weston as places to live.

Mrs. Ogsbury says she's afraid the cat has taken off for Vermont.

Polio Vaccine For 15-19 Age Group

WAYLAND — Polio vaccine is now available for those who are between 15 and 19 years of age. It will be given in the Wayland public schools within the week to those who wish to have it. Parental permission slips must be completed, signed and returned to the Wayland Board of Health before it will be administered. The appropriate form is being sent to the parents of all children in the Wayland public schools who were not previously eligible to receive the vaccine.

Those who attend private schools or have completed school and are eligible may obtain the request forms at the Parmenter Health Center.

A Salk vaccine clinic will be held at the Parmenter Health Center on Saturday, Sept. 22, between 10 a.m. and 11 a.m. for second inoculations for preschool children and expectant mothers. First inoculations for 15-19 year olds, children who are now three months of age or over, and expectant mothers will be given at the same time.

This will be the last clinic held where first inoculations will be given. After this date individuals must request the vaccine from their private physicians.

A Billboard at Rts. 20 and 128?

WESTON — Selectmen have received a notice from the Outdoor Advertising Authority of The Commonwealth of an application for a permit to erect a billboard on Boston and Maine Railroad land north of route 20.

The projected 60-by-20-foot sign would be visible from both routes 20 and 128, and would be used to advertise various products.

Selectmen asked that a hearing be held by the Authority and indicated their disapproval of the application, the first of its kind in recent years. The hearing probably will not be held for another month and the final decision rests with the Authority.

Wayland School Registration

Registration for new students entering the Wayland Junior-Senior High School, Grades 7-12, will be held at Wayland High School, Thursday, Sept. 6 from 9 to 12 a.m. and 1 to 4 p.m.

Students should come to the High School Office for direction. Academic records and certification of age should be available at this time.

WAYLAND — Capt. Arthur L. Kimball of 2 Rice Spring Lane was at Fort Monmouth for two weeks in August at the Army Reserve School conducted at the Army Signal Corps installation.

Cochituate School is New Pr. 2 Voting Place

WAYLAND — Town Clerk Leila Sears announces that Precinct 2 voters will cast their ballots in the September primary election in the Cochituate School auditorium instead of the American Legion hall, as in the past.

The change is made necessary, she explains, by the increased number of voters.

Wayland Schools

For these 25 positions, says Mr. Anderson, he has had more than 1200 applicants.

"The word has got around in the teaching profession," he says, "that there's something doing in Wayland. They know that the Town is being generous and imaginative in its approach to the school problem, that the pay is good and that teachers can work here under excellent conditions.

"The result is that we have been able to take our pick of teachers, and I think we have some who are wonderful. Most are experienced, and those who are fresh out of school are the best of their classes. Applicants have telephoned us from all over the country.

"This is a result of the favorable publicity the Town has received for raising teachers' salaries, buying school sites and building new schools. Teachers think it is exciting to work in a place where a modern school system is being built, and we can command the best for Wayland children."

"Floater" Teachers

The idea of having extra teachers, says Mr. Anderson, is not new. It was used in the traditional old one-room school. There is even a name for them. They are called "floater" teachers.

This arrangement, he thinks, will have to be in effect for the entire school year 1956-1957. He thinks it will be next September before The Claypit and Loker Street schools can be ready, and he says the expedient of double teachers is far better than having double sessions for pupils.

This Fall, he says, school authorities will begin planning for the new Senior High School, probably for 500 pupils, which will be needed by September of 1960. It will take a pear to plan it, he says, and two years to build it.

When the new high school is in use, the present Senior-Junior High School will become a Junior High School, with an overflow in the present Center School, which will be abandoned as an elementary school.

The over-all plan calls for two junior high schools, eventually, and additional elementary schools, as needed, on sites already bought by the Town.

Big Enrollment

Mr. Anderson estimates there will be 1625 pupils in the school system by Oct. 1, and that the number will increase to around 1700 in the course of the year. Last year's enrolment was 1498.

In all, there will be 85 classroom teachers, and two positions remain to be filled.

More Badminton Players Wanted

WESTON — Members of the Weston Badminton Club would like to round up more players for the Winter season. They use three courts at the Weston Junior High building for two hours on Wednesday evenings. Fun even for beginners. Family dues $8, for one person, $5.

L. Whitman Smith is president, Jean Whittenberger secretary.

Watch Pheasants

Persons seeing dead or apparently disabled pheasants are asked to report the fact to the Waltham Field Station or to the Massachusetts Health Department, because pheasants are said to be most susceptible to sleeping sickness and the medical authorities would like their bodies for post mortems.

Mr. Robert Armstrong of the mosquito control project said some extra spraying by helicopter would be done in the Mill Pond area of Wayland, in a North Wayland area and also in a Lincoln area.

He said the mosquito population is not large this year, and that the spraying would be done partly to reassure people. There was one case of encephalitis in Lincoln, none in Wayland or Weston.

Mr. Armstrong said that the pheasants, by their susceptibility to the disease, provide a warning to people. He said that at a couple of pheasant farms near Kingston the flocks have been badly hit, because the pheasants pick on the sick ones and thus infect themselves. Although there are many pheasants in Wayland and Weston, the birds in a wild state do not practise this near cannibalism.

Rotary Entertains 70 M.I.T. Students

WESTON — The third annual "Foreign Student Cook-out" was held by the Weston Rotary Club at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Robinson on Saturday, Aug. 11. Most of the 70 students attending were from M.I.T.

The committee was headed by Dan Kennedy and Murray Burke, assisted by Rotary President Hector Osmond, Charlie Precourt, Charlie Cutter, Frank Hitchcock, Bill Rinehart and their wives. The student committee included Kyu Lee, Bob Piccus, Morton Rosenstein, Dick Sole, George Henry, Joan DePasa and Joan Piccus.

Activities at the seven-hour party included swimming, soft-ball, eating, accordion music and singing, with floodlights used after dark.

While the students came from countries all over the world, they had all been selected from many contestants to come to study in the United States. Many were teachers in their home countries.

Everyone agreed that the cookout was a cementer of good will and that if all the world's peoples could meet and know each other there would be no wars. Various interesting remarks from the talk:

More foreign students than British are in the English universities. The cost of living is impossibly high in France. More television is needed in most of the world. While Mr. Eden was talking about Nasser and the Suez, 400 British ships and 200 French ships were passing through the canal. Scandinavia is an outstandingly beautiful region, where weather and water are tremendous unsolved problems. Rotary International is very well known to a few and somewhat known to all the students.

Mrs. Pallavi-Shah from Bombay, India, a graduate student at Boston University, with Meg Robinson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Robinson. Mrs. Shah's husband is a graduate student at M.I.T.

The Weston Rotary Club's Magazine Committee provided a pile of back numbers of the Rotarian magazine, which the students took home for souvenirs. The following families took students to their homes for the weekend: Osmond, Kennedy, Burke, Robinson, Crouch, Whelpley, Curry, Tanger and Florence Freeman.

Marshall's Is In The Bank Building

WAYLAND — Marshall's Apothecary, formerly on Cochituate Road, now occupies newer and larger quarters in Wayland Center's new Bank Building at 19 Pelham Island Road. Barnett Brothers, store engineers, were engaged to design and build the spacious and up-to-date interior.

Prior to opening his first drug store in Wayland Center three years ago, Alton L. F. Marshall Jr. was associated with the New England College of Pharmacy for seven years as professor of pharmacy. He received B.S. and M.S. in Pharmacy Degrees and has been a registered pharmacist since 1940.

Mr. Marshall's father is also an alumnus of the Massachusetts College of Pharmacy and owns the Lexington Street Drug Store in Watertown.

Mrs. Alton L. F. Marshall, Jr., is a graduate of Boston University and at one time served as secretary to the Dean of the New England College of Pharmacy.

The new store is equipped to handle all prescriptions. Mr. Marshall and Dr. Chester E. Tracy are the pharmacists on duty. In addition there are fountain service, greeting cards, photo finishing and all the other services usually found in drug stores. The store is air-conditioned.

Others who have quarters in the building are the West Newton Savings Bank; Dr. Murray E. Pendleton of Weston, pediatrician; Dr. Alfred E. Sharpe, dentist; Robert, hairdresser; Charles W. Brennan, attorney, and Joseph Joyce, insurance agent.

Every family should keep a first aid kit handy, especially in Summer, the authorities say.

Thomas O'Toole, Jr. Is First Weston Boy To Enter Air Acad.

WESTON — Thomas O'Toole, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas O'Toole of 119 Park Road, has been accepted as a student at the new Air Force Academy in Colorado and reported July 9. He is in the second class to enter the Academy and he is the first Weston boy to enter.

He was graduated from Weston High in 1955, and he has spent the year just passed at M.I.T. in the aeronautical engineering course.

Authorities say a person shouldn't be afraid to call the fire department for a small fire. It would rather make an unnecessary run than face a blaze out of control because it wasn't called soon enough.

Methodist — Cochituate

Rev. George C. Gutekunst
Mrs. Jean Young,
Minister of Music

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest W. Schleicher, beloved ministers of music of the Cochituate Community Methodist Church for many years, concluded their unique ministry at the service of morning worship on Aug. 26. The Schleichers have provided some of the most effective music for Sunday worship and for special season worship observance in this area. They will be sorely missed by the members and friends of the church.

The usual fine caliber of music will be continued under the direction of Mrs. Jean Young, who has studied at the Boston University School of Music. Mrs. Young comes highly recommended from the positions she has previously served. Those interested are asked to note the change in time for our Sunday worship services beginning Sept-9: Church School: 9:30 and 10:45; morning worship at 10:45.

The church will be glad to welcome the Schleichers upon their return in November from a visit with their son, Ervin, and his family, who have a ranch in Nebraska.

Sunday, Sept. 2: Morning Worship at 10 o'clock.

Tuesday, Sept. 4: Official board meeting at 8 p.m.

Thursday, Sept. 6: Church School Workers' Conference at 8.

Anyone Interested In Oil Painting?

COCHITUATE — Efforts are being made to gather a class for instruction in oil painting, and may persons intersted may call Mrs. Hallock M. Boutwell at OL 3-6449 for details.

The class may use the High School building, it is understood, and Mrs. Lillian Jones, High School art teacher, has agreed to teach it. The only problem is to get together enough Cochituate and Wayland adults to make the project feasible.

Mrs. Boutwell says they'd like to get the course going by the end of September.

bers 80, including the Superintendent.

Supt. Brackett interviewed 300 applicants, and he is pleased with the caliber of those chosen.

"All the teachers except one," he says, "are either experienced or have been taught by us. One girl is inexperienced, but she has had an outstanding college record. All are well qualified and well recommended."

The teachers will meet at 10 a.m. on Wednesday, Sept. 5, in the Country School auditorium. Coffee will be served by the Weston Teachers' Club.

On Tuesday, Sept. 4, teachers will meet in the conference room at the Country School at 9:30 a.m. for morning and afternoon work sessions. Luncheon will be served at the Weston High Cafeteria.

All classes will begin Sept. 6. However, parents of kindergarteners and first graders will be notified by letter to bring their children in at various hours on the 6th and 7th. The purpose of this is to bring the beginners to school in small groups, so there will not be the tears and confusion which used to ensue when all came at once.

The position of remedial reading teacher at the High School was still unfilled.

The New Teachers

Miss Elizabeth J. Bassett of Taunton, a graduate of Wheelock, will teach grade three in the Country School. Miss Bassett comes from the Exeter Day School, in Exeter, N. H.

Miss Charlotte Brainard of Chicopee will teach grade three in Building C. Miss Brainard is a graduate of Ohio Wesleyan University and has a master's in education from Boston University. Although this will be Miss Brainard's first classroom teaching position, she has worked on the staff at both Ohio Wesleyan and Boston University and has had considerable experience in radio, TV and advertising.

Oliver S. Brown of Concord, a graduate of Bowdoin College, will teach grade six in the Country School. Mr. Brown has taught at the Emerson School in Exeter, N. H.

Miss Marie Louise Butera of Brighton will teach physical education and coach girls' athletics in the High School. She comes from the Wamogo Regional High School, Litchfield, Connecticut. Miss Butera is a graduate of Sargent College, Boston University.

Miss Kaye Allyn Canfield of Chardon, Ohio, will also teach physical education. Miss Canfield is a graduate of Miami University, Oxford, Ohio. She comes from the Jefferson School, Dayton, Ohio.

Henry E. Dockler of James Island, South Carolina, will teach physics and mathematics in the High School. Mr. Dockler is a graduate of Norwich University and comes with a long military experience. Several years ago he taught in Gardner, Massachusetts.

Miss Corene Dye of Munster, Indiana, will teach grade four in the Country School. Miss Dye is a graduate of Indiana University and taught previously in the Lincoln School, Hammond, Indiana.

Mrs. June E. Ellsworth of Attleboro, a graduate of Wheaton College with a master's degree from Smith, will teach mathematics in the High School. Mrs. Ellsworth comes from the Peter Thatcher Junior High School, Attleboro.

Mrs. Joan S. Frary of Boston will teach grade four in Building C. Mrs. Frary is a graduate of Smith College with additional work at Boston University. She comes from the Park School, Brookline.

Mrs. Ursula W. Harper of Philadelphia will teach grade four in Building C. Mrs. Harper is a graduate of the University of Pennsylvania with a master's degree from West Chester State Teachers' College, Pennsylvania. Mrs. Harper taught in the public schools of Jenkentown, Pennsylvania, and, for the past several years, has taught at the Haverford School.

Mrs. Marjorie J. Marshall of Cedarhurst, New York, will teach grade five in Building C. Mrs. Marshall is a graduate of New Paltz, New York, State Teachers' College and has done additional work at Adelphi College, Garden City, New York. Mrs. Marshall comes from the public schools of Woodmere, New York, and she previously taught in other New York school systems. She also taught in the WAVES during the war.

Miss Georgia McNamee of Boothbay Harbor, Maine, will teach grade four in Building C. Miss McNamee comes to us after several years of teaching experience in Boston and Hull. She is a graduate of Bridgewater State Teachers' College with a graduate year at Tufts.

Miss Mary Louise Miller of Doylestown, Pennsylvania, will teach grade one in Building C. Miss Miller is a graduate of Wilson College, Chambersburg, Pennsylvania, with a master's degree from Harvard. She did her student teaching at the Country School with Mr. Bramhall and Mrs. Devereaux.

Mrs. Dorothy Mulroy of Wellesley Hills will teach science in the High School. Mrs. Mulroy is a graduate of Wellesley with a master's degree from Boston University. She has done laboratory work in Boston hospitals and has taught several years in Attleboro, coming here from the Peter Thatcher High School in that city.

Miss Beverly Simpson of Longmeadow, a graduate of Wellesley with a master's degree from Harvard, will teach grade six in the Country School. Miss Simpson was here last year as an intern teacher.

Miss Elizabeth G. Trombly of Ludlow will teach English in the High School. Miss Trombly is a graduate of American International College. This will be her first teaching position.

Miss Nancy B. Turner of Auburndale will teach grade four in Building C. Miss Turner is a graduate of William Smith College of Geneva, New York. She was formerly a member of the admissions staff at M.I.T. and has most recently taught in the public schools of Scituate.

Mrs. Mary W. Conneally of Saratoga Lake, New York, will teach grade one in Building C. Mrs. Conneally is a graduate of Manhattonville College of the Sacred Heart, New York, with a master's degree from Oneonta State Teacher's College, New York. Mrs. Conneally comes from the public schools of Albany, New York.

Youngsters Collect $11.60, All on Their Own, for Fund

WAYLAND — Inspired by television programs, four youngsters who live on and near Indian Road took an empty beer can recently and made a long neighborhood tour, collecting money for the Jimmy Fund. They took in $11.60, which they mean to send to Big Brother Bob Emery.

Incidentally, they emptied their piggy banks into their beer can. They didn't bother to consult their elders or to acquire any credentials. They just took off, ranging down Stonebridge Road in one direction and to Dudley Pond in the other. Thomas Williams of Old Connecticut Path was the star contributor. He kicked in a dollar bill.

Miss Farnsworth Gives 10 Acres To Town Forest

WESTON—Miss Marion Farnsworth has made a gift of approximately 10 acres of land to the Town Forest in Weston. This land is located in the Jericho Area, which is north of the Boston and Maine Central Division and west of Concord Road.

Weston Center Blasts Interest Young and Old

WESTON — Sidewalk superintendents had a splendid time in Weston Center in late August and early September, watching the big shovel bite into the hillside opposite the stores and, later, seeing and hearing the dynamite blast away the rock.

After the shovel had done its work, great ledges lay exposed. Jack hammers poked holes into the stone and carefully measured charges of explosive, covered by steel blankets, knocked the ledge apart.

Traffic was carefully watched and small boys were kept out of harm's way by the Weston police.

The object of the work was to widen the Post Road and lessen traffic congestion in the middle of Town.

Building Boom

WESTON — Building permits soared to a new high in August, the biggest month the Town has had. The total value of the projected buildings was $588,939 with the following breakdown: 19 new dwellings, five additions, two alterations and two garages, plus a new dining hall at the Cambridge School.

Republican Rally Scheduled for Weston, Sept. 20

WESTON — A kind of political rally believed unique is scheduled for Thursday, Sept. 20, with a large number of "Eisenhower Chowder Parties" to be held in private homes, followed by a Town-wide gathering in Town Hall.

Mrs. Charles H. Ford, chairman of the committee, says she hopes there will be 100 hostesses, and that everybody in Town will be invited. Anybody who'd like an invitation and misses one, she says, should call her at WE 5-3926.

The individual parties will number up to 20 guests, she says, and contributions to the Republican campaign fund are to be made by the guests to the hostesses, who in turn will hand in the proceeds at the Town House.

She says it is hoped that Sumner G. Whittier, Republican candidate for Government, will speak at the rally, along with other candidates.

Any kind of chowder may be served. Mrs. Ford says she thinks this is the first time ever that an entire Town will have been invited to a political dinner and to a political meeting.

Many hostesses have already been lined up, and Mrs. Ford wants more. Some of those already on the list:

Mrs. Allen C. Winsor, Mrs. Douglas Pillsbury, Mrs. Edward Langenbach, Mrs. William Wolf, Mrs. C. F. Gimber, Mrs. Robert Breck, Mrs. Saville Payson, Mrs. Lewis Mustard, Mrs. George Amadon,

Mrs. John Lord, Mrs. Ford, Mrs. Gilbert Peakes, Mrs. E. Dennison Palmer, Mrs. David Lutkins, Mrs. John Underhill, Mrs. Lawson T. Hill, Jr., Mrs. Richard Schanzle, Mrs. Stewart Woodworth, Mrs. Stanley Kellogg, Mrs. Arthur Greene, Mrs. William Manice, Mrs. Charles Somers, Mrs. Harris Reynolds, Mrs. Donald H. Regal, Mrs. J. M. Langr (CQ), Mrs. Henry M. Merrill, Jr., Mrs. Robert D. Lane and Mrs. Herbert S. Evans.

First X-Ray Date Sept. 13 at P.H.C.

WAYLAND — The Wayland Area Chest Screening Clinic will be held on the first Thursday and fourth Tuesday of each month from 6:30 to 8:30 p.m. at the Parmenter Health Center, it has been announced by Dr. James Burke, chairman of the planning committee.

The service is free to adult residents of a number of Towns, including Wayland and Weston. Last year, the clinic x-rayed nearly 700. Appointments may be made by calling the Center, OL 3-5111, or by calling a local Board of Health nurse.

The clinic is sponsored by local Boards of Health, local TB committees, the Center and the Middlesex Health Association. Dr. Charlotte A. Stewart and Miss Roberta Jacobs, R.N., are on the Wayland committee.

First clinic date is Sept. 13.

Red Cross Gives First Aid Kits

WAYLAND — The Wayland Chapter, American Red Cross, has just presented two "Twenty-four Unit" first aid kits to the Wayland Fire Department. These kits will become part of the equipment of two of the pieces of apparatus.

This brings to four the total number of First aid kits furnished to the Fire Department by the Chapter. The first were presented when the Town purchased the two new engines recently. Many of the firemen and auxiliary firemen have taken the first aid courses also given by the Chapter. Chief Clifton Haynes accepted the kits on behalf of the Department.

Beach Stays Open An Extra Week

WAYLAND—Because the Wayland schools did not reopen until Sept. 10, the Park Department kept Lake Cochituate beach open a week past Labor Day, until Sept. 9, thus ending one of the most successful seasons since the beach was acquired and opened by the Town.

The beach was policed every day, destruction was at a minimum, people used the beach freely but it was not crowded, the water was clearer than a year ago and in general everything seemed to be satisfactory.

A basketball court was installed and had much use. Honeysuckle was planted on the steep sand cliff to stop erosion. Benches and picnic tables were installed and, despite a report to the contrary, people were encouraged to picnic at the beach. Fireplaces haven't yet been installed, but they're in mind.

Suggestions have been received that the beach should be opened May 30, that a dock should be built and that other additions and improvements should be made.

John Wyman Makes U.S. Tennis Team

WESTON — After having won single tennis titles (for boys 15 years and under) this summer, and six doubles titles as well, in various tournaments throughout the State run under the auspices of the New

John Wyman

England Lawn Tennis Association, John K. Wyman of 102 Wellesley Street, won a place on the seven-man tennis team which represented the United State in Canada this Summer.

Competition for berths on this team was stiff and elimination play was held for several days at the Longwood Cricket Club in Chestnut Hill. The seven-man team finally selected went to Ottawa, Canada, August 17 (all expenses paid by the Canadian and New England Lawn Tennis Associations) and played a Canadian team selected from all over that country.

Some of the boys on the Canadian team came from Alberta and Vancouver, over 1500 miles away.

Children's Exchange To Reopen Sept. 25

WESTON — The Children's Exchange will reopen for business at the Jones House on Tuesday, Sept. 25, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m., for the entering and selling of good used clothing. Garments must be clean, in good repair and up to date, or they are not accepted.

All Weston residents are eligible to have accounts at the Exchange, and new customers and accounts are solicited.

Also on sale at the Exchange are home cooked foods made by Weston Residents.

Local News of the Sept. 18 Primary

For the Sept. 18 primary election, the Republican and Democratic ballots will be the same for both Wayland and Weston, except for the contests for State Representative.

In the 10th Middlesex District, which includes Wayland, James DeNormandie, the incumbent, is unopposed on the Republican ballot and Hector R. Buteau of Hudson is unopposed on the Democratic side.

In Weston, however, there is a difference. Weston and Waltham are in a double district, the 7th, which has two Representatives in the Legislature. One incumbent is J. Robert Ayers of Weston, who is a candidate for renomination. The list:

For State Representative, two to be nominated on each side:

Republican:

J. Robert Ayers, Weston, and Walter A. E. Anderson, Charles F. Graceffa, Eugene L. Tougas Jr., Joseph S. Trombley and Henry A. Turner, all of Waltham.

Democratic:

James C. Corcoran Jr., Lawrence J. Duffy and James P. McCarthy, all of Waltham.

Hours and Places

The registrations:

In Weston, which consists of one precinct, there are 1758 registered Republicans, 117 registered Democrats and 1547 independents or non-designated, for a total of 3422 potential voters.

Wayland has two precincts.

In Precinct 1, Wayland Center, the registration is 776 Republicans, 77 Democrats and 1,025 Independents. In Precinct 2, Cochituate, 523 Republicans, 132 Democrats and 1,368 Independents, for a Town total of 3,901 eligible to vote in the primary. Town Clerk Leila Sears says it's not the biggest registration ever, but that that for the November election should be.

In Weston, the polling place is the Town House, and the hours are from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m.

In Wayland, the two polling places are the High School gym, for Precinct 1, and the Cochituate School, for Precinct 2.

Hitherto, the American Legion

Easy-Going Way To Run a Railroad

Commuting aboard the trains from Boston to Weston and Wayland tends to be informal.

One day this Summer the conductor on the outward-bound hopped off the train at Tower Hill.

"Say, Joe, where are you?" the engineer shouted at him.

"Picking a bouquet for my wife," returned Joe, getting back on with a bunch of daisies in his fist.

One evening a couple of little girls, dressed in grown-up finery, hailed the conductor at Tower Hill.

"Is this the next train for Hollywood?" they wanted to know.

And the regular routine at Weston in the morning, when late commuters come running, is for the trainmen to call out:

"Take it easy. Don't get no heart attack. We'll wait."

This is the line which has a certain fame in the transportation world as one of the few left on which steam locomotives still run.

Letters to the EDITOR

To the Editor:

I want to take this opportunity to express my personal gratitude, and that of the Massachusetts Heart Association's officers and directors, to you for the splendid assistance you gave us through the 1956 Heart Fund campaign.

It is due in no small measure to the helpful support you gave us that this was a historic campaign for the Association. Full returns will not be in for some time but we are sure that throughout the state the Fund total will amount to at least $1,000,000. Last year —the previous best year — brought $738,000.

You will be happy, I know to realize that this campaign's success means the Massachusetts Heart Association will be able substantially to broaden its attack upon heart and associated diseases. It will mean more dollars for lifesaving research in our medical centers, for public and professional education and for badly needed hometown services.

Your part in this campaign was an important one. The people of Massachusetts, as well as the officials and volunteers of the Massachusetts Heart Association, owe you a deep debt of gratitude.

Robert W. Wilkins, M. D.,
President Massachusetts
Heart Association

To the Editor:

I would like to call attention to the wonderful cooperation with our local Red Cross Blood Program on the part of the Raytheon Manufacturing Company here in Wayland. On Aug. 21 the Red Cross Bloodmobile made its second visit this year to the Raytheon Plant. Raytheon personnel have donated a total of approximately 250 pints of blood so far this year, and the Bloodmobile will make a third visit to the Wayland plant in November.

This same cooperation on the part of Wayland residents would certainly put us over the top and make blood readily available to everyone who needs it.

Special thanks are due Mr. Richard K. Eaton of the Raytheon Personnel Department for his excellent work in making this program so successful.

Also assisting in the drive were the following local people: Mrs. James DePaulo, Mrs. Edward Whelan, Mrs. Sheldon McEwan, Mrs. Lawrence Hollis, Mrs. Frank Barry, Mrs. William Downing, Mrs. Edgar Lawrence, Mrs. Bert Fitch, Mrs. Pierre Dumaine, Mr. Peter Dumaine, Mrs. Athlon Huntley, Mrs. Howard Tewksbury, Mrs. Edward O'Neill and Mrs. William Young.

Representative

J. Robert Ayers

has announced his candidacy for a fourth term in the Massachusetts House of Representatives from the Seventh Middlesex District, which includes the Town of Weston and Wards 1, 2, 4, and 6 of the City of Waltham.

Representative Ayers, now a member of the powerful House Committee on Ways and Means has the distinction of being the first member of the legislature to be appointed to this important committee in his second term since the same honor was accorded to Governor Christian A. Herter when he was a second term member.

Rep. Ayers has served the Town of Weston as a Selectman for six years, and as a member and Chairman of Weston's Finance Committee before that.

Formerly a Secretary to Governor Leverett Saltonstall and for four years a member of the Massachusetts parole Board, Representative Ayers has devoted the last twenty years to public service.

Mr. Ayers is a practicing attorney with offices in Boston, and is also a shoe manufacturer.

The Weston Water Department tapped a new well at the Nickerson Field area in June, using a new pump and a new control system. The new well adds 1,500,000 gallons a day to the Weston water supply, making plenty for everybody.

NEWS ROUNDUP

Weston C.D. Auxiliary Police held its first meeting of the season on Tuesday evening, Sept. 11, at the Jones House. Plans for the coming year were discussed. Speaker was Mr. Dwight S. Strong, Executive Secretary of the New England Watch and Ward Society, who told about the work and aims of this organization. Mr. Strong is also Executive Director of the Citizens Crime Committee of Massachusetts.

Ralph B. Marotte, Jr., co-captain of the 1955 Wayland High football team, was one of a group of recruits for the Air Force which left Framingham recently. Cochituate boys in the party were Roger E. Bulkeley, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Bulkeley of 5 Stanton Street, and George A. Marshall, son of Mrs. Alice B. Marshall of 25 Leary Street.

Ruth Fichter of Wayland was a prize winner at the Middlesex County 4-H Fair held in August. Many Wayland persons participated.

Private Russell J. Gleockler of 4 Bald Rock Road, Cochituate, has arrived at Fort Dix, N. J., and has been assigned to Co. E, 1st Regiment, for eight weeks of basic training. He went to high school at Lower Merion, Pa.

The Summer Reading Club had a very successful trip around Weston this summer. There were 33 entries. The winners were Cheryl Aseltine of Newton Street and Susan Revotskie of Fox Chase Lane.

This club is an annual affair to help further the boys' and girls' interest in books and reading.

Football Squads Out in 2 Towns

Thirty-two in Wayland and 26 in Weston turned out as candidates for the 1956 football teams, with Wayland starting practice the last week in August and Weston after Labor Day.

In the Weston squad are 13 juniors, eight seniors and five sophomores, plus a complication. John Garabedian and Tommy White are managers, but Tommy has to double as a bandsman on game days.

Wayland has 11 seniors, 14 juniors and seven sophomores. Missing from last year's team, which lost only one game, are Fred Tassinari, Paul Bradley, Paul Keating, Ralph Marotte, Paul Senory and others. Still around are Co-Captains George Richardson and Bob Parker, new quarterback George Bradley, who has had two years of backfield experience, and many others from last year's squad.

Wayland's first game is with Millbury, at home, on Sept. 22.

Weston starts with Bourne, at home, on Sept. 29.

Gone from the Weston squad are Tom Healey, Don Jones, Bob Howell, Cappy Dunn, Dick Cahill, Ben Blaney, Dick White, Dave Donaldson and Bill Healey. The last named, still in school but ineligible because he has turned 19, will be around to help out Coach George Harris and his assistant, Bob Carini.

On the Wayland coaching staff are Ralph Salvati, William Frary and freshman coach Ed Barry. Managers are Dave Hollis and Al Witzell.

The Weston squad:

Ernie Trowbridge, hb; Bill Mueller, t; Jock Gates, e; Charlie White, t; Joe Rote, g; Ken Healey, hb; Pete Lawson, e; Bob Murray, t; Dick Hallett, e; Larry Foreman, g; Lorry Cannon, g; Steve Greene, hb;

Mr. McMullin Sits In With Committee

WESTON — Donaldson Ray McMullin, resident of Weston and widely known as a school architect, attended the meeting of the School Site Committee Tuesday evening, Sept. 4, as a consultant.

Mr. McMullin presented a vast amount of information compiled in studying the several sites under consideration, together with a progress report on borings. Two of his associates who are working with him on the study, John Gallagher and Robert Brown, also attended and helped to answer questions. Mr. McMullin spoke of the invaluable help given him by Charles H. Stimpson, town engineer, who already has given much time and expert advice to the committee.

J. Robert Ayers, chairman, called the next committee meeting for Friday evening, Sept. 7.

The Wayland Post 6260 V.F.W. drill team participated in the Labor Day parade at Marlboro at the invitation of the Mayor of that city.

Regis College, With 170-Acre Campus, Is a Weston Landmark

Airplane View of the College

WESTON — Regis College is a familiar but little known landmark in Weston. Many townspeople have seen its buildings, situated on the highest hilltop of the Town, but few have had occasion to drive up its stately tree-lined entrance to see its 170-acre campus. And even fewer know that it accommodates a student body of 600 young women taught by a faculty and staff of about 75.

Regis College was founded in September 1927 to meet the need felt for a Catholic college for women in Massachusetts. The Sisters of St. Joseph of Boston, aided by the late Cardinal O'Connell, bought the Morrison Estate on Wellesley Street, which they named Regis College after their Founder and first Superior, Mother Mary Regis. The wooded campus with its quiet rural surroundings was free from city disturbances and yet accessible to Boston for day students. Since that beginning with a class of 55 freshmen, the college has graduated 2,605 students and is still expanding.

Three Wayland girls entered as students are Catherine F. Houston, '59; Kathleen M. Andrews, '60, and Agnes B. Houston, '60.

The college represents not only the Boston area. Its incoming freshman class of 180 girls will come from all the New England states, Pennsylvania and New York, Canada, Puerto Rico, Jordan, Hong Kong and Viet-Nam. But with over more than 300 day students commuting, there is a daily bus service to Cleveland Circle and Brighton.

Regis College's new library built in 1955, cost 3 million dollars. It houses two of the college's proudest possessions, the Fr. Blunt Newman Collection, largest collection of works about and by Cardinal Newman, and Cardinal Spellman's stamp albums, presented to the college in honor of his aunt. The library now has 50,000 volumes with a future capacity of 200,000.

The other new building is a dormitory, Maria Hall, which will open one wing on Sept. 17 for 50 students, and will be completed next year.

This is a great change since 1927 when the existing buildings on the estate were first adapted to college purposes. The Norman Tower on the summit of the hill, which served as a water tower, clock tower and observation tower, became an airplane observation post during World War II.

Included in college activities are three publications, of which one, called Hemetera, received the 1956 Magazine of Distinction award from Marquette University.

Registration date is Sept. 17 and classes will begin at 9:20 a.m. on Sept. 20.

People Used to Work In Wayland B. C. (Before Commuting)

WAYLAND — "Wayland's Industries" was the subject of a long paper read at a recent meeting of the Wayland Historical Society. It was prepared by Mrs. George I. Emery and represented many months of research. Some bits of information from it:

An early grist mill was built by a Rice on a dam at the pond behind the present Frederick S. Whiteside house on Rice Road. Its supposed date is 1650. The two big mill stones at the bus stop outside the First Parish Church on Route 20 are supposed to have come from this mill.

The first blacksmith is supposed to have been Richard Sanger, around 1646, whose house and shop are believed to have been somewhere near the present home of Rudolph Bruce on Plain Road.

In 1677, the Town of Sudbury (Wayland) allowed five men to build a saw mill on Hop Brook on what's now Dutten Road, two miles north of Wayside Inn, not far from the Sudbury Laboratories. In a dilapidated state, this mill is still standing, and Mrs. Margaret Morrell has taken pictures of it.

In the 1790s, it appears from an old account book, a sawmill was operated by a Benjamin Adams who lived in the present J. Sidney Stone home on Lincoln Road.

On land called "Smithfield," about where the Lawrence house now stands on Concord Road, was the earliest brick-making establishment. The earliest tannery was located near the corner of State Road East and Glen Road, one also being near the J. Sidney Stone home.

From 1777 to 1815, Silas Grout had a smithy next to his house, which stood where the Town Hall now is. The house was moved up Old Sudbury Road in 1878, and now belongs to Raytheon.

The older back part of the Doane house on Old Sudbury Road was Micah Maynard's cabinet shop. Miss Mabel Damon of Old Sudbury Road owns a set of dining room chairs made by the shop.

The present Regan house on the corner of Glezen Lane and Old Sudbury Road was built about 1812 by Samuel S. Noyes, who had a cabinet making shop just north of the house. He used the abandoned Moore saw mill, for turning parts of his furniture, this power operation being a rudimentary factory typical of the early application of power to hand tool processes.

Wayland had no water power sites large enough for real factories in the early Industrial Revolution. The fact that early railroads bypassed Wayland further acted to leave Wayland a back-country farming Town while surrounding towns forged ahead and became truly industrial.

By 1881 nearly 300 residents of the town were engaged in shoe manufacturing, with only about 140 engaged in farming and related occupations and 17 employed in Boston. The Bent Brothers, who manufactured shoes from the 1830's to 1910 in Cochituate, were prominent.

Welcome Wagon Notice

Welcome Wagon hostesses of Wayland and Weston want to cover the Towns as completely as possible. They would appreciate it if those knowing of newcomers would notify them by phone or card. Boys Become "Problems" More Often Than Girls — Guidance In Weston Schools

The teacher in the elementary school can most effectively help the pupil to use his various individual abilities. To do this teachers often need help from specialists and experts in the field of child study.

Child Study Specialists

The Human Relations Advisory Service brings to the Weston Elementary School for one half day each week a child psychologist and a social worker. These two people are available for consultation with teachers on any problems which the teachers may wish to discuss relative to pupils. Also, with parent approval, the psychologist may talk with the pupil for the purpose of getting a better understanding of the problem and, also with parent approval, the social worker is available to visit the child's home to talk with his parents.

Introductions

Let's start when the child comes to school for the first time. This is a big change for a 4 or 5 year old. Now he will be one of 25 to 30 children instead of one of his own small family unit. It is important that his first impression be conducive to helping him feel that school will become a place where he is at home away from home.

To bring this about Weston Kindergarten and first grade children do not come for the first time as a whole group on the first day of school. On one of two days before school opens for them they come individually with their parents to see their room and talk with their teacher. This friendly conference helps introduce the child to his new environment and gives both teacher and parent an opportunity to obtain information which will help each of them.

First Grade Transition Group

At the end of Kindergarten there are some children who need more time and instruction to get ready for a first grade program.

This year, to meet the needs of these pupils, Weston is introducing a transition group between Kindergarten and first grade for the purpose of helping these pupils.

Careful Records

When a Weston child enters Kindergarten, a folder labeled with the year in which it is expected he will be graduated from high school is made. This folder goes with him through his school years. In it are kept his record of academic achievement, his marks in terms of A, B, C, D, his health record, information about his social and emotional development, and the results of his achievement and intelligence tests.

Many Tests

Standard reading tests and teacher-made arithmetic tests are given to Weston pupils in grades 1 and 2. In grades 3 through 6 standard achievement tests, the Iowa Every Pupil Tests of Basic Skills, are administered each fall. Results of these tests are discussed with the individual pupil and his parents and a profile chart showing the progress of the pupil is kept in his permanent record folder.

Into the 7th Grade

At the end of the 6 grade, pupils leave the elementary school and enter grade 7 in the Junior High School. To help them adjust to their new program, the teachers of grades 6 and 7 meet each spring to discuss the individual pupils. Also present at these informal meetings are the elementary principal, the elementary supervisor, the High School principal and the guidance director. This discussion gives the 7 grade teachers an opportunity to obtain helpful information.

In High School

The philosophy of guidance in the High School is the same as in the Elementary School.

From the seventh grade on, the pupil works each year with seven or more teachers, and no one of these teachers will normally know him as well as his Elementary School teachers did. It is the specific responsibility of guidance to achieve from all these fragmentary teacher contacts as adequate an understanding of the pupil as possible.

Guidance Staff

The guidance staff consists of the Director of Guidance who gives some six-sevenths of his time to guidance, and four counselors who have altogether 17 hours a week set apart for counseling.

In addition, there is a dean of students who has given special attention to certain of the disciplinary problems; the Principal, who is always concerned with a great variety of pupil problems and with parental relationships; and the Human Relations Advisory Service.

Counseling Pupils

For the heart of the guidance work, i.e. individual conferences, there is available the equivalent of about one full-time counselor for 400 pupils, which is close to the average for the Greater Boston area.

One woman counselor takes girls in grades 8 and 9, a second woman counselor takes girls in grades 10 and 11, and the Director counsels girls in grade 12. The boys in grade 8 have a man counselor, in grades 9 and 10 a second man counselor, and in grade 11 and 12 the Director.

All pupils of grade 7 have their homeroom teachers as counselors. Each pupil has at least two conferences a year with his counselor, our experience indicating strongly that many of the most needy pupils are reticent or "good", and that regular conferences are very valuable.

Boys seem to need, and are given, more counseling time than girls—they seem to explode into "problems" three or four times as frequently as do our girls. Some pupils need intensive counseling, and these may be referred to the Director, (the usual number ranging from 10 to 15 at any one time).

The counselors have all had special training for their work and have been selected because of their aptitude for and interest in guidance. All of them give guidance more time than their schedules call for, perhaps because they believe guidance so very important.

Human Relations Advisory Service

When individual pupils puzzle the teachers and counselors and when conferences with the parents still leave the puzzle unsolved, Weston Schools have a very unusual resource: a child psychiatrist and social worker comes to the High School one half day every week from the Wellesley Human Relations Service.

In the High School there may be individual conferences with these people by the counselor or teacher, or the pupil may be discussed at length at an afternoon case conference to which all staff members concerned are invited.

These conferences have been held about twice a month over the past four years and in that time have been concerned with almost 100 pupils. They have helped the staff to understand better the individual pupils and to develop greater skill in dealing with them.

A Dozen Conferences

In an 8th grade course in Human Relations the pupil will learn about himself—his feelings, abilities, study habits, etc., and later in grade 11 he will write a long booklet on some career related to his performance on the Kuder Interest Test.

He will be invited to come to some 40 career conferences arranged through the courtesy of Northeastern University. As he nears the end of school he will study many catalogues of colleges, junior colleges, technical institutes, nursing and secretarial schools, etc., and will have chances to meet individually or in small groups admissions officers from all sorts of education institutions and representatives of the Armed Services.

He will formulate his plan for life after graduation, making appropriate applications for examinations, for admission, and perhaps for scholarships. He may have special classes in remedial reading or make-up mathematics. He may get a summer or afternoon or full-time job. He may come back after graduation to discuss books or college courses or a score of other matters.

Through all these years he will have had three counselors who have had in all at least a dozen conferences with him, perhaps many more. These may have been helpful in this period of life, at which so many adolescents find it hard to talk to their parents. That a fair proportion of the conferences are initiated by the pupils themselves suggests it.

Tough Problems

Weston has had counselors for only a decade, and we have much still to learn. How, for instance, do we spot clues in early years to later maladjustment?

How do counselors talk with the girl who fails to use her fine academic ability or with the sullen, defiant boy? Should we "lay it on the line" in a sharp challenge, or do we call the pupil in for a series of conferences to ask questions and listen and try to get the pupil to understand his problem and to develop his own mature problem?

At what point do we press for formulation of educational or vocational goals? How, in this period of rapidly changing college admission standards, shall we advise the pupil who has set Cornell or Amherst as his goal? Should Jack be referred to a special clinic, or advised to go to a private school or summer school? Guidance people face these problems and many others, tough ones, with too little time for adequate study. Guidance, if it is to succeed in decent measure, itself needs understanding, parental cooperation and community support.

In Weston Rotary

WESTON — Gregory Cooper of Wayland was the speaker at the Sept. 6 meeting of Weston Rotary, and he covered 4000 years of the history of architecture in 15 minutes. Later, he answered questions about the coordination of building architecture, landscape architecture and city planning.

Speaker for Sept. 13 is Fred Muhlhauser of the Cambridge Rotary Club, who's to talk about seminar studies at Salzburg, Austria.

President Hector Osmond presided and Rev. Egisto Chauncey said grace. Past President Arthur Leiby reported on the Fall Conclave of Rotary, to be held at Poland Springs, Me., later this month.

Regis College Students!

Did you ever hear the story about the Scotchman who had, naturally a ThriftiCheck Account at the Newton-Waltham Bank and Trust Company?

One day he walked in — kilts and all — and we asked him just what it is he likes about his ThriftiCheck Account!

"Well, I'll tell you, sir, in but a few words

1. You can open your ThriftiCheck Account with any amount you wish.
2. No fixed balance is required.
3. There is no charge for deposits.
4. Your statements and cancelled checks are available at regular intervals.
5. Your cancelled checks are always proof that you've paid a bill.
6. You may find it more convenient to maintain your ThriftiCheck Account entirely by mail. Mail-deposit slips and self-addressed envelopes are supplied to you.
7. For all these and many other ThriftiCheck advantages the ONLY costs are:

Cedar Hill, Weston—model house open Saturday and Sunday, September 15 and 16, from noon on. To see at other times call VOlunteer 2-5800.

Families grow and shrink during a lifetime and their housing needs are constantly changing. The Techbuilt Idea accommodates these changes within a single dwelling that is literally DESIGNED FOR A LIFETIME.

DOLLAR FOR DOLLAR A TECHBUILT HOUSE IS THE BIGGEST HOUSE YOU CAN BUY

When Techbuilt revived the two-story house in America, it offered the family with children not just a beautiful new design but a BIG house that contains all the living space they will ever need at a price they can afford now. Designed by the architectural firm of Carl Koch & Associates, the Techbuilt house utilizes the foundation walls as living space — giving the home owner more space for less money than any other house. None of the interior partitions is a supporting member of the house. Techbuilt specifies where the utilities and immovable fixtures go — the rest is up to the home owner. He can choose the room arrangement that best suits his family.

Now Techbuilt employs the same ingenuity that produced the space-saving two-story house to bring you a complete line of one-story houses that enable the home-buyer to plan a house around his family's individual pattern of living.

At Cedar Hill, a Techbuilt Community in Weston, harmony without uniformity is the keynote. Careful use of similar design elements renders each house distinctively different while it affects an over-all community charm. And the smooth-flowing, uncluttered architecture is ideally suited to the beautiful, rolling terrain. Many choice lots are still available — or Techbuilt will build on your own site.

Animals can get heat prostration, too.

Wayland Scouting Gets Reorganized

Personalized adult counselling and increased parent-troop relations will be the basis for the new program in preparation for Wayland Boy Scout Troop #1 this year, it has been announced by Troop Committee Chairman, Jackson Turner.

The former patrol system in practice will be revamped and the boys will be grouped in patrols according to their geographical location in town. Patrols will be organized for the Woodridge, Happy Hollow, Davelin Road, State Road East, Concord Road, and State Road West areas. Other area patrols will be organized as needed. Each will have an adult counsellor to help the boys on their scout projects, organize field trips and supervise weekly patrol meetings.

The first troop meeting is planned for Wednesday, Sept. 19, at the high school gymnasium. Turner and newly appointed Scout Master Larry Cook, Sylvan Way, will tell the boys about the plans for the coming year. Assistant Scoutmasters Karnig Berberian, Pequot Road; Don Atkins, Pelham Island Road; Jerry Joyce, Sherman Bridge Road; Larry Langley, Cole Road and Bob Mills, Pequot Road, will be introduced to the troop and work will begin immediately with the boys in getting patrol activities under way. Each patrol will number six to eight boys.

It is planned that patrol meetings will be held three times, a month, either at the home of the adult counsellor, or, weather permitting, outdoors so that Scouts can work on field projects, or, parents permitting, at the homes of patrol members.

Troop meetings will be held once a month at the High School and they will feature a series of guest speakers, with motion pictures, from the fields of science, technology, industry or any other that would interest or benefit the boys. These programs will be announced in later issues of the Town Crier. Parents of Scouts or prospective Scouts are invited to attend monthly troop meetings to hear guest speakers, witness scout awards, and review scout activities.

Prior to the first troop meeting, adult counsellors will be in touch with parents of Scouts active last year. They will explain some of the troop's coming activities. Newcomers to the community or newly eligible boys interested in joining the Wayland Troop will certainly be welcome.

For information call Jack Turner, EL 8-2600 or Larry Cook, EL 8-2096, or report in at the first meeting next week.

Committee members assisting Turner and Cook in this new program are Parmelee Hill, Institutional Representative; Henry W. Plump, Secretary-Treasurer; Marvin Fitcher, Nevin Kather and David Bailey.

Full development of Weston is expected to be reached in 35-45 years. It probably will contain 4100 houses and 14,500 people, as against 1800 houses and 6400 people now. But it could end up 5443 houses and 19,000 people.

Mysterious Walden Is High Again

LINCOLN — Lake Walden, noted since before the time of Henry D. Thoreau for its strange changes in water level, had another one this Summer. Until mid-August it was so high, despite the dryness of the season, that no swimming was allowed in it.

In his famous book, Thoreau wrote that the pond was subject to great changes in water level, and he didn't know why. Although it has no apparent inlet or outlet, its level varies five feet or more. It is conjectured that it may have subterranean connections with Pond in Lincoln, but nobody has ever been able to prove anything.

One guess is that the heavy rains of the past two years raised the water table so much that Walden rose despite the lack of rain this Summer. Its level seems to change in long cycles. For a period, a cove near Thoreau's old cabin will be far under water, and then it will be out in the air again. The lake seems to be a very deep glacial kettle hole, with nobody knows what underground connections.

Efforts are being made, incidentally, for public acquisition of land on the easterly side of the pond, so that the main road may be removed from the recreation area.

WAYLAND — Morton R. Jay of Dean Road was recently given a 20-year service pin for "outstanding service and achievement" as director of sales for the Cody Distributing Company of Boston.

WAYLAND — Joseph "Jerry" Joyce announces he has opened new offices in the new Bank Building, Wayland Center.

Toll Road Will Have Effect on Local Traffic, but How Much?

Airplane view, furnished by the Turnpike Authority, shows how toll road building has altered the Lake Cochituate topography at the point where Route 30 crosses.

The Massachusetts Turnpike is scheduled to open in November, steel strike permitting. Through traffic from the West which formerly came in over Routes 9 and 20 will be dumped on to Route 128 at Norumbega Park and Commonwealth Avenue. It will then be up to the individual motorist, who has been travelling at 70 miles an hour, to ferret out the least congested route into Boston.

There are four Boston-bound arteries in the vicinity. Route 9, Route 16 (Washington St.), Route 30 and Route 20. They are already overloaded with local traffic. The new turnpike traffic seeking ways into Boston will put on the finishing touches. And Wayland, Cochituate and Weston commuters will soon find that although all roads lead to Boston, they will mostly be impassable.

In spite of this impending traffic crisis, city engineers, in both Newton and Waltham are making no plans to meet the situation.

Big Load for 128

Gordon McLean, public relations man for the Authority, says, "Our hearts will be broken if we don't take traffic off your Weston and Wayland roads and make your problem easier."

However, a lot is being expected of Route 128. Engineers figure it can handle 30% more traffic during a 24-hour period than it is handling now. But that is not saying how close to capacity it is operating now during the rush hours.

Traffic maps of this area show that traffic increases about 5% a year. In addition, new throughways "induce" traffic which did not previously exist. Some motorists simply come to sight-see. Others will drive miles out of their way to use the road as pleasant detour. The extent to which "induced traffic" occurs varies in proportion to the degree in which the new highway excells the old. Induced traffic doesn't appear immediately. Rather, it is spread out over the first years of operation until it becomes indistinguishable from normal growth. Mr. McLean says the New Jersey Turnpike traffic has already reached the estimates for 1970.

In Waltham, officials in the City Engineers office told the Crier they didn't expect any increased traffic coming through Waltham as a result of the turnpike. The City Engineer in Newton said he had no particular plans to cope with the problem. Yet Commonwealth Avenue, which has only one lane inbound, will serve as the most immediate exit to Boston. Both cities indicate they are adopting a wait-and-see policy.

Engineers for the Turnpike Authority are quite realistic about what happens in the loading and unloading areas of a new toll road. They plan to hand each customer driving East a map showing him either now to get into or avoid Boston. But they are really not responsible for what happens to him.

Tolls on the new turnpike will be geared so that it will be cheaper for truckers to use the road. Speed will be regulated for 70 miles per hour. The saving in time along the 123-mile route is expected to be about an hour and a half. The toll rates will be 2c per mile for autos, 4c for medium trucks, and 5½c for for trailer trucks and busses.

First interchange after the entrance at Norumbega will be from the Worcester Turnpike at Shoppers World, serving Natick, and Framingham.

Next entrance is west of Framingham Centre at Route 9, serving Framingham, Marlboro, Hudson, Leominster and Fitchburg. Next stop is in Milbury, southeast of Worcester.

An amazingly large proportion of the road is already passable. A Model T Ford or a jeep will take you over most of it. Of the 225 houses taken over, there were a higher proportion taken in Weston than in any other area.

Eleven Bridges

There are 11 bridges along the four miles that stretch from Framingham to the terminus. Principal engineering problem along this section was the causeway across Lake Cochituate. "New England Construction" magazine in December 1955 had this to say about the Lake Cochituate crossing:

"The line of march then encounters Lake Cochituate; and this may be a pleasant sounding name to most people, but to the Whites and Consolidated (construction firms) it has meant a lot of hard work, with plenty of planning involved.

"Lake Cochituate is a real sports paradise for water activities; and since the new way is going to pass right over the Lake, it was necessary to provide a means for connecting the separted bodies of water. To this end, plans called for the construction of a pair of navigation culverts, which would pass under the highway facilities and thus permit the passage of small boats. Inner dimensions of the culvert are 15 feet by 17 feet.

"To enable Consolidated to construct the navigation culverts, the Whites built earthen cofferdams, thus sealing off the water from the work sites. Systems of well-points successfully kept the water down to provide proper working levels for the bridge builders." White and Consolidated also had to replace the 110-year-old MDC Cochituate Aqueduct, with about 900 feet of 60-inch reinforced concrete pipe.

World Traveler Likes Wayland Almost As Well As the Congo

WAYLAND — A recent visitor to Wayland was William Hassoldt Davis, explorer, author, soldier and magician, who's the older brother of Mrs. William R. Hulbert of Claypit Hill Road, whose husband is the Town's Director of Civil Defense and also a Wayland Library Trustee.

"Bill" Davis uses his middle name of Hassoldt for literary purposes, because there are so many William H. Davises.

He looks a good deal like Winston Churchill, a fact which the great Winston noted at a couple of interviews. He spent five years with the Free French in World War II, becoming a captain and winning the Legion of Honor and the Croix de Guerre twice. He met Winston once at El Alamein.

His latest book, "The Sorcerer's Village," is all about a witch-and-wizard mill in the African jungle, where boys and girls spend half a dozen years learning some of the fine points of magic and poisoning. He says Ernest Hemenway wrote him that it was "fascinating," a tribute of which he is proud, and he has presented a copy of it to the Wayland Library.

Likes Wayland Trees

Bill grew up in Wellesley Hills and went to Harvard in the class of 1929. However, he spent his senior year in a garret on Beacon Hill, writing a book of which he is not now proud. Then he embarked on a life of travel and adventure. writing his way around the world.

He has visited Tahiti, Burma, Tibet, French Guiana and many parts of Africa, and he has written 13 books which have been translated into seven languages. One volume was a Book of the Month Club selection. For the past 25 years New York City has been his home, when he has been in America.

He says he is delighted with Wayland and surprised to find it so wooded, although he'd like to see a few monkeys and wild animals in its jungles. He likes the Vokes Theatre, Lee's Market and such neighbors as the Georges Barrels, who live across the street from his sister.

In fact, he says, "I like Wayland almost as well as I do the Congo."

W.C.L. Dances Will Begin in October

WESTON — The fall and winter square dance program of the Women's Community League will begin in October. Last spring a representative group discussed and decided on some changes for this season.

Youngsters in the fifth, sixth and seventh grades will have four square dances during the year, all to be held at the Country school gymnasium, where sneakers are required. The first is Friday, October 19, and those following, all on Fridays, are Nov. 16, Dec. 21 and March 15. The tickets will be 50 cents. One difference from the past will be that this year fifth graders will come to Square Dance Instruction from 7 to 8:15 p.m. Sixth and Seventh graders will dance from 8:15 to 9:30 p.m. Charley Baldwin will call, using square dance records. A floor committee of fifth grade parents will be present at each session to insure a good time for every child.

The floor committees in other years have felt that there would be a better spirit of one big party including everybody if the children would come singly or in small groups rather than in couples or established squares. It is also urged that no dinner parties be held before square dances for fifth and sixth graders.

There are innovations in the adult program too . . . only two dances but they will be large affairs. The first will be on Nov. 9 in the High School gymnasium with Charley Baldwin and his orchestra from 9 to 12. Eighth graders and older are invited to the adult parties. Mrs. Herbert E. Hawkes is chairman of the first dance, which will again celebrate the birthday of the United Nations, with foreign students as our guests.

The Square Dance Committee feels the Nov. 9 dance will be a fine opportunity to welcome to Weston those who have just moved here, and hopes every square dancer will personally urge any neighborhood newcomers to appear.

The second adult square dance party will take place on Jan. 18 at the Cambridge School gymnasium under the chairmanship of Mrs. Arthur Spangler. This dance will be on a cruise or ski theme and you will be asked to come appropriately garbed for whichever Winter vacation you prefer. Again Charley Baldwin will call. Adult dance tickets will be 75 cents.

Weston Elementary Dancing Classes

WESTON — A registration date, not yet set, will be held early in October for children aged 6 to 12 who wish to enter the Weston Elementary Dancing Classes.

This is an arrangement by which a group of mothers engages dancing teachers, in this case Teresa and Diane DuBois, using public premises. It's easier than sending children to dancing school out of Town, and the classes are open to all.

This will be the third year of the classes, which meet one afternoon a week. Last year, 80 were enrolled.

Date of registration and of first classes should be in the Crier of Sept. 27.

CD Week in Weston

WESTON — Pamphlets were distributed to Weston school children this week, as part of the observance of Civil Defense Week, telling them how to take care of automobiles, what the family food supply should be and what the first aid kit should contain, says Miss Florence Freeman, director of Civil Defense.

In case of attack, Weston children would be evacuated westward along Route 20 to a reception center. Wayland children, theoretically, would stay put.

Mrs. Herbert Tyler

WESTON—Mrs. Martha (Rand) Tyler, wife of Herbert E. Tyler, a member of the Weston Board of Selectmen for 36 years and board chairman for 20 years, died on Aug. 10. Rev. Miles Hanson, Jr. of the First Parish Church officiated at the funeral services. The Tylers lived at 178 Lexington Street.

Gasoline on Wife's Breath? Don't Let Her Have a Driving License

A man who lives in one of these two Towns says the trouble in the modern world is that women are allowed to have driving licenses, and he is agitating for a law to forbid women to operate motor vehicles.

His argument is that women should stay at home and attend to cooking, laundry, housekeeping and children, and stay away from such demoralizing haunts as cocktail lounges, race tracks, civic meetings and supermarkets.

He says it's pretty discouraging to a husband to come home night after night to find his wife with gasoline on her breath and a film of road dust all over her face.

It's bad economics, too, he says. When a woman cuts loose from restraint with an automobile at her command, she often spends money. She'll go buy a porcelain umbrella stand or a million dollars worth of slip covers, when what the home really needs is a new fishpole or maybe just another jug.

Besides, with radio, television and the telephone, this character insists, the home is so charged with entertainment possibilities no woman needs to go out.

He doesn't emphasize highway safety, but he does say women are the only people who can drive no hands, no eyes and with sublime faith that nothing bad is going to happen.

He says that when a woman really needs to go anywhere, such as the Junior Prom, the grocery store, the church or the maternity hospital, some man will be available to drive her there. Matter of duty.

He says there are complaints that this generation is getting soft from not walking enough. He says let men get soft and let women stay tough. Moreover, he deplores the tendency of some families to have two or more automobiles. He says this extra expense wouldn't be necessary if women would only stay home.

This fellow says he means to be fair about this. He thinks the housewife should be allowed a bicycle if he wants one, with a basket on it big enough to carry, say, goods costing no more than about $4. He figures this would keep expenses down and at the same time save the woman from that cooped up feeling. Some wives, he says, seem to get claustrophobia in the home even before the breakfast coffee pot is washed.

Speaking strictly of local conditions, this sour fellow alleges that in the past 15 years, to his knowledge, no Wayland or Weston woman has bought more than a dollar's worth of gasoline at a time, and that as a general rule wives never buy any gasoline. He says he knew a Wayland woman who used to come home only when the gage read "Empty," and thought her husband was pretty careless because he kept running out of gas.

In short, he favors a return of women to the simple life. As for men, he says, it makes no difference. Man isn't returning, he's going, and he might as well head for his obvious destination in the family automobile as in a handbasket.

D. P. I. A. Has Had A Notable Civic History

By GLORIA BEUTNER

WAYLAND — A group of men met in Gilbert Huntington's garage on Hemlock Road back in 1933, ate a bean supper prepared by William Wight and discussed neighborhood improvement.

Among those present were Henry and Archie Harriott, Gilbert Huntington, John Kerrigan, Charles Purington, Jacob Reimer, Patrick Ryan and John Silver and William Wight.

The neighborhood they were discussing was the Dudley Pond area — Castle Gate South, Castle Gate North and Woodland Park. About 1913, the Dudley Pond area was laid out in Summer camp sites with 20-foot lots and 20-foot streets. Through the following years, and particularly during the depression years of the '30s, many of these Summer homes were converted to year-round residences.

Improvements

Enthusiasm was aroused at this first meeting. In 1934 the Dudley Pond Improvement Association was incorporated under the laws of the Commonwealth for the purpose of "promoting the Social and Civic Welfare of that part of Wayland known as Dudley Pond." Jacob Riemer was elected as the first president. Mr. and Mrs. Henry Harriott ("Pa and Ma" Harriott to all who knew them) had a summer camp on Lake Shore Drive and it became the regular meeting place.

Also in 1934, Wayland adopted a set of zoning laws, some of which affected the Dudley Pond area. Thus the need arose to raise standards to conform with whatever was deemed necessary for health and safety.

D.P.I.A. members studied and discussed both home and beach improvement. Working with elected town officials, they got better water facilities, gas, street lighting improved roads, private ways made public, R.F.D. delivery of mail, fire alarm boxes and street signs. They set to work improving their own homes and asked that their neighbors do likewise.

By 1948, Homer MacDonald, building inspector, reported that Association members had taken out more than 50 alteration permits from 1946-48 for their own home improvements. Mr. MacDonald said that this number of permits was the largest for any district in Town. The D.P.I.A. urged other homeowners to conform to the zoning and health laws.

The Playground

The D.P.I.A. sponsored the bathing beach at Dudley Pond in the '30s and has tried to cooperate with town officials from 1934 to the present time, to improve beach facilities and guard public safety. The situation has always been distressing because of droves of people from outside the town arriving weekends, driving down the dirt roads setting up dust and noise disturbance, and using the beach, which has no bathhouse facilities.

From 1938-40, the DPIA, along with other town organizations, sponsored a Youth Club of approximately 135 teenagers. Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Wood provided the adult leadership. The first president of that club was Andy Hardy, now a well-known Washington attorney.

One of the finest projects the D.P.I.A. ever sponsored was the George W. Fullick Jr. Memorial Playground. This was the idea of Ronald Wood, who enlisted the aid of George W. (Pop) Fullick, William Wight, Jacob Riemer and Chester Hobbs. They obtained the use of a parcel of land from the Snow property on Hawthorne Road, now a ranch-type home development. With the volunteer work of members, land was cleared and some equipment erected. Neighborhood women volunteered for supervisory details and the playground functioned during the month of August, 1947.

During the winter of 1947-48, the D.P.I.A. raised a sum of money to be used for the playground so that it might function more efficiently. Robert Anderson, Marguerite Moss, Ronald Wood and William Wight were appointed to head the program. An instructor was hired and the playground opened in June with an impressive dedication service in honor of George W. Fullick Jr., who lost his life in World War II.

The activities consisted mainly of games such as softball, volleyball and dodge ball, and small handicraft activities and ring games for small children. The attendance ran from 25 to 60 per day during the Summer.

The Studio

The second year the playground was run with volunteer instructors who were D.P.I.A. members. The third year it was without supervision as a public playground and it was closed after the fourth Summer because of the need for supervision and protection of equipment.

In 1948, Mr. William Kerr, owner of the old Studio restaurant located on Commonwealth Road East, offered the building to the D.P.I.A. Land was leased from Frank Lavin at $1.00 per year, on Old Connecticut Path at Pine Ridge Road. The men built a foundation and the building was moved to the new site and became the D.P.I.A. clubhouse. With volunteer labor the building was enlarged and improved. A $1200 mortgage was taken out to cover improvements. The Association sponsored a carnival on the Cochituate School grounds in July, 1951, which was so successful that they burned the mortgage with great ceremony at the next meeting.

This attractive clubhouse, with a main hall 26 by 40, cooking facilities downstairs and central oil heating plant, made it possible to render further service to the community. All youth groups were offered free use of the building for club purposes. Cub scouts, boy or girl scouts and 4-H groups have met there. At the present time, the building is being used by the cub scouts, the "Little Folks Dances" and the Young Mother's Association. Any other civic organizations needing a meeting place are invited to contact A. K. Tibbetts, president.

Candidates Speak

In 1953-54, a nursery school was housed and some of the playground equipment in the meadow behind the clubhouse was used. D.P.I.A. members would like to have a nursery again available for neighborhood children.

Civic concern goes beyond the neighborhood to the problems of town and state government. Every spring before Town election the D.P.I.A. holds an open house with the purpose of acquainting the public with candidates for public office. Candidates are introduced and speak informally on current issues. The school committee report was added to the agenda in 1949. There have been 17 such annual meetings to date.

The Clothing Exchange was organized in 1954 by the ladies of the D.P.I.A. Buying and selling are open to the public. Clothing may be brought on the 1st Thursday or Friday of each month and sales are held on the first Friday of each month. The Association receives 20% of the sale price for handling the exchange and the remainder goes to the owner.

The D.P.I.A. has not neglected social activities. There have been many round and square dances for young and old. Whist parties are Saturday night favorites and have raised money for the children's Christmas parties.

The Children's Christmas Parties have been a popular event for years, with decorated main hall complete with tree, movies, Santa giving presents, and refreshments. Also, most Christmases, D.P.I.A. members give individually to make up a Christmas basket for a needy family in the area.

Auntie Grace

Monthly suppers have been popular and a good money raiser for club projects.

The D.P.I.A. has had an average membership of 75 from the beginning, with a peak of about 135 members. All residents of the Dudley Pond vicinity are eligible for membership. Dues are $1.00 per year.

Among those whose names have been linked with the D.P.I.A. for many years and who are still active are Ronald and Mildred Wood. Well-known for their devotion to cub scout and other youth work, they joined the D.P.I.A. in 1936. Mr. Wood became the president in 1937 and had served in that capacity at least five or six times. Mrs. Wood became treasurer in 1947 and has held that post ever since. She and Ronnie have many times made up a club deficit out of their own pockets, to be reimbursed later when more money was raised.

Mrs. Grace Yeuell, known by everyone as "Auntie Grace," has been secretary of the club since 1948. She has faithfully kept the books and pursued her good neighborliness over the whole area, a champion baby sitter who cherishes memories of "my babies", who number in the hundreds. Some of them are now parents themselves.

William Wight was a charter member, active from the club's inception until his recent death. Jacob Reimer, the first president, still lives on Lake Shore Drive but has not been active for a few years. Mrs. Henry Harriott lives in her home on Lake Shore Drive, although no longer active in D.P.I.A. work.

A DROP in a BOTTLE
Measured against the relief or cure it produces, the cost of prescribed medicine is a drop in the bottle . . . a grain in a capsule. The cost is small indeed when you consider that the "miracle drugs" effect speedier cures thereby saving you the cost of a prolonged illness. When you have your prescription filled here, the price is held to the minimum by our policy of basing it on the cost of the ingredients plus a nominal fee for professional service.

John Wyman

Competition was very marked but the United States team finally won 9 to 6, and so brought back the large cup which was the trophy. This was the first international tennis match for boys 16 years and under, and those on the United States team had such a good time they would like to do it all over again.

A week later, John also won a place on the 13-man team that represented eastern New England in the Wright cup tournament, played at Hamden, Conn., Aug. 25 and 26. This is a tournament played out by four teams representing the North, East, South and West of New England.

Says John's father, Donald Wyman:

"William Hoblitzell, Jr., of Weston, is chairman of the New England Junior Tennis League this year which is sponsored by the New England Lawn Tennis Association. Mr. Hoblitzell has been doing an excellent job in running many of these tournaments personally, coaching the boys, and in many ways seeing to it that the entire tennis program of these younger boys ran smoothly throughout the entire Summer. Not the least of his assets is Mrs. Hoblitzell, who was always on hand to help with arrangements and chaperoning and even to sew emblems on the boys' shirts. The program certainly would not have succeeded without the help and guidance of both Mr. and Mrs. Hoblitzell."

John was 15 last January. He stands 6 feet 1½ inches and will be a Junior in Weston High this year. On Sept. 2 he won the singles match at the second Needham Open Tournament and was a partner in the winning doubles team.

Weston A.L. Post Installs Oct. 4

WESTON — Joint installation ceremonies for Weston Post 214, American Legion, and its Auxiliary, will be held on Thursday, Oct. 4, at 8 p.m. in the ballroom of the Jones House.

This traditional affair is usually attended by about 150 persons, including guests from neighboring American Legion Posts and representatives of the Middlesex County American Legion Organization.

The installation ceremonies will be followed by a buffet dinner and dancing.

Two complete slates of officers, for the Legion and the Auxiliary, will be installed.

Harry B. Jones of 448 Concord Road, Weston, active for many years in local Legion affairs is the incoming Post Commander. He succeeds Edward M. Dickson, who retires after two years in office.

Other Post officers include Senior Vice Commander, Everett Schwartz, Jr.; Junior Vice Commander, Stephen Colpitts; Adjutant, Paul W. Reddon; Finance Officer, John H. Kempster; Sergeant at Arms, Harold Stevens; Judge Advocate, Alfred M. Thomas; Chaplain, Henry M. Merrill, Sr. A 10-man Executive Committee will also take office.

New President of the American Ladies Auxiliary is Mrs. Lillian Duffy of Silver Hill Road, Weston.

Taking office with her are the following:

Shirley Millen, Senior Vice President; Bettylou Schwartz, Junior Vice President; Barbara Carlson, Secretary; Christine Shaw, Corresponding Secretary; Betty Rafuse, Treasurer; Faith Secord, Historian; Marie Proctor, Chaplain; Jane Hosterman, Sergeant at Arms, and Hazel Funderburk, Edith Herbst, Ella Trecourt, Alice Wilson and Marie Lawless, Executive Board.

Ernest H. Osgood Jr. has been appointed chairman of the Sudbury Republican Finance Committee.

Morgan — Fordyce

WAYLAND — Mr. and Mrs. Robert M. Morgan of Wayland have announced the engagement of their daughter, Martha, to Mr. Hugh R. Fordyce, son of Mrs. J. Forrest

Martha Morgan
(Warren Kay Vantine)

Fordyce of Grafton, West Virginia, and the late Mr. Fordyce.

Miss Morgan, who attended the Wayland public schools, was graduated from Concord Academy. She was a debutante of the 1951-52 season and was graduated from Middlebury College in 1955.

Mr. Fordyce, a graduate of the University of West Virginia in 1951, served with the U. S. Army in Germany for two years and received his Master's degree from the University of West Virginia in 1954. He is a member of the Councilling Center of George Washington University in Washington, D. C. A November wedding is planned.

Group To Help Musicians Is Set Up in Wayland

WAYLAND — The Association for the Advancement of Musicians was incorporated early in June by a group of Wayland and Weston citizens who became interested in the idea through Mrs. C. Mifflin Frothingham of Wayland.

The organization came into being because:

"Recognition of artists in the concert field depends on many factors beside talent. One of these crucial factors is the matter of financial backing. The artist who aspires to wide public notice must at some time have available substantial and sustained financial assistance. Artists can no longer depend on an individual patron, as the latter are rapidly disappearing from the scene. Therefore A A M I was brought into being, to provide the resources formerly contributed by individual patrons."

Mrs. Frothingham has long been interested in the problem of musical careers. One of the aspects of this is that because more people go to small concerts abroad, it is nearly mandatory for musicians to give a series of concerts abroad enabling many people and critics to hear them before they can attract the attention of important managers in the United States.

Roland Hayes, internationally known tenor, Hubert Lam, composer, flutist, head of Wellesley music dept. former Guggenheim fellow and David McK. Williams composer, Bach authority, and organist at St. Bartholomews in New York are the first members of the advisory board of this new organization, which as far as known here, is unique. Mary Smith, secretary to Thomas Perry, Manager of the Boston Symphony Orchestra, says, "If no such organization were started, in 20 years we would have an acute shortage of good symphony players."

There are at present almost no grants available nationally for graduate musicians, and what is available in this category is usually insufficient to launch a concert career.

The appeal for funds is nationwide: applicants must be residents of the United States and qualified graduate artists. The Board will be assisted in its choices by an Advisory Board of recognized musicians.

All ideas and experiences in this problem of enabling musicians to be heard are welcomed by Mrs. Frothingham. Contributions payable to the Association for Advancement of Musicians, Inc., Box 116, Wayland.

Trustees include John G. Brooks, Miriam P. Brooks, Rev. Theodore P. Ferris, Richard W. Foster, Carol O'D. Foster, Allen H. Morgan, Helen C. Morgan, Leila Sears, C. Mifflin Frothingham and Gelsey T. Frothingham.

Incorporators are Gelsey T. Frothingham, C. Mifflin Frothingham, Helen C. Morgan, Allen H. Morgan, Carol O'D Foster, Richard W. Foster, John G. Brooks, Leila Sears and Francis W. Hatch.

Officers are Gelsey T. Frothingham, president and treasurer, and John G. Brooks, clerk.

One Cat Comes Back, 2 More In

WAYLAND — One cat came back and two others turned up in homes to which they hadn't been invited.

Nickie, 9 years old, timid and toothless, whose disappearance from the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Ogsbury of Pelham Island Road was reported in the Crier of Aug. 30, came back after 12 days.

Timmy Ogsbury with Nickie, the cat who came back.

"He turned up at 4 a.m.," Mrs. Ogsbury says. "I heard crying outside the back door. The other four cats heard it, too, and they were all standing inside the door. I opened up and I shrieked so loud I woke up everybody. It was a joyous reunion."

Nickie was in as good shape as he was when he went away, she says, and she thinks he must have found an hospitable place to stay. Since his return, however, he sticks near home.

Miss Sarah E. Lovell of Wayland Center and Mrs. Renee H. Weiss of Old Connecticut Path, however, have cat trouble of a different kind.

Miss Lovell says a stray gray cat, elderly and fond of attention, moved in on her several weeks ago. "We can't keep him," she says. "We prefer birds." She hopes his owner will claim him.

Mrs. Weiss says:

"We have now in our possession a male tiger cat with one marked ear, which came out of nowhere about three weeks ago. Our telephone number is OL 3-1577." She'd like the owner to pick up his pet, too.

Saville Davis to Speak to W.C.L.

WESTON — The Women's Community League of Weston will hold its annual President's Reception at the Weston Town House on Oct. 1, 1956, at 1 p.m. The reception will take place in the lower hall where the Community League President, Mrs. Arthur A. Nichols, will receive with her officers and members of the new Board. Officers are:

Mrs. Lewis W. Mustard III, Mrs. Charles G. Ball, Mrs. Vernon M. F. Tallman, Mrs. L. Everett Johnson and Mrs. Arthur C. Murphy.

Mrs. Putnam P. Flint, Mrs. John C. Gray, Mrs. Frank L. Hitchcock, Mrs. Arthur B. Johnson, Mrs. Edward W. Marshall and Mrs. Julius H. Mueller are the Board members.

Refreshments will be served by a committee headed by Mrs. Eben Wallace and Mrs. Harold J. Adler, Chairman and Vice-Chairman of Hospitality. Hostesses will be Mrs. Edmund W. Campbell, Mrs. Raymond L. Clapp, Mrs. Charles M. Curry, Mrs. John L. Duffy, Mrs.

Schools Grow — 1565 in Weston 1603 in Wayland

First enrolment figures for the schools of the two Towns showed a substantial increase over those of a year ago, but nevertheless about in line with the advance estimates.

As of Sept. 14, the total Weston school population was 1565, with 564 in the Junior-Senior High School and 1001 in kindergarten and elementary schools. The projection made last November showed an estimate of 990 in the elementary schools and 548 in the High School. The actual enrolment on Oct. 1, 1955, was 1435, with 917 in the elementary schools and 518 in the High School.

Thus, Weston's actual increase in 12 months is 130.

Wayland's total enrolment, as of Sept. 17, was 1606, an increase of 108 since schools closed last June. (In 1950 the total was 947.) The High School enrolment was 548 and that of the elementary schools was 1058. There is no kindergarten in Wayland as yet.

Edward J. Anderson, superintendent of schools in Wayland, says the figures are just about in line with the estimates. He thinks the school population may increase by another 100 during the year, and that by Oct. 1, 1957, it may well be 200 larger than it is now.

In Cochituate School there were 366, in Happy Hollow 417 and in the Center School 275.

Parents are Asked To Wait a Little

WESTON — Police Chief J. Sumner Viles asks parents who want to call for their children after school not to go to the elementary school before 2 p.m. or to the County School before 2:05 p.m. He says the extra traffic interferes with the school buses.

U.N. Committee Named in Weston

WESTON — A United Nations Day Observance Committee of 19 members has been appointed by the Moderator of the Town of Weston. At the first Meeting on June 12, 1956 the following officers were elected:

Mr. Harry C. Crawford, Jr., Chairman; Mrs. Eric Reissner, Secretary, and Mr. Charles B. Cutter, Treasurer.

Plans are being made by the Committee for the United Nations Birthday, which will be celebrated this year on Oct. 24.

Storm Delays a Weston Wedding

WESTON — The Sept. 14 storm which deprived parts of Weston of electricity did not stop St. Peter's Church from carrying on with a scheduled wedding. Nancy Olive Painter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Whitfield Painter of Winter Street, was married to Dr. Modestino Criscitiello of Pittsfield, Massachusetts, in a ceremony delayed only 20 minutes.

At 4:10 p.m. with the ceremony scheduled for 4:30, Mr. Frank Whelpley of Whelpley Radio Co. called the church to offer the use of a generator. Unfortunately the first generator was not strong enough to work the organ and lights, so a second generator had to be brought in.

There were lights in the chapel, and music for the entrance and exit of the bride. As she left the church, the power again failed and the church was once again without lights or music.

School Bus Rule

Local police want to remind motorists of the rule about stopping for school buses.

Going in the same direction, the motorist stops dead, and may then pass at not more than 10 miles per hour.

Going in the opposite direction, the motorist also stops dead and may then pass at not more than 10 miles per hour.

The opposite-direction rule does not apply on double barrelled roads like the Worcester Turnpike, but no such highways are in use by local school buses.

Brass Band Is Feature of Weston Rally

WESTON — The Republican Town Committee's torchlight rally on Sept. 20 was not only a financial success but the unique spark that has set off other such rallies in Massachusetts. Included in the evening were "chowder parties" for the entire town, a parade covered by television and songs and speeches on the steps of the Town House.

With Eleanor Ford in charge of the individual parties, the committee for the rally itself had George

Half Wayland's GOP Quota Made

WAYLAND — Mrs. Frederick S. Whiteside, chairman of the Wayland Republican Town Committee, announces that half of the Town's quota in the Republican State Finance Drive will have been collected by the time the Crier appears. The campaign runs from Sept. 24 through Sept. 29.

In Precinct 1, areas and captains:

1. Mrs. J. J. Dugan, 60 Lakeshore Drive; 2, Mr. A. I. Schofield, 262 Old Connecticut Path; 3, Mr. Luis Roever, Juniper Lane; 4, Lewis W. Avard, 9 White Street; 5, Mrs. L. B. Jones, Winthrop Terrace, and Mr. L. F. Heinrich, 47 Cochituate Road;

6, Mr. L. William Bertelsen, 69 Claypit Hill Road; 7, Mrs. J. O. Post, Jr., Old Sudbury Road; 8,

More About the Old Millstones

WAYLAND — Mrs. Martin Edwards, now of New Haven, who was for long a resident of Wayland, writes to Mrs. Mabel Draper of Old Sudbury Road to correct a statement in the Sept. 13 Crier to the effect that the two millstones serving as a marker in front of the First Parish Church in Wayland came from an old Rice mill on Rice Road.

"The upper stone that faces the road," she says, "I always heard was the top stone from that mill but the rougher lower stone from the mill I think is on our old place on Winthrop Road.

"It used to be at the McManus Blacksmith Shop, used to straighten wheels. When that shop closed, we bought the millstone. It was with difficulty dragged by horses to our house on the Post Road. Later, moving it up the hill was easy with a truck.

"When the D.A.R. planned the marker, they wanted to stand the old stone on another, and as Mr. Henry Ford had many they asked him for one, which he gave them.

"I think you will find this in the D.A.R. records. We always prized our old millstone so much that I must tell you its history as I have heard it. The stone is right by the road on the way up to the house."

Center Site for Shopping Center Is Approved by Planning Board

This is how it would look, with Pelham Island Road in the rear and entrance from State Road in foreground. Parking lot would be in front of stores.

WAYLAND — Plans for a five-acre community shopping center of nearly five acres, to be the first of its kind in either Wayland or Weston, have been prepared by Edward A. Veno, Wayland realtor and builder, and approved by the Wayland Planning Board.

The site is in the region between Route 20 and Pelham Island Road, roughly opposite the Raytheon laboratory.

At the Town Meeting in March, the Planning Board recommended that an area of about nine acres, including what is now Veno property, should be rezoned for business.

The Article was defeated by receiving less than the needed two-thirds vote. It was represented that the land was not then held in a single ownership and that no specific project of development had been put forth.

It was, however, the piece of land in the Center which the Planning Board, after long study and after the employment of James Harris, a professional town planner, had decided was the best one in Town for a shopping center of the kind contemplated.

The size, potentially nine acres, was to be big enough to meet the needs of a Town of maximum population, one in which practically every lot was built on.

Public Hearing Oct. 15

Since last March, Mr. Veno has acquired 182,232 square feet of land in the area suggested by the Planning Board. He has engaged Tecton Associates, who are now making soil tests, borings, profiles and elevation studies of the land.

In 8 Years, No Pedestrian Death

WESTON — Two awards were given by the Commonwealth of Massachusetts to Weston in a ceremony on Sept. 19 at the Police Station. The awards were the AAA Award for Excellence of Pedestrian Protection Program over an eight-year period, and the Massachusetts Highway Safety Council.

Anthony A. Bonzagni, Deputy Registrar of the Registry of Motor Vehicles, represented the State. Among Weston representatives present were J. Ward Carter, Town Accountant and J. Sumner Viles, Chief of Police.

Although there have been automobile accidents in Town, the records show no pedestrian fatality in eight years.

Fall Flower Show Draws 200 Entries

COCHITUATE — People came from every state in New England and from New York, Pennsylvania and Ohio to see the beautiful array of flowers at the Annual Fall Flower Show held here at the Community Methodist Church Sept. 13 and 14.

Visitors were met at the entry by Leo, the Lion, and his mother. Leo's cage was decorated by Mrs. Alexander Lizotte. Linda Lawrence, Kathleen Devin and Mary Gordon, grass skirted maidens, sold pink lemonade. Theme of the show was "The Circus in Flowers".

Refreshments were sold at the Animal Cage Tearoom under the direction of Mrs. Michael Devin, Mrs. Donald LeDrew and Mrs. George Lewis. The Souvenir Booth was manned by Mrs. James Sandler, Mrs. Charles McKay and Mrs. H. James Casey.

There were nearly 200 entries. Exhibits were judged on a point basis, so it happened there was not a complete set of winners in all classes. The winners:

Class I, "The Fat Lady." 1, Mrs. William Wells, 2, Mrs. Alexander Lizotte, 3, Mrs. Arthur Dudley. Honorable mention, Mrs. Gregory Grogan.

Class II, "The Thin Man." 2,

New Bleachers Please The Football Crowd

WAYLAND — The new portable bleachers voted at a special Town Meeting in August arrived and were set up by volunteers in time to please the spectators at the first football game.

"This is great," said one citizen. "All we need now is a scoreboard, a clock and a loudspeaker system, so we can tell what's going on."

COCHITUATE — Pack 1, Cochituate Boy Scouts, is having a baked goods sale at Shoppers World at 10 a.m. on Oct. 12.

WESTON — Richard D. Robinson had a thoughtful letter more than a column long in the New York Times of Sept. 13, criticizing U. S. foreign policy in the Suez situation.

OOPS—(the editors)

All of you who saw the Techbuilt ad on page 7 of our last issue are probably still wondering what "LIGHT-HEATED" living means. Explanation — the "r" that was supposed to be inserted to make it read "LIGHT-HEARTED" living, completely escaped the typographer. But there's more truth than fiction in the phrase "LIGHT-HEATED." A Techbuilt house with its generous areas of glass uses baseboard perimeter heating to keep fuel costs light on your checkbook.

Wayland Clothing Exchange To Open

WAYLAND — The Wayland Clothing Exchange reopens for the Fall on Sept. 27 downstairs in Fellowship Hall, back of the Trinitarian Congregational Church, Cochituate Road.

It will be open every Thursday, except Oct. 4, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m., and on one evening, that of the last Thursday in the month, beginning Oct. 25. All are welcome to enter or buy clothes. Garments must be clean, in good condition and in style.

Coffee, sandwiches or light lunch will be available.

Hospital Associates Plan Fall Program

WALTHAM — The Sept. 10 meeting of the officers and directors of the Waltham Hospital Associates included several Weston and Wayland women. This fall the Associates plan to have a rummage and a food sale with Mrs. William T. VanHuysen of Weston as one of the two assistants to the chairman.

It will be held on Saturday, Oct. 6, in the Piety Corner Club in Waltham. Mrs. Edward A. Mooers of Weston will be chairman of the Food Sale to be held in Grover Cronin's on Wednesday, Oct. 24.

Mrs. Paul D. Rowan of Wayland was named to select material for draperies that need replacing in M1 and M2 of the Sanderson Memorial Building. Mrs. Daniel J. Blacklow of Weston is making plans for a free medical symposium open to the public, with coffee served by Mrs. David H. Reid. Also present were Mrs. Leonard Dowse and Mrs. Atherton Spalding of Weston.

The purpose of the Associates is to make the hospital more pleasant and comfortable for the patients and their visitors.

Wayland H. A. is Organized for '57

WAYLAND — The Wayland High Association, the organization which runs the sports dinner for High School athletes each Spring, has held its organization meeting and will hold other meetings at the High School on the second Wednesday evening of each month.

All interested are invited to attend.

President is Arnold Bradley. Other officers are G. P. Richardson, vice president; Bill Morris, secretary; Harold Ward, treasurer, and Ralph Salvati, W. M. Griffin and George Thorp, who, with the officers, make up the executive committee.

Funds for the dinner were obtained last year from a canvass of the Town by High School students. Plenty of money was raised that way, and it has been decided to do it again for 1957. Letters and awards will be announced at the dinner, and jackets will be given to senior athletes.

Weston Registration

The Weston League of Women Voters wants to call attention to the registration requirements for the November election.

A citizen must have lived in Massachusetts for one year and in Weston for six months. If a naturalized citizen he must bring citizenship papers with him.

The office at Town Hall will be open for registration every day from 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. On Oct. 5, the last day, it will be open until 10 p.m.

Rep. Ayers Leads His Field In Primary Election—Herter Wins

J. Robert Ayers of Weston, seeking renomination in the 7th Representative District, was high man in a field of six in the Sept. 18 primary, with 1934 votes in Weston and Waltham. Also nominated on the Republican ticket was Harry A. Turner, who had 1522 votes.

Two Representatives will be elected in this district in November.

On the Democratic side, nominees chosen were Lawrence J. Duffy and James P. McCarthy, both of Waltham.

In another contest in which there was interest in Wayland and Weston, Christian A. Herter, Jr. defeated Harris A. Reynolds of Weston for the Republican nomination for Governor's Council. In Wayland it was Herter 372, Reynolds 140, and in Weston, Herter 611, Reynolds 515.

James DeNormandie of Lincoln, Wayland's State Representative, was unopposed on the Republican ticket. Harold D. Donohue, for Congress was unopposed on the Democratic slate.

WESTON — Mr. and Mrs. John Noble Fisher (Cynthia Winsor Grueuer) announce the birth of a second son, Stephen Manson Fisher, Sept. 12, at Waltham Hospital. Grand-parents are Mr. and Mrs. Leopold Grueuer of Weston and great grand-parents are Mr. and Mrs. Charles Collens of Newton Center.

Lightning Hits, Frankie Hartin Takes Right Steps

COCHITUATE — Lightning struck the home of Assistant Fire Chief Francis J. Hartin at 105 Main Street on the afternoon of Sept. 14, but the affair was competently handled by Frank Hartin, Jr., 14, who was alone in the house with his brother Edward, 2.

An extension cord running to an outside shop was connected with a plug in the basement.

The lightning hit the shop, knocking a hole six or eight inches in diameter in the roof. Then it ran along the extension cord into the cellar, setting the cord insulation afire.

Frankie, who has a firemanship merit badge, among others, and is on his way to becoming an Eagle Scout, heard the crash. The lightning also set off the tapper in the house. He opened the cellar door to see what was up, and saw the burning cord.

He yanked the cord from the socket, took Edward out on the porch and called the Fire Department.

The firefighters came and dunked the cord in a laundry tub. No damage to speak of, but there might have been if Frankie hadn't coped with the situation. He's a freshman in High School this year, on the Honor Roll, and a tap dancer of note besides.

Carl De Suze Will Speak in Weston

WESTON — The Suburban Club of Waltham and surrounding communities will present Mr. Carl De Suze, noted traveler and lecturer, on Tuesday evening, Oct. 9, at 8 p.m. in the Weston Town Hall.

"Sunshine Safari", latest lecture of the Carl De Suze Travel-Cade, is a pursuit of the sun which ranges through some of the most exotic spots of the world. Since 1946 Carl DeSuze has taken his camera along on tours.

"Sunshine Safari" is a color tone poem studded with the usual De Suze gaiety, wit and refreshment.

Tickets are $1.00 and student tickets $.75. Proceeds will go into a Community Service Fund to help the Club's project of aiding needy children.

Tickets may be obtained by contacting Mrs. Robert W. Adams of Weston at TW 3-8890 or by calling at 751 Main Street, Waltham. Student tickets will go on sale at the Weston High School Monday, Oct. 1, at 8 a.m.

The Waltham Savings Bank Has SOMETHING NEW FOR WESTON SCHOOLCHILDREN

SCHOOL SAVINGS IN WESTON

With the cooperation of the Weston school authorities, the Waltham Savings Bank has expanded its school savings program to include the public schools in Weston. From now on, Monday will be BANK DAY for Weston children from kindergarten through the eighth grade. Our Waltham school savers delight in watching their coins become dollars . . . and we hope Weston parents will enjoy seeing their children acquire the habit of thrift, too. All it takes is a coin a week, but it could pay your children a lifetime of dividends. That's why the Waltham Savings Bank is offering this program, and why the Weston school authorities are cooperating. We hope you will, too!

Shopping Center

Most of the land is now rich garden land, black and moist. Beneath that, however, the engineers have found hard packed gravel.

The land is near flood level and will need a few feet of fill. However, Mr. Veno says he has acquired a gravel bank and permit in a neighboring Town and can provide at least 500,000 yards of fill.

A public hearing on the rezoning proposition will be held at Wayland High School on Monday evening, Oct. 15.

Sets the Pattern

Frederick G. Perry Jr., chairman of the Planning Board, says:

"This is the site which the Planning Board selected, on the basis of a study of the whole Town, as the best to meet the business needs of the Town, and the Board so reported to the Town. We feel that, notwithstanding other petitions, this is the most suitable place and we will so report."

An Article in the warrant for the next Town Meeting to this effect, he says, will be presented by the Planning Board.

"The Planning Board has considered all areas," he says, "and sees no reason to change its conclusion."

The proposed site is smaller than the maximum nine acres originally proposed, but Mr. Perry says it will be big enough for now, will set the pattern and can be enlarged.

Could Be Enlarged

The proposed building is of Williamsburg Colonial design. Trees would be kept wherever possible, especially along Pelham Island Road. The Center would contain 10 stores, one a supermarket, covering a total of 8000 square feet of floor area.

The paved parking area would have space for 300 automobiles. The public entrance would be from State Road West and the delivery and service entrance from Pelham Island Road. The whole place would be on the East side of Sudbury River.

The building, capable of being added to, would be built on a slab. Mr. Veno means to build it and own it, leasing the stores. As possible tenants, he says, he has already heard from banks, hardware dealers, coffee shops, restaurants, drug stores, clothing dealers and others.

Exterior of the building would be of brick, possibly second hand brick, to help keep the Center in harmony with the other old buildings in the Center.

Rowe Rezoning Plan is Heard

WAYLAND — A proposal to rezone the property on Cochituate Road opposite Sandy Burr Country Club for a shopping center was heard by the Planning Board at a hearing on Sept. 17. At the end of an hour-long discussion a show of hands was called for and about 95% of the 115 attending registered disapproval.

The petition was the same one had been included in the warrant for the August special Town Meeting. At that time the Planning Board moved to pass over the article because there had been insufficient time in which to hold the public hearing required by law.

Speaking for A. William Rowe, the petitioner, Carl A. Sheridan, of Framingham, told the Planning Board that the 47½ acres would be ideal for a shopping center because of its central location, accessibility and area available for parking. He said Wayland needed such a center and now was the time to plan one with adequate space.

No Plans Yet

Although no plans were drawn up, he expected there would be one supermarket and about a dozen small stores. The County Commissioners had told him that Cochituate Road needed to be straightened at that point any way, and the hill at this corner would be leveled. The Department of Public Works, he said, had plans to widen Cochituate Road so that it could serve as a feeder to the Toll Road. He told the CRIER after the meeting that this might eventually mean an interchange on Route 27 at the Wayland-Natick line.

The other advantage, he said, would be that the proposed Route 20 by-pass would go right by the shopping center as it crossed Cochituate Road.

Frederick G. Perry, Jr., chairman of the Board, then explained that the Board had also received a petition to rezone the area between Route 20 and Pelham Island Road for shopping center purposes. Edward A. Veno rose to say he had purchased this property and that all engineering had been done.

John B. Holt, who has lived in Wayland 25 years, said he didn't expect they'd make Cochituate Road one inch wider and traffic along it was already so heavy that it takes him five minutes to get out of his drive in the morning. He ridiculed the idea that the by-pass, already 30 years on the drawing boards, would be built in time to make the center more accessible.

The Town was urged to follow the Planning Board's master zoning plan by Frederick L. Heinrich and not permit haphazard planning.

Weston's fine example of preserving its natural beauties by setting up a Town Forest was noted by Mrs. Frank C. Paine. "It is unbelievable that people should be so shortsighted as to destroy this property this way," she said.

Traffic Cited

The traffic generated by such a center came in for several licks. John T. Howard pointed out that there are 6000 car spaces on Shoppers World's 60 acres, so you could get 3000 cars onto Mr. Rowe's 47½ acres. The traffic created by Raytheon, George Vinsonhaler observed, was so bad that he often wondered if he shouldn't have had his head examined for voting for the Raytheon rezoning.

Walter B. Parker, said there were four restrictions he'd want to see placed on the development: (1) it should be built 200 feet underground (2) a Town Forest planted on top, (3) no lights, (4) People would be made to walk to it.

Chop up this year's bean poles for firewood. You may not want a garden next year.

Green Thumb Club Has Fall Supper

WAYLAND — The annual harvest supper of the Green Thumb Garden Club was held on Saturday night, Sept. 15, in the barn of Bart and Sue Bartholomew, Sherman Bridge Road. Chairman was Mrs. James Burke, assisted by Mrs. Dan Sheehan, Mrs. Bartholomew, Mrs. De Angelis and Mrs. Mark Marbet. Fall decorations were set up, the menu featured ham and salad and there was dancing afterwards.

Next meeting is scheduled for Oct. 8 at the home of Mrs. Harry Letaw. Co-hostess will be Mrs. John Cain.

Two officers have resigned, on account of moving out of town. Mrs. Robert W. Loney, program chairman and vice president, is moving to Pennsylvania, and Mrs. Donald T. De Angelis, treasurer, has moved to Newton.

The work program for the next three months will feature the making of hospital tray cards for Halloween, Thanksgiving and Christmas.

Library Friends To Meet Oct. 4

The Friends of the Wayland Library will meet on Thursday, Oct. 4, at 8 p.m. at the Library, for the annual business meeting and election of officers. Members will vote on the gift to be presented to the library by the Friends.

The speaker will be Allen Morgan, bird photographer and lecturer, who will give an informal talk on "Birds from Maine to Florida", illustrated with color films.

The meeting is open to the public. Refreshments will be served.

Local Men are in New Brown Club

WAYLAND — More than 30 Brown University men met on Aug. 28 at the home of Ralph Seifert, Country Corners Road, to eat lobster, sing Brown songs and work up organization plans for the Framingham area Brown Club, first such ever to be set up in this region.

Local men enrolled in the new club include Russell Mailman, Martin G. Rolland and Theodore P. Whittemore of Weston and Ralph Seifert, Bruce Mansfield, James H. Flanagan and Horace Megathlin, Jr. of Wayland.

Besides having fun, the members mean to make themselves available to high school principals and guidance directors in the area, as a step towards acquainting high school seniors with what Brown has to offer.

Contact men for the Club are Ralph Seifert of Wayland and Edmands P. Lingham, Jr. of High Street, Ashland.

Brass Band

Amadon as chairman, Marie Tilton, Lawson Hill Jr., Leonard Dowse, Patter Gimber, and Allie Mallett.

Marching to the strains of a seven piece brass band was John Lord Jr., wearing tails and top hat covered with campaign buttons collected for years, and Patty Amadon carrying a torch that had been in parades years ago. The Weston-Aires and the Kitchen Canaries with Rand Smith, TV baritone, sang "Life Up Your Hearts All America", written by Selene Howe and Patter Gimber. Ann Elwell was in charge of girls selling Eisenhower jewelry.

Bob Ayers Jr., as master-of-ceremonies conducted the program of speakers: Rep. Chas. Gibbons, candidate for Lt. Governor; District Attorney Ephrain Martin; Mrs. Mary Wheeler of Worcester, candidate for congressman; County Commissioner Herbert Applin; Former Waltham Mayor Henry Turner, candidate for state representative; and Harris Reynolds of Weston who spoke for Christian A. Herter Jr.

Wayland PTA Maps Season's Program

WAYLAND — The Wayland Junior-Senior High PTA at a recent meeting developed its full season's program and announced a series of four meetings to be held on Oct. 8 and Dec. 3, 1956, and Feb. 11 and May 13, 1957.

At the first meeting on Tuesday, Oct. 8, Mrs. Frank Bartol, Program Chairman, will present Mrs. Chester Cooper, Director of PTA District 7, as featured speaker. Mrs. Cooper's talk will be preceded by brief remarks from Mr. W. M. Griffin, Principal, including the introduction of new teachers, and from Mr. Edward J. Anderson, Superintendent of Schools. A very brief business meeting with reports by Bernard J. Nolan, President; Mrs. Oliver Riggs, Secretary; and Joseph Paradis, Treasurer, will follow. Changes to the by-laws of interest and importance to all members will also be considered. Refreshments in charge of Mrs. John Nelson will round out the evening's program.

The season's program of the Executive Committee which includes, in addition to those named above, Mrs. John Simoni, R. Taylor and Mrs. Donald Willard aims to strengthen meeting programming and to build up scholarship and operating funds.

Drumlin Farm Open Sept. 29

The Northeastern Bird-Banding Association will hold its annual meeting on Saturday, Sept. 29, in South Lincoln, at the Drumlin Farm Wildlife Sanctuary of the Massachusetts Audubon Society.

All interested in birds and in opportunities to study them more closely are invited to attend the open sessions beginning at 11 a.m. A chance will also be afforded to become better acquainted with Drumlin Farm, the most recent acquisition of the Society. The sanctuary is located on Route 117, 20 miles west of Boston, and 8-10's of a mile east of Route 126.

WESTON — Lester M. Black of Watertown has been awarded the contract for painting the exterior trim of the Town Hall, three offices in the hall, the exterior of the Jones House, and the exterior of the veterans' house at 66-68 Warren Avenue. The contract is for $2,455 and work is expected to start immediately.

In Weston Rotary

WESTON — Guest speaker at the Sept. 13 meeting of Weston Rotary was Fred Mulhauser of the Cambridge Rotary Club, who told about the Salzburg Seminar in American Studies, held in Austria since 1947 to give Europeans a more accurate idea of American life.

The European students, he said, are remarkably uninformed about the United States. One government employee had never heard of the Monroe Doctrine. Another student wanted to know why Negroes weren't taught English. The Seminar, he says, does a good deal to straighten out the minds of such questioners.

A guest was Kenneth Allen from Wales, a Rotary Foundation foreign student who will study at M.I.T.

Secretary Dave Bradley reported on the directors' meeting and Hector Osmond, president, introduced Mr. Mulhauser.

Weston Now Has School Savings

WESTON — Schoolchildren of Weston were introduced to the idea of "Bank Day" for the first time recently, as the Waltham Savings Bank extended its School Savings Program to include the Town.

The inauguration of this program in the Weston public schools is the result of action taken on June 26, 1956, when the Weston School Board voted approval of the School Savings plan.

Statistically, airline travel today is safer than automobile travel.

Stickers Show Who May Park at Wayland H.S.

WAYLAND — For the sake of safety and order, Principal W. M. Griffin of Wayland High School has installed a sticker system for the automobiles of students and faculty members who use the school parking lot, and he says the attitude and response of the students have been gratifying.

Each vehicle authorized to use the parking lot has a red and black sticker for the ventilator, issued after licenses and registrations have been checked.

At the beginning of each school year, says Mr. Griffin, he meets with the students who drive (60 this year) and talks about safety around the school grounds and drives. No actual speed limit is set. Fifteen miles an hour is mentioned as being sometimes too fast. There are so many pedestrians on the drives at rush hours, the rule is that the driver must be ready to stop instantly.

Weston High Notes

Weston High School opened its doors to students on Thursday morning, Sept. 6, at 8 a.m. for the new school year. The school population in grades 7-12 has swelled to 564 students as of this writing in comparison with 509 on Sept. 19, 1955, and two more teachers have been needed to take care of the increase in numbers.

Names of the new students:

Grade 12: Merrill Frye.

Grade 11: Diane Atwood, Elizabeth Brackett, Martha Johnson, Nancy MacKenzie, James Rote, Barry Spofford.

Grade 10: Regina Curtin, Christopher Jones, Frederick MacLeod, Elizabeth MacDonald.

Grade 9: Gregory LaTucky, Nancy Locke, Ann Shores, Kathleen Wolf, Richard G. Schmidt.

Grade 8: William Baker, William Bullock, Joseph Burke, Robert Emery, Joseph Ewers, Nanette Hall, Alan Johnson, Eleanor Jones, Francis McDonald, Louis Pechman, Lynn Rote.

Grade 7: James Baker, Nathaniel Bruce, Marjorie Bullock, Carolyn Frye, Susan Jones, Margaret Martell, Jane Peterson.

School opened with an assembly during which the students were welcomed back by Mr. Julius H. Mueller, Principal, and the new members of the faculty were introduced. These are: Miss Marie Louise Butera, Girls' Coach; Mr. Henry E. Dockler, Physics and Mathematics; Mrs. June E. Ellsworth, Mathematics; Mrs. Dorothy Mulroy, Science; Miss Elizabeth G. Trombly, English. Mrs. Victoria Foley, who will teach in the 7 grade, formerly taught in the elementary school.

New Student Council officers were also introduced. They are Kimball Cummings, President; Guy Nickerson, Vice President; Jane Gross, Secretary; Nancy White, Treasurer. Student class representatives, in addition to the above are Alan McClennen, Iris Ann Hubbard and Charles Phillips, seniors; Dorothy White, junior; Edward Hubbard, Laurinda Shepardson and Susan Herrick, sophomores; Esther Lombard, Armine Avakian, Lars Rydell and Jonathan Speare, freshmen; and Leslie Rudell, Forbes McMullen and Kendrick Child of the eighth grade.

RULES AND REGULATIONS OF THE BOARD OF HEALTH TOWN OF WAYLAND MASSACHUSETTS

Pertaining to the Construction of Installation of Cesspools, Septic Tanks, Privy-Vaults and Public Sewers.

Voted: That Chapter IV of the Rules and Regulations adopted by the Board of Health, Town of Wayland, Massachusetts, on January 4, 1952, is hereby amended by striking out Sections 3 and 5, and substituting therefor the following new sections:

Section 3. No septic tank, permanent privy vault, or other means of sewage disposal shall hereafter be constructed or installed in the town of Wayland until a permit has first been obtained from the Board of Health.

Section 5. All disposal works hereafter constructed or installed shall be of approved material and design, and unless otherwise specified by the Board of Health, shall be located not less than twenty (20) feet from any dwelling, not less than twenty-five (25) feet from any stream, not less than ten (10) feet from line of any street, court, or passageway, and not less than ten (10) feet from line of adjoining lot; all measurements being taken from the nearest portion of the sewage disposal works. All septic tanks hereafter constructed or installed shall bave an effective capacity of at least five hundred (500) gallons, and shall be of concrete construction, and of approved design. Each specific tank shall connect with not less than one hundred and fifty (150) linear feet of open-jointed 4" bell and spigot clay tile, laid in disposal trenches of crushed stone (3/4" to 1½" stone), not less than twelve (12) inches in deptb below the tile and eighteen (18) inches wide. The tile pipe shall be surrounded by similar material to a height of two (2) inches above the crown of the pipe. A two (2) inch layer of pea stone shall be placed over the filter stone to protect the filter material until the backfill settles. Where soil and ground water conditions permit, a leacbing pit may be used for disposal of septic tank effluent instead of leaching trenches. No cesspools shall hereafter be constructed or installed in the Town of Wayland.

ADOPTION. . . . This amendment to Chapter IV was adopted by the unanimous vote of the Board of Health, Town of Wayland, Commonwealth of Massachusetts, on September 11, 1956, and will be in full force and effect on and after October 1, 1956.

BOARD OF HEALTH
TOWN OF WAYLAND

By virtue of the publication of tbe foregoing in the Framingham News on Sept. 19, 1956, and the depositing of a copy thereof with the Town Clerk on Sept. 19, 1956, these Rules and Regulations are effective on and after October 1, 1956.

Baptist Church Votes to Support Pilot Experiment

WESTON — Believing that Christianity is essentially a lay movement, the First Baptist Church of Weston voted last January to support wholeheartedly the pilot experiment in Lay Development to be conducted in Massachusetts during 1956-7. The strong, positive elements of this experiment will be recommended for use in the 6000 churches of the American Baptist Convention during 1957-8.

With this vital belief, members and friends of the First Baptist Church will gather in the vestry on Oct. 4 at 7:30 to consider the plans of the Lay Development committee as presented by the Chairman, Lester Johnsen. The group will consider the place of the laity in our church life, how our laity can become better informed and more deeply consecrated, and in what ways this can become a reality.

TOWN OF WAYLAND

Wayland Beats Millbury 32-0

WAYLAND — Wayland unveiled a high scoring offense and a stubborn defense that was too much for visiting Millbury High. The passing of George Bradley and the hard running of Co-Captain Bob Parker and sophomores Bob Page and Dick Brewer rolled up a 32 to 0 score.

A 20-yard pass from Bradley to Nick Willard in the opening minutes started the scoring. In the second period, Bob Page intercepted a Millbury pass and ran it back 25 yards. Bob Parker plunged one yard for the score. Parker then intercepted on the 35 and ran it back to the 2 yard line where Dick Brewer dove over to make it 20 to 0.

In the second half, Bob Parker sped 45 yards on a punt return to set up a 25-yard Bradley-to-Pierce aerial for the fourth score. Bob Parker climaxed the scoring with a 30-yard gallop.

The second team entered and held the visitors until the final whistle.

George Richardson and George Throp were outstanding on defense.

Mr. and Mrs. Richardson Have Been Married for 68 Years

Mr. and Mrs. George Richardson

WAYLAND — Mr. and Mrs. George Richardson celebrated their 68th wedding anniversary on Sept. 1 with a cake, flowers, gifts and family visitors at their home on Old Connecticut Path.

They were married in Boston at Grace First Church by Rev. William I. Haven. Mr. Richardson will be 89 on Oct. 8 and Mrs. Richardson will be 89 on Jan. 13.

Mr. Richardson, whose father, also named George, came from Princeton, Mass., was born in Brookline.

Mrs. Richardson's father was Harry B. Fischer, who came to the United State from Holland in 1844. After serving in the Union Army in the Civil War, he bought the present Richardson farm in 1865. His daughter, Rose, was born in a big farmhouse there which burned when she was 14.

Mrs. Richardson is thus a sure-enough native of Wayland, with a lively memory of places and events unknown to most present day residents. As a little girl, she attended the Thomas School, on Old Connecticut Path near the aqueduct.

When Mr. Richardson was visiting her, before they were married, he was working in Boston and would come out to Wayland by train, then hike nearly three miles up what's now Route 126, then a dirt road through the woods, and back again.

Mr. and Mrs. Richardson had seven children, 12 grandchildren and 13 great grandchildren.

Six living children are Julia, Leon, Ernest, Gertrude, Edna and George P. Richardson. The latter is superintendent of the Wayland Water Department, and his son, also George Richardson, is co-captain of this year's Wayland High football team.

A son who died was Spencer Richardson, who caught typhoid at Brest on his way home from World War I and died 13 days after he reached home. Another Spencer Richardson, brother of the youngest George, is also a student at Wayland High and also on the football squad.

DPIA Clothing Exchange Reopens

COCHITUATE — The Clothing Exchange and Food Sale, sponsored by the Dudley Pond Improvement Association, will reopen Friday, Oct. 5, from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Sales will be held the first and third Fridays of each month.

Clothing must be up to date, cleaned, pressed and in good repair. The club house will be open Oct. 4 from 7 to 9 p.m. to receive clothing, which may be brought in then or on the day of the sale. For further information, call OL 3-7178.

Second Gift by Miss Farnsworth

WESTON — The recent 10-acre gift of Miss Marion Farnsworth brings her total contribution to the Weston Town Forest up to 20 acres.

Coffee Hours Set By Wayland LWV

WAYLAND — New and prospective members of the Wayland League of Women Voters will be invited to one of a series of neighborhood coffee hours scheduled during the next two weeks.

Mrs. William Max Griffin, chairman of membership, announces that League program and policy will be outlined at these small informal meetings.

Coffee hours will be held Tuesday (Oct. 2) at 8 p.m. in the home of Mrs. John B. Donner and Thursday (Oct. 4) at 10 a.m. in Mrs. Griffin's home. On Oct. 10, Mrs. L. William Bertelsen will be hostess at a 10 a.m. coffee hour, while Mrs. Willis B. Ryder will entertain another group in her home at 8 p.m.

More than 50 new members were guests of honor at the fall membership tea Tuesday at the Happy Hollow School. Edward J. Anderson, superintendent of schools, was the speaker. Mrs. Bertelsen presided.

Mrs. Allen H. Morgan, chairman of tea arrangements, was assisted by Mrs. Philip T. Lane, Mrs. Chesles T. Morgan and Mrs. Robert E. Cummings.

Officers and directors attended the fall conference sponsored by the state League of Women Voters in Lexington.

The board will meet Tuesday (Oct. 2) at 9:30 a.m. in the home of Mrs. Luther Davis Jr.

Sudbury Valley Trustees Seek $8000 To Buy Town Forest Land

WAYLAND — The Sudbury Valley Trustees, Inc., an organization formed three years ago, dedicated to preserving wild land in Wayland, have an option to buy 32 acres of land at the headwaters of Mill Brook for $8,000, and they are asking for contributions. The option will expire Nov. 15.

The 32-acre tract adjoins a 17-acre parcel which has been promised as a gift. The two lots together would form the nucleus of what is hoped will be a 75-acre area, to be saved forever in its present natural and beautiful state.

The Trustees' Statement:

Professional forecasters, economists and the like tell us that the day is coming when our heavily congested city areas will extend continuously for hundreds of miles from Boston, New York and similar cities. When and if that day ever arrives, a plan of natural areas now being envisioned by the Sudbury Valley Trustees, Inc., will prove of major importance to the future of this area. It will not only provide enjoyment and inspiration for generations to come, but it will also increase residential values through the preservation of the rural character of the town.

Chartered in 1953 as a charitable Corporation, the Sudbury Valley Trustees, Inc., was created by a group of Wayland citizens for the purpose of acquiring and preserving in its present wild state the marginal meadows and marshes of the Sudbury Valley. By perpetuating open wilderness areas for the enjoyment of all, the Trustees are preserving at the same time some of the finest wildlife habitat in New England.

This work has been progressing slowly, with several hundred acres already owned outright or under negotiation, and more than 100 members throughout eastern Massachusetts. However, the idea has been advanced only recently of a series of wooded areas to protect the headwaters of the principal brooks in Wayland, each area to act in much the same manner as a Town Forest. At least four such areas still exist in Wayland and plans are being formulated to see if the necessary money cannot be raised for their purchase.

Wayland Building Boom Continues

WAYLAND — Building Inspector Homer L. MacDonald says he issued 138 building permits in all of 1955, and issued his 138th for 1956 on Oct. 4. Average has been around 140 each year for the past five years, and it looked as though 1956 would be above that. Top record was 184, two or three years ago.

During July, August and September he issued permits for 43 new houses, at a total value approaching $700,000.

The list:

J. S. Hays Co., Inc., 32 Red Barn Road; Emerson B. Hovey, Woodridge Road; Rexford Moss, 15 Wallace Road; P. W. Shomphe and Sons, Inc., two on Marshall Terrace; Puritan Homes, five on Brooks Road and seven on Carpenter Road; Thomas H. Leahy, Adams Lane; William Bolton, White Road; Pollach and Potts, one on Country Corners Road and one on Barney Hill Road; Harriot G. Crawford, Brook Trail Road.

William J. Meek, 21 Orchard Lane; Paul E. Hand, 38 Rice Road; Patrick Roche, 10 Lake Street; J. S. Hays Co., Inc., three on Tally Ho Lane; Thomas J. Judge, 427 Old Connecticut Path; Nicholas Arcieri, 13 Grace Road; Paul Shapter, Cochituate Road.

Jacobus T. Anthony, Brook Trail Road; Walter Cheslak, Doran Road; Edward A. Veno, Moore Road; Richard V. Dana, Woodridge Road; James P. Linehan, 4 Hawthorne Road; Christopher C. Crowell, Jr., Adams Lane; Edward J. Anderson, 113 Woodridge Road; Pollach and Potts, two on Country Corners Road and two on Barney Hill Road, and Edward C. Murphy, 22 Marshall Terrace.

Susan Wins a Sewing Contest

Susan Thomas
(Albert's Studio)

WESTON — Susan Thomas, 13, daughter of Mrs. Margaret Thomas of 52 Sunset Road, won first prize this Summer in a dressmaking contest run by the Singer sewing machine company. She made a blue dress, the first one she ever did, and won over entrants from Waltham, Newton and other nearby places.

She hasn't worn the dress because it has been entered in a regional contest. Prize was a set of scissors. Susan is in the 8th grade at Weston Junior High.

Bouillon Party For Candidates

WAYLAND — Townspeople will have an opportunity to meet their candidates for State Senator and State Representative at a bouillon hour sponsored by the Wayland League of Women Voters, Wednesday, Oct. 24, from 10 to 11:30 a.m. at the Cochituate Public Library.

Guests of honor will be State Sen. Charles W. Olson and Mrs. Olson, John T. Dias, Democratic candidate for senator, and Mrs. Dias; Rep. James DeNormandie and Mrs. DeNormandie, Hector Buteau, Democratic candidate for Representative, and Mrs. Buteau.

Wayland residents are invited to drop in anytime during the period for a cup of bouillon and a chance to talk informally with the candidates. Mrs. Leslie Flood, voters service chairman, is in charge of the event.

Ike Jewelry Goes Fast in Wayland

WAYLAND — Mrs. J. O. Post, who's the local agent for Eisenhower jewelry, reports that more than $300 worth of pins, earrings, cuff links, bracelets and so on have been sold recently, at a profit of more than $180 for the Republican Town Committee.

They say Wayland women (Republican variety) are wearing these trinkets with dungarees, Bermuda shorts and even with dresses.

Also active in selling the jewelry, says Mrs. Post, are Edith Stokey, Polly Kimball and Jane Cannistraro.

COCHITUATE—Elmer Bigwood, president of the Southern Section Leaders' Organization of 4-H, presided at a leaders' meeting at the Civic League in Framingham on Sept. 20. Fern A. Taylor of Cochituate showed slides of Camp Middlesex and the 4-H Fair.

Weston Democrats Plan Meeting For Stevenson

WESTON — A Democratic public political meeting, believed to be the first in Weston in many years, will be held at the Jones House at 8:15 p.m. on Oct. 26. Speaker will be Prof. Lawrence H. Fuchs of Brandeis University, a newcomer to Weston, who lives on Kendal Common Road.

Prof. Fuchs is the author of a newly published book on voting behavior in America and he is the regular political commentator on Waltham radio station WCRB. He has also appeared as a substitute for Louis M. Lyons on WGBH-FM and WGBH-TV, Channel 2.

His title will be "Stevenson — The Need for Creative Leadership."

The latest in a series of Weston Democratic meetings was held on Oct. 10 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James S. Turner of Conant Road. Chairman of the meeting was Prof. Willis Wager of Winter Street, representing the Weston Democratic Committee, assisted by Mrs. Walter H. Stockmayer of Pigeon Hill Road.

Among those taking an active part in the local Stevenson-Kefauver campaign are Mr. and Mrs. John N. M. Howells, Mr. and Mrs. Willis Wager, Mr. and Mrs. M. Adolphus Cheek, Mr. and Mrs. John B. Paine Jr., Mr. and Mrs. John D. Mathews, Mrs. James Robbins, Mr. John Lawless.

Mr. Frank J. Connolly, Mrs. E. H. Sawyer, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Ashbrook, Mr. and Mrs. Walter H. Stockmayer, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Goodale, Dr. and Mrs. A. Gordon Gauld, Dr. and Mrs. Paul Munson, Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Mead, Mrs. Jean Tariot, Mr. and Mrs. Mario Castillo and Mrs. Lawrence Fuchs.

The Volunteers for Stevenson will take part in the national "Dollars for Democrats" canvass on Oct. 16. They say any who wish to contribute should send to "Volunteers for Stevenson", Weston.

Weston Highway Report Received

WESTON—A traffic count made on all important Weston streets shows that local traffic is increasing at the rate of 2½ per cent a year, and a report submitted to the Planning Board by Allen Benjamin, engineering consultant, makes recommendations for some highway widening and for better facilities for north-south traffic in Town.

The report, not yet adopted, is a long range recommendation.

Shopping Center Hearing

WAYLAND — The Wayland Planning Board will hold a public hearing on the evening of Oct. 15 at the High School on a proposed change in the zoning laws to make possible a new shopping center in Wayland Center.

First Camp Fire Group in Wayland

WAYLAND—A group of Camp Fire Girls, the first in a number of years if not the first ever, has been formed with 5th and 6th grade Wayland and Cochituate girls as members. First meeting was Sept. 18.

Leader is Mrs. Richard Dunham of Claypit Hill Road and sponsors are Mrs. Frank Babers, Mrs. John Pratt and Mrs. Richard Eckler. Members are Cathy Babers, Judith Anderson, Judith Walsh, Christine Dunham, Kathy Sampson, Nina Mayberry, Judith Pratt and Karen Eckler.

Reports Favor Decentralization; Special Town Meeting To Decide

WESTON — Nov. 8 has been set tentatively as a date for a public hearing and Nov. 19, also tentatively, for a Special Town Meeting to act on the big school issue centralization versus decentralization.

Last week the Site Committee appointed last May turned in its report, a 28-page printed document approaching in scope the famous Dr. Englehardt Report on the Wayland schools.

In brief, the Committee recommended decentralizing. But there was one dissenter who recommended a campus-type group of schools on land contiguous to the present Senior High School — Country School layout.

Copies of this report were mailed to all families in Town.

A few days later, the Weston Planning Board also distributed to all Weston families a "Plan for Elementary School Buildings and Sites" prepared by Allen Benjamin of Wayland, Town Planning Consultant, with a summary and restatement by the Planning Board itself.

This report went into even more detail than the Site Committee Report as to projections of future school population, land characteristics, traffic probabilities and all the other considerations affecting choice of school sites.

To Build One School Now

The gist of it was, however, that the Planning Board approves the majority recommendation by the Site Committee and will support it.

The Site Committee majority proposes that the Town immediately acquire an elementary school site (for a 21-room building) of 27 acres on the east side of Merriam Street and a 15-acre site south of the interesection of Pine Street and Highland Avenue. It proposes that a 25-acre site at the end of Gail Road, near the Wellesley line, already owned by the Town, be another school site.

The Site Committee also recommends that the Town instruct the School Building Committee to proceed at once to build on the Mer-

Weston Evening Concert Series

WESTON—Cesare Valletti, lyric tenor of the Metropolitan Opera and La Scala, will sing at Weston Country School on Jan. 11, 1957, at first of the Weston Country Evening Concert Series, sixth season. Featured at the second concert, Feb. 8, will be Jean Casadesus, pianist, and at the third, March 15, the Paganini Quartet, assisted by Ralph Gomberg, first oboist of the Boston Symphony Orchestra.

Proceeds go to the scholarship fund established by the Country Evening Concert Series at the New England Conservatory of Music.

Mrs. Albert B. Hunt is chairman of the committee and Mrs. Reginald B. Elwell is in charge of tickets.

Bloodmobile in Weston, Oct. 25

WESTON — Once again this year, as in the past, people of Weston will have the opportunity to donate blood to the Red Cross right in their own Town. The Red Cross Bloodmobile will be at the First Parish Church on Thursday, Oct. 25, from 1 to 7 p.m.

If you are at least 21 years old and not over 59, if you are in good health and weigh at least 110 pounds, if you have not donated blood within two months, if you have never had malaria or jaundice, chances are that you're eligible to contribute.

Last year Weston people gave 135 pints of blood on Bloodmobile Day.

To make an appointment, call Mrs. John A. Paine, Jr., at TW 4-4079. When 200 donors have been signed up, no more appointments will be made.

COCHITUATE — Pack 1, Cochituate Cub Scouts, will have a baked goods sale at Shoppers World, next to the Johnson-Gordon jewelry store, at 10 a.m., Oct. 13.

Letters to the EDITOR

To the Editor:

Do you own a large dog? Was he off his feed the last week of September? On the night of Sept. 23 one of our son's 4-H lambs was killed and partially devoured by a canine, which left a paw print measuring 3.7 inches from toe to heel.

If this could have been your dog, please restrain him at night, since sheep-killing can become a habit.

Mr. Van Heest Has Given Rombas Card

WESTON — Mr. Harold Van Heest, Weston artist, has donated the design for this year's Weston-Rombas Christmas card. The proceeds from the card sale will help to support the two French-American exchange high school students this winter.

The design is called "Christmas Morning" and depicts birds feeding in the snow under pine branches. The cards go on sale in October at 10c each.

Weston Polio Shots

WESTON — The Weston School Department and the Board of Health wish to announce that the clinic for first inoculations against polio for those in the age group 15 through 19 years, will be held on Wednesday, Oct. 24, at the Weston High School. Any person in this age group who may not be in school may also receive the inoculation at the time of the clinic. A supply of consent slips is available at the office of Mr. J. Ward Carter, Town Accountant, in the Weston Town Hall.

Children in the age group below 15 years who have so far missed their second shots will be included in the clinic on Oct. 24 at the High School, as will be a small number of pre-school children. Parents of pre-school children are requested not to bring their children to the High School before 10 a.m.

Further information regarding the clinic may be obtained at the office of Miss Margaret Keady, P. H. Nurse (TWinbrook 3-6500) or from the office of the Board of Health (Wellesley 5-0135).

WESTON — Three Weston boys are students this year at Middlesex School, Concord. They are David Freeman, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. Brownell Freeman of Skating Pond Road, in the 7th grade; Guy F. Garland, son of Mr. and Mrs. Guy Garland of 4 Granison Road, in the 8th grade, and Gardner E. Prouty 3d, son of Mrs. J. Fuller Prouty of 185 Newton Street, in the 9th grade.

The Heart Association reports that digitalis, still the most efficient drug in common use to strengthen the heart, was discovered in an herb tea used by Old Mother Hutton in Shropshire, England, in 1775. She used 20 ingredients in her potion. Ten years later it was discovered it was the digitalis, from foxglove, which was doing the business.

Some vodka is said to be 100 proof.

Child Study Committee Holds First Meeting

WESTON — The first meeting of the Weston PTA Child Study Committee was held at the home of Mrs. Harry Corman on Thursday, Oct. 4. Members of the Child Study Executive Board and Co-chairmen of the Grade Meeting Committees for Kindergarten through Grade 9 were present.

Plans and programs for forthcoming Grade Meetings were discussed. Members of the Grade 2 Committee gave a brief reading of the playlet "Scattered Showers,," a program suitable for a Grade Meeting. Inquiries concerning Grade Meetings or other Child Study activities should be directed to Mrs. David Grey, TW 3-5226.

UNICEF Film to be Shown in Schools

WAYLAND — Mrs. David A. Trageser, UNICEF chairman for the Wayland United Nations Association, announces that a color film about the children of the world, narrated by Danny Kaye, will be shown to children in the Cochituate and Happy Hollow schools and in local churches over the Oct. 12-15 weekend.

As in the past, UNICEF collection boxes will be distributed before Halloween, to be carried by children to houses instead of the trick or treat tours.

Archibald Cox of Glezen Lane is chairman of the Association, which plans a series of three seminar meetings on the Middle East for November.

Children's Theatre Workshop

WESTON—The Children's Theater Workshop opens for registration and its first session on Thursday, Oct. 11, and will run for eight consecutive sessions at $2 per child for the series. An innovation this year will be its leadership by two Emerson College students, Mr. Dwinell and Miss Pomeroy, with emphasis on stage and costume design.

For information, call Mrs. Donald Hurley, TW 3-2310.

Raytheon's goal in this year's Community Fund campaign is $71,680. Last year $52,000 was collected from employees.

Wayland Selectmen Act

WAYLAND — The Board of Selectmen recently voted to allow only residents of the Town to hunt on Town-owned marshes.

They also approved increasing to 10,000 gallons the storage of gasoline at the Jenney service station on State Road West, and allowed Robert N. Elwell of 111 Plain Road to store 500 gallons of gasoline in an underground tank at his home.

Seventy million Americans are treated in general hospitals each year.

Man Wants Wayland Airport

WESTON — Robert A. Waters of the Waters Manufacturing Company, Wayland, told the Weston Rotary Club the other night he wished there were an airport near the Sudbury River somewhere. His company owns an airplane which has to land at Bedford, and he'd find it convenient to have a landing field somewhat nearer.

Mr. Waters also told the Rotarians about the growth of his company, which has doubled each year and now does $1,000,000 gross business annually. The Wayland plant, he said, is being doubled in size.

Harold T. Wilson of 5 Laurel Road was inducted as the Club's newest member.

Weston Rotarians, at their Oct. 4 meeting, saw impressive movies shot from the Texas tower, the first pictures of a storm at sea made with a stable camera. The waves rose 60 feet.

Jack Duffy and President Hector Osmond reported on the recent Conclave at Poland Springs, Me. Past president Charlie Cutter introduced the speaker, William F. Dewey, who told about the building of the tower.

Secretary Dave Bradley introduced the guests.

Country Fair at Sudbury

SUDBURY — An old time Country Fair, a tradition of more than half a century, will be held at the First Parish Church, Sudbury Center, on Oct. 12. Guests will be served a harvest dinner at noon. There'll be a farm and garden shop, a Christmas gift booth and a food sale featuring jellies, preserves and baked goods from Sudbury kitchens.

Mrs. Allen Benjamin of Wayland is co-chairman of the committee in charge.

WAYLAND — Betsy Tanger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Tanger of Rice Road, is a freshman at Denison University, Granville, Ohio. She was graduated from Northfield last June.

New Sectors for Weston Auxiliary

WESTON — Charles L. Smith, 75 Westland Road, Weston Auxiliary Police Captain, has announced a new set-up for this organization. The Town is now divided into three sectors instead of four, as follows:

Sector 1: Includes the Boston Post Road and everything north of it. Frank L. Hitchcock, 6 Legion Road, Lieutenant; Paul R. Allen, 342 Merriam Street, Sergeant, and Wilbur A. Upham, 475 Conant Road, Sergeant.

Sector 2: From the Boston Post Road south, to and including Route 30 from Park Road west. Harry M. Shaw, 4 Farm Road, Lieutenant; Frederick W. Nims, 31 Golden Ball Road, Sergeant, and Alfred Thomas, 150 Meadowbrook Road, Sergeant.

Sector 3: From Route 30 south to the Wellesley line, including the traffic circle at Routes 30 and 128. Andrew U. Grant, 135 Old Colony Road, Lieutenant. A Sergeant will be appointed later.

The Auxiliary Police meets regularly at the Jones House, Weston, on the second Tuesday of each month.

The Red Feather Campaign is the BIG campaign. Give ONCE for 277 health and social welfare agencies.

Weston Scouting Is in Westwell

WESTON — New name of the Weston-Wellesley District Norumbega Council, Boy Scouts of America, is "Westwell", and Edward R. Langenbach of Weston is a vice chairman of it.

This is the committee which directs Scouting in Weston and Wellesley, with a proportionally larger number of Wellesley members.

Weston members of the district committee are Albert R. Speare, Gerard DeNapoli, George K. Sauerwein, William T. Wolf, Dr. John J. Byrne, Rene Avigdor, William Russell Otto, David H. Bradley and Lieut. Gene Morin, the latter representing the First Baptist Church.

The group held its first dinner meeting of the season at Wellesley Inn on Sept. 12 and another was scheduled for Oct. 10. Jack Moorhead of Wellesley is chairman and Jim Duffy of Wellesley is the other vice chairman.

Brownie I Investiture

Most of the Brownie I troops of Weston will hold investiture ceremonies on Tuesday, Oct. 23. At this time the new member makes her promise before the troop and receives her pin.

Gas Kitchen Heating Featuring

THE BURNER WITH THE BRAIN

Matchless Modern Gas Heating Ranges combine modern cooking ease with heating comfort that feels so welcome on these chilly days. So convenient, too — no fuel to lug or store. All this, and now The Burner With The Brain.

Imagine, fancy sauces turn out smooth with hardly any stirring! Cooked vegetables keep their garden freshness! And any of your favorite "fussier" recipes become easier to make successfully. A heat-sensing unit in the burner automatically raises and lowers the flame, keeping your pan at just the right preselected temperature. Pots and pans become controlled-heat skillets, deep-fat fryers, or sandwich grills.

Matchless Moderns are smartest cooking — smartest looking — because the fuel is fast, flexible, clean, dependable GAS! Come see all these wonders at our Fall Festival of Sales. Change to a Matchless Modern and you will have a wonderful cooking partner in your kitchen.

Choose from such famous names as: CALORIC, GLENWOOD, FLORENCE, ROPER, UNIVERSAL

- Matchless Modern Smokeless Broiling — you get only from Gas. Automatic lighting, too!
- Matchless Modern Gas Ovens — with automatic lighting, temperature and clock controls.
- Matchless Modern Built-In Gas Cooking Units — to fit any kitchen arrangement.

WESTON — Albert Rondeau of Northeast Airlines was the speaker at the Oct. 10 meeting of the Men's Club of Weston, held in the High School Cafeteria. Two members of the School Site Committee also spoke.

This was the first meeting of the season. Subsequent meetings will be held on the second Wednesday of each month. Dues, $1.

Officers: L. F. Rafuse, president; R. W. Stevens, vice president; H. B. Jones, recording secretary; G. W. Brothers, corresponding secretary; L. H. Smith, treasurer, and R. L. Helgeson, past president.

Stewart — Nix

WESTON — Miss Shirley Anne Nix, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur H. Nix of 15 Cutting Lane, Waltham, was married at Mary-Martha Chapel, Sudbury, on Aug. 26, to H. Donald Stewart Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. H. Donald Stewart of 84 Boston Post Road, Weston.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. Ernest R. Case, minister of Immanuel Methodist Church, Waltham. A reception followed at the Meadows.

Maid of honor was Miss Fay A. Griffin of Waltham. Bridesmaids were Miss Edith M. Stewart and Miss Elizabeth G. Stewart, sisters of the bridegroom, and Mrs. Robert Stascavage of Waltham, cousin of the bride.

Robert Gianferante of Hingham, the bridegroom's cousin, was best man. Ushers were James Chicco of Waltham, Robert Neilsen of Belmont and Albert Dean of Weston.

The Stewarts are living at Lake Charles, La., where Mr. Stewart is stationed with the Air Force. He was graduated from Weston High School in 1953 and Mrs. Stewart was graduated from Waltham High in 1954.

Dyer — Morris

Mrs. Dyer

COCHITUATE—Miss June Morris, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William J. Morris of 31 Pine Ridge Road, became the bride of Horatio Nelson Dyer, son of Mr. and Mrs. George B. Dyer of 14 Park Street, Greenfield, on Saturday, Sept. 1.

Rev. Paul H. Chapman officiated at the double ring ceremony. Mrs. Dorothy Edes, matron of honor, was gowned in orchid nylon tulle and carried yellow roses and split carnations. Miss Judith Arnold of Cochituate, bridesmaid, wore pink tissue taffeta and carried matching roses and white split carnations. Miss Susan Edes, flower girl, wore blue nylon tulle and carried an old-fashioned bouquet.

Mr. George B. Dyer Jr., was best man for his brother. Richard Morris, brother of the bride, and John DiCola of Saxonville, cousin of the bride, were ushers.

The guest book was in charge of Carol Canelli of Saxonville.

A reception for 150 guests was held at Rockledge on the Mohawk Trail. Following the reception the couple left for a trip through New York State and Canada. They make their new home at 14 Park Street, Greenfield.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Dyer attended the Massachusetts Hospital School. The bride attended Wayland High and has been employed as a secretary. Mr. Dyer is a junior at the University of Massachusetts, majoring in chemical engineering.

WESTON — The Children's Exchange reports it has some attractive fall and winter clothing at its Tuesday sales at the Jones House. Open 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Ide — Graham

WAYLAND — At a candlelight ceremony Sept. 29, at 7 o'clock, Miss Beverly Graham, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Percy J. Graham of 4 Rowe Street, Milton, became the wife of Malcolm Lyon Ide Jr., son of Mrs. Donald K. Ide of Old Connecticut Path, Wayland.

The Rev. Dana Pierce officiated in the Church of Our Saviour, Milton. Bouquets of white and yellow fall flowers decorated the church.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a gown of white silken train with short sleeves, fitted bodice trimmed with Alencon lace and bouffant skirt, her elbow-length veil of silk illusion arranged from a jeweled cap and she carried a rainbow Bible with an orchid marker, white carnations, pink roses, stephanotis and ivy.

Mrs. William A. Hartley of Quincy was the matron of honor and Miss Audrey A. Ide of Wayland, sister of the bridegroom was bridesmaid. They wore gowns of jade green taffeta, green velvet leaf headdress and carried cascades of yellow and bronze pompons.

Robert J. Graham of Milton, brother of the bride was best man. The ushers included William F. Curley Jr., of Wayland and John Handrahan of Framingham, formerly of Wayland.

The reception was held at the Furnace Brook Golf Club. The mother of the bride wore a light blue satin brocade dress with matching accessories and a corsage of orchids. The bridegroom's mother wore a beige sheath dress with dark brown accessories and green cymbidium orchids.

After a wedding trip to New York State and Canada, Mr. and Mrs. Ide will live at 3 Clarendon Street, Natick. The bride attended Milton schools, Boston University College of Music and graduated from Curry College.

The bridegroom attended the Wayland schools where he was a noted athlete, and Boston University Junior College. He then served two years in the Army, where he completed the Unit Supply Specialist Course at Eta Jima, Japan. Later he served in Korea. After his service he was graduated from Curry College, Milton. He is now with The Potter Press, Waltham.

Forest and Trail

WESTON — The Forest and Trail Association is clearing trails on Oct. 12 with the help of its junior members, led by Dr. William A. Elliston. Afterwards the party goes to the home of Dr. and Mrs. James L. Whittenberger for refreshments.

A walk in the Concord Road area under the leadership of Mr. Harold B. Willis and Dr. Carl C. Johnson is scheduled for Oct. 21, meeting at the Cherry Brook Station at 2:30 p.m.

TAKE AS DIRECTED

Before taking any medicine, read the label carefully. Follow the dose directions exactly. They have been determined and measured with professional competence. To take larger amounts or more frequent doses than directed could be injurious. To take less than directed could make the medication unavailing. To safeguard against error in dosage, we type the doctor's directions on the label — and then double-check the directions against the prescription.

"World Politics" Course in Weston

WESTON — Meetings of "World Politics", a weekly discussion group open to everyone interested in world affairs, will be held at 8 p.m., Tuesday evenings, at the Public Library in Weston. The first one was on Oct. 9.

In the 10 discussion meetings, led by Mr. Charles K. Cummings Jr., and Mr. Victor C. Harnish, participants will have an opportunity to discuss and evaluate political issues and problems with other interested adults. The causes of war, freedom and security, means and ends in world politics are among the topics to be examined. Three volumes of readings, which include selections from Plato to Eisenhower, are supplied to participants. For the sake of good discussion, membership is limited to the first thirty applicants.

The registration fee for "World Politics" is $10 per person and $15 per married couple. This covers the entire series as well as the set of the three books of selected background readings from the world's great political writers. For further information call Mrs. Grant M. Palmer, TW 4-2166, or the Foundation office at 40 Mt. Vernon Street, Boston 8, Mass. CApitol 7-4087.

Welcoming Coffees Of Weston W.C.L.

WESTON — The Membership Committee of the Women's Community League of Weston has started its annual series of neighborhood coffees. These morning "get-togethers" are designed to give newly arrived residents of Weston a chance to meet their neighbors and to hear about some of the many activities and interests open to women in the Town.

If you have recently moved to Weston and would like to attend one of these friendly gatherings won't you telephone the chairman of the Community League Membership Committee, Mrs. Arthur B. Johnson? Or, if you happen to live near one of the following hostesses, you can let her know that you would enjoy attending her coffee.

Mrs. Theodore B. Bayles, Mrs. Albert L. Stohlman and Mrs. George W. Bentley, Jr., are entertaining Thursday, Oct. 11, at 10 a.m. at the home of Mrs. Bayles at 94 Summer Street. Oct. 17 Mrs. Fred M. Thyng will have a coffee at 10 a.m. at her home at 5 Legion Road. The following day, Oct. 18, Mrs. James R. MacKay and Mrs. Fisher H. Pearson will be co-hostesses at 10 a.m. at Mrs. MacKay's home at 11 Sunset Road.

Mrs. Karl Adams, Jr., of Blue Spruce Hill will have a coffee on Oct. 23, Mrs. Robert W. Adams of 144 Sudbury Road on Oct. 26. On Oct. 30 Mrs. Richard B. Fowler and Mrs. Chester H. Graves will be co-hostesses at Mrs. Fowler's home at 246 Glen Road.

All of these coffees will take place at 10 a.m. Mrs. Donald R. Laffin entertained on Tuesday, Oct. 9. Mrs. Lyman Whitman Smith and Mrs. Richard P. Berry entertained their neighbors Wednesday, Oct. 10, at Mrs. Smith's home on Conant Road.

Candidate's Quiz By Wayland LWV

WAYLAND—The Wayland League of Women Voters has sent identical questions to the two candidates for Representative from the 10th Middlesex District.

The two are James DeNormandie, 49, Republican, of Trapelo Road, Lincoln, CL 9-8163, a dairy farmer, and Hector R. Buteau, 46, Democrat, of 6 Curley Drive, Hudson, Hudson 66, engaged in construction as contractor and developer.

The questions:

1. What in your opinion has been most valuable in preparing you for the public office you now seek?
2. Why is the office you seek of particular interest to you?

The replies:

Mr. DeNormandie, to question one: 1, Experience gained in Town affairs. 2. Experience gained in first term as State Representative. 3. A steady, continuing interest in public affairs.

Mr. Buteau, to question one: The knowledge of taxes and taxing procedures gained as a member of the Hudson Board of Assessors and the Massachusetts Assessors Association will, I believe, prove to be my foremost qualification as a Representative to the General Court.

Mr. DeNormandie, to question two: Being Representative offers two major opportunities; first, to help solve problems of local interest that cannot be solved by local action alone; second, to work for continual improvement of statewide services both immediate and long range. Of particular interest to me are those affecting higher education, penology, health and recreation.

Mr. Buteau, to question two: My interest has been intensified through my relationship with home owners, their family and financial problems. I sincerely believe that an immediate change is necessary in the tax setup of the state and hope to bring about a more equitable distribution of the tax load.

Nicole Sees The Rocky Mountains

By Nicole Maitre

It is already May, and seven months ago I arrived in Weston. These past months have seemed very short to me; so, I don't need to tell you how much I am enjoying my stay in the United States. Originally I considered this trip as a dream, and now it has become a reality.

I was first impressed by the welcome of the people of Weston and since then I have always been touched by their great friendliness.

I have made many friends among the students of the Weston High School and Regis College, and I realize fully what a broadening educational experience it all is. I am getting a great deal not only out of my studies, but especially learning much about American customs and way of life by living with a delightful family and having lived with another wonderful one before.

The deepest impression that I get of Weston, which I shall never forget, is the friendliness of the American people and the interest they show toward France.

A few weeks ago I became acquainted with another part of the United States, the Middle West.

I had been invited to visit a young friend from France who is married to an American Army officer and whose brother went to the College de Rombas. Her parents still live in Moyeuvre-Grande, the same town as mine.

After a delightful stay of a few days in New York in company with the Bonner family, I flew to Kansas City which struck me with its high elevators and silos, its wide avenues and sky-scrapers.

I stayed at Fort Leavenworth where my friends live. It is beautifully located on the banks of the Missouri River, in the state of Kansas. Spring had already come, and the trees and grass growing along the main avenues were turning green.

Fort Leavenworth is a military post which has an important tactical school where officers from all over the world come to study and train: from France, Germany, Japan, Indochina, etc. I had the opportunity while there to meet the cousin of Emperor Bao Dai and several officers from countries in South East Asia.

My friends took me to Denver, Colorado to spend the Easter weekend. We drove through the State of Kansas, and I was greatly impressed by the vastness of the country and its sameness. But then we got to Denver and saw the Rocky Mountains, standing with their snowy peaks as if to form a frontier barrier. We went up to a skiing area and admired all the way up those deep canyons with the red-colored rocks bordering them.

As everybody who is travelling in a foreign country feels a desire to compare new sights with those in his own country, I might say that the Rocky Mountains reminded me of the Alps, but I could think of nothing to compare with the typical vastness of the Middle West.

Wayland spent $1000 in August for the collection of garbage.

New England Swiss Celebrate National Holiday in Wayland

A guest at the Barrels' party blows on an Alpine horn, which is said to be loud enough to be heard across a Swiss Valley, from one Alp to another. However, there are no Alps in Wayland and the sound effects weren't the same.

WAYLAND — Mr. and Mrs. Georges H. Barrel of Claypit Hill Road opened their grounds on Aug. 5 for a picnic party for 300 New England Swiss who gathered to celebrate the Swiss national Holiday. The exact date of the holiday is Aug. 1, but Mr. and Mrs. Barrel, for the past seven or eight years, have been having the party on the nearest Sunday.

Mr. Barrel is the Swiss Consul in Boston. Most of the guests came from outside Wayland. The holiday dates from 1291, when three Swiss cantons formed the first Swiss confederation.

The guests had a picnic lunch, sang and had a target shooting contest, the latter a typically Swiss sport. Speaker was Dr. Fritz Bilfinger.

Gov. Herter, shown above, recently signed a bill calling for a study by the Commissioner of Natural Resources of the Bay Circuit, proposed green belt around Boston, including the Wayland-Sudbury marsh land.

What the bill does is provide a master plan for what will be a piece-meal job of accumulating recreational land about 10 miles out beyond Route 128. No money goes with it. But the measure implies the possibility of public acquisition of wild land of infinite value in years to come.

The idea for the project came from the Trustees of Reservations away back in 1929. Howard S. Russell of Wayland, as a State Representative, urged its passage, and his successor in the Legislature, Rep. James DeNormandie of Lincoln, sponsored the bill the Governor signed.

Wonderful Town Finance, Where Debit Underrides the Overjot

Take water available surplus and multiply it by the upgusser minus the dool. Then subtract e & d from what's left of the overlay, divide by bond interest compounded with 1956 frinch and plaster the quotient all over the budget for '57 and there's municipal finance for you.

Now this municipal finance is an an important subject in Town. Somebody has to know where the money comes from (that's easy) and where it goes and what path it takes. That last isn't easy.

In the first place, the Town has about 500 pockets, and it isn't happy unless it's putting and taking in each pocket all the time.

A practical 10-year-old says to himself:

"I have 25 cents coming in each week and I want to spend it all."

So he puts 25 cents in his pocket and he knows where he stands. He spends a nickel, a dime, then another dime and by Tuesday he's broke, but his accounts balance.

No so a Town.

It has more in and out baskets than a supermarket. In Washington they like to talk about balancing the budget, of course with imaginary money. In a Town, a committee of certified public accountants would have to figure six weeks to decide whether the quarter in the till is enough to pay a quarter's worth of bills.

Only those geniuses in charge can figure it out.

Every once in a while, in Town Meeting, somebody gets up and says there's $43.29 in the gizmo account which needs to be transferred to the whoffman fund. Unless there's a vote, it is announced, it won't be legal, and naturally everybody wants to be legal.

So somebody reaches in the bag and reads a motion. Nobody in the hall is going to reveal his ignorance by standing up and saying:

"Mr. Moderator, I don't get it. Why can't the treasurer just take the dough out of the till and put it in the bank or in a mattress until things blow over? Why all this folderol?"

Not only is everybody afraid of showing ignorance. He's also afraid that if he asks the question, somebody will try to explain, and that will take so long he'll never get home in time to see the fights.

So everybody says yes, and afterwards he never finds out what happened. Is there a soul in Town who knows what became of the $11.60 transferred from bugchump to overmeal at the 1953 meeting? What's more, is there anybody who ever thinks twice about it?

This reflects what is probably a Utopian state of affairs.

It's like confidence in the dollar bill. Without stopping to think about it, everybody assumes it's worth a dollar, and therefore it is.

So with Town finance. Everybody assumes the books are being kept properly, that there's some genius in the background who knows his decimal point from his elbow, and therefore there is. The dough flows in and the dough flows out, like the tide around Plymouth Rock, and nobody worries about it.

But it's still confusing, especially to those who'd like to argue about what's an asset and what's a liability. In a simpler world, cash in the bank would be considered an asset. In this arrangement, they figure out it's owed to somebody, so it's a liability.

If cash in the bank isn't an asset, a good many of us are worse off than we thought. — D.B.W.

3 Sunday Concerts To Benefit AAMI

WESTON — A series of three Sunday Afternoon Concerts will be held at 3:30 p.m. at the Country School for the benefit of the Association for Advancement of Musicians.

On the program for the first concert on Oct. 14 will be Allen Barker, pianist; Roger Voisin, trumpet; and Halim El-Dabh, Egyptian drum.

Mr. Barker teaches at Beaver Country Day, Wheelock, and the Cambridge School. Oct. 22, he will leave for a concert tour which will include New York, Washington, Holland, Germany, and England.

Mr. Voisin, first trumpet of the Boston Symphony, has been on tour in Europe with the orchestra.

Mr. El-Dabh is a composer as well as an authority on Egyptian music, and master of the Dera bucca, Egyptian drum. A graduate of Cairo University, he has had a Fulbright Fellowship at the University of New Mexico, received a Masters Degree in music composition from New England Conservatory, and while holding a teaching fellowship at Brandeis University received a Master's Degree in Fine Arts. For two summers he was a scholarship student at the Berkshire Music Center in Tanglewood.

Included on the program of this first concert will be Hindeminth Sonata for piano and trumpet.

Future concerts will be on Sunday, Nov. 18, at 3:30 p.m. Robert Brink, violin; and Daniel Pinkham, harpsichord; and James Pappoutsakis, flute.

On Sunday, Dec. 9, Robert Brink, violin; Allen Barker, piano; Karl Zeise, cello; and Robert Stuart, clarinet.

Tickets for the series are $5.75 and may be ordered by phone or mail from Mrs. C. Miflin Frothingham, 205 Glezen Lane, Wayland, EL 8-2092. Checks should be made payable to A.A.M.I. Single tickets when available will be $2.25.

Mr. Russell on Vegetables

WAYLAND — Mr. Howard Russell, Wayland Town Moderator, clarified the history of local market gardening in the May issue of Food Marketing in New England, publication of the First National Stores.

Mr. Russell disagreed with the magazine's statement that growing vegetables on a commercial scale in America originated in the town of Arlington, Mass. Instead, Mr. Russell pointed out that in the 1600s Massachusetts vessels were carrying vegetables to the West Indies, and by the 1700s a variety of vegetables and fruits was being grown in commercial quantities.

Wayland "Tired Mothers" Take Up Summer Ballet Dancing

(Boston Post Photo.)

WAYLAND — While schools were closed for Summer vacation, Wayland's "tired Mother" ballet group kept right on dancing. They have been meeting Tuesday mornings at the home of their teacher, Neta Barker, on Glezen Lane.

Children are often brought along and play with the Barker's children, Noble, 7, and Allyson, 2, while their mothers dance. Afterward all relax with coffee and snacks.

Neta's husband, Allen Barker, who is a concert pianist, has recorded music for the classes on a tape recorder.

"Too many women get the idea that you have to start ballet before you're 10," says Mrs. Barker. Mothers and housewives prove the fallacy of that kind of reasoning. Frankly, they're terrific. They have accomplished more in six months than a class of children would achieve in two years,

Some members of the class joined for the exercise, others had always wanted to learn a little ballet, and others wished to continue with ballet.

'The "tired mothers" all come from Wayland and Weston with the exception of Mrs. Jimmy Piersall, wife of the baseball player and mother of five, who comes from Newton. Included are Mrs. George Douglas, Mrs. Allen Benjamin, Mrs. Walter Hartman, Mrs. Charles Friede, Mrs. Luis Roever, Mrs. Howard Jenkins, Mrs. Jack Furrer, Mrs. Harvey Ames, Mrs. Frank A. Barnes, Mrs. Ronald Wood, Mrs. Richard Eckler, Mrs. Ray Harris and Mrs. Donald Ewing.

Mrs. Barker taught ballet at Brookline Academy, Ursuline Academy and the Berkelee School of Music after training with Senia Russicoff and Harriet Hoctor, whose guest teachers included Anton Dolin, Rosella Hightower and Alicia Markova. Since the Barkers moved to Wayland, she has been teaching in this area. She assists Mrs. John Baldwin in ballroom dancing instruction in the Wayland Junior Town House dancing classes, and this past Summer taught at the Meadowbrook Day Camp.

Flowers On The Wayland Dump

WAYLAND—Loosestrife, which costs money when its roots are bought at the store, grows wild on the Wayland dump, says John Eric Nelson, and it's pretty stuff which blooms for a couple of months in Summer.

Mr. Nelson says that people in Canada, where it grows freely, once started selling it in Boston for something like $2 for two roots.

The plant, which blooms in various colors, stands a foot or two tall. In masses, it looks impressive. Far down along the Maine coast and in New Hampshire one may see solid patches of it, sometimes 30 or 40 feet square.

Expert bird watchers can spot godwits, white-rumped sandpipers and dowitchers.

Weston Post, AL, Installs Officers

WESTON—Witnessed by a standing room audience in the Jones House ballroom on Thursday, Oct. 4, the new officers of Weston Post, No. 214, American Legion and its Auxiliary were installed with impressive ceremonies.

A suite of County officers headed by Mrs. James Howard of Chelmsford installed Mrs. Lillian Duffy of Silver Hill Road, as President of the Legion Auxiliary. Other officers installed with her were Shirley Millen, Senior Vice President; Bettylou Schwartz, Junior Vice President; Barbara Carlson, Secretary; Christine Shaw, Corresponding Secretary; Betty Rafuse, Treasurer; Faith Secord, Historian; Marie Proctor, Chaplain; Jane Hosterman, Sergeant-at-Arms, and Hazel Funderbuck, Edith Herbst, Ella Trecourt, Alice Wilson and Marie Lawless, Executive Board. Mrs. Pauline Rand of Waltham, Past County President, presented Mrs. Hazel Funderburk, the retiring President, with a pin.

Following the Auxiliary ceremonies, James M. O'Mara, Senior Vice Commander of Middlesex County and his suite installed the new officers of the Legion Post.

Harry B. Jones of Concord Road, was inducted into office as the new Commander of the Post. Other officers for 1956-57 are Everett Schwartz, Jr., Senior Vice Commander; Stephen Colpitts, Junior Vice Commander; Paul W. Reddon, Adjutant; John H. Kempster, Finance Officer; Harold Stevens, Sergeant-at-Arms; Alfred Thomas, Judge Advocate; Henry Merrill, Sr., Chaplain and an Executive Committee composed of William Queen, Robert Millen, Frank Shaw, Grant M. Palmer, John Myers, Paul Secord, Murray Burke, Earle Griffin, Gardner Tucker, Paul Allen, Edward Cutler, Anthony Ciraso and Edward Dickson, ex officio.

Past Commander Murray Burke presented Edward M. Dickson, the retiring Commander, with a Past Commander's pin. During his remarks, Commander Jones announced that the Post will sponsor a puppet show at the Jones House on Saturday, Oct. 20, and plans are already underway for another Spring auction.

The installation ceremonies were followed by buffet refreshments. Pourers were Mrs. Alice Rinehart and Mrs. Elinor Doyle. Flowers were arranged by Bettylou Schwartz. The evening concluded with dancing. The Hi-Five, under the direction of Geoff Wager, a talented group of Weston teenagers, provided the music.

Richard W. Field, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph H. Field, Concord Road, and Edward L. Johnsen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lester J. Johnsen, 12 Fox Meadow Lane, both of Wayland, are students this year at Governor Dummer Academy, South Byfield.

A red fox was seen crossing Concord Road, Wayland, this Summer.

Weston Methodist Annual Fair

WESTON — The annual fair sponsored by the Women's Society for Christian Service of the Weston Methodist Church will be held on Saturday, Nov. 3, in the church vestry, from 10 a.m. to 8 p.m.

Important events, changes and growth in the Church from 1784 to the present will be depicted by murals, table decorations and costumes at this "Fair of Progess." Luncheon will be served in the Coffee Shoppe from 11:30 a.m. to 2 p.m., and an entertainment by the Church Youth Group will be presented at 7:30 p.m. under the direction of Mrs. Stanley Melby.

Mrs. Walter Conrad is general chairman of the fair, assisted by the following table chairmen: Mrs. Frank Brooks, aprons; Mrs. Arnold Beach, children; Mrs. Edgar Jones, books and records; Mrs. Arthur Besse and Mrs. Ashley Farrar, plants; Mrs. Robert Millen, white elephant; Mrs. Harold Merry and Mrs. Vincent Hoagland, food; Mrs. Alvin Whitmore and Mrs. Kent Herring, gift and Christmas; Mrs. Roy MacArthur, candy; Mrs. Estey Parlee, Parcel Post; Mrs. John Rudell, graphology, and Mrs. John Zorn, grabs.

The Coffee Shoppe will be under the direction of Mrs. Russell Mills, and decorations will be in charge of Mrs. Warren Sinclair. Mrs. Ralph Boutell is treasurer of the fair, and Mrs. Aimo Teittinen does the publicity.

From "Water Lines," SuAsCo Newsletter

SuAsCo is going to succeed, where 20 previous organized attempts to bring the Sudbury, Assabet and Concord Rivers under control met failure.

There's a lot of thinking and working to be done yet, but the will and ability to do it superbly have been shown by President Phil Farina, Ex-President Tony Colonna, Bill Pearse, Aubrey Kretschmar and a dozen others.

Triumphs which we only dreamily dared hope for last January were scored at the State House during the eight months which followed. SuAsCo furnished the big push which put through the law giving the State Water Resources Division legal entity and authority. Then our State House task force threw its persuasive powers behind a bill calling for a study of SuAsCo by the Water Resources Division, and a report on this study by next January 1. This won a final legislative approval on that hectic night before the August recess of the Legislature, and was signed by Governor Herter the next week.

The important thing about SuAsCo's own law is that it makes our priority official with the Water Resources Division. The task force has already held meetings with the W.R.D. and established a friendly working relationship. Now it's official too.

The task force also worked on a federal level. Our three Watershed Congressmen, Harold Donohue, Philip J. Philbin and Edith Nourse Rogers, got behind us and interceded with the Department of Agriculture to obtain a full engineering staff and first-class equipment for Bob Moyer, the leader of our Soil Conservation Service Work Plan Party.

The Metropolitan District Commission (through its water supply head, Harold Toole) gave us wonderful cooperation in the matter of lowering reservoir levels during the danger period, to provide much additional storage space for flood waters.

The S.C.S. engineers are deeply interested in the M.D.C. reservoirs, too, and are working with M.D.C. and Water Resources Division technicians on a permanent plan to fit them into the overall SuAsCo water-management scheme.

Three Near East Refugees Arrive In Weston

WESTON — Mahmound Said Ahmad and his two daughters, refugees from the Near East, arrived recently in Weston, under the sponsorship of the Weston Methodist Church, Robert W. Huston, minister.

Negotiations by Dr. E. B. Goodall, former chairman of the church's Missions Commission, for the Ahmad's entry into this country had been carried on for some time previously through the World Council of Churches.

Mr. Ahmad was originally a native of Palestine, although he has been stateless for some eight years. Prior to his arrival in Weston he was employed by Aramco in Saudi, Arabia as a construction work foreman and as a contractor in Kuwait. He is now employed by a Belmont contractor.

He and his daughters are making their home temporarily with Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Besse of Lantern Lane, members of the church. The Ahmad girls, Heyam, 10, and Haifa, 12, have been entered in the Weston schools. Previously they studied at a French-speaking school in Bethlehem.

As an expression of his appreciation of the efforts of the people of the Weston Methodist Church, Mr. Ahmad presented the church with a King James version of the Bible, with pearl inlay, and an inlaid cross made from Palestinian olive wood.

Mr. Huston, in commenting on the depth of Christian maturity of his people in sponsoring a member of another faith, said:

"Christianity marches under the command to love. It is in love that parochial differences will be sloughed off. It is in love we will learn from others, and will most favorably invite others to learn from us.

Heavy border encloses the area in which the Trustees are immediately interested.

Sudbury Valley

The initial stage is just now getting under way and prompt action must be taken if the area is to be preserved at the headwaters of Mill Brook. The lower reach of this beautiful stream, from just above the Mill Pond to Wayland Center, is already owned by the Town. The headwaters, however, are still in private ownership, and present development plans and future potential represents a constant threat to the entire brook itself.

The map shows how the stream rises in an extensive cranberry bog and wooded area bounded by Glezen Lane, Concord Road, Claypit Hill Road and Draper Road. Section A on the map is now owned by a real estate developer who currently plans a 14-house development. Engineering work has been stopped by the granting to the Trustees of an option to buy these 32 acres for $8,000 on or before November 15. Lot B to the East, some 17 acres, has been promised as a gift, and other small parcels adjoining this nucleus are expected as gifts to swell the total initial area to approximately 75 acres.

The land itself consists of a small portion of open field, a fine stand of mature oaks and pines and one of the largest cranberry bogs in the entire Valley, surrounded by swamp maples and mixed hardwoods and pines, including several giant white oaks exceeding three feet in diameter. The area abounds with many interesting plants and shrubs, deer and various animals and birds. A small pond at the eastern edge, completely covered with white water lilies, adds to the picturesque beauty of the tract.

The entire town can profit in the future by such a series of wilderness areas, whether it be by increased real estate values due to the preserved country atmosphere of the Town, by the peace and enjoyment that we all receive from a walk through the woods and fields, or by the inspiration and interest generated in our children by the opportunity to study nature in its natural surroundings. These are values which we may find it difficult to assess in terms of dollars and cents, but which are nonetheless very real.

The Trustees hope that the citizens of Wayland will agree with this philosophy to the extent of supporting their drive for the necessary funds, $8,000 at the moment. The future of this particular area and of similiar areas in other parts of Town depends upon whether or not this support is forthcoming. Wayland is rapidly approaching the time when the last open areas will begin to disappear, and if they are not acquired now for future parks, recreational, wildnerness and similiar uses, they will disappear forever. People, young and old alike, who live in Wayland 50 or even 25 years from now will be everlastingly grateful for whatever we can accomplish today.

Wayland has no real park system as such. This is supposedly reserved for larger cities, which manage to squeeze in an acre or two of grass and trees here and there, only to have it destroyed eventually to make way for new highways, schools or the like. Cambridge, for instance, has recently destroyed a small recreation and park area consisting of a baseball diamond and a dozen or so tennis courts to make way for a new elementary school. No room here for argument in Town Meeting as to how large the play area will be!

More and more we must come to the active realization that the principal reason why we live in Wayland is because of its basically rural nature. It will not remain so indefinitely unless we take specific action now to guarantee these areas for the future. Only too many examples can be found just to the East of Wayland of what happens to marginal bottomland and marshes as the pressure of population builds up. First a dump, followed in 25 to 50 years by industrialization.

Present officers of the Sudbury Valley Trustees include Henry M. Parker, President; George K. Lewis, Treasurer; Allen H. Morgan, Clerk, and Directors Nathaniel P. Hamlen, Richard Stackpole, Roger Stokey and Willis B. Ryder.

Contributions should be addressed to the Sudbury Valley Trustees, Inc., P. O. Box 339, Wayland.

Among new boys enrolled at Belmont Hill School this year are Jay H. Adams, 50 Corwood Drive, Weston; John L. Tanger, Rice Road, Wayland; John D. Mills. 39 Doublet Hill Road, Weston; Christopher Scott, Orchard Avenue, Weston, and Douglas Hall, Old Sudbury Road, Wayland.

Sunday School immediately following 9 a.m. Mass for all grades including Christian Doctrine classes.

The regular meeting of St. Ann's Holy Name Society will be held Thursday, Oct. 18, at 8 p.m. The meeting will start with Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament, Rosary devotions and the Litany. Following the business meeting a "Sports Nite" will be held, followed by a Coffee Hour.

Parents of all teen-agers not attending parochial or private Catholic schools are reminded of their moral obligation in fulfilling their duties as parents, to see that their children attend Christian Doctrine classes which are held every Sunday morning after the 9 o'clock Mass. These interesting classes are conducted by the Sisters of Notre Dame and will also include C.Y.O. activities.

St. Ann's Guild will hold a pre-Christmas Fair and Food Sale on Saturday, Nov. 3, from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m. in Guild Hall. This year many attractive booths have been planned: aprons, dolls, hand made articles, white elephant, gifts, Christmas decorations, corsages and Christmas wrappings, all at reasonable prices. A snack bar will be featured as well as good home cooked food, plus a turkey for a door prize.

Chairmen of the committees: Food: Mrs. William Curley and Mrs. Thomas Costello; hand made articles, Mrs. Robert Hause; white elephant, Mrs. Charles Cochrane and Mrs. Frank Libby; gifts, Mrs. James Dunn and Mrs. Thomas F. Linnehan; post office, Mrs. John Hayes; dolls, Miss Eleanor Curley; aprons, Mrs. Daniel Houston and Mrs. George Andrews; Christmas decorations, Mrs. Paul Kavanagh; hall decorations, Mrs. Paul Honen.

Girl Scout Cookie Sale

WESTON — The popular Girl Scout mint cookies will be sold at the Scout rummage sale held at the Town Hall on Saturday, Oct. 20.

The cookie sale starts officially on Saturday, the 27th, and continues for two weeks. At this time, Girl Scouts will sell the mints at 40 cents a package in their own neighborhoods.

Mrs. A. R. Von Hippel and Mrs. M. T. Stantial are co-chairmen of the cookie sale.

Rose Hawthorne Fashion Show

CONCORD — The Rose Hawthorne Guild of the Rose Hawthorne Central Catholic School will present their Third Annual Fashion Show by the local Concord shops in the school auditorium, Oct. 19, at 8:30 p.m. Refreshments will be served. Admission $2. Tickets may be purchased locally from Mrs. George E. Owens, Jr., of Wayland, chairman of tickets.

Lay Workshops at Baptist Church

WESTON — The Lay Development Workshops get underway at the First Baptist Church this Thursday evening. Lester Johnsen, chairman of the pilot experiment, says each of the four workshop evenings will find a lay person leading in worship, that the pastor will briefly present a Primer for Baptists, and that five simultaneous workshops will be held on interesting fields of Christian service.

On Nov. 15 a church business meeting will be held to hear the reports and recommendations of the five workshops and take official action. The workshops and their leaders:

The Pastor and His People, Jack Williams; Music in the Church, Hazel O'Donnell; Community Witness, Harold Mosher; Communications, Betty Morin; and The Pattern of a Baptist Church, Fred Howell.

Each meeting will begin at 7:30 and adjourn at 9:20. On Nov. 15 the supper meeting will commence at 6:30.

School Reports

riam Street site a school comparable with the Country School.

This majority report is signed by Arra S. Avakian, Ruth A. Glover, Rudolph L. Helgeson, Jr., Robert G. Hutchinson, Marie K. Sullivan, secretary, and J. Robert Ayers, chairman.

For Centralization, 77 Acres

Eugene O. Hanson, in a minority report, said he thought the Town should not depart from its present policy of centralization without a compelling reason, and he does not see a compelling reason.

His choice would be use of 25 acres west of the Memorial Swimming Pool, now owned by the Town for future cemetery development, plus acquisition of 52 acres of the land of Harvard University, part of the Case estate, north of Wellesley Street. On this wide area he would have built as many school units as necessary.

(The Case estate, of 129 acres, is operated as part of the Arnold Arboretum. It's the place where the Arboretum sends seeds and shoots of plants from all over the world, to see how they'll stand up in this climate. The Planning Board's report says "it would not be desirable" to take this land from Harvard.)

Both reports are too long to quote in detail here, and besides, everybody in Weston has them anyway. While they are not easy reading, they provide a most interesting study of probable Town needs for many years ahead.

Junior Town House Plans Recreation

WAYLAND — The annual meeting and election of officers of the Wayland Junior Town House Association has been set for Oct. 30 at 7:45 p.m. at Odd Fellows Hall. A panel discussion, to see what the Association can do in the way of Town recreation, has been scheduled.

The Association has already posted a notice on the High School bulletin board, announcing an experimental Saturday morning recreation period at the school gym for boys and girls of High School age, beginning the first Saturday in November, and asking both men and women to apply for paid jobs as recreation directors.

AUTUMN 1956
Hello There!
The Season's the reason we're writing today.
Yes, indeed, Autumn is truly the season when Mother Nature comes forth in all its splendor. Many brilliant colors and invigorating air makes our New England and especially Wayland a bit of heaven on earth.
At this time of year, too, we are busy planning our Mobilheat fuel oil delivery schedules for the cool days ahead. Mobilheat is made clean, delivered clean and burns clean. We look forward to the opportunity of serving you during the busy 1956-1957 season.
We send a sincere "Thank You" to our many customers of the past 10 years. For your past patronage we are very grateful. Please accept our assurance that we will strive to merit your continued goodwill. We are grateful, too, to our many new customers for allowing your local dealer the privilege of serving you.
Tide's change — Season's change — but our deep appreciation of your friendship remains unchanged.
Sincerely,
Tom Linnehan

supports 277 health and social welfare agencies.

Mr. Holmes is a member of the Wayland Community Chest, a board member of the Wayland Junior Town House and a former member of the Wayland Board of Appeals. He is a member of the board of the Big Brother Association of Boston, having been one of the original founders of the organization and a past president.

A Trustee of the Massachusetts Savings Bank, Mr. Holmes is a U. S. Navy veteran and a graduate of Harvard University and Harvard Law School. Some Waylanders still remember "Dunny" as the star center of a great Harvard hockey team. He resides at 11 Draper Road, Wayland, with his wife, Betty, and their three sons, Lincoln, 6, William Dunbar, 5, and Graham, 3.

Administering the 1957 campaign under Mr. Holmes are:

Campaign Advisory Committee; Francis W. Bartol, Old Connecticut Path; Frederick Walther, Cochituate Road; Richard W. Foster, Glezen Lane, and Theodore R. Magoun, Eden Road.

Chairmen: Residential Precinct 1, Edward K. White, Shaw Drive.

Residential Precinct 2; Meyer I. Landsberg, Charles Street.

Retail and Industry; Charles W. Brennan, Sylvan Way; advance solicitation, Ray W. Harris, Pequot Road; Administration, Mrs. James E. Sullivan, Orchard Lane, and Public Relations, Norman D. Harris, Rich Valley Road.

Good idea to have your oil burner checked now, they say.

Wayland High Notes

Class officers elected were:

Seniors: President, Nick Willard; Vice President, Dottie Boesenberg; Student Council, Dottie Boesenberg, Pat Ferriera, George Thorp and John Washek; Secretarly, Sandra Simoni, and Treasurer, Kenneth Wood.

Juniors: President, Robert Peirce; Vice President, Spencer Richardson; Student Council, George Bradley, Linda Cherry and Donna Herland; Secretary, Beverly Simpson, and Treasurer, Agnes Smith.

Sophomores: President, Pete Carpenter; Vice President, Ann Marie Cassella; Student Council, Betsy Lundy and John Simoni; Secretary, Judy Arnold, and Treasurer, James Brown.

Freshmen: President, Jerry Joyce; Vice President, Karen Smith; Student Council, Michael Burke and William Halley; Secretary, Martha Drinkwater, and Treasurer, Marion Bova.

A successful French exhibit was held at Wayland High School in the French room, Sept. 24 and 25, under the direction of Mrs. Ann Shields.

The exhibit included colorful posters and many French books and magazines published in France, and Canada including "Reader's Digest" in French.

Also included were French paintings, views, costumes, song books, French money, travel folders and kodachrome slides of French scenes and French art.

Films, transparencies, sound tapes, and bulletin board exhibits will be presented monthly to the French classes during the school year from the French American Cultural Services and Educational Aid.

Red Barn Nursery Dance on Oct. 19

WESTON — A small dance for the benefit of the Red Barn Nursery Building Fund will be held at the Weston Golf Club on Friday, Oct. 19, from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. Several dinner parties will be held before the dance.

Sponsors are Mrs. Albert R. Speare, Mrs. Weston Blake, Mrs. David Brooke, Mrs. Charles K. Cummings Jr., Mrs. Charles A. Janeway, Mrs. Edward W. Marshall, Mrs. James Robbins and Mrs John G. Brooks 2d.

On the dance committee are Mrs. Charles Carr Jr., Mrs. Weston Howland Jr., Mrs. Arthur S. Spangler and Mrs. Robert S. Sturgis. Frankie Vigneau's orchestra will play.

Wayland Over Westboro, 31-14

WESTBORO, Sept. 29 — Bob Parker romped to four tochdowns and George Bradley completed six out of eight passes, three for touchdowns, as Wayland defeated a strong Westboro team 31 to 14. Wayland's line did an outstanding job as it held Westboro's powerful runners in check most of the game. Thorp, Bradley and Devine stood out on defense.

In the second period a Bradley-to-Peirce pass put Wayland in front 6-0. Westboro came back as Jim Arnold sped 53 yards for a TD. The point was good and Westboro led by one point. Wayland drove back with Bob Peirce making two sensational catches. A pass to Bob Parker put Wayland ahead. A few plays later Parker intercepted a pass and raced 60 yards for another score.

In the second half, Parker went around end for 52 yards and a touchdown. Crump scored for Westboro making it 24 to 14. A perfect pass play from Bardley to sophomore end Joe Devine was nulified by a penalty; on the next play the pass went to Parker for the touchdown and Bradley rushed the point to end the scoring.

TOUCHDOWNS: Peirce, Parker 4, Crump, Arnold. PAT: Bradley, Crump, Barr.

The lineups:

WAYLAND: Le, Deine, Columbe; Lt, Gerrie, DiModica, O'Connell; Lg, Wood, Dusseault, Lynch; C, Richardson G.; Cutter; Rg, Thorpe, Wildman, Hayes; Rt, Woods, Bruce, Schofield; Re, Peirce; Qb, Bradley, Richardson S.; Lh, Page, Haywood; Rh, Parker, Haynes, Masse; Fb, Brewer, Irwin.

WESTBORO: Re, Gilman, Kalio; Rt, Brosman, DeArmond; Rg, Tyler, Tashjalm; C, Hogan; Lg, Gibson; Lt, Linnan; Le, Barr, Ayers; Qb, Murphy; Lh, Arnold; Rh, Stahl, Brooks; Fb, Crump.

Next game: Maynard, Oct. 13, at Wayland.

Weston, Bourne, 6-6

WESTON, Sept. 29, — Weston's eleven put forth a team effort to come from behind and tie a favored Bourne team 6 to 6. All of the scoring came in a thrilling third period.

On fourth down Borne was forced to kick. Weston's hard charging line blocked the kick, only to have Pete Cardoza, Bourne's substitute tackle, recover on the 25-yard line and scamper over the goal line to make the score 6 to 0.

Undaunted by the freak play, Weston came fighting back. Ken Healy broke loose and raced 40 yards to the Bourne 2-yard line. On the next play Ken dove over to tie the score.

Touchdowns: Healey, Cardoza.

The lineups:

WESTON: Re, Gates; Rt, McClellen; Rg, Coburn; C, Kennedy; Lg, Hallett; Lt, Mueller; Le, Compton; Qb, Harding; Rh, Healey; Lh, Lawson, and Fb, Gilman.

Football Date Changed

WAYLAND — The Wayland-Maynard football game, originally scheduled for Saturday, Oct. 13, has been re-scheduled for the holiday, Friday, Oct. 12, at 2 p.m. at Wayland.

The 1957 Red Feather Campaign is 277 drives rolled into one. Give the united way.

Community League Workers' Tea

WESTON — The Officers and Directors of the Women's Community League of Weston will give a tea in honor of Committee Members of the League on Wednesday, Oct. 17, from 3:30 to 5:30 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Lewis W. Mustard III, 502 Glen Road.

The tea is being given with the hope of providing the many committee members of the Community League with an opportunity to meet and know those working in different departments of the same organization.

Pouring will be Mrs. George E. Bulwinkle, Mrs. John H. Durant, Mrs. William D. Manice, Jr., Mrs. Arthur A. Nichols, Mrs. George A. Paul and Mrs. Vernon M. F. Tallman.

Among those assisting Mrs. William D. Manice, Jr., chairman of the tea, will be Mrs. Eben Wallace and Mrs. Harold J. Adler.

Flowers will be arranged by Mrs. John W. Ayer, Mrs. Arthur A. Nichols and Mrs. B. Howard Spicker.

WCL Square Dance To be Held Nov. 9

WESTON — The Women's Community League will sponsor a square dance, 9 p.m. to midnight on Nov. 9 at the Weston High gym, for the Scholarship Fund. Dance is for all ages, 8th grade up, and admission is 75 cents.

Tickets may be purchased from Mrs. Richmond Y. Holden, 63 Wellesley Street, TW 4-0055, at the Children's Exchange, Oct. 30 and Nov. 6, or at the door.

Ashland 39, Weston 7

Although the score was one-sided, actually Weston played Ashland on even terms in the first half. Game was played at 10:30 a.m., Oct. 6, at Ashland.

Weston scored on a long pass from Dick Harding to Ken Healey. Pete Lawsou rushed the extra point. At half time the score was 13-7, with Ashland in front but Weston's ball on the 2-yard line as time ran out.

In the second half, Cerutti and Cunis ran away with it.

Next Weston game, Oct. 13, 2 p.m., with Foxboro, at Weston.

Morgan horses hauled covered wagons, pulled plows, herded cattle and drew stage coaches and horse cars. They are now popular for driving and riding.

Pavement has been put on some eastern sections of the toll road.

Weston High Notes

On Wednesday, Sept. 26, the Weston School Committee entertained the faculty at a tea in the Country School lobby. On Thursday, Oct. 4, the faculty had its first Teachers' Club outing of the year at Green Acres in Framingham.

The high school's first paid assembly of the season took place on Friday, September 28 at 10:50 a.m. and featured as speaker Mr. George Alexander Bowie. Mr. Bowie's message, "Let's Get Personal", concerned the importance of each individual as a part of society.

Because of transportation conflicts between the elementary and high schools, the high school day has been extended by 10 minutes to 2:40, while the elementary schedule has been shortened by the same amount. This will make it possible for bus students to catch their busses directly after the close of school without having to wait around in the corridors.

The Weston-Rombas Affiliation Committee under the direction of Mr. Martin Martinian, has had three meetings this fall during which it has discussed plans for the coming year. In order to raise money Christmas cards will again be sold, and there will be a food sale on Nov. 3 after the Chelmsford game. Brownies and cookies are sold each lunch period. Student officers of the Committee are Blythe Page, President; Lorna Seavey, Vice-president, and Iris Hubbard, Secretary.

The girls' field hockey team played at Wayland on Tuesday, Oct. 2 and won with a score of 2 to 0.

The May 1956 issue of the magazine, INSTRUCTIONAL MATERIALS, which is a National Education Association publication, contains an article by Mrs. Anita Gorman, formerly a 7th grade teacher at Weston.

On Thursday morning, Oct. 4, the 7th and 8th grades each had a special assembly to mark the beginning of the annual magazine drive. They were addressed by Mr. John O. Hart, Representative of the Curtis Publishing Co., who informed them that last year the Weston students had the highest record of magazine sales per student of all schools in New England.

Mr. Hart gave detailed instructions about the procedure for selling and recording subscriptions, and captains of the drive were named in each classroom. These are: 8th grade, Room 205, Edith Wypler and John Lisanti; Room 206, Jane Wypler and James Tyng; Room 207, John Akers and Nancy Garland; and Room 203, Margaret Grimmer and Stuart Gould.

7th grade, Room 31, Judy Eaton and Charles Russell; Room 22, Caroline Child and Douglas Mercer; Room 12, Jane Peterson and Louis Arnold; Room 14, William Rizzo and Lee Fowler.

Mr. Julius H. Mueller, Principal, and Mr. Wallage W. Sawyer, Vice-Principal, attended the regional meeting of the New England Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools on Monday, Oct. 8, at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. The Symposium was concerned with the teaching of science in the secondary school and the first year of college.

All parents of 8th grade students were invited to a meeting with their children's teachers on Tuesday evening, Oct. 9, at the girls' gymnasium in the High School. Teachers present were Miss Elizabeth Hunter, Miss Claire McDonough, Mr. Charles Medford, Mrs. June Ellsworth, Mrs. Dorothy Mulroy, Miss Elizabeth Trombley and Mr. Richard Ham.

Faculty members report interesting and varied vacations, some traveling, many working. Some of the highlights: Miss Elizabeth Cobb of the Home Economics Department motored West, covering more than 10,000 miles while visiting most of the great natural wonders between here and California, Yosemite, Yellowstone, the Grand Canyon and others.

Mr. Mueller with Mrs. Mueller, Karin and Philip, spent July traveling by trailer through New York, Michigan, Ohio and Kentuck. Several faculty members went southward to Florida. Miss Hunter was in Miami with her family, and the Zamprognos spent two weeks at the same resort. Miss Anne Hoerner motored south with a group of college classmates.

WESTON — Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Thomas and family of 150 Meadowbrook Road recently were guests at Laguna Shores, Laguna Beach, California.

Mrs. Lambert is Admissions Asst. At Northeastern

Mrs. Lambert

WAYLAND — Mrs. Eleanor Watts Lambert, Davelin Road, has been named Assistant to the Director of Admissions at Northeastern University, President Carl S. Ell has announced.

A graduate of Northeastern with a B.S. degree in 1949 and Boston University with an M.B.A. degree in 1951, she has been affiliated with the Newton-Waltham Bank for the past four years as assistant to the auditor.

While a student at Northeastern, Mrs. Lambert met and later married Frank Lambert, Jr., who is employed by Sylvania Electric Products, Inc. in Waltham as section head of the advanced development engineering group in the avionics laboratory.

Mr. Pennypacker and "Families" Arrive at Vokes

WAYLAND — At 8:30 p.m. on Friday, Nov. 10, Saturday, Nov. 11, and at the same time on the evenings of Thursday, Nov. 15, Friday, Nov. 16 and Saturday, Nov. 17, the Vokes Players, Inc., of Wayland, will present their Fall play, "The Remarkable Mr. Pennypacker."

"The Remarkable Mr. Pennypacker" is a play both gay and wistful, as it recounts the crisis in the life of a gentleman who believes in Reason! Mr. Pennypacker has lived his theories to the hilt and his saga unfolds with endless laughter.

The cast includes Doc Hills, Warren Eriksen, Jack Ladensack, John Bandelin, George Mayberry, Peter Walther, Nancy Tanger, Mary Sears, Mary Griffin, Tommy Walther, Carter Bottjer, Ann Hodgkinson, Susan Tanger, Stewart, Lannie and Susan Finlay, Betsy Paine, Lila Grey, Sheila Foster and Berkely Bottjer.

This play is directed by the extremely capable Mercedes Bassett, and the scenery will have the superb touch of Twinkie Luce.

Hobby and Perry Are ROTC Officers

WESTON — Kent G. Hobby, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack L. Hobby of Shaylor Lane, and Arthur L. Perry, son of Mr. and Mrs. David G. Perry of 142 Wellesley Street, both seniors at Bowdoin College, have been appointed cadet captains in the R.O.T.C. unit of the college.

Hobby, a member of Theta Delta Chi fraternity, majoring in economics, is on the Dean's list. Perry, a member of Psi Upsilon fraternity, majors in English and has received letters in football and hockey.

Both have also been designated "Distinguished Military Students", for "demonstration of outstanding qualities of leadership, high moral character, ability in achievements and definite aptitude for the military service". Men so designated are eligible to apply for commissions in the Regular Army.

Both young men were graduated from Weston High School.

WESTON — Evelyn Danforth, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas W. Danforth of 500 Wellesley Street, is a freshman at Bennett Junior College, Millbrook, N. Y.

Weston Bloodmobile

(Stuart Harnish)

WESTON — When the Bloodmobile visited Weston on Oct. 26, among the Red Cross workers on the job were four members of one family. In the picture, left to right, they are Mrs. Randolph P. Rice, Mrs. Oliver M. Read, Mrs. William T. Wolf and Mrs. William W. Gallagher. The donor, lying down, is Mrs. Charles J. Paine.

20 Involved In Loker Street Automobile Case

WAYLAND—Nineteen driving licenses were suspended and 20 boys and young men were placed on probation until Feb. 23 as the result of a disturbance on Loker Street, Cochituate, on the night of Oct. 28.

The 20, of whom three were juveniles, had come to the home of a Cochituate young man to tune up a racing automobile. Late at night, says Chief Ernest H. Damon, they went to the School Street end of Loker Street, tore down a stone wall and built a barricade with the rocks, and began to throw apples at a parked automobile containing two Cochituate young men and two Framingham girls.

Officer John Pelletier received a radio call saying there was a disturbance and went down to the place alone at 1:15 a.m. He had his gun out, says the Chief, but the disturbers put up no fight. He took names and addresses and directed them to report later at the Cochituate police station, which they did.

Nineteen of the 20 had licenses, and these were suspended by the Registry. The 20th, who had no license, was put on the list for not getting a license for a while. Registrations of some of the vehicles were also revoked.

Town officials commended the Police Department for the quick clean-up of the situation.

Only one local person was involved. The others came from

New Look For CRIER

With this issue, the CRIER inaugurates a printing process unique for newspapers in New England. The type is set on conventional linotype machines, and proofs are pulled on glossy paper. These "reproduction proofs" are then pasted on a dummy.

The dummy is photographed, and from the negatives sensitized plates are made. These are placed on a regular photo-offset press which prints the paper.

The Editors have always been concerned with the high quality of the CRIER'S appearance. The new process should preserve the CRIER'S present looks, and at the same time make it possible to print more and better pictures.

$8,000 Is Raised For Town Forest

WAYLAND — Thanks to a heart warming response from hundreds of persons, the Sudbury Valley Trustees think they have raised the $8,000 they needed to buy a Town forest tract of 32 acres in North Wayland, and they also think they may be able to acquire much more land for preservation.

They had $4000 in hand when the Wayland Junior Town House Association voted an interest-free five year loan of $2,000, and other individuals had offered interest-free loans of $1,000 apiece if needed.

Although the money was not on the barrelhead at the Nov. 15 deadline, arrangements were being worked out for an extension of time.

The Wayland Garden Club gave $200 and the Green Thumb Garden Club gave $25. There were scores of small contributions, and the Trustees picked up 100 new dues paying members. A gift of $10 came from Roger Torrey Peterson, the noted writer about birds.

At present the Trustees own 100 acres, largely swamp, but they say they are not prejudiced against dry land. They want all they can get, to be kept in a wild state for the benefit of all the people of the Town forever.

Billboard Wins

WESTON — The Outdoor Advertising Authority of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts has approved construction of a billboard on the Boston and Maine land at the junction of Routes 128 and 20. The Selectmen doubt that any further opposition from Weston will do much good.

Driver Ed Course Begins In Weston

WESTON — Julius H. Mueller, principal of Weston High School, announces the beginning of a course in driver education as of Monday, Nov. 26, with Leo J. Cronin of Marblehead as instructor.

About 60 boys and girls past the age of 16 will be eligible for the course.

The necessary automobile, a 1957 Ford four door sedan with dual controls, has been obtained for the school for $1 from the Coombs Motor Company of Watertown through the good offices of Richard Crouch of Weston.

Weston Hit Front Pages With 99%

WESTON — As a result of the tremendous turnout of more than 99 per cent of the registered vote on Election Day, citizens swelled with civic pride, credit for the achievement was spread around and the Town gained fame as one of the best run municipalities anywhere.

Only 17 or 25 of the 3723 eligible voters failed to cast their ballots. Town authorities couldn't tell exactly how many missed because the check lists have to be impounded for 30 days, but the number was extremely small.

In some cases the causes of the absenteeism were known, and they were compelling reasons.

The League of Women Voters could take a bow. So could the Registrars of Voters. So could the Welcome Wagon. Interest in the election got some credit. So did the commotion connected with the school controversy.

What most thought it came down to, however, was that Weston citizens take their civic responsibilities seriously, and that a continuous program of education persuades newcomers that discharge of such duties is highly fashionable.

Weston received press notices from all over. So far as known, no Town of this size anywhere in the country ever set such a record before.

Wayland Had 94%

WAYLAND—More than 94 per cent of Wayland's 4,234 registered voters cast ballots in the election, a record which might have attracted more attention if Weston hadn't hit the jackpot.

Republicans scored a big sweep, of course, but from somewhere came 885 votes for Stevenson and 1408 for Congressman Harold Donohue.

Rombas Christmas

WESTON — Weston - Rombas Affiliation Christmas cards to support the two exchange high school students in Weston and in France are now on sale. The original design was donated by Mr. Harry Van Heest, well-known artist.

Mrs. Thruston Wright, Jr. is chairman in charge of sales. The cards may be obtained from Miss Mary Bews of St. Peter's Church, Mrs. Howard Rogers of St. Julia's Church, Mrs. John Rudell at the Weston Methodist Church, Mrs. Lincoln Smith of the Weston Baptist Church and Mrs. Ernest Wells of the First Parish Church.

Cards are also available at the Weston Puhlic Lihrary, Mr. Allen Sawyer of the Kien Chung Tea House, Mr. George Le Tendre of Carver's Store, Mrs. Harry Patterson of the Village Book Stall, Mr. Richard Lincoln of the Waltham Bank and Trust Company and the Children's Exchange on Tuesdays. Committees from Regis College, The Cambridge School and the Weston Public Schools are cooperating in the sale.

Girl Scouts Excursion

WAYLAND — Eighth Grade Girl Scouts, 23 strong, are busy planning a spring trip to Washington. They will stay at Camp Rockwood in Bethesda, Md. The girls are eagerly tackling the problem of costs, and have voted to earn, save and contribute $15 per girl, and help raise the rest by sales of food, plants, and Christmas corsages.

Neither Side Wins In Big Battle Over School Sites

WESTON — The Town voted against decentralizing of schools at its biggest and loudest Town Meeting, held Nov. 19, but then failed to vote on a motion to acquire land for the centralized school plant.

Then it was moved to adjourn the meeting until Nov. 29 at the Weston High School gym and cafeteria, where there is more room.

Thus, although the Town voted, 399 to 363, in favor of centralization, it failed to implement its decision and the issue seems to remain.

Both the Upper and Lower Town Halls were filled. Automobiles were parked all over the center of Town. A light on the desk of Moderator Francis G. Goodale kept flashing, as persons in the other room called for the microphone.

Comments and arguments were brisk throughout.

The issue was whether to have all Weston elementary schools on one big college-like campus, or spotted in various neighborhood localities elsewhere in Town.

The business began with a motion by J. Robert Ayers, chairman of the School Site Committee, that the schools should be decentralized.

Mr. Eugene O. Hanson, the one member of the seven-member committee who dissented from the majority, spoke against the motion.

Then the argument raged. By 10:45 p.m. they took the vote, which defeated decentralization.

Mr. Hanson then made a formal motion that land be acquired for centralized schools.

Mr. John Brooks of the School Committee begged the meeting to reconsider its action. Mr. John Glover said it amounted to a vote of no confiedence in Town Committees.

Mr. Harry C. Crawford Jr. then moved to adjourn, a motion which took precedence, and it carried, 337 to 299. The date for the adjourned meeting was in the motion.

Thus the issue was not clearly resolved and the battle will be resumed.

Mr. Hanson's motion to get the land for centralized schools will be the first order of business at the adjourned Town Meeting. If it fails to pass, somebody may then move to reconsider Mr. Ayers' original motion.

Boston Bound

WESTON — Rev. Dan Huntington Fenn of Wayland, speaker at the Nov. 8 meeting of the Weston Rotary Club, told about an incident in Weston history.

This was before the bypass was built, when Route 20 came through the middle of the village. A motorist, eastbound, stopped at the fork in the road by the church, near the watering trough which is still there, and looked at a sign.

"Both Roads Lead To Eternity," it said.

"Oh, dear," sighed the motorist. "I wanted to go to Boston."

Local People Are Asked To Buy Middlesex Seals

On account of the divorce of the Boston Tuberculosis Association from the State and National TB Associations, two separate sets of Christmas seals have been mailed to Weston and Lincoln, although not, it is said, to Wayland.

Moreover, says Allister F. MacDougall, president of the Middlesex Health Association, the Boston seals were sent out a week before Nov. 15, when the Middlesex County seals were mailed.

Mrs. Albert Cross, who is the Weston chairman for Christmas seals, would like it made clear that the proceeds from the local collection are largely spent in the Town and the County. Proceeds from the Boston seals go only to Boston.

The official Middlesex seals show a double barred cross and children in green.

At the office of the Boston TB Association it was said that some Boston seals had been mailed to Weston and Lincoln, but none to Wayland. Several in Weston reported receiving Boston seals.

The green seals are the ones which have always been sent out in Weston and Wayland in the past. Mrs. Stanley N. Marshall is the Wayland chairman.

The split was caused, it is reported, by differences of policy.

Wayland Red Feather

WAYLAND—The Wayland Red Feather campaign has reached 87% of its goal. Dunbar Holmes, chairman, has commended four of the Wayland districts for their outstanding efforts in obtaining full coverage and early completion. The districts and their directors are: District 9, Mrs. Paul Kardell; District 12, Mrs. Arthur Kimball; District 16, Mrs. Robert B. MacKnight, and District 20, Mrs. Ena M. Tilson.

There have been several heartening pledge increases this year, one of the best coming from the Newton-Waltham Bank and Trust Company. A generous and entirely unsolicited gift of $25 was subscribed by the Wayland Teachers Club.

MRS. WALTER SLY is on the committee arranging a food sale on December 5 for the Metropolitan State Hospital.

Harry Stewart

WESTON — Harry Donald Stewart's death at the age of 48 on Nov. 3 was an unexpected blow to the many people who knew him either through his service station on route 20 or through his other activities in town.

Mr. Stewart was born in Haverhill and came to Weston 23 years ago to run what was then a tiny gas station at the present site on the Post Road. During that time, he was a member of the Odd Fellows, the Petroleum Institute of America, Weston Rotary and St. Peter's Church, and drove a school bus.

Middle East Crisis Discussed By Ellis

WAYLAND — Russia's aim is to bring about the collapse of the Arab nations by involving them in a war with Israel, which will eventually be the victor. The Soviets can then step into Syria and communize it. This was one of several startling diagnoses of the Middle East problem made by Harry B. Ellis, overseas editor of the Christian Monitor, at the first two seminars on the Middle East at the Library. One more is scheduled for Thursday, November 29, at 8 p.m.

Regarding the Arab-Israel conflict, Mr. Ellis said:

Egypt regards the elimination of Israel as a long range proposition. It might take them as long as it took the Moslems to drive out the Crusaders—200 years.

Egypt's allies were too terrified of Israel's powerful army to come to Nasser's aid as they were treaty-bound to.

On Egypt and the Suez:

Col. Nasser has no real desire to see USSR volunteers in Egypt. He realizes the possible consequences.

Russia's long-range objective in the Suez is to bring about curtailment of oil to Europe, forcing them to buy from us, and thus depleting our own reserves.

Britain and France are through as first rate powers. They can make no steps now without either U.S. or USSR backing.

The seminars, which were attended by a crowd of 250, were sponsored by the Wayland United Nations Association, the Friends of the Wayland Library and the League of Women Voters.

WESTON — Charles B. Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bryan E. Smith of 39 Bryson Road, has made the Dean's List at Amherst College. He's a junior and a member of Chi Psi fraternity.

Gift Wrap Clinic At Grover Cronin

Sarah Berman, nationally recognized stylist from the renowned Tie-Tie School, will demonstrate professional wrapping tricks at the Grover Cronin Gift Wrap Clinic to be held at South Junior High, Waltham, on Monday and Tuesday, Nov. 26 and 27 at 2:30 and 8:00 p.m. Tickets free.

Hungarian Relief

WAYLAND — The Wayland Chapter of the American Red Cross announces that checks for the relief of Hungarian refugees may be made out to "American National Red Cross" and sent to Willard B. Dik, Plain Road, treasurer of the Chapter.

It has also been announced that the Unitarian Service Committee and the Friends Service Committee are collecting warm clothes and blankets for the refugees, and that much material has already been received. Clothes may be left at either fire station in Town.

Wayland Hist. Society

WAYLAND—Next meeting of the Wayland Historical Society will be at 8 p.m., Dec. 6 in the Shaw Room of the Library. Mrs. Pierpont Blair and Mrs. Willard B. Dik, co-chairmen. Theme is "Vittles", and speakers will be Rev. Dan Huntington Fenn, Mrs. E. Prentiss Emerton and Mrs. Richard F. Lincoln.

Unit Meetings

WAYLAND—State aid to education will be discussed at unit meetings of the Wayland League of Women Voters Tuesday and Wednesday, Nov. 27 and 28.

Hostesses will be Mrs. Ralph W. Conard, for the Tuesday 10 a.m. meeting; Mrs. Robert S. Johnson for the Tuesday meeting at 8 p.m.; Mrs. Donald K. Tarbell for the Wednesday morning meeting and Mrs. Harry Letaw Jr. for the Wednesday evening session.

Research on state aid to education has been done by Mrs. Harry R. LaTowsky Jr., chairman of state item I. Her committee includes Mrs. John T. Howard, Mrs. James H. Flanagan and Mrs. John J. Pratt Jr.

Mrs. LaTowsky will also be hostess to the officers and directors at a board meeting Monday, Nov. 26 at 9:30 a.m. in her home. Mrs. L. William Bertelsen will preside.

Investiture Of Adult Scouts

WESTON — A candlelight investiture ceremony was held on Tuesday evening, Nov. 13, at the Girl Scout House. Girls from Troop 3 opened the ceremony by singing "America the Beautiful", after which the color guard presented the flag for the pledge of allegiance.

Mrs. Eric Reissner gave an introductory talk on the meaning, purpose and growth of the organization in Weston. The leaders to be invested then recited the Girl Scout promise in unison. Mrs. Frank M. Lewis gave the laws and each leader was given her pin by Mrs. Reissner, assisted by Mrs. Herman Kester Jr.

Leaders invested were Mrs. Charles K. Cummings Jr., Brownie I; Mrs. Thomas Clarke, I; Mrs. Lawrence Pexton, I; Mrs. Alfred Raynor, I; Mrs. Alan Green, II; Mrs. Paul W. Erickson, II.

Mrs. Putnam Flint, Scout Troop XI; Mrs. Allan V. Mosher, XI; Mrs. Arthur T. Jones, IV; Mrs. Julius Mueller, IV; Mrs. Walter Raleigh, XIII; Mrs. Ridgley Shepherd Jr., XIII, and Mrs. Albert Taber, Troop III.

Pins representing five years in scouting were given to Mrs. John Chisholm, Mrs. Rudolph Helgerson, Mrs. Albert Taber, Mrs. Eric Reissner, Mrs. Alden Henderson, Mrs. J. N. M. Howells, Mrs. Donald D. Sloan.

Mrs. M. Thomas Stantial, Mrs. Roswell G. Eldridge, Mrs. Joseph L. Crowe and Mrs. Douglas Howe Jr.

Mrs. David M. Kellogg Sr. was presented with a pin for 35 years in scouting, a most unusual record.

The ceremony closed with Troop III singing "Peace" and the retiring of the flag by the color guard.

John B. G. Palen, trust officer of the Newton - Waltham Bank and Trust Company, recently addressed the Rotary Club of Watertown.

New Town Hall, All Paid For, Takes Shape

WAYLAND — The new Town Hall, all paid for out of cash on hand and current income, is rapidly taking shape and it is hoped that by late Spring the Town officials and the Police, Fire and Civil Defense Departments will get into their new quarters.

The framework of the roof is already up, as are parts of the walls, and the building looks large enough to be impressive.

The building was originally supposed to be completed in December. However, last Spring's snowstorms and discovery of underground water caused delays.

William R. Hulbert, Civil Defense director and a member of the Building Committee says:

"The problem was met by putting what's like a roof under the ground. In fact, the building is like a concrete ship."

"This is a tried and true method of building where underground water is a problem," says Clifton Haynes, fire chief and chairman of the Town Hall Building Committee. "It has been used in Boston and New York buildings and at other areas near the shore."

Over a layer of crushed stone went a three-inch layer of waterproof cement, then asphalt, then a "membrane" of asphalt-impregnated roofing material, then a second layer of asphalt and membrane, then more asphalt. This continues part way up the outside foundation wall, like a wrapped package. Then the foundation layer of reinforced concrete went on top.

Atop the new Town Hall will be a Colonial style cupola with a copper roof which will house the fire whistle behind white louvres. The building will be brick, roofed with asphalt shingles. It was designed by Frederick H. Gagnon, who was the architect for the Cochituate fire house.

The new building will be radiant heated and equipped with diesel generators in case of power failure. A time switch from the fire department will set the traffic lights in Town so that the fire engines can get through.

First Wayland meeting house was raised in 1643 in what is now the North Cemetery, where its site may be seen. It was 20 by 30 feet, with a dirt floor and a thatched roof.

Raytheon Collects

WAYLAND—Raytheon collected more than $100,000 for the Red Feather for the second successive year, President C. F. Adams announced. Total is $118,000, as against $101,049 last year.

The stone monument at the east end of the old four-arch bridge on Old Sudbury Road marks the graves of a number of men from Concord who were killed in the Indian fight of April 21, 1676, when King Philip tried to destroy the Town.

"All Kidding Aside" Nets $3,500 For The Hospital

(W. B. Hay)

WESTON—The original two-act musical comedy which the First Parish Friendly Society of Weston presented five nights last Spring with a cast of 70 members resulted in a $3500 boon to the Waltham Hospital when a check for that sum was presented recently.

The money is to be applied on purchase of equipment for the hospital coffee shop when that department is established in connection with a $1,000,000 construction program starting next Spring.

Raising that amount of money on one amateur play is believed to set somewhat of a record for the local area. It marks the fifth time in recent years that the society has turned over substantial sums to the hospital as a result of benefit programs. Previous gifts have been overhead lights for the operating room, an operating room table and an isolette for premature infants, among other items. All have been bestowed as a memorial tribute to Horace S. Sears, first president of the Weston First Parish Friendly Society.

The show, "All Kidding Aside", was a collaboration by Selene Harmon Howe, Mrs. John H. Durant and Mrs. Guy Garland. From the 800-member Friendly Society, a committee of about 100 worked on details. Chairmen of the play committee were Mr. and Mrs. Robert B. Whittemore, with vice-chairmen Mr. Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Dwinell and Mr. and Mrs. William T. Wolf. Figuring prominently also were the officers, President John Lord, Vice-President George F. Amadon, Secretary Mrs. John A. Paine Jr., and Treasurer John H. Durant.

Warm Debate On Sidewalk Issue

WESTON—The need for future sidewalks was hotly argued at the Nov. 8 hearing on the School Site Committee's report. The question was whether decentralized schools would require sidewalks.

Mr. Allen Benjamin, whose report on Town Planning has been widely quoted, has said:

"In order to encourage the maximum amount of walking under a decentralized plan, and to allow walking with full safety, construction of a sidewalk on one side of a number of streets near each site would seem highly advisable. However, even under a centralized plan, sidewalks will eventually be needed for general pedestrian safety on several of the same streets. Thus, a comparison between the two plans involved an estimate of the additional length of sidewalks needed for decentralization. A preliminary estimate indicates an eventual eight miles of school access sidewalks under the decentralized plan as compared with five miles of walks on the same streets in any case (under a centralized plan) or an extra three miles.

A Good Time Was Had ---

The annual Wayland-Weston football game came back to the home grounds to stay on Nov. 17. This year's game was at Weston and hereafter the games will be played alternately in the two Towns, with no more excursions to foreign fields.

Wayland was supposed to win and finally did, but Weston scored more points against Wayland than any other team this season and put up a lively, determined battle throughout.

The afternoon was dark and chilly, but everybody had a howling good time nevertheless.

Dick Morris, Wayland freshman back, carries for a gain.

John Gilman, Weston co-captain, looks to be in the clear.

Between the halves, the impressive Weston band put on a show, with music and marching.

Wayland 32, Weston 20

Wayland's Class D champions were put to their stiffest test of the season as they ground out a 32 to 20 victory over a fighting Weston eleven. The "Townies" couldn't stop Bob Parker, Wayland's scoring ace, who ran for four touchdowns. Captain John Gilman of Weston sparked his team with a pair of scores as he shared the running duties with Ken Healey.

In the first period Parker went into the end zone, only to have the play called back for clipping. Moments later Morris recovered a fumble on the 33. On the next play Morris ripped off guard and went all the way to score.

In the second period pass interferance was called on the Wayland 1-yard line. Weston fumbled into the end zone and Dick Brewer recovered for Wayland. An exchange of punts put the ball on the Wayland 45 and Wayland began to roll. A pass to Willard put the ball on the 8 and Parker drove over to score. The kick was good.

In the closing seconds Dick Harding threw a 45-yard pass to Ken Healey on the 15. John Gilman raced around end on the next play to score and Pete Lawson kicked the point after.

Parker sparked a drive to open the second half and capped it with a 17-yard sprint around end. A pass for the extra point was knocked down. Weston was forced to kick and Parker once again twisted his way through the Weston secondary for another tally. Bradley-to-Willard passes set up the final Wayland score and once again it was Bob Parker going 25 yards for the T.D. George Bradley's kick was good.

It was 32 - 7 going into the last period. Gilman's hard running and Harding's passing put the ball on the 1 where Healey dived over. A pass to Trowbridge was good for the point after. Two passes to Ken Healey from Harding put the ball on the 1 where Gilman crashed over to end the scoring.

Parker's 24 points boosted his season's total to 116, third highest in the state.

Touchdowns: Morris, Parker (4), Gilman (2), Healey.

P.A.T.: Bradley (2), Trowhridge, Lawson.

Wayland: le, Willard, Devine; lt, Gerrie, Richardson, S.; lg, Wood, Dusseault; c, Richardson, G.; rg, Thorp; rt, Woods; re, Peirce; qb, Bradley; lh, Morris; rh, Parker; fb, Brewer.

Weston: re, Cahill; rt, McClennan; rg, Coburn, White; c, Kennedy; lg, Connolly; lt, Mueller, Bayles; le, Compton; qb, Harding, Heerdt; rh, Healey; lh, Lawson, Trowbridge; fb, Gilman.

Wayland 38, Dracut 7

A great team effort led by George Bradley, Dick Gerrie, Bob Parker and freshman Dick Morris, resulted in a 38 to 7 win over a good Dracut team. Morris was outstanding on defense. Dick Gerrie was also tremendous defensively until he was hampered by a leg injury in the second period.

George Bradley raced 83 yards to score on the second play of the game and then kicked the point after. Dracut drove back but Wayland held on the 1-yard line. Parker and Morris alternated to march 9 9yards with Parker bucking over for the T.D. Minutes later Parker scored again on a 21-yard jaunt. Bradley passed to Parker for the extra point.

In the second half Spencer intercepted a Dracut pass and ran it back to the Dracut 33. On the next play Dick Morris sped up the middle for a touchdown. Mowrosky scored the visitors' only touchdown from the 1-foot line. But Wayland tallied again as Bradley went around end for 15 yards behind some great blocking. An interception by Earl Woods set up Wayland's last score and Morris registered it from 17 yards out.

Touchdowns: Bradley (2), Morris (2), Parker (2), Mowrosky.

P.A.T.: Bradley, Parker, Mowrosky.

Lynn Voke 13, Weston 0

Weston battled a tough Lynn Vocation team on nearly even terms. The difference was speedy Jim Zorzy, who broke away for two spectacular scoring runs. The first was a 60-yard effort around end and the second was good for 65 yards on a double reverse. He also rushed for a point after.

Weston's only scoring threat came on a 40-yard dash by Ken Healy who was brought down on the Lynn 7-yard line by a desperation tackle.

Touchdowns: Zorzy J. (2).

P.A.T.: Zorzy.

Gifts For Coaches From The Players

WAYLAND — Members of the Wayland football squad presented cigarette lighters to Coach Ralph Salvati and assistant coach Bill Frary at a football dance held in the school gym on the evening of the Weston game.

Members of the freshman football squad, which also went undefeated, gave freshman coach Ed Barry a camera.

Coach Salvati, who's not easily pleased with performances on the football field, told the boys they had done a great job.

Weston High Notes

Report cards were sent home to parents on Nov. 16.

Mr. John W. Zorn, Chairman of the English Department, has an article in the November issue of "The Clearing House", a national educational periodical. It's entitled "Reading without Tears."

* * *

Four practice teachers have been busy at Weston High, two of them working in the English Department, one in history and one in art. They are: Mr. Richard Lamphere of Framingham, who is studying at the Massachusetts School of Art and working in the Art Department; Miss Nanette Hellegers, studying at Emerson College and working in speech arts and English; Miss Mary L. Egan of Watertown, New York, studying at Regis College and working in the English Department; and Miss Janet Petty of Mt. Vernon, New York, also at Regis, and working in the History Department.

The high school had its own poll of preferences for President, with a result similar to that of the nation, only more so. Eighty-two percent of the total student body voted for President Eisenhower; only 18 percent for Mr. Stevenson. Among the faculty the count was also overwhelming for the President, though not quite so marked as that of the students. Interesting observations: Boys favored Stevenson more than girls; more older than younger boys declared for Stevenson; 98 percent of students whose parents were in agreement politically favored the same candidate as their parents.

* * *

Students in the age group of 15 years and over received their second polio shots on Nov. 1.

Seven students and four faculty members attended the funeral of Mr. Donald Stewart, driver of one of the school busses, and the whole high school expressed their condolences by the contribution of a floral wreath. Students attending were Fred Kennedy, Martha Conrad, Nanci Mailman, Michael Leithead, Richard Leonhardt, Gail Kennedy and Gary Stenberg. Dr. Anthony G. L. Brackett, Superintendent of Schools, Mr. Julius H. Mueller, High School Principal, Mr. Thomas McFarlin, Elementary School Principal, and Miss Alice Olliff, Supervisor of Art. also attended.

* * *

Seven senior students took the scholarship qualifying examination under the National Merit Scholarship program on Wednesday, Oct. 24. Six of these were chosen as representatives of the school or of the National Honor Society and one student, in accordance with a new ruling that extends the opportunity to all interested seniors upon payment of a fee, elected to take it on his own initiative. The seven competing students are Curtis Endee, Eleanor Farrar, Robert Walsh, Valery Chodsky, Blythe Page, Charles Phillips and Peter Hanson.

Mobilheat Corner — Thanksgiving Day 1956

Hello There!

Thanksgiving Day, the annual fall festival in the United States set aside for giving thanks to God for the blessings of the past year, is celebrated the fourth Thursday in November with church services and family gatherings as one of the great American feast days.

Three hundred and thirty-five years ago, in 1621, Governor Bradford of the Plymouth colony issued the first Thanksgiving proclamation in the new world.

In 1956, our fourteenth year serving Wayland and surrounding towns we give thanks for our ever-growing family of MOBILHEAT customers. We are thankful for the trust that our customers have placed in us, a branded fuel oil, our automatic delivery system, a local supply, a competent office force, careful and reliable drivers and Socony Mobil Oil Company with its Mobilheat scientists working in their laboratories to make certain of Mobilheat's continuing superiority.

We value our customers that have been with us a long time and we trust our new customers will be the start of a long relationship. Our appreciation must be in words and excellent service in return for your patronage. A fair price, a quality fuel, exact measure, 24 hour burner service and on time deliveries is our guarantee for your heating comfort.

Happy Thanksgiving to all!

Sincerely,
Tom Linnehan

Precourt-Bowers

WESTON — Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Precourt of 158 Boston Post Road, announce the marriage of their daughter, Edna Kathryn, to Mr. Kevin Joseph Bowers of Boston, on November 22, at St. Julia's Church. The Rev. Fr. Frank Graf officiated.

The bride was given in marriage by her father, and wore waltz length white brocade, a matching hat with chiffon veil. She carried white stephanotis with the prayer book used by the groom's mother at her wedding. Mrs. Charles A. Precourt of Weston was matron of honor, Mrs. George L. Stanton of West Hartford, Conn. was bridesmaid. They wore emerald green velvet dresses with matching headbands, and carried bronze chrysanthemums. Miss Jeanne Vollmar, niece of the groom, and Miss Elizabeth Turner, niece of the bride, served as junior bridesmaids.

The groom's brother, Mr. Maunsel Bowers, was best man; the ushers were Mr. Charles A. Precourt of Weston, and Mr. Jeffry Bowe of Waltham.

Miss Precourt attended Boston University, College of Liberal Arts, and is a member of the League of Women Voters of Weston. Mr. Bowers was graduated from Boston Latin School, and Boston College, where he received his B.A. and M.A. degrees.

After a wedding trip to Washington, D.C., the couple will make their home in Holbrook, Mass.

In the line of march will be reindeer, bands, soldiers, Phi Beta Kappa dogs from the Weston Dog Ranch and a big pony brigade.

Letters to the EDITOR

To the Editor:

It is unfortunate that so many of us do not find the time to attend hearings, even if they are of utmost importance to the well-being of our towns. In many instances, however, it may be possible to obtain a poll of public opinion through the medium of your paper and I hope that this letter may induce many more to write to you and voice their opinions on an issue which seems to be a vital one.

In a recent hearing which, as you reported, was attended by only twenty residents of Wayland the erection of a second shopping center adjacent to the Town square was discussed. It is my opinion that the recommendations of the Planning Board which, as far as I remember, attempted to preserve the character of the Town square as far as possible should be supported and before any second shopping area is authorized, should be reexamined if they went far enough in this respect. I am sure not to be alone in the opinion that the new Town Hall has done as much damage to the beauty of Wayland as we should tolerate. The lack of available public land and many other considerations may make us regretfully accept its location on the square as a necessary evil. Possibly good landscaping may help to preserve the character of the square to some degree.

As a postscript I would like to note that I am somewhat confused by the repeated statements that everything will be well as long as the new structures are in colonial style. To my untrained eye there is a vast difference between the style of the old structures in our Town center and the red brick colonial, so-called Williamsburg, designs of the Town Hall, the authorized, and the proposed shopping centers. Visitors to the vast suburban centers mushrooming out around Washington may have observed that many of these new "colonial" settlements fail to fool even in an area where red brick structures are traditional.

Sincerely,
E. L. Kreidl
20 Bennett Road,
Wayland.

Ever since Hallowe'en the coin-wrapperers have been counting the money collected for UNICEF by the Wayland School children on their "Trick or Treat rounds". The total forwarded to UNICEF for use in combating disease and hunger among the children of other nations was $333.48. Included in the coinage was a Ceylonese penny.

First Year Brownie Troops Will Meet

WESTON — All first year Brownie troops will meet together at the Scout House on Tuesday afternoon, Nov. 27. A program of games and songs and learning to tie knots is being planned by Mrs. Frank M. Lewis and Mrs. Douglas B. Howe, Jr.

Juliette Low representatives from each Brownie troop will meet for tea on Nov. 28 at the home of Mrs. David M. Kellogg. They will learn about Juliette Low and discuss plans for earning and saving money to be contributed to the World Friendship Fund.

2d Place Honors For Weston Report

WESTON—The Weston Town Report took second place in its population class in the Town Report Contests of Massachusetts Selectmen. The Reports were judged on covers, contents, arrangement and general excellence. The Weston Report's standing was among Towns of from 3500 to 8000 population.

Blanche E. Heard

With the passing of Miss Blanche E. Heard, two weeks before her ninety-first birthday, at the Priest Rest Home in Sudbury on Nov. 14, a whole generation of older Wayland residents comes to an end.

Miss Heard was an ardent music lover, and for a long period was head of musical training in the public schools of Arlington. After her retirement she returned to the family home in Wayland where she lived quietly for many years with a fellow teacher, Miss Evangeline Cheney. More recently she had been the sole occupant of this family homestead on Old Sudbury Road, until a year ago failing strength made it necessary for her to give up her home and move to a rest home.

Right up to the end, however, she enjoyed good health, and retained the keen whimsical wit and cheerful undaunted spirit that made her the delight of her neighbors and friends. She also kept her interest in local and national affairs, and took pleasure in voting by absentee ballot in the recent election.

Miss Heard was born in Boston on Dec. 1, 1865, the final year of the Civil War, the daughter of John Augustus and Sarah Hawkes Heard. She was a member of the old First Parish Church and of the Wayland Historical Society. Her sister, Miss Grace Heard, was curator of the Emerson House in Concord.

The Heard homestead was moved to its present location from the site where the Wayland Town Hall stands when that building was constructed in the 1870s. Recently, to her great joy, the house has been turned over to the Wayland Historical Society for its headquarters by Raytheon Manufacturing Company.

Council Of Churches

WESTON — At a meeting of the Weston Council of Churches held Nov. 14, Roy I. MacArthur was named Chairman of the University of Life. This program will be held four Sunday evenings in February at the First Parish, Unitarian, sponsored by the Weston Council of Churches. Rev. Joseph E. O'Donnell presided at the Council meeting.

WESTON—"Anastasia," a recent Broadway hit adapted by Guy Bolton, will be presented by Regis College Dramatic Club members on the evening of Nov. 27, 8 p.m., in the college gymnasium.

"Silvertones," national Negro singing group, will give a program at Regis, Dec. 3, at 3:30, in the gymnasium, during assembly hour, under the direction of Garfield Henry.

Maynard, Concord, Stow, Hudson, Holliston and other Towns. They said they just came to fix up the racing car, then, because, they said, they had been bothered while parking down in Loker Street, went down to bother somebody else.

They splashed paint on the parked automobile, the Chief says, and threw apples at it. They also sent up balloons filled with acetylene gas, to which they fixed burning papers, so that the balloons exploded. Some paint spilled on the girls' clothes and one of the men in the automobile had scratches on his forehead.

In Framingham Court on Nov. 14, charged with disturbing the peace, the 20 were put on voluntary probation until Feb. 23.

Chief Damon says this was a most unusual occurrence in Town.

CARE Committee In Weston Seeks Contributions

WESTON—A local CARE committee, activated for the first time, is sending a message and a collection envelope to every household in Town. The money collected is to pay for the packaging and sending of surplus powdered milk, rice, cheese, beans and similar foods to stricken countries, including Hungary.

One dollar will send 22 pounds of food to a designated country, and $1 from each home in Weston would send 48,000 pounds abroad.

No specified sum is sought. CARE collections are a continuous project, but this is the first time a real collection has been made in Weston.

Mrs. Joseph Langr of Glen Road is chairman of the local committee, which includes Mrs. Lewis W. Mustard III, Mrs. E. W. Pitt, Mrs. George Duffy, Mrs. Bryan Smith and Mrs. H. Reilly.

Skating At College

WESTON—Weston people are perfectly welcome to skate on the ponds at Weston College in the daytime, a college spokesman said the other day, as long as they don't park on the grass at the pond. There is a parking space opposite the front door of the college which they may use.

The college would not like skating at the pond at night. There is no supervision.

Both Wayland and Weston went well over their quotas in the Red Feather campaign just ended.

Garbage Crisis Makes Wayland People Unhappy

WAYLAND — For the past couple of months, what has really concerned local householders most has been the garbage situation. The garbage collections haven't been good, the Board of Health has been deluged with complaints and the problem, thought to have been solved 10 days ago, still isn't.

In the normal course of events, every household in Town has its garbage removed once a week in Winter, twice a week in Summer. The Town hires a contractor for something like $1000 a month.

But six or seven weeks ago the contractor ran into personnel trouble. One man was drafted into the Army. Another was injured. Others were hired and fired. Some were hired who didn't know the routes in Wayland. The Board of Health says the contractors have an excellent reputation, but just got into this trouble.

The upshot was that collections fell far behind. Some residents didn't have their garbage collected for a solid month.

Boy, 7, Rescued By Ladder At Cochituate Fire

COCHITUATE — Paul Nelson, 7 years old, was carried down a ladder from a third floor apartment in the middle of the night, Nov. 21, when a smoky fire started in the second floor of the house of Mrs. William J. Wadland at 85 Main Street. Robert Groton of the Fire Department made the rescue.

Mr. Holger Davidson, occupant of the second floor, was pulled from the apartment by Richard Gladu and John Regan, and revived by Asst. Fire Chief Francis Hartin and Lieut. Edward Burke. He was taken to Leonard Morse Hospital and later released.

Mrs. Mary Nelson, Paul's mother, was assisted from her apartment.

Chief Clifton Haynes says the fire was mostly in a piece of furniture on the second floor and that most of the damage was from smoke and water. The residents did not have to move out.

2 New Members Of Wayland Fin. Com.

WAYLAND — Robert M. Morgan, chairman of the Town Finance Committee for a number of years, has been reappointed to the Committee for another three-year term, the Selectmen report.

New members of the Committee are George Vinsonhaler of State Road East, for three years, who replaces George V. Deverell, and Edward A. Veno, State Road West, for a two-year term, replacing Lewis W. Avard.

Other members of the Committee are Theodore Magoun, Mrs. Norman Alstad, Ray Harris and Frank Larson.

AAMI Concert At Country School

A concert will take place at the Country School, Weston, on Sunday, Dec. 9 at 3:30, for the benefit of those who wish to enjoy good music without the bother of driving into Boston, by the Association for the Advancement of Musicians, Inc.

Allan Barker, piano; Robert Brink, violin; Karl Zeise, cello; and Robert Stuart, clarinet, will play Mozart Sonata in E Minor for violin and piano; Mendelssohn Trio for piano, violin, and cello; Milhaud Suite for violin, clarinet, and piano, and Debussy Sonata for violin and piano.

Mr. Barker, who lives in Wayland, has recently returned from a European concert tour. Mr. Brink has appeared in concerts abroad, in Weston, Boston and New York, and soloed with the Boston Pops. Mr. Zeise and Mr. Stuart are both members of the Boston Symphony Orchestra.

Tickets to the concert, obtainable at the door, are $2.25.

New Rector At St. Peters On Jan. 1

(Crier Photo)
Rev. Philip Krug

WESTON—St. Peter's Church Vestry has announced the choice of Rev. Philip S. Krug as Rector to succeed Dr. E. F. Chauncey on Jan. 1, 1957.

Mr. Krug, 29, has been the co-moderator of the radio program "Churchmen Weigh the News" for two years. He has served as Assistant Minister to the Rev. Gardiner M. Day at Christ Church, Cambridge, and as Director of the Church School in Winchester. A native of Indiana, Mr. Krug graduated from the University of Chattanooga, Tennessee, and Yale Divinity School, with further graduate study at the Episcopal Theological School in Cambridge.

Mr. and Mrs. Krug hope to settle in Weston by February, with their two children, Stefan, 26 months, and Aorienne, 9 months.

Centralization Wins At Biggest Town Meeting

WESTON — Nearly 1400 residents, by far the greatest number to attend a Town Meeting in Weston, jammed the High School gymnasium on the evening of Nov. 29 and voted by paper ballot, 807 to 529, to continue the policy of centralized schools.

Following this action, the Town voted $60,000 to acquire about 50 acres of Harvard land West of the present school property, plus $1000 for the use of the Selectmen for appraisals.

Then the Town voted that the special School Building Committee established last May, but not yet appointed, should proceed towards the construction of a new elementary school on land now owned or to be acquired, and that the Committee should take under consideration preliminary planning for a second new elementary school on the land.

Thus was settled one of the Town's most acute controversies. When it was all over, representatives of those who had been battling for decentralization took the microphone, pledged their support to the new school program and expressed hope that a spirit of unity would reappear in the Town.

Something Unique

By voting for the centralized system, educators say, the Town has broken new ground. So far as known, no Town of Weston's size has such a system. Dr. Anthony Brackett, superintendent of schools, says, "There's no book to go by." However, he says, operating the new campus-type school center will be a challenge, and that he's full of optimism. He expects the venture will attract a great deal of attention from professional educators.

At present the Weston school system includes nearly 20 acres around Buildings A, B, and C, on School Street, and 46 acres around the High School, Country School and swimming pool. With another 50 acres or so, the school

Eugene Hanson Is A Salesmanager

Eugene O. Hanson

WESTON — Eugene O. Hanson of 27 Pinecroft Road, lone dissenter on the seven-member School Site Committee, whose viewpoint was eventually accepted by the Town, has lived in Weston since 1941.

He was born in Gorham, Maine, and went through high school in South Portland. On graduation he entered the employ of the Brown Company, the huge paper and pulp enterprise, as a clerk. He is now, 31 years later, assistant salesmanager of the paper division of the company.

Mrs. Elizabeth R. Hanson, his wife, was born in Prescott, Massachusetts, a town which was drowned when the Quabbin Reservoir was built. When she had to have a birth certificate for a trip to Mexico, it came back signed "Metropolitan Water District." She is a registered nurse, a graduate of the Deaconess Hospital.

The Hanson children are Peter, 16, a senior in Weston High; Maribeth, 13, a freshman; Patricia, 10, 5th grade, and Eric, 8, 3d grade.

Mr. Hanson is president of the Salesmen's Association of the Paper Industry. He is one of the Weston Registrars of Voters.

Spooky Story

WAYLAND — The night was dark when a Wayland man, homeward bound alone from the rural regions, stopped at a filling station.

Down the road, afterwards, something gave his knee a nudge.

A chill went up his back. He didn't know whether he was losing his mind. A Great Unknown was there in the vehicle with him.

So he stopped and switched on the light. Down beside him was a cat.

He turned around and drove back seven miles to the filling station.

"Here's your cat," he said to the man.

"Ain't mine," said the man.

The cat got out and ambled away.

$2000 To Hungary By Weston Red Cross

WESTON—The Weston Chapter, American Red Cross, has sent a check for $2,000 to help the people of Hungary. The donation of this sum has been made possible because the Weston Chapter has always carefully allocated the donations of its members and friends. When the Hungarian revolt occurred, there were funds in the treasury available for just such an emergency.

All Red Cross Chapters are authorized to accept funds for Hungarian relief, and the Weston Chapter expects to send additional sums in the near future. Contributions may be addressed to Edward M. Dickson, Treasurer, Box 365, Weston.

Saltonstall In Town

WAYLAND — Senator Leverett Saltonstall will be in town to address fellow Unitarians at a meeting of the Layman's League of the Layman's League of the First Parish Church (Unitarian) on Friday evening, December 7.

Postmaster Hynes Needs Some Help

(Crier Photo)
Postmaster Hynes

WAYLAND — Postmaster Thomas E. Hynes says he needs Christmas help at Wayland Post Office, and also vehicles to hire for rural routes. Applicants should call at the Wayland Post Office and fill out application blanks, he says.

He also has suggestions for Christmas mailing:

Check Christmas card lists carefully for full names and addresses, including street, number, city, zone and state.

Use heavy wrapping paper, stout cartons, strong cord and adhesive tape for protection of parcels.

For packages with letters or Christmas cards enclosed, add "Writing enclosed" and pay 3 cents extra for first class rate, plus postage for package.

Nothing more than a signature is authorized on cards mailed at the 2 cent rate.

Be sure your return address is on all Christmas cards. This is socially correct and helps to keep mailing lists up to date.

You may obtain free labels at the Post Office, one saying "Local delivery" and the other "All", for out of town. Cards should be sorted into the two categories, then tied in two bundles with the appropriate label on the outside, and the bundles put in the Post Office or in a box provided.

All mail for outside of Massachusetts should be mailed by Dec. 10, and mail for nearby points by Dec. 15.

WESTON — Harry Patterson of the Country Bookstall was inducted into the Weston Rotary Club on Nov. 15 by Past District Governor Harry Starr, assisted by Jack Boyd.

"Gold Cadillac" At Town House

WESTON — Members of the First Parish Society of Weston will present "The Solid Gold Cadillac" at the Town House, Weston at 8:30 p.m. on Friday and Saturday, Dec. 7 and 8. The famous comedy by Howard Teichmann and George S. Kaufman has been recently released for amateur performers. This is the Fall dramatic presentation of the Society, which since 1885 has been a Town-wide organization open to everyone in Weston.

In the cast are Mrs. Daniel Kennedy, Mr. Richard Berry, Mr. Francis Shepard, Mr. Robert Townsend, Mr. Donald Douglass, Mr. Courtland Charlot, Mrs. Victor Noel, Mr. John Durant, Mr. Robert Carney, Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Mallet, Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Dougherty, Mr. George Amadon, Mrs. Allan Wheeler, Miss Carolyn Wheeler, Dr. William Lemander and Mr. Harry Crawford.

Tickets are available from Mrs. Ruth Moore at the First Parish in Weston.

The committee in charge of the play consists of Dr. and Mrs. William C. Lemander, Chairmen; Mr. and Mrs. Raymond C. Boshco, Mr. and Mrs. Richard P. Holland, Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Marsh and Mr. and Mrs. Robert T. Parsons.

Doorway Contest By Garden Club

WAYLAND — The Wayland Garden Club will sponsor a Christmas doorway contest, for all residents of the Town, and it hopes to have an even large response than last year.

Judges will consider the most artistic, the most original and the most appropriate decorations for the home and family. Final entry date is Dec. 18 and Dec. 23 will be the date for judging. Judges will be Mrs. Eugene N. Foss 2d of Dedham and Mrs. Frederick Stebbins and David Turner of Wayland.

The contest may be entered simply by filling in the blank below and mailing it to Mrs. Jackson Turner, Wayland, or by calling her at EL 8-2401. Mrs. Turner is chairman of the committee, assisted by Mrs. Ralph Field, Mrs. Frederick Walther and Mrs. John Bandelin.

Prizes will be a turkey, from Collins Market; champagne, Post Road Liquors, and a basket of fruit, Capps Market.

Weston Brownies

At the joint Brownie meeting on Nov. 27 which was attended by some 65 first-year Brownies, a special investiture ceremony was held for Heyam Ahmad, the 10-year old girl from Israel. The girls stood in the horseshoe formation while Mrs. Ruth Moller, the leader, gave her the Brownie pin and heard her recite her Brownie promise.

Many Christmas projects are being planned by the Brownies. Mrs. Dengler's and Mrs. Pexton's troop will furnish and decorate the Christmas tree at the children's room in the library. Mrs. Rayner's and Mrs. Howe's troop will be entertained at a Christmas party at the Scout House on Dec. 11 by Mrs. Robinson's girl scouts.

All second-year Brownies under the leadership of Mrs. Harry Ferries, Mrs. Thomas Peebles, Mrs. Allan Metcalfe, Mrs. John P. Glaws, Mrs. Robert Watters and Mrs. Paul Erickson will get together on Dec. 19 to give a party for their mothers. Special songs and entertainment are being planned and each girl will make a present for her mother.

Weston High Notes

The second meeting of the Weston Parent Teachers Association, held in the Country School on Tuesday evening, Nov. 20, gave the parent audience a demonstration of "Developing individual interests". It was a pupil - teacher participation program, led off by Principals Julius H. Mueller and Thomas H. McFarlin, with Joseph Wager of the junior class acting as Master of Ceremonies.

Mrs. Elizabeth Urschel, second grade teacher, and her pupils, conducted experiments in science, after which Mr. Lawrence Bramhall and his students reenacted a sixth grade class in geography. Miss Barbara Stiles, seventh grade geography teacher, and Miss Claire McDonough of the High School English and Social Science departments led a panel discussion on projects. Mrs. Dorothy Mulroy and Mr. Wallace W. Sawyer of the High School Science Department discussed science projects with their group. The program terminated with a panel discussion by members of the high school yearbook staff.

Second Grade pupils participating were Elaine Gowell, Elizabeth Shaw, Alexander Goodale, William Lawson, Sarah Brooks, Katherine Bogle and Deborah Lindsley.

Sixth Grade pupils participating were Douglas Bonner, Stephen Brooke, Richard Langenbach, Kimball McMullin, Scott McMullin, Christopher Packard, Charles Schuerhoff, Richard Shaw, Jay Viles, Thomas Weaver, Kenneth West, David Greenlie, Kathleen Chisholm, Veronica Duffy, Ellen Fitzgerald, Kitora Flint, Elizabeth Glover, Pamela Herring, Judith Jones, Shirley Mills, Carolyn Sloan, Linda Stantial, Kathryn Stevens, Susan Wilkes and Ricka Hayes.

Junior and high school students participating were: Seventh grade, Polly Howells, Eva Reissner and Jonathan Bump; Eighth Grade, Erika Saunders, Kepler Stone, Peter Gray, Rosamund Lombard, Joseph Ewers, Richard Cutter and Phillip Pinel; Grade 10, John Reissner and Thomas Kelly; Grade 11, Henry Lehne and Peter Rydel. Seniors participating in the yearbook discussion were Eleanor Farrar, leader; Susan Smith, Terry MacGuire, Nancy White, Jonathan Gates, Blythe Page, Iris Hubbard, Robert Walsh, Mary Jane Graves and Stuart Harnish.

The high school play is now in preparation under the direction of Mr. John W. Zorn, head of the English Department, and is to be presented on Thursday and Friday evenings, Dec. 13 and 14, in the Country School auditorium. "Icebound", the Pulitzer - prize winning play for 1926, and a difficult production for a high school group, is shaping up excellently with a cast headed by Joseph Wager and Valerie Sawyer, who enact the roles of an erring youth and a faithful housekeeper.

Red Coach Fire

WAYLAND — A fire in the rubbish disposal area in the rear of the Red Coach Grill gave the Wayland firefighters a run at 2:18 a.m. Nov. 30. Chief Clifton Haynes says damage was mostly confined to an outside storeroom. The operation of the restaurant was not interrupted.

St. Julia's Sodality

WESTON — St. Julia's Sodality of Our Lady will hold its December meeting on Tuesday, Dec. 11, at which a special enrollment of new members and renewal for all members will be held. The meeting will start with rosary and benediction at the church at 8 p.m., followed by a reception to new members at the Lower Town Hall. Entertainment will be furnished by the Schola Cantorum of Regis College, by Sister Babola, C.S.J. Mrs. Ernest Comeau will be the hostess.

Annual Christmas Sing By Scouts

WAYLAND — The annual carol sing by Scouts and others will be held at 7:30 p.m. Thursday, Dec. 20, on the steps of the Library, or, if the weather is too cold or stormy, inside the Library.

Friends of the Library are making the facilities of the building available for the occasion. Refreshments donated by the Wayland Junior Town House Association will be served after the sing by the senior Girl Scouts, under the leadership of Mrs. Frank Lamb. Intermediates and Brownies will attend with their families.

A Christmas tree given by the Wayland Kiwanis Club will be set up and lighted by Troop 1 of the Wayland Boy Scouts under the leadership of Lawrence Cook.

Cub Scout Packs 1 and 51, under the direction of Parmelee Hill and Will Brown, will bring boxes and baskets of gifts prepared by the Cub Scout Dens. The gifts will be turned over to Oliver Riggs, Frank Smith and Wallace Allen of the Kiwanis Club, who will see to their distribution among local families.

The singing will be led by Herbert Galliher, and Norman Alstad will furnish accompanying trumpet music.

Chance To Send Clothing Abroad

Planes going to Europe to bring back Hungarian refugees this month will have room to carry clothing for Hungary, it has been announced, and anyone wishing to send clothing this way may leave it at Weston Market, Triple "A" Market or the Newton-Waltham bank in Weston.

The clothing should be left at these centers by Thursday, Dec. 13. For further information, one may phone Mrs. John O. McGillivray, TW 3-3346.

Weston LWV Unit Meetings Listed

WESTON — This month the League of Women Voters unit meetings are devoted to discussion of the new Probation Bill, its provisions and significance. The purpose of these discussions will be to further understand and to look for, ways and means to strengthen and improve this bill.

Mrs. Harry Corman is in charge of these meetings. She and her committee, Mrs. Robert Hutchinson, Mrs. David S. Grey, Mrs. Lyman Stone Hayes, Mrs. Arthur L. Rossi, Mrs. Walter Newbert and Mrs. Lawrence Paxton, have done an extensive job of research.

The meetings will be held at the following times and places: Tuesday, Dec. 11, at 10 a.m., at the home of Mrs. Stewart Leach, 5 Blossom Lane; on the 11th, at 8 p.m., at the home of Mrs. Putnam Flint, 34 North Avenue; Wednesday at 10 a.m., Dec. 12, at the home of Miss Muriel Haines, 45 Hilltop Road; at 8 p.m., Dec. 12 at the home of Mrs. Arra Avakian, 33 Ledgewood Road; on Dec. 13 at 10 a.m., at the home of Mrs. Boardman Bump, 29 Ash Street.

The League urges any interested citizens who might like to attend a unit meeting, or to learn more of this subject, to call Mrs. Mead Hartwell, TW 3-3879, for further information or transportation to and of these meetings.

Wayland Board Of Appeals (Zoning)

Petition of Anselm Delaney, to extend the building at 150 Main Street, known as "The Stein" tavern, out to the sidewalk line. Denied.

Petition of Olde Farm Realty Trust, to remove gravel from premises off Old Connecticut Path near Old Farm Road. Granted on conditions.

WESTON—Albert J. Oliva of 231 Ridgeway Road, a senior at Northeastern University, has been promoted from second to first lieutenant in the R.O.T.C. unit. He is majoring in business management.

Wayland Tied For Top

WAYLAND — Because Oliver Ames High of Easton won its Thanksgiving Day football game, Wayland High ended the season in a tie for the leadership of Class D teams in Eastern Massachusetts. So far as records show, it seems to be about the best showing ever made by a Wayland football team, although that of 1950 was also unbeaten.

The Wayland freshmen, coached by Ed Barry, also had a perfect season, winning all five games. Most spectacular victory was a 57-to-7 win over Hopkinton freshmen. Budding athletes on the team, says coach Barry, were backs Jerry Whelchel, Dick Morris, Joe DePaolo and Bruce Waldman; ends Eddie Marsh and Steve Powers and center Dave Furst.

Scouts Will Sell Christmas Wreaths

WESTON — The annual sale of Christmas wreaths by Weston Boy Scout Troop 51 has begun, and all households in Town will be visited by young salesmen. The Scouts say they have a large supply of the wreaths, both plain and decorated, of high quality.

Profits from the sale support the troop's activities and maintain its cabin at Nobscot. This year they will also help finance the newly formed Explorer Post 56.

Cat Rock Wants Skiers To Work

WESTON — An appeal for help, signed by W. B. Freeman, president of the Cat Rock Trust:

"Weston residents are fortunate to have a ski area with rope tow right in their own back yard. Every year, with the approach of snow weather, members are asked to help prepare the hill for the Winter season.

"Will you come to the hill on Saturday, Dec. 8, equipped with rotary lawn mower or other equipment to cut the grass and clear the trails of brush? The smoother we can get the hill the less snow needed for good skiing.

"The hill is operated Saturdays, Sundays and holidays, when snow conditions permit, by the Cat Rock Ski Club. This club is open to membership by any resident of Weston. It is a non-profit organization. The annual dues serve to pay for annual expenses, such as land rental and equipment maintenance. The low daily tow charge of $1 takes care of the daily operating expenses.

"Do two things now.

1. Plan to come to the hill in work clothes on Dec. 8. Bring your lunch and spend the day.

"2. Fill in the membership application and mail with your check to Cat Rock Trust, Alfred Thomas, Treasurer, Meadowbrook Road, Weston. Family membership, $5, single, $2."

Weston Girl Was In Beauty Contest

(David Phipps)

Elaine Murphy

WESTON — One of the most noted resident of Weston is Miss Elaine Murphy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond J. Murphy of 72 Brook Road, who was Miss Massachusetts at the Miss Universe contest held at Long Beach, California, this year. Miss Murphy was photographed with Governor Herter here, and in Long Beach she was royally entertained. At one point she was a guest of the Long Beach Rotary Club.

She moved to Weston three years ago, from Waltham. She's employed as a secretary and also as a part-time Hart model.

Carl Nelson, Tenor, At Wayland, Dec. 11

Carl Nelson

WAYLAND — Mr. Carl Nelson, noted Boston tenor, will present a program of sacred and secular music at the first open meeting of the Women's Fellowship, to be held Dec. 11, at 7:45 p.m. in Fellowship Hall.

Mr. Nelson has sung in some of the greatest cathedrals in the world, including Notre Dame. He has been the soloist at St. Paul's Cathedral, Boston, and is at present the tenor soloist at historic Park Street Church, Boston.

He has sung as tenor soloist a number of times with the Boston Symphony Orchestra. Decca of Sweden has recorded a number of his folk songs, some of which he will sing here.

Men are especially invited to share this evening. No charge is being made and refreshments will be served.

Country Garden Club

WESTON—Next meeting of the Country Garden Club will be held at the home of Mrs. Richard F. Schanzle, 61 Oxbow Road, on Dec. 12. Mr. Leonard of the Wellesley Flower Shop will speak on Christmas arrangements.

Wayland Warrant To Close Dec. 15

WAYLAND — Dec. 15 is the deadline for articles for the Town Warrant to be acted upon at the annual Town Meeting the first Wednesday in March.

According to the By-Laws of Wayland, an article may be inserted in the Warrant not only by the Selectmen, often acting upon the request of Town officials, but by any voting citizen of the Town submitting an article to the Selectment and having 10 signatures of voters attached.

"The articles come in a bunch when they come," says Thomas F. Linnehan, Selectman. The only one which has been submitted so far has to do with absentee ballots for Town Elections.

The deadline for articles has to be set so far ahead to give the Selectmen time to prepare the budget. During this interim the Finance Committee and Selectmen interview each Town department to determine the needs.

The Warrant for the Annual Meeting must be posted in five places a week ahead of the meeting, and Warrants for Special Town Meetings are mailed so that voters receive them at least seven days ahead.

A Special Town Meeting may be called when an article is submitted with at least 100 signatures. One hundred voters constitute a quorum in Wayland Town Meetings, which are open to all "inhabitants of said Town qualified to vote in Town affairs."

In the Town Warrant, Article 4, by-law, covers "To grant money for necessary Town purposes," and Article 5 has to do with fixing the salaries of elective officials of the Town. Otherwise, "Articles appear in the Warrant in the order that they were submitted," says Norman Taylor, secretary to the Selectmen. "In the Town Meeting, the reading of the article opens up the subject for debate and each Article must be acted upon."

For further information on Town Meeting procedure, see "A Handbook For Town Meeting," published by the Wayland League of Women Voters, available at local libraries.

COCHITUATE — Cub Scouts of Pack No. 1 are still talking of the exciting trip which they recently took visiting the interesting historical places in Boston. Thirty-two Cubs in eight cars driven by parents first visited the U.S.S. Constitution. After this, the U.S. Navy conducted for the Cubs and parents a guided tour on one of the new destroyers at the Boston Naval Shipyard.

Weston Procedure

WESTON — The custom in Weston is to decide in December when the warrant shall close. This is usually some time in February. Persons who want Articles in the warrant make requests to the Selectmen. If the request is denied, the person may petition.

However, Ward Carter, Town executive secretary, says he never knew of a case in which a request was denied. That is, anybody with a good reason can get an Article into the warrant.

"Every purchase of Christmas seals is important."

Capt. Kangaroo Wows Great Crowd

Capt. Kangaroo, well-known TV character, landed from a helicopter at Waltham on Sunday afternoon, Nov. 25, to take part in Grover Cronin's biggest pre-Christmas parade ever. In the picture, he's shown entering the store by a Waltham Fire Department ladder from Moody Street, as thousands watch.

Centralization

center will cover more than 100 acres.

As Dr. Brackett understands it, the ultimate plan calls for construction of three elementary schools on this land, each on about 15 acres of land, each containing pupils from all parts of Town.

The Previous Question

The Special Town Meeting, called for the High School gymnasium because it's the largest hall in Town, was continued from that of Nov. 19.

When the first session was adjourned, as Moderator Francis G. Goodale explained, the main motion before it was one by Eugene O. Hanson, that centralization continue to be the Town's school policy. After that had come a motion for the previous question.

A motion for the previous question, Mr. Goodale explained, is not debatable and must be carried by two thirds. It would mean an end to debate on the main motion, he said, and would set up a vote on the main motion without further argument.

After this had been explained, he called for ayes and noes.

There were two loud choruses, and he said:

"The ayes have it, but not by two thirds. We'll have to take a standing vote."

Tellers were appointed, people stood up, and the ayes carried it, 962 to 367, more than the necessary two-thirds.

Paper Ballots

Next came the issue on the main motion, for the centralization policy.

Small pieces of white paper, for ballots, had been distributed to all voters as they were checked into the meeting.

Mr. Goodale said a written ballot had been called for by some, and that it was possible to have a paper ballot, although such a one had not been taken in a Weston Town Meeting to his knowledge. He said he was reluctant to take the paper ballot, because it had always been the custom in Town Meeting for people to stand up and be counted.

However, he said, a number of persons whom he respected had told him there were a number of persons in genuine fear for their jobs, if they should stand up and be counted. Therefore, he said, if a voice were inconclusive, there would be a paper ballot.

There were loud shouts of both aye and no.

"In the opinion of the Moderator, the ayes had it," said Mr. Goodale.

A citizen from the floor said he doubted it.

Applause

Thereupon the voters marked their ballots and the tellers, two to each seating section, collected them and counted them. The counting took a little more than 20 minutes, during which the meeting was in recess and the coke machine did a brisk business.

Lacking better facilities, the tellers crouched on the floor to do their counting.

"Looks like a crap game," said somebody.

Only a simple majority was needed, in this case, and when the vote was announced the battle was over.

Then Mr. Hanson, the lone advocate of centralization on the seven-member Site Committee, whose point of view had finally prevailed, stepped to the mike, amid applause, and read the motion for acquisition of the Harvard land.

The motion was seconded by J. Robert Ayers, chairman of the Site Committee and leading advocate of decentralization, and Mr. Ayers was also applauded.

Speaking for his motion, Mr. Hanson said he hoped all would vote for the land on which to build a school within the next two years. He said he hoped his motion would have the support he would have given had the vote gone the other way.

Mr. Ayers said he had had no change of opinion, but that the Town Meeting, in an unprecedented turnout, had spoken by an overwhelming majority. He pointed out that a two-thirds vote was needed to acquire the land, and he hoped it would be voted.

"The Town should not be divided down the middle," he said. "We should get together and vote the land."

Pleas For Unity

Mr. John G. Brooks of the School Committee said the Committee disagreed with the result, but the principal purpose was to get schools built. He said the schools should not be prejudiced by delay, and he said he hoped the motion would carry.

Harry C. Crawford Jr. said, "I would suggest a unanimous vote," and he was applauded.

J. Kenneth Bennett of the Finance Committee said the Committee had decided to back the school program, whichever way it went, and he urged a vote for the motion.

Selectman Richard H. Field said he joined in what had been said about unanimity. He urged the decentralizers to be "generous and magnanimous losers" and vote down the line for Mr. Hanson's motion.

At 9:40 the vote was called for. Nobody said no, and the vote was recorded as unanimous.

Bleacher Seats

Mr. Hanson then moved that the building committee get on with school building, and this was voted unanimously.

Chairman William R. Dewey Jr. of the Board of Selectmen moved that the Site Committee be dissolved, with thanks to the members for their services. This was voted unanimously. Then Mr. Dewey said, "I move that this meeting be dissolved," and it was all over at 9:50 p.m.

In the period between the two sessions of the meeting there was some confusion in Town as to the exact parliamentary status of the various motions. The Crier goofed, in its account of the first session, omitting the motion to continue centralization as a policy and reporting the motion to acquire land, which hadn't even been made. But the League of Women Voters sent out a circular during the interim, explaining what was what, and by the time the Moderator had finished his opening explanation about what "moving the previous question" involves, everybody understood.

Weston people used to walk to Watertown to church.

Conservatory Gets $200 From Concert Series

(Lescraft)

WESTON — Adding to a scholarship fund established last year from proceeds of the Weston Country Evening Concert Series, Thomas J. Scott, Treasurer, and Mrs. Reginald B. Elwell, ticket chairman, recently presented a new check for $200 to Harrison Keller, president of the New England Conservatory of Music.

In accordance with the terms of the gift, one-half of the money will be used immediately to benefit a music student at the Conservatory who comes from Weston or a neighboring town. The other half will be invested to create an endowed scholarship to be available to Conservatory students from the Weston area.

Last year's winner of the award was William B. Carmichael, son of Mr. and Mrs. William E. Carmichael of 16 Howe Street, Wellesley. He is now a sophomore at the N. E. Conservatory, majoring in clarinet. The new recipient will be chosen shortly.

As tickets for this year's Weston Country Evening Concert Series went on sale, Mrs. Albert B. Hunt, president and founder of the concert series, expressed the sincere hope that the audiences would enjoy the concerts doubly, knowing that they were contributing to the development and training of local young people as fine musicians.

Wassail Bowl At The Jones House

WESTON — The Jones House will be festive with Christmas decorations and arrangements on Monday, Dec. 10, at 2:30 p.m., when members of the Garden Interest Group hope to greet their Weston friends at the seasonal bowl of wassail.

There will be a display and sale of decorations and greens.

Members of the brass choir of Weston High School, directed by Mr. Wendell B. Phillips, will play Christmas carols from 2:30 until 3 p.m.

Mrs. Stephen E. Bissett will be hostess at the wassail bowl. Mrs. Joseph B. Hartwell and Mrs. Edward H. Robertson will be chairmen.

WESTON — Weston Post 214, American Legion, will sell Christmas trees this year on the lawn of the Jones House. Proceeds will go to the Post's educational fund.

Mobilheat Corner
Mobilheat
Remember Pearl Harbor
December 7, 1956

Hi There!

How many of you recall James Russell Lowell's "The First Snow Fall",

The Snow had begun in the gloaming,
And busily all the night,
Had been heaping field and highway
With a silence deep and white.

Every pine and fir and hemlock
Wore ermine too dear for an earl,
And the poorest twig on the elm tree
Was ridged inch deep with pearl.

Will our elm trees and roads be ridged deep with snow during the next few months? Snow in December followed by cold weather means treacherous road conditions. Our deliveries are planned for your heating convenience. Our slogan "Mobilheat Always Comes Through" will give you on time automatic deliveries.

We prefer to add to our ever growing Mobilheat family by our good will reaching before us to all corners of our town. The greatest thing in life is man's loyalty to man — that innate stamp of fair play which prompts him to hand out a fair deal. We welcome keen and fair competition. However, we cannot give a boon to gain an account if we cannot do the same for our loyal customers who have been with us during the past few years. We offer you high quality service at a fair price.

Sincerely,
TOM LINNEHAN

Robinson, Mrs. Philip Trumbull, Mrs. Leopold Bruener, Mrs. Nancy Willeson, Paul Dippolito, Ray Farnsworth, Paul Green, Walter Goodale, Edward Bassett, William Burt, and Dr. Stewart Leach.

Wayland-Weston members of the Community Orchestra include Mrs. Walter Parker, Mrs. Edmund Sears and Norman Alstad.

The Verse On The Town Hall Floor

WESTON — Intrigued by the lively discussion about sidewalks at a recent hearing in the Town Hall, a local poet scribbled some verses on the subject on the pretty red and green school map put out by the Site Committee, then left it on the floor. Somebody picked it up and sent it to the Crier, and here it is. A note says the tune is traditional, so it's obviously meant to be sung to "The Sidewalks of New York."

It looks like a woman's handwriting. The poem:

Weston Sidewalks, 1956-'66
Sidewalks, sidewalks, all around the Town
Spoiling the beauty, it's really our duty,
To tear those sidewalks down.
Who's afraid of danger
When it's much more fun to jay walk?
It's clear that we never contented will be,
With sidewalks like New York.

Footpaths, footpaths, through the trees they go.
Oh it is fun, to be out on one
Even when there's snow!
Boys and girls together, Oh what swell places to rest on Whether you're walking or biking upon
The green footpaths of Weston

'56 Rombas Student Arrives In Weston

(John Garabedian)
Andre Roesslinger

WESTON—Andre Roesslinger, 16-year-old French student sponsored by the Weston-Rombas Affiliation, arrived in New York on Nov. 6. Mrs. Walter H. Stockmayer met the boat and brought him to the Stockmayer home at 20 Pigeon Hill, where he is now living.

Andre did not like New York's skyscrapers, which looked older than he expected them to, but thought that the city was pretty as you drive away from it, because of the parkways. He thinks Massachusetts is beautiful and that Weston is uniquely so.

During his first three weeks here, Andre has taken on five subjects at High School: American history, math, science and modern problems, and he helps teach the French class. He also sings in the choir. A comment by a Weston student that he is "one of us" shows how well he has fitted in.

Andre was chosen from 14 students at the College de Rombas where he received the first prize in scholarship.

His comment on football: "Tres brutale."

Center School PTA Meeting, Dec. 6

WAYLAND — The Center School P.T.A. scheduled its second meeting of the year for Thursday, Dec. 6, at 7:30 p.m. at the Wayland High School cafeteria. After coffee, the group was to hear a panel discussion by two professional experts and a group of Center School parents on the report card marking system.

Later, the group was to adjourn to the Center School, where teachers would be in their classrooms to explain and discuss the students' projects which will be on display. A $5 prize was to be given to the class having the largest percentage of parents present.

Fabisak Appointed To Personnel Board

WAYLAND — Theodore W. Fabisak, of Bennett Road, has been appointed by the Selectmen to the Personnel Board, which establishes and maintains job classifications and salaries for the Town.

Mr. Fabisak is director in administration and Finance for the Commonwealth of Massachusetts. He was formerly the assistant director of the State Health Department for 10 years, Executive Director of the Massachusetts Hospital Association, and is a lecturer in Health Administration for the Harvard School of Public Health.

Dunbar - Martin

WESTON—Mr. and Mrs. Warren C. Tyler of Weston announce the engagement of their daughter, Carol Dunbar, to Lieut. Edwin C. Martin, USAF, of Newtonville. Miss Dunbar is a graduate of Westbrook Junior College and she is employed at Waltham Hospital, where she recently completed the x-ray technician course.

Lieut. Martin is a graduate of Burdett College and is now stationed at Otis Air Force Base, Falmouth. A May wedding is planned.

Methodist Pageant

WESTON — Children of the Weston Methodist Church School are rehearsing for the Christmas pageant to be presented on Sunday, December 23, at 3:30 p.m. A committee consisting of Mrs. Robert W. Huston, Mrs. Robert Loesel, Mrs. Roy MacArthur is being assisted by Mr. and Mrs. Reginald Cahill, Miss Lydia M. Gore, Mrs. Douglas Nickerson and the Junior Choir.

TO THE RESIDENTS OF WAYLAND

We regret the inconveniences you are having, caused by the garbage collection problem. We thank you for your cooperation and patience during this period and wish to assure you that everything possible is being done to maintain a regular collection in the future.

Board of Health Regulations as to garbage collection are as follows:

(1) An adequate covered garbage container must be provided.

(2) Garbage container must be outside, in an easily accessible place.

(3) No bottles, tins, papers or trash of any kind other than garbage is to be placed in receptacle.

(4) Garbage will be collected once a week from Oct. 1st to May 1st, and twice a week from May 1st to Oct. 1st.

Your cooperation with these regulations will be appreciated.

Garbage will not be collected unless the above regulations are complied with.

Wayland Board of Health

Garbage

The telephone at the Parmenter Health Center, where the Board of Health has its office, began to ring 50 times a day. The Board of Health members caught the dickens by phone, too.

Several infuriated citizens threatened to carry their garbage up to the Health Center and dump it there.

Under cover of night, one person actually did it. It was a mess.

A number carried their garbage to the dump. This was wrong, because the dump is reserved for refuse of a higher quality, but nobody was disposed to take any steps. After all, this was revolution.

So the Board of Health had several sessions with the contractors, who finally assembled a crew and a fleet of seven trucks and cleaned up the whole Town in one day.

At that point the Board of Health thought the crisis was over, but it wasn't. The contractor had more trouble with his help, and the telephones went on ringing.

The Campership Committee Meets

WESTON — The Weston Campership Committee had an open meeting Wednesday evening, Nov. 28, at the home of Rev. Joseph O'Donnell, 687 Boston Post Road, where 18 representatives of local organizations were present to hear the reports of the present committee.

It was stated that seven children were sent to camp last Summer. The number was limited by the funds and opportunities available.

The Community League, which initiated the project in 1949, was the largest contributor. Others were the Salvation Army and the Weston Baptist and Methodist Churches.

The present committee asks the support of all Town organizations, so that it can carry on its activities efficiently.

Radio Hero Wanted

A search is on for an unsung hero among the 7440 ham radio operators in Massachusetts and the 149,000 in the country, it is announced by Brig. Gen. John J. Maginnis, State Civil Defense Director. They want to give a medal for "significant public service performed during 1956."

The place to write is Massachusetts Civil Defense Agency, Natick, or the Edison Radio Amateur Award, Schenectady, N.Y.

Butch Gets The Needle

(Crier Photo)

Lester A. Merritt, otherwise known as Butchie, put on a look of fortitude when Dr. Charlotte A. Stewart gave him his third polio shot at Parmenter Health Center on Dec. 15. Standing in the rear is Miss Roberta Jacobs, director of the Center, and beside her, seated, is Mrs. Florence M. Merritt of Lake Shore Drive, Cochituate, Lester's mother.

Lester, 9, is in the 3d grade at Cochituate School. His comment on the needle:

"If I don't look at it, it doesn't hurt so much."

Weston Building Committee Named

WESTON — Town Moderator Francis G. Goodale has appointed the new School Building Committee and has designated James S. Turner as its temporary chairman, to call the first meeting for organizational purposes.

Others on the Committee are Mrs. Russell L. Dorrance, Mrs. Harry S. Ferries, Hector J. Osmond and Albert M. Taber.

Snow Warning

WAYLAND — After the storm of Dec. 9, the Wayland Highway Commissioners issued a warning to residents who leave their automobiles parked on the streets all night. This practise makes snow plowing much more difficult, they said, and they wanted to remind people that, even though they'd hate to exercise it, they do have a legal right to have such vehicles towed away.

Traffic Signs

WESTON — The temporary signs in the Center, limiting parking to one hour, are to be replaced with permanent signs. The new Weston Traffic Code is in force now and failure to obey brings a penalty.

WAYLAND—Thomas B. Gannett of Old Connecticut Path has been elected 1957 chairman of the New England Group of the Investment Bankers Association of America.

Weston Selectmen Want A Freeway

WESTON — The Weston Selectmen have sent to Public Works Commissioner Carl A. Sheridan a letter urging him to "reconsider the need to plan immediately for a western, free expressway without waiting for the decision of the Massachusetts Turnpike Authority as to whether it can finance and build a toll road to Boston".

The letter is signed for the Board by Chairman Wm. R. Dewey Jr.

It points out:

"Residents of Weston are substantial users of the Boston and Albany R. R. commuting service from Riverside station . . . Any Toll Road extension which curtails the available commuting service will be a great detriment to all commuters living west of Riverside station . . .

"Toll charges added to the present cost and inadequacy of parking facilities in Boston will constitute a direct financial discrimination against the residents of the western metropolitan area . . .

"We note your recent statements that . . . a decision to build a freeway from the Weston terminus of the Toll Road to Boston would require a re-scheduling of projects . . . In view of the . . . inadequacy of all access roads to Boston from this area even without the addition of Toll Road

Town Secretary Job Proposed In Committee Report

WAYLAND — Establishment of the office of executive secretary, to be the senior executive and administrative officer in Town under the directions of the Selectmen, is proposed in the report of a special committee to study the Town government, returned to the Selectmen on Dec. 16.

The committee was authorized at a Town Meeting last March.

At present, Town Accountant Norman E. Taylor looks like the man in line for the proposed job. He came to the Town highly recommended, and this change in Town arrangements has been contemplated for several years.

The job would parallel that of I. Ward Carter in Weston. It isn't exactly that of Town Manager, which would come under other legislative rules, but comes close to it.

Before the recent great growth in population, Wayland was a horse-and-buggy Town. Public offices were held on a part time basis, as now. Part of the idea of the proposed change is that there should be somebody in Town Hall every day who could give an authoritative reply to residents' inquiries.

The complete report of the Committee will be printed, and a copy sent to every household in Town. Members of the Committee are Archibald Cox, chairman; Mrs. Frederick S. Whiteside, Robert H. Miller, Robert M. Morgan and Thomas F. Linnehan.

Salary for the new executive secretary would be fixed later.

Other recommendations by the Committee:

Provision for abolition of the present Board of Fire Engineers and establishment of the office of full time Fire Chief, with a salary commensurate with that of the Chief of Police.

Designation of the Tax Collector as Town Collector, with authority to collect all monies due the Town except payments from other governmental units and payments due the Board of Public Welfare.

Provision for keeping practically all the Town records and papers in the new Town Hall. (Some have been kept in private homes, on account of lack of office space.)

Movie, Dec. 27

WESTON—The Boosters Club will put on a movie, "Mr. Scoutmaster", featuring Clifton Webb, Frances Dee and Edmund Gwenn, at 2:30 and 7:30 p.m. Dec. 27. Admission 50 cents for both parents and children.

Weston Legion Sells Trees

Planning For New Wayland High School Has Started

(Crier Photo)

WHERE THE NEW HIGH SCHOOL WILL BE: The Town voted to buy the 90-acre Schofield farm, shown above, on Old Connecticut Path. Presumably the building will be located somewhere in the rear of where the house now stands.

Football Injury

WESTON — Jim Stehlin, star Brandeis football player who spoke at the Win-Lose-Draw dinner for Weston athletes, had this story to tell:

A fullback named Mike was the big wheel for a high school football team down in the Pennsylvania coal region. In fact, Mike was about the whole team.

Came the big game, and Mike's play was keeping the home team's hopes alive.

Late in the third period there was a pileup of players. Mike didn't get up, and there was a stunned silence in the stands.

The doctor rushed out on the field.

"Mike," he asked the prostrate athlete, "how are you?"

"Me?" returned Mike. "I'm fine. But how's the crowd taking it?"

128 Cartons Of Clothes Sent To Hungarian Needy

COCHITUATE — One hundred and 28 large cartons of clothing for Hungarian refugees left Cochituate by truck on Nov. 24, headed for distribution points in Austria.

The collection drive was sponsored by the Woman's Society of Christian Service of the Community Methodist Church. Chairman was Mrs. John Kibbe, assisted by Mrs. Lois Field, Mrs. John Vaughan, Mrs. Harrison Ware, Mrs. Henry Wormley, Mrs. Dana Thorpe, Mrs. Harold Taylor and Miss Marjorie Brown.

Fred Ware, Herbert Schleicher, Arthur Macumber, Hallock Boutwell and John Kibbe loaded the truck. The Legion Post and the Fire Department provided storage space. Besides the clothing, the Society sent $30.

Hope Hubbard Was Hurt In Fall From Horse

WAYLAND—Miss Hope Hubbard of Old Connecticut Path has been in the hospital recovering from a bad fall from her horse on Dec. 8. Apparently the horse fell and threw her. The horse returned alone with cut knees and damaged saddle, alarming friends and neighbors who organized a search. Meanwhile Miss Hubbard was able to reach a house and phone in spite of a concussion, broken cheek and collar bone.

WAYLAND—Planning for the new Wayland High School, which the growth figures show will be needed by September, 1960, has already begun, and Allen R. Finlay, chairman of the School Building Committee, thinks it will take a year or so to complete.

The first step, drawing up the educational specifications, has been undertaken by the faculty of the present High School, at the request of Superintendent of Schools Edward J. Anderson.

This is a big job, the latter explains. It involves deciding the number of classrooms to be needed, their purposes, their needs in such simple respects as lights and light plugs, what kind of shop to have, the number of typewriter places, what size gymnasium, how many lockers and 100 other considerations. Mr. Anderson thinks it will be Spring before this survey is completed, and after that the Building Committee will have to study the result and try to translate in into brick and steel.

Big Gymnasium?

180-Pound Buck Shot In Weston

WESTON — James Ratchford, son of Mr. and Mrs. James J. Ratchford of 15 Sears Road, a sophomore at Weston High School, shot an eight-point, 180-pound buck this season near an old piggery off Conant Road, north of North Avenue.

Not many residents knew there were any deer in the Town limits. But a game warden told James there were six, a buck, two does and three fawns, and he says he got permission from the landowner to go hunting. He says he made the shot from about the width of a football field.

It was his first deer, he says, but hunting is nothing new to him. The family used to live in New York State and came to Weston three years ago. Since he was 10 years old, he and his father have been going hunting together. On this expedition, Mr. Ratchford and a friend were along, but it was James who got the shot.

The venison is in a freezer.

Later reports were that five deer in all were shot in Town, and that the municipality's deer population is estimated at 70.

Letters to the EDITOR

To the Editor:

I am pleased to announce that this year we have turned over to Mr. Mueller, Principal of the Weston High School, $240.00 to be used to pay the expenses of Weston High School students and faculty escorts to visit the United Nations in New York. This compares with $176.00 raised in 1955 and $32.00 in 1954.

Contributions were received by our committee this year from the following Weston organizations, to whom we feel most grateful:

Weston Men's Club, Rotary Club, League of Women Voters, American Legion, Parent Teachers, First Parish Friendly Society, Weston Golf Club, Garden Club.

Women's Community League, Boosters Club, Council of Churches, American Legion Auxiliary, Weston College, Rombas Committee, Pine Brook Country Club and Girl Scout Council.

Mr. Harry C. Crawford Jr. served as chairman of our Committee this year, Mrs. Eric Reissner as secretary and Charles B. Cutter as treasurer.

Very truly yours,
Charles B. Cutter, Treasurer,
Weston United Nations Day
Observance Committee

To the Editor:

We at Wayland Motors have felt a hidden pride as we watch passers-by stop and reflect at the Christmas Family on our front lawn. We have watched fondly as Mothers with their young folks stand and gaze wide-eyed and happy within. We tried to read lips, although knowing what is being said, and watch. A serious, yet smiling face answering the question, "Mummy, what do they mean, who are they." We all know the answer—symbols—symbolic of ourselves, our faiths and teachings, our childhood, parenthood, what we stand for as a people, a nation, what we live and fight for. We felt an inward pride to be associated with such a theme.

Now, be with us as we gazed from within mornings later on Dec. 6th, to see our prided Family dashed to the ground, crashed as if by a blitzkreig or a red push on Eastern Europe — be with us when these same wide-eyed youngsters ask what happened to the Christmas Family — be with us as we see the same Mummy walk on the other side of the street to evade different questions from the same wide-eyed youngsters. "What happened, Mummy, what did somebody do — that Family were our friends, we loved them, Mummy." We are reluctant to answer these tearful eyes, for what answer can there be?

Our pitiful satisfaction lies in the thought that this must be the act of a twisted, distorted mind or minds, in a definite minority. This act is not a symbol of the new generation—their symbol is the Family as we have seen it before this dreadful act.

Al McManus.

To the Editor:

The Town Crier, Inc., has demonstrated its community spirit through its support of the recent "Thanks-Giving Crusade" for retarded children of the South Middlesex Association for Retarded Children. With your assistance in writing and publishing facts about mental retardation, the neighborliness and generosity of Weston and Wayland have been extended to the mentally handicapped. The South Middlesex Association is especially grateful to your newspaper for its cooperation.

Sincerely yours,
Robert A. MacCready, M.D.
President, SMARC

TO THE EDITOR:

To the Editor:

With your help and the help of the members of your staff we were able to top our goal in the 1957 Red Feather Campaign, for the second time in a row, and for the second time in nine years.

Accept our thanks for your editorial assistance.

Sincerely yours,
Joseph W. Lund
1957 Campaign Chairman

To the Editor:

We moved from West Acton last week-end, and my two daughters, Anne and Tamson, are attending the schools here. Anne is a Sophomore in the High School and "Tammy" is in the 6th grade. I am Professor of Industrial Relations at M.I.T. and Director of the Industrial Relations Section there. My son, Charles, is a senior in George School, in Pennsylvania.

Your paper is excellent, and my wife and I learned about Weston from earlier copies which a friend here sent us.

Sincerely yours,
Charles A. Myers

Troop 4, Weston

WESTON — Troop 4, Girl Scouts of Weston, have enjoyed a busy fall. Several are studying requirements for the radio and television badge under Mrs. Richard Albrecht and the others the clerical badge under Mrs. Arthur Jones.

A cookout was enjoyed at the home of Mrs. J. Milton Kilgore. Erica Saunders and Karin Mueller served as Juliette Low representatives at a recent tea given by Mrs. David Kellogg. The troop has been rehearsing as a chorus and entertained at the Weston Convalescent Home on Dec. 19. A box has been filled to send to the Metropolitan Hospital.

Cookies were sold at a recent square dance to cover the Juliette Low contribution and the girls have been selling Christmas corsages to aid the Washington trip fund. Mrs. Julius Mueller serves as leader, assisted by Mrs. Jones and Mrs. Kilgore.

Mrs. Lutkins Is Heart Chairman

WESTON — Mrs. David R. Lutkins of 15 Hidden Road, who served in the same capacity last year, has been reappointed Weston's general chairman for the 1957 Heart Fund by state chairman Ernest Henderson of Boston.

The community's February-long campaign is sponsoredby the Massachusetts Heart Association. On Heart Sunday, February 24, every home will be visited by a Heart Neighbor to accept the contributions.

A Merry Christmas to You - You - and You.

I feel very privileged and proud to be a resident of this community. Here we have country atmosphere, beautiful well kept homes—the old and the new — shade trees, lawns, meadows and most of all our beautiful churches. In the peace and quiet of our community there is much to be grateful for — if nothing more than to be here away from the troubles of the world. To all the very nice people of our community: Let us thank God — and have a Merry Christmas!

Weston High Notes

A highly successful performance of Owen Davis' Pulitzer Prize-winning drama, "Icebound", was given on Dec. 13 and 14 in the Country School auditorium by a cast of high school students, who were directed by Mr. John W. Zorn, head of the English Department.

The story of the play is concerned with a New England family whose selfish "icebound" members are waiting around for their rich grandmother to die in order to get her money. The grandmother, who loves her erring son more than any of the other children, bewilders and angers her children by her logical, if unconventional, disposition of the family fortune. How the ne'er-do-well young son is transformed into a decent citizen serves as the second theme of this realistic play.

The hard work of the director and of the cast was reflected in the smooth and professional production.

Ernest Trowbridge of the Senior Class was the school's duly elected choice for Weston High School representative on Good Government Day next March. To get practice in the democratic processes of electing public officials, interested students took out nomination papers, and the whole student body was given a limited period of time in which to register for voting.

On Dec. 5 an assembly was held during which candidates had the opportunity to present their qualifications to the whole school, and voting took place on Friday, Dec. 7.

Of the three candidates, Ernest Trowbridge, Stuart Harnish and Jonathan Gates, none received a majority. Another balloting between Ernest and Jonathan was taken on the following Monday, deciding the vote.

Artist Applauded

Wayland and Weston friends of Julius Katzieff, noted Boston and Provincetown artist, have been pleased to learn that his portrait of Sherman Adams, recently unveiled at Dartmouth College, has been receiving wide acclaim.

Mr. Katzieff completed the portrait at his Provincetown studio after sittings at the White House and at Adams' Washington residence.

A number of Wayland and Weston residents have visited the Katzieff studio. He has painted two portraits of Mrs. Rudolph Bruce of Plain Road, Wayland, and Mr. and Mrs. L. William Bertelsen of Claypit Hill Road possess one of his Provincetown landscapes.

SMARC To Have A Christmas Party

Members of the South Middlesex Association for Retarded Children will have a Christmas party on Sunday afternoon, Dec. 23, from 2 to 4:30, in the Community Center Building of the Dover Church. Santa Claus will arrive by helicopter and there will be bell ringers and a pair of magicians. Parents are asked to bring an inexpensive present suitable for their own child, marked "boy" or "girl".

Christmas seals are in season.

Baptist Church Will Help Refugee Family

WESTON—A Hungarian refugee family will be sponsored by the First Baptist Church. Temporary housing and full-time employment has already been arranged for the father, and groups within the church are gathering furniture, clothing and funds.

As soon as word is received from the Massachusetts Baptist Convention that a family is ready, the Chairman Mrs. Gordon Littlehale, of the committee in charge, will visit Camp Kilmer, N.J., and bring the family back to the parsonage, where it will temporarily be housed.

Cheers, Awards And Jokes Featured At Win-Lose-Draw

WESTON — Chicken pie, cheers, presentations and funny stories featured the Win-Lose-Draw dinner of the Boosters Club, held in the Weston High gymnasium Dec. 6, with 250 students, parents and friends on hand.

The idea of the dinner, held each year, is to recognize the efforts of student athletes during the Fall.

Football coach George Harris said it was difficult to talk about this season, in which Weston tied two games and lost the rest. But the boys had excellent spirit, he said, and hung on in spite of discouragements. Only 19 boys were out for the team and on some practise days only 14 were on hand. There were two broken legs, one broken hand and one torn cartilage.

Capt. John Gilman, for the team, presented Coach Harris with a silver souvenir.

The girls' hockey team, undefeated, was something else, and their coach, Miss Marie Butera, congratulated them on their "terrific enthusiasm". The JV girls' hockey team was also undefeated, and the girls gave Miss Butera a portable radio.

Dean John Proctor said the footballers played "quite a ball game" against Wayland.

Harry Ferries of the Boosters presided. Many members of the Weston Rotary Club joined in the dinner.

One of the guests was Jim Stehlin, star back at Brandeis this year. The main speaker was Leroy Kelley of Everett and Dartmouth, who referees many of the leading college football games. He told funny football stories for an hour.

Co-captains of football for next year are Kip Coburn and Pete Lawson.

Among those at the head table were Frank Hitchcock, Principal Julius Mueller, Superintendent of Schools Anthony Brackett, Victor Harnish, basketball coach Bob Carini and the old friend of Weston High, Mr. Austin Hale.

The awards:

Boys varsity football.

Sweaters: Fred Kennedy, Will Connolly, Phil Mueller, Al McClennan, Jack Compton, Howard Bayles, Doug Heerdt, Ernie Trowbridge.

Letters: Captain John Gilman, Brad Cahill, Kip Coburn, Dick Harding, Pete Lawson, Ken Healey.

399 Pints Of Blood Donated In Wayland

WAYLAND — The annual meeting of the Wayland Red Cross was held at the Wayland Public Library on Dec. 13 at 8:15 p.m. The meeting was presided over by Alexander M. Hammer, chairman, and reports of the committee chairmen were read.

Of special interest was the report of the blood donor chairman, Mrs. A. S. Huntley, who reported that 399 pints of blood were collected in Wayland this year. As a result of this 155 cards were issued and 319 pints were returned for local use by 55 Wayland people.

The importance of the Hungarian refugee camps in Austria now being operated by the Red Cross was discussed. The League of Red Cross Societies has assumed responsibility for full care of 20,000 Hungarian refugees housed in ten camps starting from Dec. 1.

This number will be increased, beginning Jan. 1, to 25,000. The Wayland Chapter is obligated to support this effort and asks that all donations be mailed to them care of the Wayland Post Office.

The following were appointed committee chairmen by the nominating committee and elected unanimously:

Chairman, Mr. Alexander M. Hammer; Vice Chairman, Mrs. Pierpoint Blair; Secretary, Mrs. David C. Stewart; Treasurer, Mr. Willard B. Dik; Home Service, Mrs. Pierpoint Blair; Canteen, Mrs. Pierre Dumaine; Blood Donor, Mrs. A. S. Huntley; Disaster, Mr. and Mrs. John Dunning.

Junior Red Cross, Mrs. George P. Little; Publicity, Mrs. Seth F. Johnson; Life Saving and Water Safety, Mr. Ernest M. Cherry; Fund, Mr. Richard Potter; First Aid, Dr. John G. Freymann; Minute Man Council Service, Mrs. F. Stetson Eddy; Home Nursing, Miss Roberta L. Jacobs, R.N.

Directors: Mrs. Willard B. Dik, Rev. Donald Ewing, Mr. William Hulbert (Wayland C. D. Director, Rev. William J. Carty and Mr. Willard B. Dik.

8 Melones Set Family Record For Weston High Activities

WESTON — For most of the past 20 years some one or more of the eight children of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Melone of 27 Crescent Street has been in Weston High School, and during those years the eight have made an unmatched family record in the school's activities.

They have been outstanding athletes, singers, scholars and class officers, winning honors of all kinds.

Mr. Melone Sr. came to Waltham from Penna, Italy, in 1921. In 1924 he went back to get Mrs. Melone and became entangled in the Immigration Department's red tape, so that it was 1928 before they were reunited. In 1933 they came to Weston, where they have been ever since.

He started in business as a landscape gardener with a partner. In 1935 they had one Ford truck. Now "J. Melone and Sons" have a whole set of equipment. Only recently they had the contract for straightening a curve in North Avenue, biggest Weston road job since 1947.

Here's a partial record of the boys and girls of the family in High School and afterwards:

Vincent, 1940: Glee Club. In two operettas, with the lead singing part in a graduation playlet. Played football and baseball. Co-captain of football. In 1948 was Commander of Weston Post 214, A. L. In the wool business.

William, 1942: Played football and basketball. On undefeated football teams. Took part in operettas. Glee Club. Leading male role in two plays. Class president his last two years. In military service, then in business with his father.

Anthony, 1947: Playeed football four years. Football captain. Played baseball two years. Glee Club. Participated in operatic productions. Went to Northeastern, now in business with his father and brother.

Josephine, 1948: A star girl athlete. Played field hockey five years and was captain. Played basketball four years. Cheerleader three years. Glee Club. Took part in three operettas. As a senior, she was on the yearbook staff. She was the first girl to win the Theodore Chandler Award for outstanding athletic ability, scholarship and citizenship. After graduation she worked as a secretary until her untimely death, May 19, 1955.

John, 1950: President of his class for three successive years. Glee Club, three years. Played football three years, basketball four years and baseball two years. Co-captain of basketball. A member of the Math Club. Third boy in school to win the Theodore Chandler Award. Attended Brown University.

Daniel, 1954: Vice-president of his class two years, president two years. Elected the school's representative for Good Government Day. Student Council tbree years, in one dramatic production. Football five years, basketball fiv years and baseball three years.

Anna, 1956: Now attendin Bentley. Played field hocke three years, basketball fou years. Cheer leader three years head cheer leader her last year. Glee Club three years, All State Chorus her senior year. Secre tary of the Student Council and active in many school organizations. She was the second girl in her family to receive the Theodore Chandler Award at graduation.

Cecelia, 1959: She's the youngest, still in Weston High, where she plays field hockey and basketball.

In the next generation there are now nine grandchildren, and the home is full of visitors every Sunday.

Wayland Women Attend R. I. Alumni Meeting

WAYLAND—Mrs. Chris Stergis and Mrs. James Mavor Jr., both of Country Corners Road, attended an alumni meeting of the Rhode Island School of Design at the home of Mrs. David B. Loomis, Lincoln, Nov. 16, for the purpose of organizing an alumni chapter.

Mrs. William Balch, Westway Road, Wayland, and Mrs. Gordon Wheeler, Wellesley Street, Weston, are also members of the group. Next meeting will be Jan. 10, in Wayland.

A new mother with heart trouble, says the Heart Association, should plan her work so she can save her strength.

A beautiful "Christmas Morning" motif, done in blue on a white background, has been designed by Mr. Harold W. Van Heest for the Christmas cards being sold at the high school. Proceeds from the sale go to the Weston Rombas Affiliation Committee, to be used for the student exchange project between Weston and Rombas, France. Cards sell for two for 25 cents.

Wayland School Building Program Is On Schedule

WAYLAND — Work on both the Claypit Hill Road and the Loker Street elementary schools is coming along on schedule, says Superintendent of Schools Edward J. Anderson, and he thinks both should be ready for use by September, 1957.

Each of these is a 14-room building. When they are finished, he says, the old Center School will cease to be an elementary school, and will be used as an overflow for the Junior High School.

Provision is being made in the new schools for kindergartens. At the Town Meeting last March, the Town voted unanimously to accept the report of a study committee, which recommended that kindergartens be established in September, 1957.

The figures, says Mr. Anderson, show that more than 200 children are eligible for kindergarten. Moreover, while 45 seniors will be graduated from High School in June, more than 250 first graders stand ready to enter the school system in September. Only two of the 28 new school rooms will not be in use when they are opened, he says.

"When I came here, a year and a half ago," said Mr. Anderson, "there were 1328 pupils in the Wayland schools. Now there are more than 1600."

WAYLAND — Judith A. Simoni of 5 Timber Lane, Cochituate, has been elected secretary of the newly formed Psi Psi Club at Dickinson College, where she is a freshman. The purpose of the club is to broaden student interest and knowledge in the field of psychology.

Miss Simoni is a graduate of Wayland High School where she was a member of the National Honor Society and president of the student council.

St. Zepherin's Has Card Party

COCHITUATE — St. Zepherin's Parish held a successful turkey whist party at the Cochituate Grammar School on Nov. 19. Harold Ward of Hemlock Road, chairman, gave his thanks to all who contributed.

Five hundred attended. The door prize was won by Mrs. Mildred Caulfield of Shawmut Avenue. The hi-fi phonograph was won by Mrs. Healy of Watertown, and Mrs. Walter O'Connell of Main Street won the display table, including the table linen, the dinner set, a large turkey and all the fixings.

Proceeds go to the building fund.

Winter Activities

WESTON — The Weston Recreation Commission announces a schedule of Winter activities:

Saturday mornings, 9:30 a.m. to 12 noon, basketball and other games for grades 5 through 8, at the elementary school.

Saturday afternoons, 2 to 5 p.m., at the High School, for grades 9 through 12. This program will continue until the end of March.

On Tuesday evenings, the High School gym is open from 7:30 p.m. until 9:30 p.m. for men who wish to play volley ball and basketball.

Woodworking classes will start Feb. 11 and will meet for 10 consecutive Tuesdays. Classes are limited to 10 members and the fee is $10, payable in advance. Each person works on his own project, with the advice of a teacher and the use of all the shop equipment. For reservations call John Proctor, TW3-3271.

Used Skates For Sale

D.A.R. Gives Flags To Girl Scouts

WAYLAND — Presentation of American flags to Troop 109, Cochituate Girl Scouts, and Troop 89, Wayland, featured the Dec. 1 meeting of the Wayside Inn Chapter D. A. R., held at the Trinitarian Congregational Church. After an acceptance ceremony the Girl Scouts sang carols with the D. A. R. members, who served a collation.

Girls of Troop 109 participating were Marilyn Zizuis, Loureen Dame, Ann Tourville, Dedina Proctus. Donna Marston, Judy Patterson, Gail Brosseau and Joan Lucey.

Girls of Troop 89 were Harriet Henry, Cheryl Clowes, Cheryl Gallagher, Lorraine Geney, Nancy Henry, Kathleen Krinopolis, Lynne Langley, Janis Lazarian, Elaine Parker, Michele Poirier, Cynthia Rossborough, Katherine Rumpel, Carolee Smith, Elizabeth Turner, Janet Moss and Sandra Wilkinson.

Leaders of Troop 109 were Mrs. Joseph Malizia and Mrs. Charles Cook, and of Troop 89 were Mrs. Theodore Parker and Mrs. Edward Lazarian.

Next meeting of Wayside Inn Chapter will be Jan. 5 at the home of Mrs. Herbert H. Dicks, Sylvan Way, at 1 p. m. A covered dish luncheon will be served and the speaker will be Mrs. Howard Lyford, on "Out West in Search of Indians."

Cub Scouts, Pack 1

WAYLAND — The meeting of Cub Scout Pack 1 at Happy Hollow School was conducted by Den Chiefs Greg Keary, Den 2; James Avard, Den 3; Stevie Dicks, Den 6; Teddy Langley, Den 7, and Gerry Dicks, Den 8, assisted by Cubmaster Parmelee C. Hill.

Pledge to the flag was led by Philip Grow, Bruce Frederickson and Allen Leonard, who are working for their Lion badge.

Daniel M. MacIsaac showed color slides of Porto Rico. William Bridgham, a new cub, was admitted.

Awards given: Bruce Keary, blue and silver arrows on Bear badge; Rex Seley, two silver arrows on Wolf badge; Jeff Williams, gold and silver arrows on Wolf badge; Bob Letson, Wolf badge; Allen Leonard and Bruce Frederickson, silver arrow on Bear badge; Donald Alstad, silver arrow on Wolf badge, and William Brigham, Bobcat pin.

Town Secretary

traffic, we believe that the project of a western freeway should be given the highest priority in the thinking and planning for new highway construction in Massachusetts. We doubt seriously that there is another location in the Commonwealth where an estimated 24,000 vehicles per day will be concentrated and dumped onto existing overloaded urban streets as will be the case when the Toll Road is opened . . .

"It would indeed be tragic if decisive action is not taken to forestall the extension of a monopoly toll road which will burden the users who bring a substantial business to the City of Boston. Such failure will result in further deterioration of the position of downtown Boston shopping areas relative to suburban shopping centers which are not hindered by toll access roads and impossible parking problems.

"Nor should any complex of private and corporate interests be permitted to influence the decision of where to build an adequate expressway from the western metropolitan area into the City of Boston . . ."

Copies of the letter have been sent to officials of Wayland, Natick, Wellesley, Newton, Waltham and Lincoln.

WAYLAND — Mr. and Mrs. Daniel H. Sheehan of Concord Road announce the arrival of twins, Karen and Keith, at Framingham Union Hospital, Nov. 9.

High School

With the educational specifications in hand, the Building Committee will then take into account the possible public and civic uses of the proposed building.

One thought is that the gymnasium should be large enough for use as a Town Meeting hall. Capacity of the present hall in the present High School has been strained a number of times, and the Town's population is still increasing rapidly.

It has been announced that the Committee will be asked to include a swimming pool for both school and public use in the proposed plant.

Others in Town, interested in athletics, think that the new school should have all the facilities possible for a first rate program of physical education and sports.

Mr. Anderson thinks the building might contain an auditorium to seat not more than 350. This wouldn't be designed for Town Meetings, but for music, public speaking, plays, classes and small meetings. (Meetings of various kinds are held in the present High School almost six nights a week now.)

Always a consideration, of course, will be the cost. The Town is already paying high for new buildings and services, and this new High School will undoubtedly be the biggest single piece of construction in the Town's history

Suggestions Invited

The new school is part of the program outlined by the Dr. Engelhardt Report.

Mr. Anderson thinks it would accomodate 600 pupils, probably in grades 9 through 12, and would be expandable. When it is occupied, the present High School would become a Junior High. The Engelhardt program calls for the construction of a second Junior High later, and when that is done, the new High School might be a three-year institution.

The site, 90 acres of the Schofield Farm on Old Connecticut Path, has already been voted.

Before the project gets to the Town Meeting stage, however, there will be a vast amount of thinking and planning, and everybody in Town will be invited to contribute his ideas and opinions.

Mr. Finlay suggests that those with suggestions send them in writing to Mr. Anderson, who is secretary of the Building Committee.

In the course of the next year or two, Mr. Finlay says, there will undoubtedly be a number of public hearings and many small group meetings, at which the project can be talked over.

Christmas
December 25, 1956

Hi There!

Merry Christmas! Do you know the original meaning of our popular greeting, "Merry Christmas"? When the greeting was originally used, the word "merry" did not mean "joyful, hilarious, gay" as it does today. In those days it meant "blessed, peaceful, pleasant" expressing spiritual joys rather than earthly happiness.

Christmas for some has lost much of its spiritual significance and has become no more than a feast or holiday. This year let us return to the true meaning of Christmas and ponder the age old message "For unto you is born this day a Savior". Let us keep this thought before us when we sit down to our Christmas dinner. Let it be an occasion to express the loving spirit of Him for whom there was no room in the inn, but there is room for Him in our hearts.

If this Christmas we pledge ourselves to devotion to family and church, neighborliness, tolerance, understanding, faith, hope and charity, we might send out a message of hope to a troubled world that, God knows, needs the spirit of Christmas more than ever before. . . . Then there would be peace on earth to men of goodwill. Then indeed, there would be real meaning, peace and blessedness, in that universal message . . . Merry Christmas.

We the Wayland Oil Company, our office staff, our drivers are joining to say, "Hope you'll have a "merry" time at your house Christmas day". And so, as Tiny Tim observed, God Bless Us, . . . Everyone!

Sincerely,
Tom Linnehan

WESTON — Thomas J. Kelly Jr., 15, a sophomore at Weston High, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas J. Kelly of 1 Lantern Lane, was made an Eagle Scout at a Court of Honor held at the Beethoven School, Waban, on Dec. 7.

Several other Weston Scouts were honored at the same Court.

Thomas, a charter member of Explorer Troop 52, has been a Scout since he was 8. He belongs to the Math Club and the Affiliation Club at school. He has been in the Science Fair for four years, winning a first prize, a second and two honorable mentions. He has been an altar boy at St. Julia's Church for more than four years. He's a member of the Forest and Trail Association and he works in the laboratory at school. His parents think he might go to M.I.T.

Mrs. Kelly, his mother, is a co-leader of Troop 8, Girl Scouts, and Mr. Kelly Sr. is chairman of Post 52.

Other Weston boys honored:

Jeff Adams and John Little of Troop 51, First Class Scouts; Sam Hawkes, Troop 51, Star Scout; Rawley Ellston and Jonathan Spear, Post 56, Star Scouts; Charles Janeway, Trooop 51, Life Scout and Read Langenbach, Post 56, Life Scout.

Troops 10 And 27

WAYLAND — Miss Harriet Henry, assisted by her mother, Mrs. Carl Henry, served as hostess to the girls of Troop No. 10, Wayland Senior Girl Scouts, recently. Mrs. James Sullivan introduced the new Senior Leader, Mrs. Frank Lamb, to the girls, and the year's program was discussed. The Girls signed up to work as hospital aides, library aides, program aids, with Brownie troops, and as camp aides, at Cedar Hill. The following officers were elected: President, Betsy Lundy; vice-president, Marion Bova; secretary-treasurer, Janet Scott.

Mrs. Marjorie Wilson, editor of Dennison's "Here's An Idea", conducted a Christmas gift-wrapping workshop, which the girls will use in doing their Christmas service projects.

Troop No. 10's membership consists of Anne Stahl, Harriet Henry, Janet Scott, Judy Arnold, Darby Jenks, Donna Osmond, Ursula Riley, Lynda Wheelock, Betsy Lundy, Donna Atkins, Judy Lyford, Martha Seley and Marion Bova.

The girls of Troop No. 27, Wayland Girl Scouts, recently presented a dramatization of "The Night Before Christmas" for a large group of younger Scouts and their families, at the Happy Hollow School auditorium. The poem was dramatized by marionettes, made by the girls, who did the choral reading. The program will be repeated for a hospital children's ward.

The cast: Mouse, Patty Jenks; Stockings, Betty Marsh, Joan Hartmann, Holly Cameron; Children, Diane Purdy and Dorothy Paradis; Mama, Judy Gerrie; Papa, Cheryl Lorentzen; Moon, Susan Leitzel; Sugar-plums, Lyn Parker, Diane Capello; Santa Claus, Sandy Cain; Reindeer, Betsy Sullivan, Susan Wells, Sandra Van Wart, Carol Bigwood, Elsie Schneider, Sharon Shepard, Karen McEwan and Margie Johnson.

After the puppet show, Mrs. Eleanor Howard captivated her young audience with a wonderful Christmas story and everyone joined in the traditional Christmas carol singing.

Among the first settlers of Wayland were the Blanford, Taynter, Griffin, Rice, Maynard, Loker, Joslin, Haynes, Goodnow, Brown, Bent, Woods and Parmenter families.

4-H Club Meeting

COCHITUATE — An interesting question and answer period on vegetable and flower gardening was featured at the Cochituate 4-H Agricultural Club meeting Saturday evening, Dec. 8, at the home of Elmer W. Bigwood, local club leader, of Commonwealth Road. The 4-H Club members have almost completed the 4-H Cookie Fund campaign to help support Camp Middlesex, the county 4-H Club Camp at Ashby.
